

THE GRAND RAPIDS TRIBUNE.

RUMS & SUTOR, Publishers

Grand Rapids, Wisconsin, Wednesday, Mar. 10th, 1913

VOL. XXXIX, NO. 51

Novelty Store

Money Makers For You

14 qt. gray enameled dishpan, 35c value for 10c.
4 sizes of Dairy Pans your choice 10c.

10c will buy more at our store than 25c elsewhere.

SALE one week ONLY

Lipped Saucepan, two sizes, gray enamel, 25c value 10c.
Gray enamel Tea Pot, 35c value for 10c.

We can please you at the Novelty Store, next to New Ideal Theatre, Vine street.

M.A. BOGGER

Apply Your Rent on a Home!

$1875 Buys two fine corner lots with a 7-room house on it, together with barn and outbuildings, located on Sixth street near Lincoln school. Lots alone are worth $950.

$425 Buys three fine lots on Oak street between 13th and 14th avenues, sewer and water in street.

$125 Will buy while they last, well located lots in Gardner Addition, east side.

Taylor & Scott,

COME AND SEE US
Open Every Saturday Evening. Phone No. 364

LOST DOLLAR

The dollar you don't save, but spend foolishly, some one else will save and be that much richer, while you are a dollar poorer. Why not save it yourself.

Get a Home Bank, Loaned Free

It will be as easy for you to open an account today with a dollar as it will to-morrow. One dollar makes a good start because it's the FIRST DOLLAR

Wood County National Bank

Grand Rapids, Wis.
Resources a Million and a Half.

DEATH OF A PUGILIST.

Jim Hall Dies of Tuberculosis at River Pine Sanatorium.

Jim Hall, who at one time was one of the noted pugilists of the world, died at River Pine Sanatorium near Stevens Point on Saturday from tuberculosis at the age of 55 years. Hall had been living at Neenah, sick and alone, being destitute, and was removed to the sanatorium only about a week before his death.

TWO IMPORTANT EVENTS.

Grand Rapids Keeping Up With the Neighboring Towns.

Those of our citizens who may have complained about a lack of excitement during Lent should hear in mind the two important events that occur the latter part of this week.

One of these is the advent of spring, which occurs at 11:13 o'clock tomorrow evening, and the other is an eclipse of the moon which occurs at 4:15 o'clock Saturday morning.

Union Service, Ideal Theatre Friday Evening.

All of the churches uniting in the Union service being held this week in the Ideal Theatre will also unite in an evening service on Good Friday, beginning promptly at 8 o'clock. All announcements for services in any of these churches conflicting with above notice are cancelled.

Discount on Shoes.

Don't forget that Zimmerman is giving 10, 20 and 25 per cent discount on all ladies' oxfords from the 20th to the 29th of March. See what he is offering before you buy elsewhere.

FOUND—On Monday, March 17, a muff.

Owner may have same by calling at the Tribune office and paying charges.

CITY LOSES ITS CASE.

Jury Decides That There Should be No Special Benefits.

The cases against the city of Grand Rapids were tried out in circuit court last week before Judge Park and a jury, and the jury brought in a verdict in favor of the complainants and against the city.

These cases arose out of the assessments in the matter of widening Oak street, the cost of the matter being assessed against the surrounding property within a distance of 1000 feet. Many who lived at a distance from the proposed improvement contended that they were not especially benefited by the improvement, and it seems that the jury believed the same way.

While the opening of Oak Street would be a great improvement to the city, and might be of value to property right in that immediate neighborhood, it does not seem as if it would be of so much value to the man living just inside of the one-thousand foot line that he should pay a special assessment, while the man living possibly across the street from him had nothing to pay.

During an interview with one of the men who served on the jury that gentleman stated that he could see no justice whatever in assessing the benefits in the manner in which they had been done, and it was his opinion that if the matter were carried to a higher court the verdict would be the same as in circuit court.

Killed in Chicago.—Chief of Police Hatos received a dispatch from the Chief of Police of Chicago this afternoon, saying that a son of W. H. Collins of this city is dead there, as the result of an accident. No particulars are given, but there is no doubt but that the person alluded to is John Collins, son of W. H. Collins, who lives at 1509 Main street, as he is known to have been in Chicago for some time. Deceased was about thirty-five years of age. His wife, from whom he parted about two years ago, is living with her two children in Grand Rapids.—Stevens Point Journal.

Geo. B. Campbell and Otto Schanman of Marshfield, drove to this city on Tuesday in one of the new 1913 Geo. cars, the agency for which has been taken by the Jensen Brothers. The gentlemen stated that they did not find the roads particularly bad, making the run in about two and one-half hours. The new Geo. is a fine looking car and it will be on exhibition at the Jensen Garage during the season.

MEN WANTED—To unload pulpwood at our Biron mill.

Good accommodations.

MEETING WAS A GOOD ONE.

A Large Number of People Turn Out to Elect New Commissioners for the Next Year.

If anybody attended the school meeting on Monday evening with the expectation of seeing a scrap between any two factions of people in this city, they would have been disappointed, for everything went as quiet and orderly as a prayer meeting, and if there were two factions in attendance, one of the parties must have been in such a hopeless minority that they saw there was no use in making a struggle.

However, if the cry of "wolf" did nothing else, it got out a good attendance to the meeting, a thing that has not always happened in the past. The commissioners may congratulate themselves on being the choice of the people, something that is not always the case at a school meeting, for there have been occasions when, had the commissioners themselves been there, it would have been well-nigh impossible to have held an election.

On Monday evening there were 352 votes cast, while in the good old days if 200 should have attended one of the meetings it would have caused people to think that something was going to happen.

B. R. Goggin was elected chairman of the meeting and Prof. Schwede was appointed to act as clerk. The minutes of the last annual meeting were read and approved. The treasurer's report was also read, which showed that the expenditures during the last year had exceeded the receipts to a certain extent.

When it came to the work of electing commissioners for the ensuing year, practically all of the old commissioners were re-elected, showing that those present were pretty well satisfied with the manner in which things had been conducted during the past year. Following are the commissioners elected:

First ward—W. H. Reeves.
Second ward—J. R. Ragan.
Third ward—W. F. Kellogg.
Fourth ward—Guy O. Babcock.
Fifth ward—Otto Behn.
Sixth ward—H. B. Johnson, long term; J. P. Horton, short term.
Seventh ward—C. A. Hatch.
Eighth ward—J. W. Natwick.
The next time anybody says "Socialist" just before a school meeting, there will be trouble.

Easter Ball.

Monday evening, March 24th, at Forester's Hall, under the auspices of the Catholic Foresters. Concert from 8 to 9. Music by Saeker's orchestra. Tickets 75 cents. 11.

FEDEATED CLUBS MEETING ON THE SUBJECT OF WATER.

Bad Weather Prevents Many From Witnessing an Excellent Program.

The annual school meeting of the Federated Clubs was held at the Lincoln High school Friday evening, March 14th. Owing to the inclemency of the weather it was not as well attended as former meetings have been. However, all who were present were well roiled as the program throughout was one of splendid merit.

The High School Boys Glee Club opened the program by a selection of old popular songs which were very well rendered, and they were obliged to respond to the hearty encore.

Mrs. C. A. Hatch gave a most interesting report of the school work of the past year. Club women were especially urged to continue their co-operation with them in the Ward school receptions which have been so beneficial to parents and teachers.

The opening address by Professor Kell showed careful thought and consideration for the welfare of children. The musical trio rendered by Mrs. Wright, Mrs. Redford and Miss Natwick, accompanied by Mrs. Witter at the piano and Miss McKinnon with the violin was a decided treat, the ladies responding to an encore. These musical numbers were a part of the real pleasures of the evening.

The principal address was presented by Rev. Mellicke on the subject, Vocational Training. This address was an especially able one, beginning with a comparison of our father's industrial conditions with those of today. Also how necessary it is to train the children for useful citizenship. He gave statistics showing that nearly one-half of the children of the United States leave school at the end of the sixth grade. His whole talk was full of statistics showing that what we need is not new system, but improvement on the old. It is hoped that this educational address may be repeated in the near future.

After the selection by the High School Orchestra, the audience adjourned to the Witter Building, where light refreshments were served by the Hill Division, assisted by the Domestic Science Department.

Some Bowling.

Guy Getts rolled a score of 289 on the west side bowling alleys on Monday evening. This beats all previous records for bowling in this city as well as a good many others.

Mrs. Olga Sowalske returned on Saturday from a months visit at Merrill.

THE COST OF PRODUCTION.

Figures by Engineer Phillips on the Water Proposition in this City.

To the editor of the Grand Rapids Tribune: In a recent issue of the Daily Reporter there appeared an article headed "Grand Rapids Water Works" and in a following issue another article headed "Our City Waterworks."

Both of these articles, evidently published to influence voters at the coming election, are misleading, and one of them is absolutely false. In reading the articles mentioned I am reminded of an oft-repeated phrase, used by representatives of the Electric & Water company, in arguing before the council, for the full allowance of the pumping bill as presented.

This phrase, "Just like selling money from one pocket and putting it in the other" was never true as between the city and the lighting company, but is absolutely true as between the city and the water works, or between the general fund and the water department.

Had the water department charged the general fund with the hydrant rental at five dollars per month per hydrant, which is a reasonable charge for fire protection, it would have collected to date $75,740.00.

Had the water department charged the public schools water rental at the rate of fifty dollars per annum per school, which is a very reasonable figure, it would have collected to date $199,000 from the schools, and had the general fund been charged with the water rent for public buildings and schools, that it produces that water at a cost of less than 3 cents per 1000 gallons, thereby making a profit of over 500 per cent.

This statement is absolutely untrue (in fact, is rotten). The city uses a scale of rates ranging from 15 cents per 1000 gal. of water down to 5 cents for all over 72000 cu. ft., which, reduced to the 1000 gallon basis, results in a sliding scale of from 20 cents per 1000 gallons for the first 72000, down to 7 cents per 1000 gallons for all over 72000.

The actual cost of pumping a thousand gallons of water last year was a trifle less than 3 cents for power only. The total cost of furnishing a thousand gallons of water last year was 9-2-10 cents, to-wit:

114,873,287 gallons consumed at a cost of $10,357.61, this last being a total of the following items:
Electric & Water Co. for juice $3302.00
Supt. Salary 1200.00
Asst. Supt. salary 900.00
Clerk hire 240.00
Labor at pump house 1037.50
Repairing hydrants 10.00
Cleaning wells 10.00
Repairs on pumps 171.11
Interest on bonds 3250.00
Insurance 60.00
Office ex. light and telephone. 42.00
Printing 45.00
Total $10,357.61

The total income for the last fiscal year was $2,265.56. In other words, the city sold 114,873,287 gallons of water for which it received $2,265.56, or a trifle over 8 cents per 1000 gallons, thereby selling for 8 cents that which cost 9-2-10 cents to produce. Considerable loss then 500 per cent profit in the Mr. Editor.

As to the balance above mentioned, it is just what its name implies, and orders have been received by the rate commission to try again, as they do not seem to be satisfied with the showing made. E. I. PHILLIPS, City Engineer.

Scandinavian Moravian Church.

Norwegian reading services will be held in the church this evening and tomorrow at 7:45 and on Good Friday afternoon at 2:30. The Holy Communion will be celebrated Thursday evening at 8:30 in Scandinavian and on Sunday morning at 11:30 in English. Confirmation services will be held on Sunday at 10:30 A. M. Those who will be confirmed are Rona McDonough, 1009, Hagen, and Arthur Christensen of this city. Coline Carlson and Clara Larson of Port Edwards and Walter Peterson and Delbert Peterson of Saratoga.

The Sunday school and the Christian Endeavor will meet at the usual hours.

Giving Good Shows.

The Sherman Kelley Stock company which opened a week's engagement at Daly's Theatre on Monday evening is said to be putting on some good plays and they have been greeted with pretty good houses thus far. They are handling considerable humorous matter, just the thing for a popular price show.

New Bank at Nekoska.

Nekoska is to have a state bank in the near future, the articles of incorporation having been approved by the commissioner of banking. The incorporators are D. D. Conway, F. J. Wood and Guy O. Babcock of this city and H. E. Fitch of Nekoska. The capitalization will be $20,000.

Mrs. Fred Kruger entertained a number of friends at a linen shower on Tuesday evening in honor of her sister, Miss Mabel Witte.

A very pleasant evening was spent by those present.

NO EASTER

will be fully complete unless the table is regaled with REILAND PACKING COMPANY'S incomparable

BANNER BRAND

Hams and Bacon

See that you get the full measure of happiness thus obtainable by ordering Reiland Packing Company's Banner Hams and Bacon.

For Sale by All Dealers

Where 1c Has a Purchasing Power of from 5c to $1.00

REXALL Remedies

There are more than 350, each designed for an ordinary ailment—made from a prescription used successfully by prominent physicians.

REXALL Remedies
REXALL Liver Salts, agreeably laxative
REXALL Kidney Pills, for all kidney ills
REXALL Cherry Bark, for all urinary troubles
REXALL Syrup, for all coughs and colds
REXALL Compound, especially for women
REXALL Iron Tonic, for all weakness and blood
REXALL Kidney Pills, for all kidney ills
REXALL Syrup, for all urinary troubles
REXALL Compound, especially for women
REXALL Iron Tonic, for all weakness and blood

ONE CENT 1c-SALE-1c

On Friday and Saturday—this week—you can make 1c further than ever before. Buy at the regular price any article listed below; add another cent, and you get two of that article instead of one

REXALL Remedies

Each is guaranteed to give satisfaction—to do all that you expect it to—or money back. There is no red tape about this offer.

REXALL Remedies
REXALL Nerve Tablets, soothing to the nerves 50c, $1
REXALL Stomachic Balm, for all surface inflammation 25c, 50c
REXALL Tooth Paste, for the ideal antiseptic dentifrice 25c
REXALL Shaving Lotion, ideal for use after shaving 25c, 50c

Wonderful Bargains for 1c

Now is the time to lay in your housecleaning supplies

OTTO'S PHARMACY,

The REXALL Store

Friday and Saturday Only

Just look over the bargains below. They represent big savings.

STATIONERY

We are exclusive agents for the big United Stationery Company's line. You positively cannot find its equal in quality, style or finish elsewhere, and our every day prices mean better quality for less money. But, during this sale:

Cascade Linen Writing Paper, 1 box 35c, 2 boxes 36c

Cascade Linen Envelopes, 1 package 10c, 2 for 11c

Symphony Lawn Correspondence Cards, 40 and 50c

Lord Baltimore Writing paper 1 lb. 25c

Lord Baltimore Envelopes, 1 package of 50, 20c

Symphony Lawn Stationery

The one most preferred for polite correspondence. Friday and Saturday 1 box for 50c

1 Revell Fountain Pen $1.00

The two for $1.17.

CANDY

Liggett's Chocolates, Highest esteemed because most delicious. Exquisite flavors, perfect purity; richly artistic packages, lbs., 90c and $1.

Fenway Chocolates, wholly delightful. Prices usually much lower than asked for other kinds not nearly so good.

Fenway Chocolates, Parisienne package, lbs., 60c

Fenway Dainty Dutch Delights, lb. 60c

Fenway Milk Chocolate Creams, lb. 60c

Fenway Cocktails (tantalizingly delicious), package 10c

1 lb. Cadet Chocolates, lb. 40c

1 Silver plated Bon Bon dish 35c

The Two for 49c.

Liggett's and Fenway Chocolates are sold only at the Rexall Store.

1c Pure Drugs and Household Necessities and Spring Housecleaning Helps.

50c Rexall Kidney pill, 2 for 51c

25c Rexall Talcum, 2 for 26c

25c Violet Dulce Talcum, 2 for 26c

10c Rexall Soap, 2 for 11c

25c Pearl Tooth Powder, 2 for 26c

25c foot bath tablets, 2 for 26c

50c can Lescapier Syringes, 2 for 51c

25c Bot. Cherry Bark Cough Syrup, 2 for 26c

5c pkge cough drops, 2 for 6c

5c pkge Rexall gum, 2 for 6c

5c pkge horehound, 2 for 6c

10c package Borax, 2 for 11c

15c Peroxide, 2 for 16c

35c Rexall Cold Cream, 2 for 36c

35c Rexall liver pills, 2 for 36c

25c Bronchial Lungs, 2 for 26c

25c Rexall Headache Pills, 2 for 26c

25c Antipyrine, 2 for 26c

10c Rexall Slippery Elm Lozenges, 2 for 11c

25c Rexall Sodium phosphate, 2 for 26c

25c Rexall Kidney Liver Tea, 2 for 26c

25c Rexall Foot Ease, 2 for 26c

25c Rexall Neuralgia Tablets, 2 for 26c

25c Rexall Charcoal Tablets, 2 for 26c

25c Rexall Worm Tablets, 2 for 26c

50c Rexall Nerve Tablets, 2 for 51c

RUBBER

You save money on rubber goods here, because our prices are lowest consistent with a high quality that is exceedingly hard to duplicate elsewhere.

For your gardening, your spring housecleaning, dish-washing—the many things you have to do that roughen and harden the hands and make them unsightly and sore, get a pair of our guaranteed rubber gloves.

Real Rubber

Maximum Gloves, per pair $1.00

Roxbury Gloves, per pair .50

You'll be delighted with their splendid wearing qualities, and the soft, comfortable condition they will keep your hands in.

Friday and Saturday only:

5c Nipples, 2 for 6c

5c Medicine Droppers, 2 for 6c

10c Comfy Soothers, 2 for 11c

Maximum, Monogram, Roxbury and American Beauty Fountain Syringes, Water Bottles and other rubber goods sold only at the Rexall Stores.

PERFUMES.

Only the virgin extract of carefully selected fresh-cut Victoria and Parma Violets is used in Violet Dulce. (Sweet Violet), Perfumes and Toilet Preparations.

(Each a marvel of daintiness, both in package and contents.)

Violet Dulce Cold Cream, 25c and 50c

Violet Dulce Sachet, per oz. 50c

Violet Dulce Extract, per oz. 50c

Violet Dulce Face Powder, 25c

Violet Dulce Talcum, 25c

Violet Dulce Dry Rouge, 25c

Violet Dulce Toilet Water 75c, $1.25

Violet Dulce Vanishing Cream, 50c

Violet Dulce Liquid Face Powder, 50c and $1.00

Violet Dulce, D'Arctagn, New England, Alma, Godet, Intenza, Harmony, and Bouquet Jeanie perfumes and toilet preparations are sold only at The Rexall Stores.

Advertised or Not—Prices at

OTTO'S PHARMACY

Are Always Lowest, Quality Considered

Grand Rapids Tribune

DRUM & SUTOR, Publishers

GRAND RAPIDS - WISCONSIN

WANT PICTURES CENSORED

Several Bills Are Introduced in the Assembly With Object of Regulating "Movies."

Madison.—One of the best jobs in the gift of the legislature is in process of creation. It is proposed to censor the moving picture shows. Whoever gets the job will be able to see everything in that line and without paying a cent. There are several bills in the two houses dealing with the subject. A senate bill provides that all pictures and films shall be brought to Madison for exhibition before the legislative commission, which will pass on them. All the bills provide for licensing the pictures. Any one producing moving pictures without a license will be up against a stiff fine and possible confiscation. Every time pictures are shown without carrying the stamp of approval from the industrial commission is made a separate offense.

Christopher Columbus, who discovered America, is going to have a very rocky time of it, securing all to himself one day each year which shall be a legal holiday. A bill making Oct. 12, the day on which the discovery of "land ho" was heard on the Columbus caravans, a legal holiday, was introduced by the assembly by Assemblyman R. J. Nye of Superior. Little attention was paid to the bill until it came before the assembly for engrossment. Then intimations of the gathering storm began to show.

Before the assembly finance committee, which sat jointly with the committee on education, the McComb bill, which increases the number of industrial schools which may be established from thirty to forty-five, was discussed, as was Senator Burke's bill proposing to remove the Stout training school from Menomonie to Eau Claire. The latter will be recommended for indefinite postponement.

Assemblyman Rossa's bill which provides that any person who shall sell any domestic animal upon the representation that such animal is pure bred when in fact it is not registered or eligible to registry, or shall knowingly pass or deliver a false or fraudulent pedigree shall be punishable by a fine not exceeding $1,000, was recommended for passage by the assembly committee on agriculture.

The Hull direct marketing bill was passed to engrossment by the assembly. This bill provides that any one who wishes to purchase direct from farmers may apply to the industrial commission, which commission shall keep a list of those who wish to purchase direct. Such persons must give a certificate of good financial standing. The farmers are not required to give recommendations as to their standing.

The Holding bill which increases the terms of the county judges from four to six years was passed in the assembly. The bill as amended and passed provides that all of the county judges in the state are to be affected by the change and not only divided in the original bill presented by Mr. Hedding.

Another election bill in the assembly provides that election days shall be observed as half holidays throughout the state in order to give employed persons time to go to the polls.

Co-Eds to Edit Cardinal.

Madison.—Thirty-four young women students of the University of Wisconsin will edit the April 1 issue of the Daily Cardinal, the university student daily paper. The men students will give over entire charge of the paper to the young women for the one day. Not only will all news matter be gathered by the co-eds but advertising matter as well will be solicited by the young women. One page of the paper will be devoted to criticisms of the men students of the university.

Carry Fire to Fighters.

Janosville.—Bringing the fire to the fire department is the latest way of fighting conflagrations in Janosville. A carload of perishable freight in the South Janosville yards caught fire from an overheated stove and instead of calling the department out for a long, hard run, a switch engine was attached to the car and it was hauled to the fire station, two miles away, where it was extinguished.

Spring Water for Senators.

Madison.—Supt. of Public Property Easman informs senate members that he has ordered a carload of water from Waukesha and that it will arrive soon. Also he had ordered individual drinking cups.

$100,000 Janosville Hotel.

Janosville.—Janosville may have a $100,000 hotel constructed on South Main street within the next six months. Tentative plans have been drawn up and a lease secured.

Marrying Pastor Dies.

Grantsburg.—Rev. Joseph J. Pickle, one of the best known Methodist ministers in this section, is dead. He held undisturbed title of "The Marrying Minister," having married 464 couples during his ministry.

Case Sales $14,954,044.62

Madison.—The annual report of the J. I. Case company for 1912 shows the gross sales to be $14,954,044.62 and miscellaneous earnings $282,310.69, a total of $15,236,355.31.

Confesses He Set Fires.

Janosville.—Percy Merrill has confessed to State Fire Marshal Purcell that he set fires about the city since November, entailing several thousand dollars loss. He will be examined as to his sanity.

Alvin Reis Goes to Oberlin.

Madison.—The Northern Oratorical league contest for the universities of the middle west will be held at Oberlin, O., May 2. Alvin Reis will be the Badger representative.

Kill Telephone Tax Bill.

Madison.—The senate killed Senator Teasdale's bill providing for an ad valorem taxation of telephone companies, in accordance with the adverse recommendation of the finance committee.

JOLTS LATIN STATES

WILSON NOTIFIES SOUTH AMERICAN REPUBLICS U. S. WILL TOLERATE NO DISORDER.

OFFERS HAND OF FRIENDSHIP

President Issues Strong Formal Statement Announcing Views on Trouble in Lower Section of American Hemisphere.

Washington, March 13.—The key note of a statement issued by President Wilson here Tuesday night, outlining his policy toward the Central and Southern American republics, is that there must be peace in the Latin American republics and that this peace must be maintained without any steps toward personal aggrandizement.

"We can have no sympathy with those who seek to abuse the power of government to advance their own personal interests," is probably the most significant sentence of the statement, for therein the president shows clearly that the present administration will not countenance another Huerta uprising or another ineffectual revolt, such as that of the murder of President Arango of San Salvador, even if he has to use force to prevent them.

The president's statement follows: "One of the chief objects of my administration will be to cultivate the friendship and confidence of our sister republics of Central and South America, and to promote in every proper and honorable way the interests which are common to the peoples of the two continents. I earnestly desire the most cordial understanding and co-operation between the peoples and leaders of America and therefore, deem it my duty to make this brief statement.

"Co-operation is possible only when supported at every turn by the orderly procession of just government based upon law, not upon arbitrary or illegal usurpation. We hold as I am sure all thoughtful leaders of republican government everywhere hold, that just government rests always upon the consent of the governed, and that there can be no freedom without order based upon law and upon the public conscience and approval. We shall look to make these principles the basis of mutual intercourse, respect and helpfulness between our sister republics and ourselves. We shall lend our influence of every kind to the realization of these principles in fact and practice, striving to bring about peace, order and harmony, and to the maintenance of the rights and liberties of all peoples.

"A force of 1,500 constitutionalists, rebelling against Huerta's government, were driven back into the city by a force of federalists.

Paral, which is a center of American mining and industrial interests, was badly damaged in the fight and the bombardment which followed. Fighting of the most desperate character took place in the streets of the city.

"The rebels were the same that left Paral last week after suddenly rebelling against the Huerta regime. They mobilized at Santa Barbara and returned to retake the city on March 5. The attack was made on the afternoon of that day and continued until the evening of the seventh, when the rebels took to the fortified hills surrounding the city and drove the federalists into the cover of the town. At night the rebels withdrew, without pursuit.

During the fighting the rioting occurred throughout the town, the banks were attacked and the market place burned. Many of the residents were killed in the battle.

Washington, March 13.—The withdrawal of American troops from the Mexican frontier, which seemed desirable to Secretary of War Garrison, could not be effected, according to Tasker H. Bliss, in command on the border.

DARROW TRIAL IS FAILURE

Calling McNamara Workers for Great Cause and Not Slayers Hung Jury

—New Trial March 31.

Los Angeles, Cal., March 13.—Clarence S. Darrow, the Chicago attorney who defended the McNamara brothers, who have been on trial for alleged bribery of one of the jurors in the case, was himself responsible for his failure to go free, according to one of the jurors, who requested his name be withheld. The jury, after being out 48 hours, stood 4 to 4 for conviction late Saturday.

Sydney Swept by Gale. Sydney, N. S. W., March 13.—A sixty-mile gale swept this city Tuesday, causing several deaths and doing great damage ashore and about. Sixty street cars were derailed by the wind, several yachts were wrecked and their masts and chimneys toppled over throughout the city. One man was electrocuted, three were drowned in the harbor. A number of buildings were wrecked and trees uprooted.

Hurt in Train Wreck.

Suffern, N. Y., March 13.—Thirteen persons were injured when a freight train, which was racing for a siding, collided head-on with a passenger train on the Piedmont branch of the Erie railroad near Money Tuesday.

Girl Shot in Strike Battle.

Erie, Pa., March 13.—Mary Schlosser, seventeen years old, was shot in the right leg, and two strikers were injured, when striking stonemasons and strike breakers fought here on Tuesday.

Chinese Shoot Russian Consul.

Peking, China, March 13.—The Russian consul, while passing the Chinese barracks in Tientsin, northern Manchuria, was shot by Chinese soldiers Tuesday. Eight shots were fired at his escort.

$64,000 Estate for Laborer.

St. Louis, March 13.—Benjamin Foster Moynihan, a poor laborer of Ottawa, Canada, received Monday the $64,000 estate of Jeremiah Moynihan, St. Louis "millionaire rag picker," who died January 8, 1910.

Thirty Die in Theater Fire.

Bordeaux, France, March 13.—At least thirty persons were killed and more than a score injured in a panic which followed the discovery of a fire in a small moving picture theater at Loan Monday.

White Whips Pal Moore.

Konosha, Wis., March 13.—Charles White of Chicago gave Pal Moore an artistic lacing in a rough savage ten-round fight which wound up a stellar boxing show here on Monday evening.

Gunboat Arrives at San Domingo.

Washington, March 13.—The gunboat Petrel arrived at San Domingo, City, capital of the Dominican republic, for the protection of American interests and citizens on Monday afternoon.

PRESIDENT WILSON IN HIS OFFICE

The photographer was one of President Wilson's first callers after he occupied his new office, and this was the excellent result.

REBELS DRIVEN BACK

MEXICAN FEDERALISTS AT PANAL SUBDUED RIOTING.

Battle Occurs in Streets of City and American Interests Suffer—U. S. Troops to Stay on Border.

El Paso, Tex., March 12.—After 50 hours fighting, during which rebels attacked the city of Panal, state of Chihuahua, while the townspeople looted, burning the market place and attacking the banks, the federal garrison repulsed the enemy and in street fights subdued the inhabitants. News of the conflict has reached this city. Lines of communication both by rail and telegraph had previously been useless.

A force of 1,500 constitutionalists, rebelling against Huerta's government, were driven back into the city by a force of federalists.

Paral, which is a center of American mining and industrial interests, was badly damaged in the fight and the bombardment which followed. Fighting of the most desperate character took place in the streets of the city.

"The rebels were the same that left Paral last week after suddenly rebelling against the Huerta regime. They mobilized at Santa Barbara and returned to retake the city on March 5. The attack was made on the afternoon of that day and continued until the evening of the seventh, when the rebels took to the fortified hills surrounding the city and drove the federalists into the cover of the town. At night the rebels withdrew, without pursuit.

During the fighting the rioting occurred throughout the town, the banks were attacked and the market place burned. Many of the residents were killed in the battle.

Washington, March 13.—The withdrawal of American troops from the Mexican frontier, which seemed desirable to Secretary of War Garrison, could not be effected, according to Tasker H. Bliss, in command on the border.

DARROW TRIAL IS FAILURE

Calling McNamara Workers for Great Cause and Not Slayers Hung Jury

—New Trial March 31.

Los Angeles, Cal., March 13.—Clarence S. Darrow, the Chicago attorney who defended the McNamara brothers, who have been on trial for alleged bribery of one of the jurors in the case, was himself responsible for his failure to go free, according to one of the jurors, who requested his name be withheld. The jury, after being out 48 hours, stood 4 to 4 for conviction late Saturday.

Sydney Swept by Gale. Sydney, N. S. W., March 13.—A sixty-mile gale swept this city Tuesday, causing several deaths and doing great damage ashore and about. Sixty street cars were derailed by the wind, several yachts were wrecked and their masts and chimneys toppled over throughout the city. One man was electrocuted, three were drowned in the harbor. A number of buildings were wrecked and trees uprooted.

Hurt in Train Wreck.

Suffern, N. Y., March 13.—Thirteen persons were injured when a freight train, which was racing for a siding, collided head-on with a passenger train on the Piedmont branch of the Erie railroad near Money Tuesday.

Girl Shot in Strike Battle.

Erie, Pa., March 13.—Mary Schlosser, seventeen years old, was shot in the right leg, and two strikers were injured, when striking stonemasons and strike breakers fought here on Tuesday.

Chinese Shoot Russian Consul.

Peking, China, March 13.—The Russian consul, while passing the Chinese barracks in Tientsin, northern Manchuria, was shot by Chinese soldiers Tuesday. Eight shots were fired at his escort.

$64,000 Estate for Laborer.

St. Louis, March 13.—Benjamin Foster Moynihan, a poor laborer of Ottawa, Canada, received Monday the $64,000 estate of Jeremiah Moynihan, St. Louis "millionaire rag picker," who died January 8, 1910.

Thirty Die in Theater Fire.

Bordeaux, France, March 13.—At least thirty persons were killed and more than a score injured in a panic which followed the discovery of a fire in a small moving picture theater at Loan Monday.

White Whips Pal Moore.

Konosha, Wis., March 13.—Charles White of Chicago gave Pal Moore an artistic lacing in a rough savage ten-round fight which wound up a stellar boxing show here on Monday evening.

Gunboat Arrives at San Domingo.

Washington, March 13.—The gunboat Petrel arrived at San Domingo, City, capital of the Dominican republic, for the protection of American interests and citizens on Monday afternoon.

WOMEN ATTACK KING

GEORGE V. OF ENGLAND TARGET FOR MILITANT SUFFRAGETTES IN LONDON.

Seven Amazons Arrested

Two Railway Stations Are Burned. Supposedly by Suffrage Advocates—Parliament Takes Extra Precautions to Avoid Any Interference.

London, March 12.—Suffragists here Monday made King George and Queen Mary targets for an attack. While the king and queen were on their way to Westminster five women attempted to approach his majesty in historic Whitehall. They carried petitions setting forth the grievances of women. The police promptly arrested the five and imprisoned them.

There was a notable demonstration of hostility against the suffragettes by the vast throng gathered to see the royal procession. The five women required the protection of a hundred policemen to keep back the mob, which was exasperated by the recent outrages of the militants.

Two other suffragettes were arrested in the vicinity of Marlborough house and escaped rough handling only through the energetic efforts of the police. Shouts of "Kick them!" "Into the lake with them!" brought out a mob of 3,000, all bent on taking the women from the hands of the police.

Militant suffragettes also started another campaign of arson. Early in the morning they set fire to the Saunderton station of the Great Western railway and burned it to the ground. Another station, Croxley Green, about three miles from London, on the London & Northwestern, also was burned, but the cause of the fire has not been ascertained.

Nottingham, England, March 12.—The militant suffragettes were driven from a hall here Tuesday by the most hostile crowd they have yet encountered, and the would-be speakers were saved from probable injury through the efforts of the police.

Miss Annie Kenney and others attempted to speak, but could not get a hearing. Windows were smashed, banners torn down and the platform stormed.

The police took Miss Kenney and her friends secretly out of the building by a rear exit to escape the violence of the mob.

London, March 12.—The five suffragettes, who attempted to reach the king with petitions, while he was on his way to parliament, were sent to prison for terms ranging from 21 days to a month.

FIREBUG MAKES CONFESSION

Ben Fink, "Torch" of "Arson Trust," Makes Startling Disclosures Involving From 60 to 75.

South Bend, Ind., March 12.—Ben Fink, "torch" of the "arson trust," confessed here Monday. All of the secrets of the gigantic organization for the exploitation of incendiarism were bare to the proper officials and the authorities are now able to bring about the prosecution of from 60 to 75 persons who are hopelessly involved in the plots and counterplots which have resulted in the destruction of property to the value of $1,000,000 scattered through four states, Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin, and Minnesota.

Dies After 34 Days' Sleep.

Rock Island, Ill., March 13.—Mrs. Rosa Havens, forty-five, died at her home in Rock Island Tuesday after a sleep of thirty-four days. Her ailment puzzled physicians. Fourteen years ago the woman slept 121 days.

Dead in Mexican Battle February 9.

Mexico City, March 13.—The death roll of the battle fought in front of the national palace February 9, when Felix Diaz attacked the government, reached 506, according to a report by the military authorities, Tuesday.

Auto Crash Proves Fatal.

Huntsville, Ala., March 11.—Two persons were fatally injured and two others seriously so in an automobile accident which occurred near here Sunday. The dying are: Allen Hutchins and Benjamin Cooley.

Belgian Official's Wife Slain.

Teheran, Persia, March 11.—Mme. Constant, wife of the Belgian director of customs at the port of Bushire, was killed here Saturday by an unidentified Persian, who also severely wounded M. Constant.

Babe Scalded in Bath Dies.

East St. Louis, Ill., March 11.—Ralph Friesz, three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Friesz of 711 Tremont avenue, died as the result of being scalded in the bath tub of his home here Sunday.

Farmer's Wife Mother of Eighteen.

Stillwater, Okla., March 11.—A son born to Mrs. George Mitchell here Sunday afternoon was her eighteenth child. Sixteen of the children are living. Mr. Mitchell is a farmer near Stillwater.

FIFTY SLAIN BY BLAST

VESSEL LOADING DYNAMITE IS BLOWN TO ATOMS.

U. S. Collier Jason Wrecked—Many Craft Damaged Explosion in Baltimore Harbor.

Baltimore, Md., March 10.—Fifty lives were lost and 100 were injured Friday when nearly 350 tons of dynamite, which had been loaded into the hold of the British steamer Alum Chine, at anchor in the Patapago river near Hawkins Point, exploded. The property damage will amount to fully $5,000,000.

The explosive had been loaded into the vessel to be taken to Panama to be used in the construction of the canal. A fire, of unknown origin, broke out on the vessel while the last of the explosive was being loaded. It spread with lightning rapidity to the dynamite and when the explosion occurred the vessel was blown into bits and sent hurtling in all directions through the air.

Bits of the steel sides of the Alum Chine were blown with such force that they tore their way through the armored sides of the collier Jason and, injuring ten others aboard the collier, the tug Atlantic of the Atlantic Transport company caught fire while rescuing some of those on the ill-fated ship and was sunk. Other damage was caused by the breaking of glass and wood work in dwellings as far as several miles from the scene.

Bits of the steel sides of the Alum Chine were blown with such force that they tore their way through the armored sides of the collier Jason and, injuring ten others aboard the collier, the tug Atlantic of the Atlantic Transport company caught fire while rescuing some of those on the ill-fated ship and was sunk. Other damage was caused by the breaking of glass and wood work in dwellings as far as several miles from the scene.

IMPORTANT NEWS ITEMS

St. Petersburg, March 12.—The second daughter of Emperor Nicholas, the Grand Duchess Tatiana, is suffering from typhoid fever at Tsarsko-Selo. She was born in 1897.

Washington, March 10.—The funeral of Mrs. Levi Z. Latta took place at 2 p. m. Saturday from Lester Castle, Dupont circle, Rev. Roland Cotton Smith of St. Johns church officiated. Many diplomats attended.

Washington, March 10.—The Democrats of the senate in caucus selected James M. Baker of South Carolina, assistant librarian of the senate, as candidate for secretary of the senate. This action means his election. Mr. Baker was selected on the second ballot, receiving 25 votes.

Washington, March 11.—Secretary of State Bryan attended the First Presbyterian church Sunday. He wore a high hat. It was a very stunning and shiny affair and the Nebraska wore it with evident embarrassment.

Washington, March 11.—Sergeant Charles A. Norton, Corporal Theodore D. Roberts and Private Ernest Johnson of the marine guards at Managua, Nicaragua, were killed and Capt. Edward A. Green and several other marines were injured, but not seriously, in a railroad collision between Managua and Leon Sunday.

Glasgow, Scotland, March 12.—A terrific dynamite explosion wrecked the tower of Irvine in Ayrshire Monday. The number of dead is "not known." It is said that the injured number hundreds. The explosion occurred at Nobel's explosive works in Ardeer, twenty miles from Glasgow.

Owensboro, Ky., March 12.—Because her sweetheart had married another, Miss Abbie White shot herself through the heart, dying instantly.

Date Auto Fires.

Albany, N. Y., March 13.—The lower house of the New York legislature passed a bill Tuesday afternoon requiring manufacturers of automobile tires to stamp the date of manufacture on each tire.

Breaks Altitude Record.

Paris, March 13.—A new world's record for altitude was established by Aviator Perreyon, who ascended 19,800 feet in his monoplane at the Buc aerodrome Tuesday. The former record was 17,875.

Francisco Madero in New York.

New York, March 10.—Francisco Madero, father of the late president of Mexico, arrived here Friday from Havana, a refugee. He was accompanied by a son, Ernesto, and the latter's wife and family.

Kinney Is Indicted.

Cleveland, Ohio, March 10.—Frank Kinney, arrested in Chicago recently and brought here charged with the killing of Capt. Ralph Byrne, was indicted by the grand jury for first degree murder Friday.

Wilson Reappoints Nellis.

Washington, March 10.—President Wilson reappointed Charles P. Nellis as commissioner of labor Friday. Commissioner Nellis came from Illinois, although appointed from the District of Columbia.

Aid to Postmaster General.

Washington, March 10.—James R. Blakeless, secretary of the Pennsylvania state Democratic committee, was selected for nomination as third assistant postmaster general on Friday.

WILL PROTECT

FROGS IN STATE

Assembly Passes Bill for Closed Season.

Author of Measure Asserts Methods of Hunters in Handling the Animals Is Barbaric—Sees 22 Sacks Imbedded in Ice.

Madison.—The frog is to be protected. The assembly unanimously passed the Spoor bill providing for a closed season for frogs from November 1 to June 1, forbidding eating or hunting in that time. Spoor made an eloquent plea.

Hunters Are Barbaric.

"The methods of frog hunters are barbaric," he said. "I have seen men cut live frogs in two, tossing the hind quarters into a sack and throwing the still struggling forequarters on the floor. Last week I saw men take 22 sacks of frogs which they found imbedded in ice."

"The brass spittoons distributed about the capitol cost $24 each. I don't think you gentlemen will hesitate to expend the cost of those brass spittoons to give us the chance to have a full-fledged Congress." Miss Adames of Richland Center, Wis., closed her argument for a resubmission of the question of woman suffrage to the question before the senate committee on education and public welfare.

How interest in this matter has fallen off was shown in the little group of women who gathered in the committee room as compared with the gathering two years ago, which filled the assembly floor and galleries and overflowed into the parlors and lobby. There was, however, just as much earnestness shown by the suffragists even if the support was not so great.

The hearing was on Senator Glenn's bill, 2255, granting women the right of suffrage. Senator Glenn spoke briefly at the opening of the hearing, leaving it to the women present to make the arguments.

Miss James said that even if some women did not care to vote, they could join the 162,000 men who did not feel like exercising their right of suffrage at the recent election in this state. Miss James said that more votes were cast on the woman suffrage question in November than were cast for the three candidates for governor or for the presidential candidates, or for all the other amendments on the ballot, which indicated the interest taken in the question. The defeat of the bill was due, she said, to the fact of the fact that the state is free from the domination of the railroads and corporations and it cannot be that you will let the liquor dealer have the last word on this subject."

Miss James said the only argument which should be considered against the resubmission of the bill to the people for a referendum vote was that of expense.

Robert Wild of Milwaukee, representing the German-American alliance, was the only one who appeared against the bill. Mr. Wild made but a short address. The proposition, he said, had been defeated by a majority of 92,000. If suffrage had carried, he maintained, it would have needed considerable hardihood for anyone to come before the present legislature and asked to have the question resubmitted to the people.

"This question has been thoroughly discussed," said Mr. Wild, "and I do not believe the people care to vote on it again."

"Would it tend to educate the people?" asked Senator Teasdale, the chairman of the committee.

"The people have been educated. With due deference to the senator who introduced the bill it seems to me almost impudent to bring this matter in again. There was an appeal to the highest court and that court has spoken. There was a fair, square vote, and that should stand."

"Progress is slow, and has been slow from the beginning of time," said Senator Glenn. "There has always been some who opposed it. I ways been an insult almost to say it is wrong to introduce this bill at this session."

Janosville Must Pay State.

That the city of Janosville will have to pay the sum of $2,850, the cost of re-assessment of the city by the state tax commission, was stated by Nils P. Haugen. The duty of making the collection, he said, devolves upon the state treasurer, and by such claims are taken into the county when settlements are made between the state and county.

Form Co-Operative League.

A corporation comprising Wisconsin's leading agricultural bodies and co-operative enterprises and including the Wisconsin State Federation of Labor and the State Federation of Women's Clubs, was formed at Madison by the incorporation of the Wisconsin Agricultural and Industrial association.

State recognition is further provided in the form of a proposed law the bill for which was introduced by Senator Browne through the committee on legislative procedure. It calls for an appropriation of $40,000.

Child Labor and Schools.

The industrial commission and the state superintendent of schools have asked the legislative committee on education and public welfare to call a state conference on the child labor and school attendance laws and their administration. The conference will meet on Tuesday, March 18, in assembly room. Hearings on bills now before the legislature will be continued for the same time and place. The invitation is extended to associations and individuals concerned in the administration of these laws.

Reception Is Well Attended.

The reception tendered by Governor McGovern to the state officers and members of the legislature was one of the largest official functions ever given at the executive mansion. In the receiving line were: Colonel McGregor, military secretary to the governor; Governor McGovern, Gen. C. R. Boardman and Mrs. H. C. Martin, Secretary of State John S. Donald and Mrs. W. C. Owen, State Treasurer Henry Johnson, and Mrs. J. T. McGovern, Attorney General W. C. Owen and Mrs. Henry Johnson.

State Laundrymen Name Heads.

The annual convention of the Wisconsin Laundrymen's association at the Republican house, Milwaukee, ended, and the members were entertained at a theater party. The members of the association took an automobile ride, visiting and inspecting all the principal laundries in the city.

William Fitch, National Laundrymen's association, addressed the convention. He told of the work being done by the national association. G. Emerson

Several Bills Are Introduced in the Assembly With Object of Regulating "Movies."

Madison—One of the best jobs in the gift of the legislature is in process of creation. It is proposed to censor the moving picture shows. Whoever gets the job will be able to see everything in that line and without paying a cent. There are several bills in the two houses dealing with the subject. A senate bill provides that all pictures and films shall be brought to Madison for exhibition before the industrial commission, which will pass on them. All the bills provide for licensing the pictures. Any one producing moving pictures without a license will be up against a stiff fine and possible confiscation. Every time pictures are shown without carrying the stamp of approval from the industrial commission is made a separate offense.

Christopher Columbus, who discovered America, is going to have a very rocky time of it, securing all to himself one day each year which shall be a legal holiday. A bill making Oct. 12, the day on which the cry of "land ho" was heard on Columbus' caravels, a legal holiday, was introduced in the assembly by Assemblyman R. J. Nye of Superior. Little attention was paid to the bill until it came before the assembly for engrossment. Then intimations of the gathering storm began to show.

Before the assembly finance committee, which sat jointly with the committee on education, the McCumb bill, which increases the number of industrial schools which may be established from thirty to forty-five, was discussed, as was Senator Burke's bill proposing to remove the Stout training school from Menomonie to Eau Claire. The latter will be recommended for indefinite postponement.

Assemblyman Rosa's bill which provides that any person who shall sell any domestic animal upon the representation that such animal is pure bred when in fact it is not registered or eligible to registry, or shall knowingly pass or deliver a false or fraudulent pedigree shall be punishable by a fine not exceeding $1,000, was recommended for passage by the assembly committee on agriculture.

The bill direct marketing bill was passed to engrossment by the assembly. This bill provides that any one who wishes to purchase direct from farmers may apply to the industrial commission, which commission shall keep a list of those who wish to purchase direct. Such persons must give a certificate of good financial standing. The farmers are not required to give recommendation as to their standing.

The Hedding bill which increases the terms of the county judges from four to six years was passed in the assembly. The bill as amended and passed provides that all of the county judges in the state are to be affected by the change and not only those of Milwaukee county as provided in the original bill presented by Mr. Hedding.

Another election bill in the assembly provides that election days shall be observed as half holidays throughout the state in order to give employed persons time to go to the polls.

Co-Eds to Edit Cardinal.

Madison—Thirty-four young women students of the University of Wisconsin will edit the April 1 issue of the Daily Cardinal, the university student daily paper. The men students will give over entire charge of the paper to the young women for the one day. Not only will all news matter be gathered by the co-eds but advertising matter as well will be solicited by the young women. One page of the paper will be devoted to criticisms of the men students of the university.

Carry Fire to Fighters.

Janesville—Bringing the fire to the fire department is the latest way of fighting conflagrations in Janesville. A carload of perishable freight in the South Janesville yards caught fire from an overheated stove and instead of calling the department out for a long, hard run, a switch engine was attached to the car and it was hauled to the fire station, two miles away, where it was extinguished.

Spring Water for Senators.

Madison—Supt. of Public Property Esman informs senate members that he has ordered a carload of water from Waukesha and that it will arrive soon. Also he had issued individual drinking cups.

$100,000 Janesville Hotel.

Janesville—Janesville may have a $100,000 hotel constructed on South Main street within the next six months. Tentative plans have been drawn up and a lessee secured.

Marrying Pastor Dies.

Grantsburg—Rev. Joseph J. Pickle, one of the best known Methodist ministers in this section, is dead. He held undisputed title of "The Marrying Minister," having married 464 couples during his ministry.

Case Sales $14,854,944.62

Racine—The annual report of the J. I. Case company for 1912 shows the gross sales to be $14,854,944.62 and miscellaneous earnings $325,310.69, a total of $15,180,255.31.

Confesses He Set Fires.

Janesville—Percy Merrill has confessed to State Fire Marshal Purcell that he set fires about the city since November, entailing several thousand dollars' loss. He will be examined as to his sanity.

Alvin Reis Goes to Oberlin.

Madison—The Northern Oratorical league contest for the universities of the middle west will be held at Oberlin, O., May 2. Alvin Reis will be the Badger representative.

Kill Telephone Tax Bill.

Madison—The senate killed Senator Teasdale's bill providing for an ad valorem taxation of telephone companies, in accordance with the adverse recommendation of the finance committee.

JOLTS LATIN STATES

WILSON NOTIFIES SOUTH AMERICAN REPUBLICS U. S. WILL TOLERATE NO DISORDER.

OFFERS HAND OF FRIENDSHIP

President Issues Strong Formal Statement Announcing Views on Trouble in Lower Section of American Hemisphere.

Washington, March 13.—The keynote of a statement issued by President Wilson here Tuesday night, outlining his policy toward the Central and Southern American republics, is that there must be peace in the Latin American republics and that this peace must be maintained without any steps toward personal aggrandizement.

"We can have no sympathy with those who seek to seize the power of government to advance their own personal interests," is probably the most significant sentence of the statement, for therein the president shows clearly that the present administration will not countenance another Huerta uprising or another incipient revolt, such as that of the murder of President Arango of San Salvador, even if he has to use force to prevent them.

The president's statement follows:

"One of the chief objects of my administration will be to cultivate the friendship and deserve the confidence of our sister republics of Central and South America, and to promote in every proper and honorable way the interests which are common to the peoples of the two continents. I earnestly desire the most cordial understanding and co-operation between the peoples and leaders of America and therefore, deem it my duty to make this brief statement.

"Co-operation is possible only when supported at every turn by the orderly process of just government based upon law and not arbitrary or irregular force. We hold as I am sure all thoughtful leaders of republican government everywhere hold, that just government rests always upon the consent of the governed, and that there can be no freedom without order based upon law and upon the public conscience and approval. We shall look to make these principles the basis of mutual intercourse, respect and helpfulness between our sister republics and ourselves. We shall lend our influence of every kind to the realization of these principles in fact and practice, knowing that disorder, personal interests and defiance of constitutional rights weaken and discredit government and have none so much as the people who are unfortunate enough to have their common life and their common affairs so tainted and disturbed.

"We can have no sympathy with those who seek to seize the power of government to advance their own personal interests or ambition. We are the friends of peace, but we know that there can be no lasting or stable peace in such circumstances. As friends, therefore, we shall prefer those who act in the interest of peace and honor, who protect private rights and respect the restraint of constitutional provision. Mutual respect seems to us the indispensable foundation of friendship between states, as between individuals.

"The United States has nothing to seek in Central and South America except the lasting interests of the peoples of the two continents, the security of governments intended for the people and for no special group of interests and the development of peace and trade relationships between the two continents which should be returned to the profit and advantage of both of them.

"From these principles may be read so much of the future policy of this government as it is necessary now to forecast; and in the spirit of these principles I may, I hope, be permitted to extend to the governments of all the republics of America the hand of genuine disinterested friendship and to pledge my own honor and the honor of my colleagues to every enterprise of peace and amity that a fortunate future may disclose."

Sydney Swept by Gale.

Sydney, N. S. W., March 13.—A sixty-mile gale swept this city Tuesday, causing several deaths and doing great damage to property. Sixty street cars were derailed by the wind, several yachts were wrecked at their moorings and chimneys toppled over throughout the city. One man was electrocuted, three were drowned in the harbor. A number of buildings were wrecked and trees uprooted.

Hurt in Train Wreck.

Suffern, N. Y., March 13.—Thirteen persons were injured when a freight train, which was racing for a siding, collided head-on with a passenger train on the Piedmont branch of the Erie railroad near Monsey Tuesday.

Girl Shot in Strike Battle.

Erie, Pa., March 13.—Mary Schlosser, seventeen years old, was shot in the right leg and two strikers were injured, when striking stove-makers and strike breakers fought here on Tuesday.

Chinese Shoot Russian Consul.

Peking, China, March 13.—The Russian consul while passing the Chinese barracks in Tientsin, northern Manchuria, was shot by Chinese soldiers Tuesday. Eight shots were fired at his escort.

$64,000 Estate for Laborer.

St. Louis, March 13.—Benjamin Foster Moynihan, a poor laborer of Ottawa, Canada, received Monday the $64,000 estate of Jeremiah Moynihan, St. Louis "millionaire" rag picker, who died January 8, 1910.

Thirty Die in Theater Fire.

Bordeaux, France, March 13.—At least thirty persons were killed and more than a score injured in a panic which followed the discovery of a fire in a small moving picture theater at Loon Monday.

White Whips Pal Moore.

Kenosha, Wis., March 13.—Charlie White of Chicago gave Pal Moore an artistic lacing in a rough, savage ten-round fight which wound up a stellar boxing show here on Monday evening.

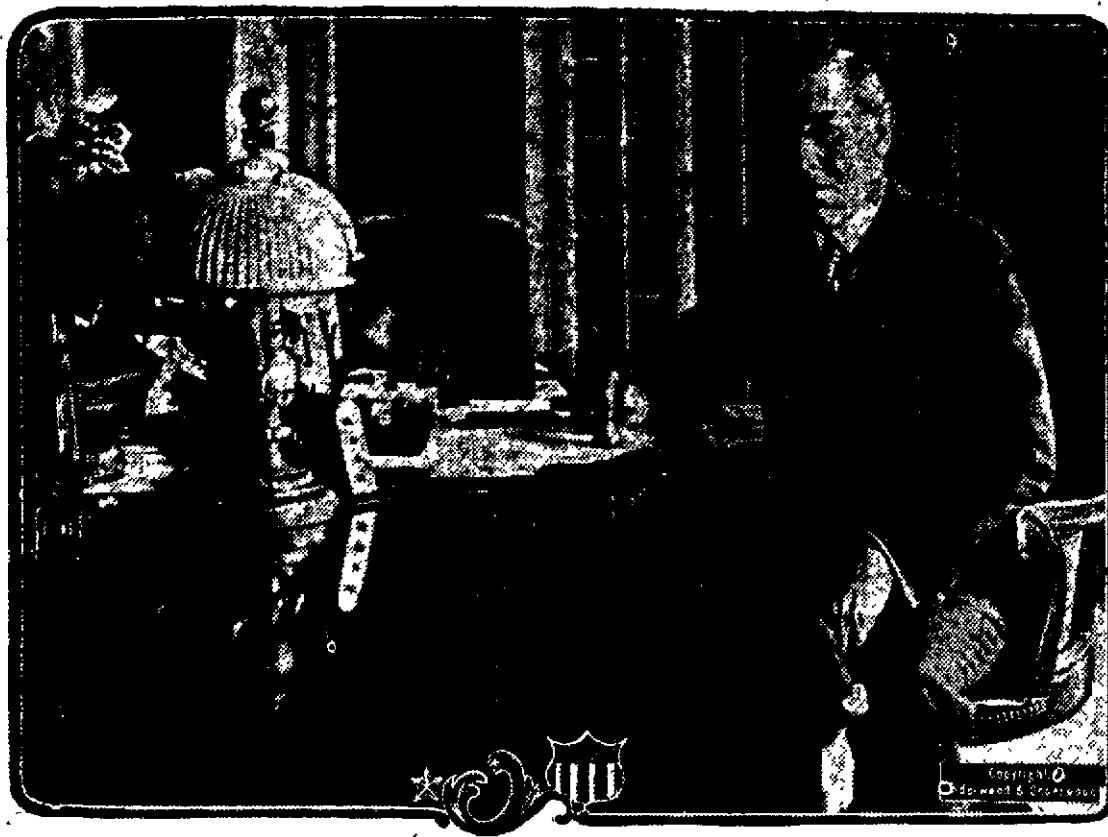

Gunboat Arrives at San Domingo.

Washington, March 13.—The gunboat Petrel arrived at San Domingo City, capital of the Dominican Republic, for the protection of American interests and citizens on Monday afternoon.

McFarland Beats Britton.

New York, March 10.—By popular decision Macky McFarland won on points in his ten-round bout with Jack Britton at Madison Square garden here Friday. The men weighed in at 137 pounds at 3 p. m.

PRESIDENT WILSON IN HIS OFFICE

The photographer was one of President Wilson's first callers after he occupied his new office, and this was the excellent result.

REBELS DRIVEN BACK

MEXICAN FEDERALS AT PANAMA SUBDUED RIOTING.

Battle Occurs in Streets of City and American Interests Suffer—U. S. Troops to Stay on Border.

El Paso, Tex., March 12.—After 50 hours fighting, during which rebels attacked the city of Panama, state of Chihuahua, while the townspeople fled, burning the market place and attacking the banks, the federal garrison repulsed the enemy and in street fights subdued the inhabitants. Details of the conflict have reached this city. Lines of communication both by rail and telegraph had previously been useless.

A force of 1,500 constitutionalists, rebelling against Huerta's government, were driven back into the city by a force of federals.

Panama, which is a center of American mining and industrial interests, was badly damaged in the fight and the bombardment which followed. Fighting of the most desperate character took place in the streets of the city.

The rebels were the same that left Panama last week after suddenly rebelling against the Huerta regime. They mobilized at Santa Barbara and returned to retake the city on March 5.

The attack was made on the afternoon of that day and continued until the evening of the seventh, when the rebels took to the fortified hills surrounding the city and drove the federalists into the cover of the town. At night the rebels withdrew, without pursuit.

During the fighting the rioting occurred throughout the town, the banks were attacked and the market place burned. Many of the residents were killed in the battle.

Washington, March 12.—The withdrawal of American troops from the Mexican frontier, which seemed desirable to Secretary of War Garrison, cannot be effected, according to Tasker H. Bliss, in command on the border.

DARROW TRIAL IS FAILURE

Calling McNamara Workers for Great Cause and Not Slayers Hung Jury—New Trial March 31.

Los Angeles, Cal., March 11.—Clarence S. Darrow, the Chicago attorney who defended the McNamara brothers and who has been on trial for alleged bribery of one of the jurors in the case, was himself responsible for his failure to go free, according to one of the jurors, who requested his name be withheld. The jury, after being out 48 hours, stood 8 to 4 for conviction late Saturday.

Just one declaration of the lawyer during his plea for liberty settled the case with the men who held his fate in their hands. Darrow declared that, although the bomb which destroyed the Los Angeles Times building had killed 20 men, the McNamara brothers were not murderers, but workers in a great cause.

Judge Conley nixed March 31 as the date for a new trial.

Jim Hall, Pugilist, Found Dying.

Neenah, Wis., March 12.—"Jim" Hall, a former well known pugilist, was found dying of tuberculosis in a hotel Monday. He is penniless, and his once great physique has wasted away until he is hardly recognizable.

Munsey Sells Boston Paper.

Boston, March 12.—Frank A. Munsey sold his morning paper, the Boston Journal, Monday. The announcement was made, but the identity of the purchaser was not made known. He bought the paper in 1903.

House Will Not Censure Police.

Harrisburg, Pa., March 12.—The resolution censuring the police of Washington, for alleged failure to protect the women's suffrage parade of March 3, was defeated in the house by a vote of 72 to 67 Monday.

Himalaya Mining Company Bankrupt.

New York, March 11.—The Himalaya Mining company, an Arizona corporation, with mines in California and Mexico, Nev., filed a petition in voluntary bankruptcy in federal court Saturday. Liabilities are $477,700.

Find Two Bodies in Fire Ruin.

Hot Springs, Ark., March 11.—Mme. Charles A. Carey and E. J. Reynolds of Utica, Ill., perished in the fire that destroyed several local stores. They were found in the ruins of an oriental goods store Sunday.

New Miss Gould Arrives.

New York, March 10.—Congratulatory telegrams, letters and gifts of flowers poured into the Fifth avenue home of Mr. and Mrs. Jay Gould following the news of the arrival of a new Miss Gould Friday.

McFarland Beats Britton.

New York, March 10.—By popular decision Macky McFarland won on points in his ten-round bout with Jack Britton at Madison Square garden here Friday. The men weighed in at 137 pounds at 3 p. m.

WOMEN ATTACK KING

GEORGE V. OF ENGLAND TARGET FOR MILITANT SUFFRAGETTES IN LONDON.

Seven Amazons Arrested.

Two Railway Stations Are Burned. Supposedly by Suffrage Advocates.—Parliament Takes Extra Precautions to Avoid Any Interference.

London, March 12.—Suffragettes here Monday made King George and Queen Mary targets for an attack. While the king and queen were on their way to Westminster five women attempted to approach his majesty in historic Whitehall. They carried petitions setting forth the grievances of women. The police promptly arrested the five and imprisoned them.

There was a notable demonstration of hostility against the suffragettes by the vast throng gathered to see the royal procession. The five women required the protection of a hundred policemen to keep back the mob, which was exasperated by the recent outrages of the militants.

Two other suffragettes were arrested in the vicinity of Marlborough house and escaped rough handling only through the energetic efforts of the police. Shooters of "Duck them!" "Into the lake with them!" brought out a mob of 3,000, all bent on taking the women from the hands of the police.

Militant suffragettes also started an early campaign of arson. Early in the morning they set fire to the Saunderton station of the Great Western railway and burned it to the ground.

Another station, Croxley Green, about three miles from London, on the London & Northwestern, also was burned, but the cause of the fire has not been ascertained.

Nottingham, England, March 12.—The militant suffragettes were driven from a hall here Tuesday by a most hostile crowd they have yet encountered, and the would-be speakers were saved from probable injury through the efforts of the police.

Miss Annie Kenney and others attempted to speak, but could not get a hearing. Windows were smashed, banners torn down and the platform stormed.

The police took Miss Kenney and her friends secretly out of the building by a rear exit to escape the violence of the mob.

London, March 12.—The five suffragettes, who attempted to reach the king with petitions, while he was on his way to parliament, were sent to prison for terms ranging from 21 days to a month.

FIREBOMB MAKES CONFESSION

Ben Fink, "Torch" of "Arson Trust," Makes Strident Disclosures Involving From 60 to 75.

South Bend, Ind., March 12.—Ben Fink, "torch" of the "Arson Trust," confessed here Monday. All of the secrets of the gigantic organization for the exploitation of incendiarism were bare to the proper officials and the authorities are now able to bring about the prosecution of from 60 to 75 persons who are hopelessly involved in the plots and counterplots which have resulted in the destruction of property to the value of $1,000,000 scattered through four states, Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin and Minnesota.

Dies After 34 Days' Sleep.

Rock Island, Ill., March 13.—Mrs. Rose Havens, forty-five, died at her home in Mahersville Tuesday after a sleep of thirty-four days. Her ailment puzzled physicians. Fourteen years ago the woman slept 121 days.

Dead in Mexican Battle February 9.

Mexico City, March 13.—The death of the battle fought in front of the national palace February 9, when Felix Diaz attacked the government, reached 506, according to a report by the military authorities Tuesday.

Auto Crash Proves Fatal.

Huntsville, Ala., March 11.—Two persons were fatally injured and two others seriously so in an automobile accident which occurred near here Sunday. The dying are: Allen Hutchins and Benjamin Cooley.

Belgian Official's Wife Slain.

Teheran, Persia, March 11.—Mme. Constant, wife of the Belgian director of customs at the port of Bushire, was murdered here Saturday by an unidentified Persian, who also severely wounded M. Constant.

Babe Scalded in Bath Dies.

East St. Louis, Ill., March 11.—Ralph Friesz, three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Friesz of 711 Tremblay avenue, died as the result of being scalded in the bath tub of his home here Sunday.

Farmer's Wife Mother of Eighteen.

Stillwater, Okla., March 11.—A son born to Mrs. George Mitchell here Sunday afternoon was her eighteenth child. Sixteen of the children are living. Mr. Mitchell is a farmer near Stillwater.

Wilson Reappoints Neill.

Washington, March 10.—President Wilson reappointed Charles P. Neill as commissioner of labor Friday. Commissioner Neill came from Illinois, although appointed from the District of Columbia.

Ald to Postmaster General.

Washington, March 10.—James R. Blakeslee, secretary of the Pennsylvania state Democratic committee, was selected for nomination as third assistant postmaster general on Friday.

WILL PROTECT FROGS IN STATE

Assembly Passes Bill for Closed Season.

SPOOR MAKES ELOQUENT PLEA

Author of Measure Asserts Methods of Hunters in Handling the Animals Is Barbaric—Sees 22 Sacks Imbedded in Ice.

Madison—The frog is to be protected. The assembly unanimously passed the Spoor bill providing for a closed season for frogs from November 1 to June 1, forbidding eating or hunting in that time. Spoor made an eloquent plea.

Hunters Are Barbaric.

"The methods of frog hunters are barbaric," he said. "I have seen men cut live frogs in two, tossing the hind quarters into a sack and throwing the still struggling forequarters on the floor. Last week I saw men take 22 sacks of frogs which they found imbedded in ice."

"The brass spittoons distributed about the capitol cost $24 each. I don't think you gentlemen will hesitate to expend the cost of those brass spittoons to give us the chance to become full-fledged citizens." Miss Adames of Richland Center thus closed her argument for a resubmission of the question of woman suffrage to the people before the senate committee on education and public welfare.

How interest in this matter has fallen off was shown in the little group of women who gathered in the committee room as compared with the gathering two years ago, which filled the assembly floor and galleries and overflowed into the perils and lobby.

There was, however, just as much earnestness shown by the suffragists even if the support was not so great.

The hearing was on Senator Glenn's bill, 2258, granting women the right of suffrage. Senator Glenn spoke briefly at the opening of the hearing leaving it to the women present to make the arguments.

Miss James said that even if some women did not care to vote, they could join the 162,000 men who did not feel like exercising their right of suffrage at the recent election in this state. Miss James said that more women were cast on the woman suffrage question in November than were cast for the three candidates for governor or for all the other amendments on the ballot, which indicated the interest taken in the question. The defeat of the bill was due, she said, to the Retail Liquor Dealers' association and the German-American alliance.

"Wisconsin," said Miss James, "is proud of the fact that the state is free from the domination of the railroads and corporations and it cannot be that you will let the liquor dealer have the last word on this subject."

Miss James said the only argument which should be considered against the resubmission of the bill to the people for a referendum vote was that of expense.

Robert Wild of Milwaukee, representing the German-American alliance, was the only one who appeared against the bill. Mr. Wild made a short address. The proposition, he said, had been defeated by a majority of 92,000. If suffrage had carried, he maintained, it would have needed considerable hardihood for anyone to come before the present legislature and asked to have the question resubmitted to the people.

"This question has been thoroughly discussed," said Mr. Wild, "and I do not believe the people care to vote on it again."

"Would it tend to educate the people," asked Senator Teasdale, the chairman of the committee.

"It would not," replied Mr. Wild. "The people have been educated. With due deference to the senator who introduced the bill it seems to me almost impudent to bring this matter in again. There was an appeal to the highest court and that court has spoken. There was a fair, square vote, and that should stand."

"Progress is slow, and has been slow from the beginning of time," said Senator Glenn. "There has always been some who opposed it. I think it is an insult almost to say it is wrong to introduce this bill at this session."

That the city of Janesville will have to pay the sum of $2,850, the cost of re-assessment of the city by the state tax commission, was stated by Nils P. Haugen. The duty of making the collection, he said, devolves upon the state treasurer, and by such claims are taken into the county when settlements are made between the state and county.

Form Co-Operative League.

A corporation comprising Wisconsin's leading agricultural bodies and co-operative enterprises and including the Wisconsin State Federation of Labor and the State Federation of Women's Clubs, was formed at Madison by the incorporation of the Wisconsin Agricultural and Industrial Association. State recognition is further provided in the form of a proposed law the bill for which was introduced by Senator Browne through the committee on legislative procedure. It calls for an appropriation of $40,000.

Child Labor and Schools.

The industrial commission and the state superintendent of schools have asked the legislative committee on education and public welfare to call a state conference on the child labor and school attendance laws and their administration. The conference will meet on Tuesday, March 18, in assembly room. Hearings on bills now before the legislature will be held on the same time and place. The invitation is extended to associations and individuals concerned in the administration of these laws.

Reception Is Well Attended.

The reception tendered by Governor McGovern to the state officers and members of the legislature was one of the largest official functions ever given at the executive mansion. In the receiving line were: Colonel McGregor, military secretary to the governor; Governor McGovern, Gen. C. R. Boardman and Mrs. H. C. Martin, Secretary of State John S. Donald and Mrs. W. C. Owen, State Treasurer Henry Johnson and Mrs. J. J. McGovern, Attorney General W. C. Owen and Mrs. Henry Johnson.

Wisconsin Patents.

Sevell L. Charles, Neillville, eighth attachment for automobiles; Walter E. Christian, Kenosha, lamp; Louis A. Cornelius, Grand Rapids, Mich., chain post; Edwin O. Klann, Milwaukee, paper fastener; August Lightbass, Oshkosh, drawbridge gate; Ray G. Marvin, Wilton, ironing table; George L. Sieber, West Allis, tick machine for conductors; Wenzel C. Upbank, Manitowish, potens head for casters; Richard H. Welles, Kenosha, electrical connector; Richard H. Welles, Kenosha, electrical connector.

Endeavor—At the annual meeting of the Marquette County Rural Letter Carriers' association the following officers were elected: President, John Ennis; vice-president, Samuel Dewar; treasurer, R. A. Hersey; secretary, Edward Crawford.

Manitowish—John Gallagher, sixty years old, a resident of this city, committed suicide by hanging in his barn. His body was found suspended from a rafter, by his sister. No cause is known for the deed as he was in good health and spirits.

Endeavor—At the annual meeting of the Marquette County Rural Letter Carriers' association the following officers were elected: President, John Ennis; vice-president, Samuel Dewar; treasurer, R. A. Hersey; secretary, Edward Crawford.

Manitowish—John Gallagher, sixty years old, a resident of this city, committed suicide by hanging in his barn. His body was found suspended from a rafter, by his sister. No cause is known for the deed as he was in good health and spirits.

Endeavor—At the annual meeting of the Marquette County Rural Letter Carriers' association the following officers were elected: President, John Ennis; vice-president, Samuel Dewar; treasurer, R. A. Hersey; secretary, Edward Crawford.

Manitowish—John Gallagher, sixty years old, a resident of this city, committed suicide by hanging in his barn. His body was found suspended from a rafter, by his sister. No cause is known for the deed as he was in good health and spirits.

Endeavor—At the annual meeting of the Marquette County Rural Letter Carriers' association the following officers were elected: President, John Ennis; vice-president, Samuel Dewar; treasurer, R. A. Hersey; secretary, Edward Crawford.

Manitowish—John Gallagher, sixty years old, a resident of this city, committed suicide by hanging in his barn. His body was found suspended from a rafter, by his sister. No cause is known for the deed as he was in good health and spirits.

Endeavor—At the annual meeting of the Marquette County Rural Letter Carriers' association the following officers were elected: President, John Ennis; vice-president, Samuel Dewar; treasurer, R. A. Hersey; secretary, Edward Crawford.

Manitowish—John Gallagher, sixty years old, a resident of this city, committed suicide by hanging in his barn. His body was found suspended from a rafter, by his sister. No cause is known for the deed as he was in good health and spirits.

Endeavor—At the annual meeting of the Marquette County Rural Letter Carriers' association the following officers were elected: President, John Ennis; vice-president, Samuel Dewar; treasurer, R. A. Hersey; secretary, Edward Crawford.

Manitowish—John Gallagher, sixty years old, a resident of this city, committed suicide by hanging in his barn. His body was found suspended from a rafter, by his sister. No cause is known for the deed as he was in good health and spirits.

Endeavor—At the annual meeting of the Marquette County Rural Letter Carriers' association the following officers were elected: President, John Ennis; vice-president, Samuel Dewar; treasurer, R. A. Hersey; secretary, Edward Crawford.

Manitowish—John Gallagher, sixty years old, a resident of this city, committed suicide by hanging in his barn. His body was found suspended from a rafter, by his sister. No cause is known for the deed as he was in good health and spirits.

Endeavor—At the annual meeting of the Marquette County Rural Letter Carriers' association the following officers were elected: President, John Ennis; vice-president, Samuel Dewar; treasurer, R. A. Hersey; secretary, Edward Crawford.

Manitowish—John Gallagher, sixty years old, a resident of this city, committed suicide by hanging in his barn. His body was found suspended from a rafter, by his sister. No cause is known for the deed as he was in good health and spirits.

Endeavor—At the annual meeting of the Marquette County Rural Letter Carriers' association the following officers were elected: President, John Ennis; vice-president, Samuel Dewar; treasurer, R. A. Hersey; secretary, Edward Crawford.

Manitowish—John Gallagher, sixty years old, a resident of this city, committed suicide by hanging in his barn. His body was found suspended from a rafter, by his sister. No cause is known for the deed as he was in good health and spirits.

Endeavor—At the annual meeting of the Marquette County Rural Letter Carriers' association the following officers were elected: President, John Ennis; vice-president, Samuel Dewar; treasurer, R. A. Hersey; secretary, Edward Crawford.

Manitowish—John Gallagher, sixty years old, a resident of this city, committed suicide by hanging in his barn. His body was found suspended from a rafter, by his sister. No cause is known for the deed as he was in good health and spirits.

NOTABLE VICTORY FOR THE PEOPLE

Upsetting of Western Classification 51 Means Much.

RAILROADS LOSE BIG CASE

Chairman Thorne of Iowa Commission Tells How the Shippers and Consumers of the West Benefit by the Decision.

Dos Moines, Ia., March 13.—The people of the United States have had Iowa to thank for a number of excellent things, and to the list must be added an achievement that means a great deal to the shippers of the entire west from the Mississippi to the Pacific. Especially are those shippers under obligations to the Iowa state board of railroad commissioners and its chairman, Clifford Thorne.

This achievement is the suspension and revision, by the Interstate Commerce Commission, of an entire freight classification, known as Western classification No. 51, and on March 31 the several hundred changes made to conform to the commission's order will go into effect. Shippers and consumers alike will benefit by the revision.

Iowa leads the fight. Iowa commission was by no means alone in the good work, but it took the initiative in the case and assumed the chief part of the burden of preparing and trying it. Sixteen western state railroad commissions united in the fight, and Mr. Thorne was the chairman of the committee representing them. He gives much credit to Benjamin L. Jacobson, who had general charge of gathering the evidence and preparing the specific cases for trial, and to A. D. Beals, Iowa's rate expert.

Mr. Thorne today had this to say of the big case and its outcome: "One day during the summer of 1911 I was seated in a hotel parlor in Milwaukee. In one end of the room there were sixteen men in their shirtsleeves, talking and listening occasionally to a person standing in the center of the room; two or three minutes were allowed to the gentleman talking; he took his seat and another person told a short story; and so on, during the course of the whole day.

"This small group of men exercised more power than any other assembled group, perhaps, in the United States. Some nine hundred railroads, large and small, interested in traffic between the Mississippi river and the Pacific coast, have organized what committee a western classification committee of about eighty-five members. These eighty-five men have selected a sub-committee of sixteen men. This sub-committee, which is dominated by one or two individuals, determines the freight rates on over 7,000 articles on which 35,000,000 people have to pay traffic between about 20,000 towns, located between the Mississippi river and the Pacific coast. This is one of the three important classification committees in America, the other two being the official, covering the northeastern portion of the United States, and the Southern.

"For the first time in the history of American railroads an entire classification of one of these three great freight classification committees has been suspended by the federal government. And the committee I have described has been making a revision of its former work, in accordance with the decision which was rendered by the Interstate Commerce Commission recently, known as the decision in the case of Western Classification No. 51. The railroads have just submitted to the commission a list of several hundred changes in this classification to conform to the commission's order, and these will go into effect March 31. The opinion in this case, next to the one rendered in the express case, is perhaps the longest ever written by the Interstate Commerce Commission. The case is of national importance. Many of its features are unique, and of profound concern to the consumers of the country.

Sixteen States United. "Many shippers and shippers' organizations were parties to this case. But perhaps the most interesting feature was the fact that on behalf of the consumers of the railroad commodities of sixteen great states appeared. These states were Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa, Missouri, Arkansas, Louisiana, Texas, Oklahoma, Nebraska, South Dakota, North Dakota, Colorado, Nevada, Washington and Oregon. On the one hand we had the representatives of some nine hundred railroads, and opposed to them the representatives of sixteen state governments, with the Interstate Commerce Commission as the deciding tribunal. The hearing in the case lasted about ten days.

Books Speak. Books carry with them a charm of their own. They speak of cozy indignities about the evening lamp. Few things add so much of warmth and liveliness to a room as shelves of "used" books.

Saving Time. "Roosvelt Named for 1916." But why stop there? Why not for 1920, 1924 and 1928? It would save both time and the cost of holding conventions.—New York Evening Post.

Envious and Unable. Tarrytown naturalists report a hen which attempted suicide because she was unable to lay eggs. Some one says that the hen was eating the new-fangled eggs, but she was not.

Modest Man. Tailor—"You have inherited a lot of money; why don't you settle my bill?" Owens—"My dear sir, I won't have it said for anything that my newly acquired wealth caused any departure from my simple habits."

Pepper for Mice. Cayenne pepper is excellent as a means of ridding a cupboard of mice. The floor should be gone over carefully and each hole stopped up with a piece of rag dipped in water and then in cayenne pepper.

For Oil Paintings. A washed and peeled potato, cut in half, can be used to clean oil paintings. The surface should then be rubbed with a damp cloth, rubbed with dry cotton wool, and finally polished with a silk handkerchief.

MADE FOGIES GASP

WILSON'S PLAN TO VISIT THE CAPITOL OCCASIONALLY BREAKS PRECEDENT.

NO REASON HE SHOULDN'T

Any President Who Sought to Influence Legislation Could Do It Much More Privately by Conferences in White House.

By GEORGE CLINTON.

Washington, President Wilson's hint that he may go on occasion to the capitol where he can be in touch with legislation, created a ten-day stir, and it will create another ten days' stir, and perhaps more, after the extra session convenes he carries out his hinted intention.

It does not seem that there would be anything to create special interest, but alone undue excitement. In the expressed desire of the president of the United States to sit for a few hours each week under the same dome of the capitol where he would be in easy reach of such members as might like to consult him or as he might like to consult, but anything which breaks precedent in Washington raises commotion, and there is nothing strong opposition. There is nothing in the Constitution or laws of the United States to prevent the president from making his office anywhere that he wishes in the city of Washington, and if his desire is to have a branch office in the capitol, nothing can be done to prevent it, and very likely there is no reason except that of tradition and precedent why it should be prevented.

Has No Utterer Motive.

No one in Washington has been found to say that he thinks for an instant Mr. Wilson has any intention of coming over to the capitol to make "his will dominant." They think that his desire in the matter is entirely democratic, and that it is born of a wish to be in closer and a more intimate touch with the members than would be the case if he spent all his time in the White House while congress is in session. This feeling of an utter absence of any untoward intention on Mr. Wilson's part has not, however, prevented criticism, and it has come not only from members of opposition parties but from members of his own party. The thing probably will prove after a little to have been only a passing fancy.

If the executive authority ever is used wrongfully to influence legislation, it can be so used at the White House just as readily as at the capitol. In fact, the observer of years in Washington knows perfectly well that if a president wants to make his will felt he is much more liable to do so from the capitol than from the White House, where all the members in a way would be watching him. Every day of the parts of the year when congress is in session scores of senators and representatives go to the White House, some on their own errands, and others called there by the president who wishes to consult with them upon matters of legislation.

When the president wants to see a member alone he takes him into his private office and closes the door. What passes there no one knows, unless the president or his visitor chooses to disclose it, and the visitor never will disclose it unless the president gives him permission, for such conferences always are held to be confidential.

Federal Protection for Birds.

By an act of the last congress just three days before adjournment the whole system of protection of the wild birds of the United States was changed. This bill will go into effect at once, but the existing state laws will remain as they are until the department of agriculture has prepared new federal regulations for the governing of the protection of game and insectivorous birds in all sections of the Union. This matter is of interest to every sportsman and every market man, to every farmer and to every bird lover, no matter in what state of the Union he lives.

It should be said that the federal laws will have no control of non-migratory birds, whether they be game birds or song birds. This limits the action of the law very little, however, because comparatively few birds range within the borders of any one state through the twelve months of the year. One or two examples may be given, however, of birds which probably must depend hereafter, for the protection of their lives and of their families from actual extinction on the action of state legislatures. The ruffed grouse, called the partridge in many states, is a non-migratory bird, at least it probably will be so decided to be by the department of agriculture. The prairie chicken also is non-migratory and it probably also will depend upon state protection, but nearly all the other birds of the United States, game, insectivorous and song, are migratory and hereafter will be protected by Uncle Sam.

Scope of the Measure.

Here is a section of the bill which shows definitely what it is intended to do:

"All wild geese, wild swans, brant, wild ducks, snipe, plover, woodcock, rail, wild pigeons, and all other migratory game and insectivorous birds which in their northern and southern migrations pass through or do not remain permanently the entire year within the borders of any state or

Removal of Grease From Paint.

A paste made from ordinary white applied wet and permitted to dry before it is rubbed off, will remove grease from paint without injuring the latter.

His Position.

He was a minister of the old school and was catechizing the children on their biblical knowledge. "Who was Isaac?" at length he asked. "Please, sir," replied a small girl eagerly, "Please, sir, he was Rebekah's man."

Those Bills.

"Yes, indeed, it's astonishing how many people call to see me when I'm not at home," remarked Mrs. Trifle. "It's always that way on the first of the month," replied the lady from next door with a very knowing smile.

Cleaning Ivory.

In cleaning ivory knife handles, rub them well with half a lemon dipped in hot salt. This will make them beautifully white. After this treatment they should be well washed in cold water and thoroughly dried.

Hard Luck for Grandpa.

First Neighbor—"Is that Grandpa Goldie in the surrey?" Second Neighbor—"Yes. Daughter had the electric out, pa the roadster, Jimmy the motor boat and Algy the biplane. The horse and surrey were the only things left."

His Modest Wish.

"Go away from me," said the fashionably dressed woman to the tramp. "I wouldn't have you touch me for a dollar." "It was only goin' to touch you for dime, lady,"—Yonkers Statesman.

CAT UPSET NEW REPUBLIC

Tabby Scandalized Monks of Mount Athos, Forbidden to All Females, by Becoming Mother of a Family.

Salonica, European Turkey. Europe's latest and smallest republic has grown out of the Balkan war. It is Mount Athos, the sacred peninsula near Salonica.

It contains nothing but 21 ancient monasteries founded by Russians, Greeks, Bulgarians and Servians in the twelfth and thirteenth centuries. All overhanging the cliffs of the Aegean sea, and the monks go up and down from the shores in baskets worked on pulleys by their brethren.

So sacred is the peninsula that no female is allowed therein, not even a cow or hen. Neither milk cheese nor eggs can be had.

Some time ago peasants employed by the monks to help till the land made of a lady when they asked her to give her a smokin' jacket with trimmings. What did you mean by trimmings, pa?

Why, a pal, a package of tobacco and a box of matches.

ERUPTION LIKE PIMPLES

Watson, Kan.—"My child's scalp trouble became so bad that I was ashamed to have anyone see him. I had heard a solid scab on his face had a terrible breaking out on his face which was gradually growing worse. The eruption was like pimples which developed into sores when he scratched, which he did almost constantly. Baby would almost scratch himself raw."

I had used several different kinds of salve, none of them helping in the least bit, when I saw the Cuticura advertisement in the paper and it made me think of the good results my sister had when she used it for her children. I had only used Cuticura Soap and Ointment about two weeks before I noticed that the sores were almost entirely gone, and it must have been a month or six weeks he was troubled before I began the treatment. He would get easy when I would put the Cuticura Ointment on him. Cuticura Soap and Ointment completely cured him and he has a clear complexion now." (Signed) Mrs. W. H. Hughes, Dec. 23, 1911.

Cuticura Soap and Ointment sold throughout the world. Sample of each free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address post-card, "Cuticura, Dept. L, Boston." Adv.

Cowboys.

"I see Portuguese cowboys, have been fighting with smugglers."

"I thought all the cowboys in the world were working for movie-picture outfits."—Denver Republican.

Could "Work" Him.

The preacher—Aren't you afraid of your future in the next world?

The dying man—No, sir. If satan is any kind of a fellow at all he must belong to one or more of the nineteen different lodges of which I am a member in good standing.—Puck.

It is surely tough luck if you are unable to mortgage your house for enough to get the kind of touring car you want.

Point He Had Overlooked.

The story is told of a man who bought a gallon of gin to take home, and by way of a label wrote his name upon a pickup card which happened to be the seven of clubs, and tied it to the handle. His son, observing the jug, quietly remarked: "That's an awfully careless way to leave that liquor." "Why?" "Because some one might come along with the eight of clubs and take it."

Those Perilous Buses.

The experts from the National Physical Laboratory who have been asked to ascertain how far, if at all, the motor buses are endangering the stability of St. Paul's cathedral, will have no simple task in apportioning to the buses their share in the tremors to which the cathedral is said to be subjected. But modern methods and measuring instruments are capable of some wonderful things.—Pall Mall Gazette.

Cheap Way to Mount Pictures.

To get the best results work must be done before the pictures are put on the wall. The pictures should be put on the wall before they are hung, and the wall should be prepared in advance.

Alfonso Enjoys Reminders of Danger.

King Alfonso of Spain is said to be a fatalist, and being of this temper he is able to derive enjoyment from occurrences that would afflict most people.

STRENGTH Without Overloading The Stomach.

The business man, especially, needs food in the morning that will not overload the stomach, but give mental vigor for the day.

One Hero's Plight.

New York.—Paul Allen, said to be the original for the hero of Elmer Glyn's "Three Weeks," was arrested for stealing a gold watch from a cab driver.

MADE FOGIES GASP

WILSON'S PLAN TO VISIT THE CAPITOL OCCASIONALLY BREAKS PRECEDENT.

NO REASON HE SHOULDN'T

Any President Who Sought to Influence Legislation Could Do It Much More Privately by Conferences in White House.

By GEORGE CLINTON.

Washington, President Wilson's hint that he may go on occasion to the capitol where he can be in touch with legislation, created a ten-day stir, and it will create another ten days' stir, and perhaps more, after the extra session convenes he carries out his hinted intention.

It does not seem that there would be anything to create special interest, but alone undue excitement. In the expressed desire of the president of the United States to sit for a few hours each week under the same dome of the capitol where he would be in easy reach of such members as might like to consult him or as he might like to consult, but anything which breaks precedent in Washington raises commotion, and there is nothing strong opposition. There is nothing in the Constitution or laws of the United States to prevent the president from making his office anywhere that he wishes in the city of Washington, and if his desire is to have a branch office in the capitol, nothing can be done to prevent it, and very likely there is no reason except that of tradition and precedent why it should be prevented.

Has No Utterer Motive.

No one in Washington has been found to say that he thinks for an instant Mr. Wilson has any intention of coming over to the capitol to make "his will dominant." They think that his desire in the matter is entirely democratic, and that it is born of a wish to be in closer and a more intimate touch with the members than would be the case if he spent all his time in the White House while congress is in session. This feeling of an utter absence of any untoward intention on Mr. Wilson's part has not, however, prevented criticism, and it has come not only from members of opposition parties but from members of his own party. The thing probably will prove after a little to have been only a passing fancy.

If the executive authority ever is used wrongfully to influence legislation, it can be so used at the White House just as readily as at the capitol. In fact, the observer of years in Washington knows perfectly well that if a president wants to make his will felt he is much more liable to do so from the capitol than from the White House, where all the members in a way would be watching him. Every day of the parts of the year when congress is in session scores of senators and representatives go to the White House, some on their own errands, and others called there by the president who wishes to consult with them upon matters of legislation.

When the president wants to see a member alone he takes him into his private office and closes the door. What passes there no one knows, unless the president or his visitor chooses to disclose it, and the visitor never will disclose it unless the president gives him permission, for such conferences always are held to be confidential.

Federal Protection for Birds.

By an act of the last congress just three days before adjournment the whole system of protection of the wild birds of the United States was changed. This bill will go into effect at once, but the existing state laws will remain as they are until the department of agriculture has prepared new federal regulations for the governing of the protection of game and insectivorous birds in all sections of the Union. This matter is of interest to every sportsman and every market man, to every farmer and to every bird lover, no matter in what state of the Union he lives.

It should be said that the federal laws will have no control of non-migratory birds, whether they be game birds or song birds. This limits the action of the law very little, however, because comparatively few birds range within the borders of any one state through the twelve months of the year. One or two examples may be given, however, of birds which probably must depend hereafter, for the protection of their lives and of their families from actual extinction on the action of state legislatures. The ruffed grouse, called the partridge in many states, is a non-migratory bird, at least it probably will be so decided to be by the department of agriculture. The prairie chicken also is non-migratory and it probably also will depend upon state protection, but nearly all the other birds of the United States, game, insectivorous and song, are migratory and hereafter will be protected by Uncle Sam.

Scope of the Measure.

Here is a section of the bill which shows definitely what it is intended to do:

"All wild geese, wild swans, brant, wild ducks, snipe, plover, woodcock, rail, wild pigeons, and all other migratory game and insectivorous birds which in their northern and southern migrations pass through or do not remain permanently the entire year within the borders of any state or

Removal of Grease From Paint.

A paste made from ordinary white applied wet and permitted to dry before it is rubbed off, will remove grease from paint without injuring the latter.

His Position.

He was a minister of the old school and was catechizing the children on their biblical knowledge. "Who was Isaac?" at length he asked. "Please, sir," replied a small girl eagerly, "Please, sir, he was Rebekah's man."

Those Bills.

"Yes, indeed, it's astonishing how many people call to see me when I'm not at home," remarked Mrs. Trifle. "It's always that way on the first of the month," replied the lady from next door with a very knowing smile.

Cleaning Ivory.

In cleaning ivory knife handles, rub them well with half a lemon dipped in hot salt. This will make them beautifully white. After this treatment they should be well washed in cold water and thoroughly dried.

Hard Luck for Grandpa.

First Neighbor—"Is that Grandpa Goldie in the surrey?" Second Neighbor—"Yes. Daughter had the electric out, pa the roadster, Jimmy the motor boat and Algy the biplane. The horse and surrey were the only things left."

His Modest Wish.

"Go away from me," said the fashionably dressed woman to the tramp. "I wouldn't have you touch me for a dollar." "It was only goin' to touch you for dime, lady,"—Yonkers Statesman.

CAT UPSET NEW REPUBLIC

Tabby Scandalized Monks of Mount Athos, Forbidden to All Females, by Becoming Mother of a Family.

Salonica, European Turkey. Europe's latest and smallest republic has grown out of the Balkan war. It is Mount Athos, the sacred peninsula near Salonica.

It contains nothing but 21 ancient monasteries founded by Russians, Greeks, Bulgarians and Servians in the twelfth and thirteenth centuries. All overhanging the cliffs of the Aegean sea, and the monks go up and down from the shores in baskets worked on pulleys by their brethren.

So sacred is the peninsula that no female is allowed therein, not even a cow or hen. Neither milk cheese nor eggs can be had.

Some time ago peasants employed by the monks to help till the land made of a lady when they asked her to give her a smokin' jacket with trimmings. What did you mean by trimmings, pa?

Why, a pal, a package of tobacco and a box of matches.

ERUPTION LIKE PIMPLES

Watson, Kan.—"My child's scalp trouble became so bad that I was ashamed to have anyone see him. I had heard a solid scab on his face had a terrible breaking out on his face which was gradually growing worse. The eruption was like pimples which developed into sores when he scratched, which he did almost constantly. Baby would almost scratch himself raw."

I had used several different kinds of salve, none of them helping in the least bit, when I saw the Cuticura advertisement in the paper and it made me think of the good results my sister had when she used it for her children. I had only used Cuticura Soap and Ointment about two weeks before I noticed that the sores were almost entirely gone, and it must have been a month or six weeks he was troubled before I began the treatment. He would get easy when I would put the Cuticura Ointment on him. Cuticura Soap and Ointment completely cured him and he has a clear complexion now." (Signed) Mrs. W. H. Hughes, Dec. 23, 1911.

Cuticura Soap and Ointment sold throughout the world. Sample of each free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address post-card, "Cuticura, Dept. L, Boston." Adv.

Cowboys.

"I see Portuguese cowboys, have been fighting with smugglers."

"I thought all the cowboys in the world were working for movie-picture outfits."—Denver Republican.

Could "Work" Him.

The preacher—Aren't you afraid of your future in the next world?

The dying man—No, sir. If satan is any kind of a fellow at all he must belong to one or more of the nineteen different lodges of which I am a member in good standing.—Puck.

It is surely tough luck if you are unable to mortgage your house for enough to get the kind of touring car you want.

Point He Had Overlooked.

The story is told of a man who bought a gallon of gin to take home, and by way of a label wrote his name upon a pickup card which happened to be the seven of clubs, and tied it to the handle. His son, observing the jug, quietly remarked: "That's an awfully careless way to leave that liquor." "Why?" "Because some one might come along with the eight of clubs and take it."

Those Perilous Buses.

The experts from the National Physical Laboratory who have been asked to ascertain how far, if at all, the motor buses are endangering the stability of St. Paul's cathedral, will have no simple task in apportioning to the buses their share in the tremors to which the cathedral is said to be subjected. But modern methods and measuring instruments are capable of some wonderful things.—Pall Mall Gazette.

Cheap Way to Mount Pictures.

To get the best results work must be done before the pictures are put on the wall. The pictures should be put on the wall before they are hung, and the wall should be prepared in advance.

Alfonso Enjoys Reminders of Danger.

King Alfonso of Spain is said to be a fatalist, and being of this temper he is able to derive enjoyment from occurrences that would afflict most people.

STRENGTH Without Overloading The Stomach.

The business man, especially, needs food in the morning that will not overload the stomach, but give mental vigor for the day.

One Hero's Plight.

New York.—Paul Allen, said to be the original for the hero of Elmer Glyn's "Three Weeks," was arrested for stealing a gold watch from a cab driver.

MADE FOGIES GASP

WILSON'S PLAN TO VISIT THE CAPITOL OCCASIONALLY BREAKS PRECEDENT.

NO REASON HE SHOULDN'T

Any President Who Sought to Influence Legislation Could Do It Much More Privately by Conferences in White House.

By GEORGE CLINTON.

Washington, President Wilson's hint that he may go on occasion to the capitol where he can be in touch with legislation, created a ten-day stir, and it will create another ten days' stir, and perhaps more, after the extra session convenes he carries out his hinted intention.

It does not seem that there would be anything to create special interest, but alone undue excitement. In the expressed desire of the president of the United States to sit for a few hours each week under the same dome of the capitol where he would be in easy reach of such members as might like to consult him or as he might like to consult, but anything which breaks precedent in Washington raises commotion, and there is nothing strong opposition. There is nothing in the Constitution or laws of the United States to prevent the president from making his office anywhere that he wishes in the city of Washington, and if his desire is to have a branch office in the capitol, nothing can be done to prevent it, and very likely there is no reason except that of tradition and precedent why it should be prevented.

Has No Utterer Motive.

No one in Washington has been found to say that he thinks for an instant Mr. Wilson has any intention of coming over to the capitol to make "his will dominant." They think that his desire in the matter is entirely democratic, and that it is born of a wish to be in closer and a more intimate touch with the members than would be the case if he spent all his time in the White House while congress is in session. This feeling of an utter absence of any untoward intention on Mr. Wilson's part has not, however, prevented criticism, and it has come not only from members of opposition parties but from members of his own party. The thing probably will prove after a little to have been only a passing fancy.

If the executive authority ever is used wrongfully to influence legislation, it can be so used at the White House just as readily as at the capitol. In fact, the observer of years in Washington knows perfectly well that if a president wants to make his will felt he is much more liable to do so from the capitol than from the White House, where all the members in a way would be watching him. Every day of the parts of the year when congress is in session scores of senators and representatives go to the White House, some on their own errands, and others called there by the president who wishes to consult with them upon matters of legislation.

When the president wants to see a member alone he takes him into his private office and closes the door. What passes there no one knows, unless the president or his visitor chooses to disclose it, and the visitor never will disclose it unless the president gives him permission, for such conferences always are held to be confidential.

Federal Protection for Birds.

By an act of the last congress just three days before adjournment the whole system of protection of the wild birds of the United States was changed. This bill will go into effect at once, but the existing state laws will remain as they are until the department of agriculture has prepared new federal regulations for the governing of the protection of game and insectivorous birds in all sections of the Union. This matter is of interest to every sportsman and every market man, to every farmer and to every bird lover, no matter in what state of the Union he lives.

It should be said that the federal laws will have no control of non-migratory birds, whether they be game birds or song birds. This limits the action of the law very little, however, because comparatively few birds range within the borders of any one state through the twelve months of the year. One or two examples may be given, however, of birds which probably must depend hereafter, for the protection of their lives and of their families from actual extinction on the action of state legislatures. The ruffed grouse, called the partridge in many states, is a non-migratory bird, at least it probably will be so decided to be by the department of agriculture. The prairie chicken also is non-migratory and it probably also will depend upon state protection, but nearly all the other birds of the United States, game, insectivorous and song, are migratory and hereafter will be protected by Uncle Sam.

Scope of the Measure.

Here is a section of the bill which shows definitely what it is intended to do:

"All wild geese, wild swans, brant, wild ducks, snipe, plover, woodcock, rail, wild pigeons, and all other migratory game and insectivorous birds which in their northern and southern migrations pass through or do not remain permanently the entire year within the borders of any state or

Removal of Grease From Paint.

A paste made from ordinary white applied wet and permitted to dry before it is rubbed off, will remove grease from paint without injuring the latter.

His Position.

He was a minister of the old school and was catechizing the children on their biblical knowledge. "Who was Isaac?" at length he asked. "Please, sir," replied a small girl eagerly, "Please, sir, he was Rebekah's man."

Those Bills.

"Yes, indeed, it's astonishing how many people call to see me when I'm not at home," remarked Mrs. Trifle. "It's always that way on the first of the month," replied the lady from next door with a very knowing smile.

Cleaning Ivory.

In cleaning ivory knife handles, rub them well with half a lemon dipped in hot salt. This will make them beautifully white. After this treatment they should be well washed in cold water and thoroughly dried.

Hard Luck for Grandpa.

First Neighbor—"Is that Grandpa Goldie in the surrey?" Second Neighbor—"Yes. Daughter had the electric out, pa the roadster, Jimmy the motor boat and Algy the biplane. The horse and surrey were the only things left."

Grand Rapids Tribune

DRUM & SUTOR, Publishers
GRAND RAPIDS - WISCONSIN
WANT PICTURES CENSORED

Several Bills are introduced in the Assembly With Object of Regulating "Movies."

Madison.—One of the best jobs in the gift of the legislature is in process of creation. It is proposed to censor the moving picture shows. Whoever gets the job will be able to see everything in that line and without paying a cent. There are several bills in the two houses dealing with the subject. A senate bill provides that all pictures and films shall be brought to Madison for exhibition before the industrial commission, which will pass on them. All the bills provide for licensing the pictures. Any one producing moving pictures without a license will be up against a stiff fine and possible imprisonment. Every time pictures are shown without carrying the stamp of approval from the industrial commission is made a separate offense.

Christopher Columbus, who discovered America, is going to have a very rocky time of it, securing all to himself one day each year which shall be a legal holiday. A bill making March 12 the day on which the "land ho" was heard on Columbus' caravels, a legal holiday, was introduced in the assembly by Assemblyman R. J. Nye of Superior. Little attention was paid to the bill until it came before the assembly for engrossment. Then indignation of the gathering assembly broke out to show the assembly finance committee, which sat jointly with the committee on education, the McComb bill, which increases the number of industrial schools which may be established from thirty to forty-five, was discussed, as was Senator Burke's bill proposing to remove the Stout training school from Menomonie to Eau Claire. The latter will be recommended for indefinite postponement.

Assemblyman Rosa's bill which provides that any person who shall sell any domestic animal upon the representation that such animal is pure bred when in fact it is not registered or eligible to registry, or shall knowingly pass or deliver as false or fraudulent, any animal, shall be punishable by a fine not exceeding $1,000, was recommended for passage by the assembly committee on agriculture.

The Hull direct marketing bill was passed to engrossment by the assembly. This bill provides that any one who wishes to purchase direct from farmers may apply to the industrial commission, which will select a list of those who wish to purchase direct. Such persons must give a certificate of good financial standing. The farmers are not required to give recommendation as to their standing.

The Tiedding bill which increases the terms of the county judges from four to six years was passed in the assembly. This bill provides that all of the county judges in the state are to be affected by the change and not only those of Milwaukee county as provided in the original bill presented by Mr. Hedding.

Another election bill in the assembly provides that election days shall be observed as half holidays throughout the state in order to give employed persons time to go to the polls.

Co-Eds to Edit Cardinal.

Madison.—Thirty-four young women students of the University of Wisconsin will edit the April 1 issue of the Daily Cardinal, the university student daily paper. The men students will give over entire charge of the paper to the young women for the one day. Not only will all news matter be gathered by the co-eds but advertising matter as well will be solicited by the young women. One page of the paper will be devoted to criticisms of the men students of the university.

Carry Fire to Fighters.

Janesville.—Bringing the fire to the fire department is the latest way of fighting conflagrations in Janesville. A carload of perishable freight in the South Janesville yards caught fire from an overheated stove and instead of cutting it out, a switch engine was attached to the car and it was hauled to the fire station, two miles away, where it was extinguished.

Spring Water for Senators.

Madison.—Supt. of Public Property Eusman informs senate members that he has ordered a carload of water from Vaukesh and that it will arrive soon. Also he had ordered individual drinking cups.

$100,000 Janesville Hotel.

Janesville.—Janesville may have a $100,000 hotel constructed on South Main street within the next six months. Tentative plans have been drawn up and a lease secured.

Marrying Pastor Dies.

Grantsburg.—Rev. Joseph J. Pickle, one of the best known Methodist ministers in this section, is dead. He held undisputed title of "The Marrying Minister," having married 464 couples during his ministry.

Case Sales $14,854,944.62

Racine.—The annual report of the J. I. Case company for 1912 shows the gross sales to be $14,026,633.93 and miscellaneous earnings $328,310.69, a total of $14,854,944.62.

Confesses He Set Fires.

Janesville.—Percy Merrill has confessed to State Fire Marshal Purcell that he set fires about the city since November, entailing several thousand dollars' loss. He will be examined as to his sanity.

Alvin Reis Goes to Oberlin.

Madison.—The Northern Oratorical league contest for the universities of the middle west will be held at Oberlin, O., May 2. Alvin Reis will be the Badger representative.

Kill Telephone Tax Bill.

Madison.—The senate killed Senator Tansdale's bill providing for an ad valorem taxation of telephone companies, in accordance with the advance recommendation of the finance committee.

JOLTS LATIN STATES

WILSON NOTIFIES SOUTH AMERICAN REPUBLICS U. S. WILL TOLERATE NO DISORDER.

OFFERS HAND OF FRIENDSHIP

President Issues Strong Formal Statement Announcing Views on Trouble in Lower Section of American Hemisphere.

Washington, March 13.—The keynote of a statement issued by President Wilson here Tuesday night, outlining his policy toward the Central and Southern American republics, is that there must be peace in the Latin American republics and that this peace must be maintained without any steps toward personal aggrandizement.

"We can have no sympathy with those who seek to seize the power of government to advance their own personal interests," is probably the most significant sentence of the statement, for therein the president shows clearly that the present administration will not countenance another Huerta uprising or another incipient revolt, such as that of the murder of President Arango of San Salvador, even if he has to use force to prevent them. The president's statement follows: "One of the chief objects of my administration will be to cultivate the friendship and deserve the confidence of our sister republics of Central and South America, and to promote in every proper and honorable way the interests which are common to the peoples of the two continents. I am desirous to develop a cordial understanding and co-operation between the peoples and leaders of America and therefore, deem it my duty to make this brief statement.

"Co-operation is possible only when supported at every turn by the orderly procession of just government based upon law, not upon arbitrary or illegitimate force. We hold, as I am sure all thoughtful leaders of republican government everywhere hold, that just government rests always upon the consent of the governed, and that there can be no freedom without order based upon law and upon the public conscience and approval. We shall endeavor to make these principles the basis of our intercourse, respect and help (friendship between our sister republics and ourselves. We shall lend our influence of every kind to the realization of these principles in fact and practice, knowing that disorder, personal intrigue and defiance of constitutional rights weaken and discredit government and are a curse to the people who are the victims of such misrule. We are not interested in the power of government to advance their own personal interests or ambition. We are the friends of peace, but we know that there can be no lasting or stable peace in such circumstances. As friends, therefore, we shall prefer those who act in the interest of peace and honor, who protect private rights and respect the restraint of constitutional provision. Mutual respect seems to us the indispensable foundation of friendship between states, as between individuals.

"The United States has nothing to seek in Central and South America except the lasting interests of the peoples of the two continents, the security of governments intended for the people and for no special group of interests and the development of personal and trade relationships between the two continents which should result to the profit and advantage of both and interfere with the rights and liberties of neither.

"From these principles may be read so much of the future policy of this government as it is necessary now to forecast, and in the spirit of these principles may be read so much of the confidence as earnestness to extend to the governments of all the republics of America the hand of genuine disinterested friendship and to pledge my own honor and the honor of my colleagues to every enterprise of peace and amity that a fortunate future may disclose."

Sydney Swept by Gale.

Sydney, N. S. W., March 13.—A sixty-mile gale swept this city Tuesday, causing several deaths and doing great damage ashore and afloat. Sixty street cars were derailed by the wind, several yachts were wrecked at their moorings and chimneys toppled over throughout the city. One man was electrocuted, three were drowned in the harbor. A number of buildings were wrecked and trees uprooted.

Hurt in Train Wreck.

Suffern, N. Y., March 13.—Thirteen persons were injured when a freight train, which was racing for a sliding collision between a passenger train and a freight train, struck a freight train near Monsey Tuesday.

Girl Shot in Strike Battle.

Erie, Pa., March 13.—Mary Schlosser, seventeen years old, was shot in the right leg, and two strikers were injured, when a strike stovebreaker and strike breakers fought here on Tuesday.

Chinese Shoot Russian Consul.

Peking, China, March 13.—The Russian consul while passing the Chinese barracks in Tientsin, northern Manchuria, was shot by Chinese soldiers Tuesday. Eight shots were fired at his escort.

$64,000 Estate for Laborer.

St. Louis, March 13.—Benjamin Foster Moynihan, a poor laborer of Ottawa, Canada, received Monday the $64,000 estate of Jeremiah Moynihan, St. Louis "millionaire rag picker," who died January 8, 1910.

Thirty Die in Theater Fire.

Bordeaux, France, March 13.—At least thirty persons were killed and more than a score injured in a fire which followed the discovery of a gas in a small picture theater at Leau Monday.

White Whips Pal Moore.

Kenosha, Wis., March 13.—Charlie White of Chicago gave Pal Moore an artistic lacing in a rough, savage ten-round fight which wound up a stellar boxing show here on Monday evening.

Gunboat Arrives at San Domingo.

Washington, March 13.—The gunboat Petrel arrived at San Domingo City, capital of the Dominican republic, for the protection of American interests and citizens on Monday afternoon.

McFarland Beats Britton.

New York, March 13.—By popular decision Packey McFarland won on points in his ten-round bout with Jack Britton at Madison Square garden here Friday. The men weighed in at 137 pounds at 8 p. m.

PRESIDENT WILSON IN HIS OFFICE

The photographer was one of President Wilson's first callers after he occupied his new office, and this was the excellent result.

REBELS DRIVEN BACK

MEXICAN FEDERALISTS AT PANAMA SUBDUED RIOTING.

Battle Occurs in Streets of City and American Interests Suffer—U. S. Troops to Stay on Border.

El Paso, Tex., March 12.—After 50 hours' fighting, during which rebels attacked the city of Parral, state of Chihuahua, while the townspeople fought, burning the market place and attacking the banks, the federal garrison repulsed the rebels. The rebels reached this city. Lines of communication both by rail and telegraph had previously been useless.

A force of 1,500 constitutionalists, rebelling against Huerta's government, were driven back into the city by a force of federalists. Parral, which is a center of American mining and industrial interests, was badly damaged in the fight and the bombardment which followed. Fighting of the most desperate character took place in the streets of the city.

The rebels were the same that left Parral last week after suddenly rebelling against the Huerta regime. They mobilized at Santa Barbara and returned to retake the city on March 5. The attack was made on the afternoon of that day and continued until the evening of the seventh, when the rebels took to the fortified hills surrounding the city and drove the federalists into the cover of the town. At night the rebels withdrew, without pursuit.

During the fighting the rioting occurred throughout the town, the banks were attacked and the market place burned. Many of the residents were killed in the fighting.

March 12.—The withdrawal of American troops from the Mexican frontier, which seemed desirable to Secretary of War Garrison, cannot be effected, according to Tasker H. Bliss, in command on the border.

DARROW TRIAL IS FAILURE

Calling McNamara's Workers for Great Cause and Not Slayers Hung Jury—New Trial March 31.

Los Angeles, Cal., March 11.—Clarence S. Darrow, the Chicago attorney who defended the McNamara brothers, who have been on trial for alleged bribery of one of the jurors in the case, was himself responsible for his failure to go free, according to one of the jurors, who requested his name be withheld. The jury, after being out 48 hours, stood 3 to 4 for conviction late Saturday.

Just one declaration of the lawyer during his plea for liberty settled the case with the men who held his fate in their hands. Darrow declared that although the bomb which destroyed the Los Angeles Times building had killed 20 men, the McNamara brothers were not murderers, but workers in a great cause.

Judge Conley fixed March 31 as the date for a new trial.

Jim Hall, Pugilist, Found Dying.

Meriden, Wis., March 12.—Jim Hall, a former well known pugilist, was found dying of tuberculosis in a hotel Monday. He is penniless, and his once great physique, has wasted away until he is hardly recognizable.

Munsey Sells Boston Paper.

Boston, March 12.—Frank A. Munsey sold his morning paper, the Boston Journal, Monday. The announcement was made, but the identity of the purchaser was not made known. He bought the paper for $190,000.

House Will Not Censure Police.

Harrisburg, Pa., March 12.—The resolution censuring the police of Washington, for alleged failure to protect the women's suffrage parade of March 3, was defeated in the house by a vote of 72 to 67 Monday.

Himalaya Mining Company Bankrupt.

New York, March 11.—The Himalaya Mining company, an Arizona corporation, with mines in California and Nevada, filed a petition in voluntary bankruptcy in federal court Saturday. Liabilities are $477,000.

Find Two Bodies in Fire Ruin.

East Springfield, Ark., March 11.—Charles A. Carey and E. J. Reynolds of Chicago, Ill., perished in the fire that destroyed several local stores. Their bodies were found in the ruins of an oriental goods store Sunday.

New Miss Gould Arrives.

New York, March 10.—Congratulatory telegrams, letters and gifts of flowers poured into the Fifth avenue home of Mr. and Mrs. Jay Gould following the news of the arrival of a new Miss Gould Friday.

McFarland Beats Britton.

New York, March 13.—By popular decision Packey McFarland won on points in his ten-round bout with Jack Britton at Madison Square garden here Friday. The men weighed in at 137 pounds at 8 p. m.

WOMEN ATTACK KING

GEORGE V. OF ENGLAND TARGET FOR MILITANT SUFFRAGETTES IN LONDON.

SEVEN AMAZONS ARRESTED

Two Railway Stations Are Burned. Supposedly by Suffrage Advocates—Parliament Takes Extra Precautions to Avoid Any Interference.

London, March 12.—Suffragists here Monday made King George and Queen Mary targets for an attack. While the king and queen were on their way to Westminster five women attempted to approach his majesty at the historic Whitehall. They carried petitions setting forth the grievances of women. The police promptly arrested the five and imprisoned them.

There was a notable demonstration of hostility against the suffragettes by the vast throng gathered to see the royal procession. The five women required the protection of a hundred police to keep back the mob, which was exasperated by the recent outrages of the militants.

Two other suffragettes were arrested in the vicinity of Marlborough house and escaped rough handling only through the energetic efforts of the police. "Duck them!" brought out a mob of 8,000, all bent on taking the women from the hands of the police.

Militant suffragettes also started an early campaign of arson. Early in the morning they set fire to the Saunderton station of the Great Western railway and burned it to the ground. Another station, Croxley Green, about three miles from London, on the London & Northwestern, also was burned, but the cause of the fire has not been ascertained.

Nottingham, England, March 12.—The militant suffragettes were driven from a hall here Tuesday by the most hostile crowd they have yet encountered, and the would-be speakers were saved from probable injury through the efforts of the police.

Miss Annie Kenney and others attempted to speak, but could not get a hearing. Windows were smashed, bangers torn down and the platform stormed.

The police took Miss Kenney and her friends secretly out of the building by a rear exit to escape the violence of the mob.

London, March 12.—The five suffragettes, who attempted to reach the king with petitions, while he was on his way to parliament, were sent to prison for terms ranging from 21 days to a month.

FIREBUG MAKES CONFESSION

Ben Fink, "Torch" of "Arson Trust," Makes Startling Disclosures Involving From 60 to 75.

South Bend, Ind., March 12.—Ben Fink, "torch" of the "arson trust," confessed here Monday. All of the secrets of the gigantic organization for the exploitation of incendiaries were bare to the proper officials and the authorities are now able to bring about the prosecution of from 60 to 75 persons who are hopelessly involved in the plots and counterplots which have resulted in the destruction of property to the value of $1,000,000 scattered through four states, Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin, and Minnesota.

Dies After 34 Days' Sleep.

Rock Island, Ill., March 13.—Mrs. Rose Havens, forty-five, died at her home in Mahersville Tuesday after a sleep of thirty-four days. Her ailment puzzled physicians. Fourteen years ago the woman slept 121 days.

Dead in Mexican Battle February 9.

Mexico City, March 13.—The death roll of the battle fought in front of the national palace February 9, when Felix Diaz attacked the government, reached 506, according to a report by the military authorities Tuesday.

Auto Crash Proves Fatal.

Huntsville, Ala., March 11.—Two persons were fatally injured and two others seriously so in an automobile accident which occurred near here Sunday. The dying are: Allen Hutchins and Benjamin Cooley.

Belgian Official's Wife Slain.

Teheran, Persia, March 11.—Mme. Constant, wife of the Belgian director of customs at the port of Bushire, was murdered here Saturday by an unidentified Persian, who also severely wounded M. Constant.

Babe Scalded in Bath Dies.

East St. Louis, Ill., March 11.—Ralph Fries, three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Fries of 711 Trendley avenue, died as the result of being scalded in the bath tub of his home here Sunday.

Farmer's Wife Mother of Eighteen.

Stillwater, Okla., March 11.—A son born to Mrs. George Mitchell here Sunday afternoon was her eighteenth child. Sixteen of the children are living. Mr. Mitchell is a farmer near Stillwater.

FIFTY SLAIN BY BLAST

VESSEL LOADING DYNAMITE IS BLOWN TO ATOMS.

U. S. Collier Jason Wrecked—Many Craft Damaged Explosion in Baltimore Harbor.

Baltimore, Md., March 10.—Fifty lives were lost and 100 were injured Friday when nearly 350 tons of dynamite, which had been loaded into the hold of the British steamer Alum Chine, at anchor in the Patuxent river near Hawkins Point, exploded. The property damage will amount to fully $5,000,000.

The explosive had been loaded into the vessel to be taken to Panama to be used in the construction of the canal. A fire of unknown origin broke out on the vessel while the last of the explosive was being loaded. It spread with lightning rapidity to the dynamite and when the explosion occurred the vessel was blown into bits and sent hurtling in all directions through the air.

Bits of the steel sides of the Alum Chine were blown with such force that they tore their way through the armored sides of the collier Jason and injured ten others aboard the collier. The tug Atlantic of the Atlantic Transport company caught fire while rescuing some of those on the ill-fated ship and was sunk. Other damage was caused by the breaking of glass and wood work in dwellings as far as several miles from the scene.

Robert Wild of Milwaukee, representing the German-American alliance, was the only one who appeared against the bill. Mr. Wild made but a short address. The proposition, said, had been defeated by a majority of 32,000. If suffrage had carried, he maintained, it would have needed considerable hardihood for anyone to come before the present legislature and asked to have the question re-submitted to the people.

"This question has been thoroughly discussed," said Mr. Wild, "and I do not believe the people care to vote on it again."

"Would it tend to educate the people," asked Senator Teasdale, the chairman of the committee.

"It would not," replied Mr. Wild. "The people have been educated. With due deference to the senator who introduced the bill it seems to me almost impudent to bring this matter in again. There was an appeal to the highest court and that court has spoken. There was a fair, square vote, and that should stand."

"Progress is slow, and has been slow from the beginning of time," said Senator Glenn. "There has always been some who opposed it. I think it is an insult almost to say it is wrong to introduce this bill at this session."

Janesville Must Pay State.

That the city of Janesville will have to pay the sum of $2,550, the cost of re-assessment of the city by the state tax commission, was stated by Nils P. Haugen. The duty must be further provided, he said, involves upon the state treasurer, and by such claims are taken into the county when settlements are made between the state and county.

Form Co-Operative League.

A corporation comprising Wisconsin's leading agricultural bodies and co-operative enterprises and including the Wisconsin State Federation of Labor and the State Federation of Women's Clubs, was formed at Madison by the incorporation of the Wisconsin Agricultural and Industrial association. State secretary is further provided in the form of a proposed law the bill for which was introduced by Senator Browne through the committee on legislative procedure. It calls for an appropriation of $40,000.

Child Labor and Schools.

The industrial commission and the state superintendent of schools have asked the legislative committee on education and public welfare to call a state conference on the child labor and school attendance laws and their administration. The conference will meet on Tuesday, March 13, in the senate chamber. Hearings on bills now pending for the same time and place. The invitation is extended to associations and individuals concerned in the administration of these laws.

Reception is Well Attended.

The reception tendered by Governor McGovern to the state officers and members of the legislature was one of the largest official functions ever given at the executive mansion. In the receiving line were: Colonel McGregor, military secretary to the governor; Governor McGovern, Gen. C. E. B. Brown, state superintendent of schools; Louis A. Cornelius, Grand Rapids, Mich., chain post; Edward C. Klann, Milwaukee, paper fastener; August Zickert, Oshkosh, drawbridge gate; Ray C. Marvin, Wilton, ironing table; George L. Mungliger, West Allis, tickler; machine for conductors; Wenzel C. Urbanek, Manitowish, porous head for containers; Richard H. Welsh, Kenosha, electrical connector; Richard H. Welsh, Kenosha, electrical connector.

Wilson Reappoints Neill.

Washington, March 10.—President Wilson reappointed Charles P. Neill as commissioner of labor Friday. Commissioner Neill came from Illinois, although appointed from the District of Columbia.

Aid to Postmaster General.

Washington, March 10.—James R. Blakeslee, secretary of the Pennsylvania state Democratic committee, was selected for nomination as third assistant postmaster general on Friday.

Francisco Madero in New York.

New York, March 10.—Francisco Madero, father of the late president of Mexico, arrived here Friday from Havana, a refugee. He was accompanied by a son, Ernesto, and the latter's wife and family.

Kinney is Indicted.

Cleveland, Ohio, March 10.—Frank Kinney, arrested in Chicago recently and brought here charged with the killing of Capt. Ralph Byrne, was indicted by the grand jury for first degree murder Friday.

Wilson Reappoints Neill.

Washington, March 10.—President Wilson reappointed Charles P. Neill as commissioner of labor Friday. Commissioner Neill came from Illinois, although appointed from the District of Columbia.

Aid to Postmaster General.

Washington, March 10.—James R. Blakeslee, secretary of the Pennsylvania state Democratic committee, was selected for nomination as third assistant postmaster general on Friday.

WILL PROTECT FROGS IN STATE

Assembly Passes Bill for Closed Season.

6POOR MAKES ELOQUENT PLEA

Author of Measure Asserts Methods of Hunters in Handling the Animals is Barbaric—Sees 22 Sacks Imbedded in Ice.

Madison.—The frog is to be protected. The assembly unanimously passed the Spoor bill providing for a closed season for frogs from November 1 to June 1, forbidding eating or hunting in that time. Spoor made an eloquent plea.

"The methods of frog hunters are barbaric," he said. "I have seen men cut live frogs in two, tossing the hind quarters into a sack and throwing the still struggling forequarters on the floor. Last week I saw men take 22 sacks of frogs which they found imbedded in ice."

"The brass spittoons distributed about the capitol cost $24 each. I don't think you gentlemen will hesitate to expend the cost of those brass spittoons to give us the chance to become full-fledged citizens." Miss Adalames of Richland Center thus closed her argument for a resubmission of the question of woman suffrage to the people before the senate committee on education and public welfare.

"How interest in this matter has fallen off," was shown in the little group of women who gathered in the committee room as compared with the gathering two years ago, which filled the assembly floor and galleries and overflowed into the parlors and lobby. There was, however, just as much earnestness shown by the suffragists, even if the support was not so great.

The hearing was Senator Glenn's bill, 225S, granting women the right of suffrage. Senator Glenn spoke briefly at the opening of the hearing, leaving it to the women present to make the arguments.

Miss James said that even if some women did not care to vote, they could join the 162,000 men who did not feel like exercising their right of suffrage at the present election in this state. Miss James said that more votes were cast on the woman suffrage question in November than were cast for the three candidates for governor or for the presidential candidates, which indicated the interest taken in the question.

At the present time the Stout institute has a larger number of students enrolled preparing to teach the domestic and manual arts than any other institution in the state. The Stout institute is using three basements and one attic room for sister work, only one of which is in the Stout building. Two of the basement rooms and the attic room are in the Central school building. The plumbing and brick laying courses are taught in an old building owned by the city and which is now adapted for the work, but the only place available at this time.

In the domestic economy department four small kitchens are now being used, only one of which is in the Stout building. One is in the basement of the Central school building, one in a rented business block, and one in a rented business block. The third in the Central school building is used as a cow stable and the first floor for a woodworking shop.

The department is also using three rooms adjoining the kitchen in the rented business block, one in the high school building and the third in the agricultural school building.

Summer School Plans Out.

Teachers engaged especially for the summer session of the Stout institute, Menomonie, now owned by the state, are announced as follows: Maurice L. Plagg, Minneapolis, director; Nels P. Haugen, Minneapolis, instructor; Edward J. Lake, University of Illinois; Thomas F. Googerty, teacher of forging at the Illinois state reformatory; Paul H. Graven, director of manual training in the Madison public schools. The eighth annual summer season will be held from July 28 to August 29. Manual arts and house gold arts courses will be offered.

Incorporations.

Articles of incorporation were filed in the office of secretary of state as follows: The National Advertising company, Milwaukee, capital, $10,000; incorporators, Leo F. Bohden, P. G. Spachman and D. E. Hadden. The Douglas Land Clearing company, Superior, capital, $10,000; incorporators, W. B. Kellogg, J. K. Flynn and J. C. Bertrand. The Wisconsin Paper company, Racine, capital, $20,000; incorporators, Louis Hamilton, C. H. Beach and W. W. Storm.

The West Kewaunee Western Telephone company, Kewaunee, capital, $1,350; incorporators, Joseph O. Kopp, Carl Burmala and Joseph Kopp. The Lakeside Bridge and Iron company, Milwaukee, capital, $25,000; incorporators, W. W. Oedlin, P. J. Jackson and T. J. Baker. The Kanakauna Farm Implement company, Kaukauna, capital, $5,000; incorporators, T. J. Timmers, John Adams and H. Siebert. The Four Towns Dairy association, Oconomowoc, capital, $1,800; incorporators, W. O. Nelson, Adolph Larson and J. A. Dieton.

Wisconsin Patents.

Sewell L. Charles, Neillville, sleigh attachment for automobiles; Walter E. Christian, Kenosha, lamp; Louis A. Cornelius, Grand Rapids, Mich., chain post; Edward C. Klann, Milwaukee, paper fastener; August Zickert, Oshkosh, drawbridge gate; Ray C. Marvin, Wilton, ironing table; George L. Mungliger, West Allis, tickler; machine for conductors; Wenzel C. Urbanek, Manitowish, porous head for containers; Richard H. Welsh, Kenosha, electrical connector; Richard H. Welsh, Kenosha, electrical connector.

Reception is Well Attended.

The reception tendered by Governor McGovern to the state officers and members of the legislature was one of the largest official functions ever given at the executive mansion. In the receiving line were: Colonel McGregor, military secretary to the governor; Governor McGovern, Gen. C. E. B. Brown, state superintendent of schools; Louis A. Cornelius, Grand Rapids, Mich., chain post; Edward C. Klann, Milwaukee, paper fastener; August Zickert, Oshkosh, drawbridge gate; Ray C. Marvin, Wilton, ironing table; George L. Mungliger, West Allis, tickler; machine for conductors; Wenzel C. Urbanek, Manitowish, porous head for containers; Richard H. Welsh, Kenosha, electrical connector; Richard H. Welsh, Kenosha, electrical connector.

Wilson Reappoints Neill.

Grand Rapids Tribune

BY DRUMB & SUTOR.

Grand Rapids, Wis., Mar. 19, 1913

Entered at the Post Office at Grand Rapids, Wisconsin, as Second Class Mail Matter.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.
One Year $1.50
Six Months .75
Three Months .40

Advertising Rates—For display matter at a rate of 12 cents per inch per week. The columns of this Tribune are 24 inches long, making a one column advertisement cost $2.88 for one week. Additional lines cost 10 cents each. All local notices, cards of thanks, resolutions of respect, and an admission fee is charged will be charged at 6 cents per line.

Correspondents are requested to write on one side of the paper and to sign their names to communications. It does not matter if you write every week, since we will accept any, as it will not be published.

RURAL CARRIER EXAMINATION.

At Grand Rapids, Wisconsin, for Wood County, Saturday, April 12, 1913.

The United States Civil Service Commission announces an examination on the date given at the places named above as a result of which it is expected to make certification to fill a vacancy in the position of rural carrier at Grand Rapids, Wisconsin, and other vacancies as they may occur on rural routes at post offices in the above named county, unless it is found to be in the interest of the service to fill the vacancy by reinstatement, transfer or promotion. The usual entrance salary for rural carriers is from $600 to $1,000 per annum.

Age limit, 18 to 55, on the date of the examination. The maximum age limit is waived in cases of persons honorably discharged from the United States military or naval service.

An applicant must have his actual domicile in the territory supplied by post office in the county for which the examination is announced.

The examination is open to all male citizens of the United States who can correctly write the English language. Application Form 1341, and full information concerning the requirements of the examination, can be secured from the secretary of the local examining board or the postmaster at any of the places named above, or from the U. S. Civil Service Commission, Washington, D. C.

Eligibles on registers established prior to March 1, 1912, can be considered for appointment only at the examination for which they were examined. Such eligibles may be examined within one year from the date of their last examination, and their applications showing that they meet the requirements of the new examination, their old eligibility for their home office is not being canceled.

Applications should be properly executed and filed with the Commission at Washington. As examination papers are shipped direct from the Commission to the places of examination, it is necessary that applications be received in ample time to enable the examination board at the place indicated by the applicant. The Commission will therefore arrange to examine any applicant whose application is received in time to permit the shipment of the necessary papers.

An eligible registrant for the position of rural letter carrier for each county will be maintained. A person must be examined in the county in which the post office that supplies his home is situated. As a result of such examination he may become eligible to appointment as rural carrier at any post office in such county. Rural letter carrier after one year's satisfactory service may be transferred to the position of clerk or carrier in a first or second class post office, to the position of railway mail clerk, or to other positions in the classified service, subject to such examination as may be required by the civil service rules.

JOHN C. BLACK, President.

THIS STATE SHOULD.

The state of Kansas, which, by the way, is nearly as progressive, if not more so, than this state, is considering the passage of a bill to print its own school books. This state should follow its example, pass a law to print its own school books in the state printing plant.

The sale of school books has always been a graft and a big one. This year one educator's history and another algebra or arithmetic was the only one worth having.

The next year another genius (that is according to the publishers) broke into the limelight. More books. More books. A new kind, nearly every incoming professor or new superintendent changed the books, and the poor fathers and mothers, who were struggling along, found it doubly hard to keep their children in school.

The graft was carried so far that even copy books were included. First we had the Spencerian writing and then it was vertical writing and vice versa. It was hopping from pillar to post.

Consider the problem from the standpoint of a man of family. Thinking to better his condition or for other reasons moved from one county to another in the same state. It is dollars to doughnuts that they found themselves loaded with an extra expense that they had never figured on and that was the purchase of a whole set of new books. No small item, either.

The people of the state have been robbed long enough and some people have grown rich from their rackets. The voters of the state are wise to the graft but like a great many instances they have let it slide along without kicking over the traces, but the time is ripe to holler long and loud.—J.K.

KELLNER.

O. Brockway has moved his family up from Babcock and is now living in the Kasdorf house. Mr. Brockway started the jaw with this week. H. Hennings has sold his farm to Chicago parties who will take possession at once. Mr. Hennings will move onto his farm in Michigan.

Confirmation services were conducted by Rev. A. Krusche last Sunday at the Lutheran church. A large crowd was in attendance and an impressive sermon was delivered to the class.

Wm. Gauke, Jr., is hauling rock to your city for a new house which he expects to build this summer. Instead of the Ellis Co. of your city paying $1,600.00 for wood in our burg this winter, as was told in last week's issue, they paid $11,500.00.

Miss Corinne Hjerstedt is on the sick list this week. Mrs. Gus Fielke is under the care of a physician this week.

A baby boy arrived at the E. Eberhardt home on the 11th inst.

Rev. A. Krusche and G. H. Munroe were business visitors in your city last Monday.

Wm. Kauff left for Canada on Monday morning where he will be employed on a dredge.

Wm. Getzlaff and family are moving to your city this week. Miss Crystal Munroe is spending a week's vacation at the home of her parents here.

Alfred Grey is reported to be somewhat better at this writing. Dr. P. P. Mainville is still attending him.

Services will be held at the Lutheran church next Friday morning at 9:30 A. M.

MEEHAN.

Lewis Winkler of Montello spent a few days here last week with his brother Frank. Fox spent last week with relatives down in the town of Saratoga.

There will be Easter services at the church Sunday morning at 10 o'clock. Wm. Clusman is making preparations to build a new dwelling house this spring.

Ed Frost and son Robert of Rudolph were callers here one day last week. Clendenen Bros. have finished loading up and expect to head for the Grand Rapids box factory. About 150 carloads were loaded here.

Mr. Hanna and Lon Meyers of Stevens Point were callers here recently. Mr. Hanna was arranging to have part of his land south of here plowed up and he may also erect a set of buildings on the land.

NEW HOME.

Mrs. Levi Thomas returned home from a week's visit with her parents at Big Falls.

Mrs. Jim VanTassel spent Saturday with Mrs. B. C. Burthe.

Considering the rainy day, quite a crowd attended the funeral of Mrs. Bentley last Friday. She leaves to mourn her death a husband and eight children the youngest being about eight years old.

Mrs. Jim Gardner papered two rooms for Loren Finch last week. Miss Little Webb is on the sick list this week.

Walter Amundson is home again and helping his brother Charley this week to put up this wood.

Mr. Patefield is in our vicinity again with his wood saw.

Oscar Rome of Blanchardville is visiting his brother, J. J. Rome.

Mr. E. A. Finch is on the sick list this week.

Mrs. Bob Burthe spent Thursday at the Will Leese home.

H. S. Webb made a business trip to Milladore on Monday.

Levi Thomas and Will Leese made a trip to Neeshad on Saturday.

Charley Bulgin is working for Elmer Finch.

B. C. Burthe and family spent Sunday at the Will Leese home.

Mr. and Mrs. Levi Thomas spent Sunday at the Frank Young home at Monroe.

Loren Finch was busy breaking his broncos last week. He was assisted by John Thurber of Monroe Center.

PITTSVILLE.

(From the Pittsville Record.)

Wednesday last was a pay day for the Arpin Indians and they could be seen in this city with huge bundles making for their several gigs preparatory to returning home.

The Indian is a queer customer. While he is living, he lives high, until all the money from pay day is gone. Then, if he cannot get trusted, he actually suffers hunger and other inconveniences, until the next day of pay from the government. Perverting the old adage, the Indian seems to go on the plan "to live well while he is living, for he will be a long time broke." Meant seems to be the legal bone of contention during these gluttonous times of the full pocket book, with sweets and baker's goods a close second. They buy with a free hand until their money is gone, with never a thought of the morrow, and suffer in silence until Uncle Sam donates again.

Mrs. Minnie Truchinski, mother of August Truchinski, died at the farm of her son northwest of the city March 5th, and was buried in Mount Cemetery Monday of this week.

Lon Bailey, of whom mention was made last week, as having been removed from the livery stable of Leese & Son to Hotel Brown for better care, died March 7th of pulmonary tuberculosis after an illness of three weeks. Mr. Bailey came here from Chil about nine months ago and has been employed at the Leese barn continuously since.

A case of scarlet fever at the Leese residence here has caused the school to be closed down, for the purpose of fumigating the school rooms thoroughly.

The victim is a little child of Mrs. Gohde, who is living at the Leese home with its mother. As two of the teachers have been rooming at the Leese home these precautions have been taken.

SARATOGA.

Ed Hansen departed for Beloit on Friday where he will take up his work again after spending two months at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Hansen.

James Johnson and Carl Peterson departed on Tuesday for Alberta, Canada.

Edna Brown of Grand Rapids is spending a week with her mother, Mrs. J. P. Peterson.

Mrs. Wm. Zugge and little son have been spending the past week with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Hansen.

A large number of friends surprised Mrs. Pauline Hansen last Friday, it being her 51st birthday. Refreshments were served and a very good time was had by all who were present.

Word was received here announcing the death of Mrs. John Johnson, nee Carrie Ole of Mr. Horeb, Minn., an old resident of this place.

ARPIN.

Glen Jones has resigned his position with the Arpin-Mero Co.

Roy Ligge, who has been visiting his parents at Appleton, returned Thursday afternoon.

The Ladies Aid Society meets on Wednesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Edwards.

Mrs. E. F. Roehrig who has been visiting relatives at Appleton the past week, returned Saturday.

Mrs. C. W. Bluet went to Grand Rapids Saturday to spend Sunday with A. J. Cowell and family.

There was a basket ball game at the hall Saturday evening between Arpin and Auburn. The score was 14 to 15 in favor of Auburn.

Miss Mary Mollet was obliged to give up her work at the Cowell home in Grand Rapids on account of sickness and came home Wednesday.

Mrs. C. W. Bluet was sewing for Mrs. B. Whittingham Thursday.

Miss Cora Lewis went to Grand Rapids Tuesday where she will be employed at the Cowell home for a couple of weeks.

The Harding Players were to give a show here Friday night but owing to bad weather the play was postponed until Monday night.

Legal blanks for sale at this office.

SIGEL.

Mrs. A. C. Sandberg, Mrs. L. Johnson, August, John, Charley, and Lewis Oman of Duluth, Minn., arrived here on Saturday to spend a week at the Gust-Anderson home.

Miss Emma Worland has returned from Grand Rapids where she has been employed for the past five months.

Margaret Morris of Arpin is visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Claus Johnson, this week.

Ernest Lindquist will leave this week for Rockford, Ill., where he will remain for an indefinite time.

Miss Ella Henriksen is home from Grand Rapids where she has spent a week with friends.

Mrs. George Coombs of Sherry spent Sunday with friends here.

Mr. and Mrs. Gust Anderson celebrated their 25th anniversary at their home on Saturday, March 15th, about eighty relatives and friends being present.

The proper time games were played during the evening and all departed for their respective homes in the wee small hours of the morning feeling themselves royally entertained. The host and hostess were remembered with many pretty and useful gifts of silver, etc., as mementoes of the happy occasion.

Emil Westgard of Frankfort, has been a guest of relatives here for a week. He returned to his home on Saturday.

Simeon Nystrom came home on Friday from the northern part of the state where he has been employed the past winter.

Arvid Anderson, who is employed at Rudolph, spent Saturday and Sunday here.

John Heden was a business caller at Rudolph on Monday.

Miss Ida Johnson came home on Sunday having spent the week as a guest of Miss Ina Krohnholm.

John Anderson lost a valuable horse on Friday night.

Robert Berg of Grand Rapids is enjoying his Easter vacation at the home of his grandparents here.

Miss Percy Berg and Mr. and Mrs. John M. Worland of Grand Rapids, were here to attend the wedding at the Gust-Anderson home on Saturday.

Mr. Swanson of Illinois is visiting at the Hills home.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Anderson and family of Rockford, Ill., arrived here last week to take possession of the farm which they recently purchased from Peter Moberg.

A son to Mrs. and Mrs. Ringer, Sigel.

SHERRY.

Thos. Evans was a Marshfield visitor last Tuesday.

Dr. Norton was in our town on professional business recently.

Roy Farish visited at Grand Rapids on Sunday.

Miss Mona Altmann was in our neighborhood sewing recently.

Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Paulson were Marshfield callers Wednesday.

Clifford, the youngest child of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Searis, was badly injured by being kicked by a young colt last Monday. He was kicked in the face and his cheek cut quite badly.

Mrs. Meyers of Milladore and Rigman of Grand Rapids were called and he is now improving nicely.

Carl Paulson was a Marshfield caller recently.

Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Lounsbury of Stevens Point arrived here Saturday and will remain here for some time.

The pupils of school in Dist. No. 1 will enjoy a two weeks vacation commencing next Friday.

John Jants was seen in our village Saturday afternoon with a smiling countenance and reported that a ten pound baby girl had arrived at his home.

O. M. Paulson and family are entertaining Mr. Paulson's sister and her husband from Oklahoma.

The Sherry Sherry basket ball team played at Auburnville Saturday evening and were defeated. A return game will be played here next Saturday evening and it is hoped that they will be more lucky.

Treasurer Williams and wife were Grand Rapids visitors on business Monday.

PLEASANT HILL.

(Too Late for Last Week.)

The past week was the coldest of the winter, 32 below zero being registered by some thermometers. The fall of snow was appreciated by the farmers as they had most of their hauling to do.

Prod Pense, will start his saw mill this week. He has the largest amount of logs for custom sawing that he has ever had.

Ed. Christenson, sold his pine lumber which he had saved last winter, to McVicar & Co. at Yester. He has his lumber hauled to his saw mill.

Mrs. Aug. Zellmer is quite sick at the present writing.

Mrs. Lucy Holmes of Grand Rapids is staying with her mother, Mrs. Zellmer during her sickness.

The Alfred Jants farm, which was sold this winter has been sold again. The new owner will take possession at once.

Carl Herzberg returned from Ill. where he has been for the past four or five years, and will assist his father on the farm. His two brothers who have been staying at home left for Illinois, where they will work the coming summer.

Mrs. J. Schicks is visiting her parents in Milwaukee.

John Kurts's house caught fire last Sunday but the fire was discovered in time to be put out.

Nina Johnson is quite sick, being confined to her bed.

Mrs. Gable was on the sick list last week.

Will Strope is serving on the jury at Grand Rapids this week.

The Ladies Aid Society met at Mrs. Strope's on Tuesday.

A call was extended to Rev. Vater for the coming year by the church on Sunday.

E. A. Forbes returned to his home in Illinois after a few days visit with his family.

Ed. Duke does not improve very rapidly, and is confined to his bed most of the time.

Gashway Bros. saved wood for Chas. Peters and Ole Duke last week.

One of our young men tried to smoke a pipe one night last week and in consequence lost his supper.

F. H. Likes hauled his lumber for his barn from the mill last week.

A large number of new buildings will be erected in our burg this year. We will try to list them some time in the future.

Ethel Strope went to Dexterville last Sunday.

A very nice program is being prepared for Easter by the Sunday school. A full program will be published next week.

Mr. and Mrs. Duncan of Hansen, spent Sunday at Ole Duke's.

A good time was had at the basket social at the Pleasant Hill school and a good sum realized.

Frank Haumschield delivered about the same of half bolts at the mill last week.

The Ladies Aid Society will serve lunch at the town meeting in Hansen on election day.

Clarence Robertson, who lives south of us, has a freak calf with only one nostril.

Wm. Buchanan was in Babcock last week.

—Martha Washington Oxford, Big discounts. Zimmerman's Shoe Store.

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS.

(Continued from Last Week.)

The following resolution was presented and adopted by the following vote: The clerk calling the roll: Ayes, Billmeyer, McCarthy, Getzlaff, Lohmeyer, Fenchak, Whitford, Anderson, Dams, and Jeffrey. Nayes, Ellis and Nash.

RESOLUTION.

A resolution to submit to the electors of the city of Grand Rapids, Wood County, Wisconsin, at the next municipal election to be held on the first Tuesday of April, A. D. 1913, the question of purchasing and operating the Electric Plant and Equipment of the Electric and Water Company (all known as the Grand Rapids Electric Company), a public service corporation, operating under and by virtue of the laws of the State of Wisconsin, and a franchise from the City of Grand Rapids.

The common council of the City of Grand Rapids do resolve as follows: Resolved, that the question of purchasing and operating the Electric Plant and Equipment of the Electric and Water Company (all known as the Grand Rapids Electric Company), a public service corporation, operating under and by virtue of the laws of the State of Wisconsin, and a franchise from the City of Grand Rapids, shall be submitted to the electors of said City of Grand Rapids at the regular municipal election to be held in said City on the first Tuesday of April, A. D. 1913, such electors shall vote upon such question upon a separate ballot which shall be submitted in the form of a separate ballot.

Section No. 2212 of the Wisconsin Statutes, and such ballots shall be counted, canvassed and returned in the same manner as other ballots cast at such election are counted, canvassed and returned.

Resolved, that the expense of such purchase and acquisition of the Electric Plant and Equipment of the Electric and Water Company, shall be paid by the electors of said City, therefor, from the proceeds of Bonds to be issued, pursuant to law.

J. A. Cohen, Mayor.

Attest: M. G. Gordon, Clerk.

On motion, by unanimous vote, the clerk calling the roll, the following bills were allowed:

Geo. T. Rowland & Sons, poor order, 28.57

McCormick & Pomeroyville, hdw 10.00

F. E. Billmeyer, labor 5.00

P. E. Billmeyer, extra service 115.76

Humphrey Benjamin, copying 3.63

Bossett Bros. & Co., coal 86.22

Drum & Sutor, coal 25.25

E. W. Ellis, labor 15.00

I. M. Mita, error on tax roll 10.04

Wood Co. Tel. Co., service 26.75

A. L. Fouts, painting 24.75

Peters 4 1/2 cds. maple wood 342.87

Grand R. Electric Co., lighting 242.84

E. W. Ellis, chawing main 1.50

G. D. Farley, drayage 1.00

J. E. Pondry Co., cash 1.60

Pittsburg Meter Co., meters 84.00

Neptune Meter Co., repairs 14.75

Hoffman & Billings Mfg. Co. 11.88

W. W. supplies 3.30

Narl. Meter Co., repairs 151.80

Labor, water works 24.00

Labor, east side 32.00

Labor, west side 26.00

The city treasurer's report for the month of February was presented and on motion, ordered filed and spread upon the minutes.

Grand Rapids, Wis., March 4, 1913

Attest: M. G. Gordon, Mayor and Common Council of the City of Grand Rapids.

Gentlemen—I herewith submit the report of my office for the month of February:

Feb. 1, 1913, Bt. in bank $88,023.25

Taxes collected Jan. 540,423

Feb. 27, 1913, Rec'd. First National B. Int. on dep. 73.36

Total $83,511.81

Orders paid by bank $41,811.61

Feb. 11, paid to Co. 57.00

Treas. state tax 138,106.66

Total $55,622.27

Mar. 1, Bal. in bank $37,889.54

Notice of Application for Proof of Will.

State of Wisconsin, Wood County Court, In Probate.

State of Wisconsin, Wood County, SS.

In the matter of the last will and testament of Joseph Rayome, deceased.

Whereas, an instrument in writing, purporting to be the last will and testament of Joseph Rayome, deceased, late of Rudolph, County of Wood, State of Wisconsin, has been filed in this office;

And whereas, application has been made by Ernest Rayome, Joseph O. Rayome and Dan Rayome, praying that the same be proven and admitted to probate, according to the laws of this state, and that letters of administration with will annexed, be granted thereon according to law, to John Golen.

It is ordered, that said application, be heard before this Court, at a special term thereof, to be held at the Probate Office, in the city of Grand Rapids on the 8th day of April, A. D. 1913, at 10 o'clock a. m.

And it is further ordered, that notice of the time and place appointed for hearing said application be given to all persons interested by publishing a copy of this order for three weeks successively, in the Grand Rapids Tribune, a newspaper printed and published in said County, previous to said hearing.

Dated March 11th, 1913

By the Court,

W. J. CONWAY,

CHAS. E. BRIERE, County Judge.

Attorney for Petitioners.

RUDOLPH.

(Too Late for Last Week.)

Work is progressing nicely on a new store building No. 403 1/2, being erected by A. J. Kujawa. It will not be long before he will be ready to serve customers again.

Word has been received here that Mrs. Isadore Livernash underwent an operation for appendicitis at the Hospital, in Wausau on Tuesday of last week. She is getting along as well as can

NOTABLE VICTORY FOR THE PEOPLE

Upsetting of Western Classification 51 Means Much.

RAILROADS LOSE BIG CASE

Chairman Thorne of Iowa Commission Tells How the Shippers and Consumers of the West Benefit by the Decision.

Des Moines, Ia., March 13.—The people of the United States have had cause to thank for a number of excellent things, and to the list must be added an achievement that means a great deal to the shippers of the entire west from the Mississippi to the Pacific. Especially are those shippers under obligations to the Iowa state board of railroad commissioners and its chairman, Clifford Thorne.

This achievement is the suspension and revision, by the interstate commerce commission, of an entire freight classification, known as Western classification No. 51, and on March 31 the several hundred changes made to conform to the commission's order will go into effect. Shippers and consumers alike will benefit by the revision.

Iowa Leads the Fight.

Iowa's commission was by no means alone in the good work, but it took the initiative in the case and assumed the chief part of the burden of preparing and trying it. Sixteen western state railroad commissions united in the fight, and Mr. Thorne was the chairman of the committee representing them. He gives much credit to Benjamin L. Jacobson, who had general charge of gathering the evidence and preparing the specific cases for trial, and to A. P. Deas, Iowa's rate expert.

Mr. Thorne today had this to say of the big case and its outcome:

"One day during the summer of 1911 I was seated in a hotel parlor in St. Louis. In one end of the room there were sixteen men in their shirtsleeves, talking and listening occasionally to a person standing in the center of the room; two or three minutes were allowed to the gentleman talking; he took his seat and another person told a short story; and so on, during the course of the whole day.

Powerful Group of Men.

"This small group of men exercised more power than any other similar group, perhaps, in the United States. Some nine hundred railroads, large and small, interested in traffic between the Mississippi river and the Pacific coast, have organized what they call a western classification committee of about eighty-five members. These eighty-five men have selected a sub-committee of sixteen men. This sub-committee, which is dominated by one or two individuals, determines the freight ratings on over 7,000 articles, on which 35,000,000 people have to pay traffic between about 20,000 towns, located between the Mississippi river and the Pacific coast. This is one of the three important classification committees in America, the other two being the central, covering the northeastern portion of the United States, and the Southern.

"For the first time in the history of American railroads an entire classification of one of these three great freight classification committees has been suspended by the federal government. And the committee I have described has been making a revision of its former work in accordance with the decision which was rendered by the interstate commerce commission recently, known as the decision in the case of Western classification No. 51. The railroads have just submitted to the commission a list of several hundred changes in this classification to conform to the commission's order; and these will go into effect March 31. The opinion in this case, next to the one rendered in the express case, is perhaps the longest ever written by the interstate commerce commission. The case is of national importance. Many of its features are unique, and of profound concern to the consumers of the country.

Sixteen States United.

"Many shippers and shippers' organizations were parties to this case. But perhaps the most interesting feature was the fact that on behalf of the consumers the railroad commissions of sixteen great states appeared. These states were Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa, Missouri, Arkansas, Louisiana, Texas, Oklahoma, Nebraska, South Dakota, North Dakota, Colorado, Nevada, Washington and Oregon. On the one hand we had the representatives of some nine hundred railroads, and opposed to them the representatives of sixteen state governments, with the interstate commerce commission as the deciding tribunal. The hearing in the case lasted about a year.

"Western Classification No. 51 involved more changes than any other tariff publication ever issued by American railroads. The work done in preparation for this issue is said to have cost the railroads approximately $500,000.

Most Important Phases.

"Of the many phases of the decision the first in importance are the rules and regulations. The carriers proposed many changes. These are applicable to every city, town and hamlet west of the Mississippi river. The state commissions made objections to fourteen of these rules, and changes were made or ordered in twelve of them.

"A concrete illustration of these concerns the damage allowance. Prior to the issuance of No. 51, the carriers permitted the shippers to use lumber and boards to prop up machinery in a car, the railroads hauling 500 pounds of such lumber free of charge. No. 51 abolished the damage privilege, and the commission ordered it reinstated. When one considers the thousands of shipments that are made annually, the importance of such a ruling can be appreciated.

"Another change of importance to the western half of the United States concerns green hides. The carriers put in a rule permitting them to refuse to take green hides for shipment. We pointed out that they could be stored or handled in live stock cars, and not contaminate other commodities, and claimed that the carriers should be compelled to accept the same for transportation. Our position was sustained by the commission.

Minimum Rate Ruling.

"Several hundred advances were proposed by the railroads in minimum weights. They announced their policy to be the establishment of minimums upon the physical capacity of the cars, refusing to take into consideration the commercial conditions surrounding the transportation.

Carload Mixtures.

"One of the most important parts of this case concerns carload mixtures. The carriers proposed the elimination of carload mixtures on 224 articles, and proposed changes restricting carload mixtures on more than three hundred other articles. One of the most important changes affecting carload mixtures, which serves as an illustration of the effect of such changes, concerns binding twine. Prior to the issuance of No. 51, the carriers permitted binding twine to be shipped mixed with agricultural implements, all of which took carload rates. In No. 51, they proposed to apply less than carload rates on all shipments of binding twine made in this manner. This would have caused an advance of about one hundred per cent in the freight rates on binding twine, and more than ninety per cent of all binding twine shipments were made by the largest shippers in the country, would be affected by this hundred per cent advance.

"As indicating the policy of the carriers, thirty-two articles had carload mixtures granted to them, while over five hundred articles were totally eliminated from carload mixtures, or the mixtures were changed or restricted. The interstate commerce commission has ordered the carriers to pursue diametrically the opposite course. Instead of restricting mixtures, they are instructed to make them more liberal.

MADE FOGIES GASP

WILSON'S PLAN TO VISIT THE CAPITOL OCCASIONALLY BREAKS PRECEDENT.

NO REASON HE SHOULDNT

Any President Who Sought to Influence Legislation Could Do It Much More Privately by Conferences in White House.

By GEORGE CLINTON.

Washington.—President Wilson's hint that he may go on occasion to the capitol where he can be in touch with legislation, created its ten days' stir, and it will create another ten days' stir, and perhaps more, if after the extra session convenes he carries out his hinted intention.

It does not seem that there would be anything to create special interest, let alone undue excitement, in the expressed desire of the president of the United States to sit for a few hours each week under the same dome of the capitol where he would be in easy reach of such members of the legislature as he might wish to consult, or as he might like to consult, but anything which breaks precedent in Washington raises comment, stir and frequently strong opposition. There is nothing in the Constitution or laws of the United States to prevent the president from making his office any where that he wishes in the city of Washington, and if his desire is to have a branch office in the capitol, nothing can be done to prevent it, and very likely there is no reason except that of tradition and precedent why it should be prevented.

Has No Uttermost Motive.

No one in Washington has been foolish enough to say that he thinks for an instant Mr. Wilson has any intention of coming over to the capitol to make "his will dominant." They think that his desire in the matter is entirely democratic, and that it is born of a wish to be in a closer and more responsive touch with the members than would be the case if he spent all his time in the White House while congress is in session. This feeling of an utter absence of any untoward intention on Mr. Wilson's part has, however, prevented criticism, and it has come not only from members of opposition parties but from members of his own party. The thing probably will prove after a little to have been only a tempest in a teapot.

If the executive authority ever is used wrongly to influence legislation, it can be so used at the White House just as readily as at the capitol. In fact, the observer of years in Washington knows perfectly well that if a president wants to make his will felt, he has no more reliable method than to call at a distance rather than from the capitol, where all the members in a way would be watching him. Every day of the parts of the year when congress is in session scores of senators and representatives go to the White House, some on their own errands bent, and others called there by the president who wishes to consult with them upon matters of legislation.

When the president wants to see a member alone he takes him into his private office and closes the door. What passes there no one knows, and less the president or his visitor chooses to disclose it, and the visitor never will disclose it unless the president gives him permission, for such conferences always are held to be confidential.

Federal Protection for Birds.

By an act of the last congress just three days before adjournment the whole system of protection of the wild birds of the United States was changed. This bill will go into effect at once, but the existing state laws will remain as they are until the department of agriculture has prepared new federal regulations for the governing of the protection of game and insectivorous birds in all sections of the Union. This matter is of interest to every sportsman and every market man to every farmer and to every bird lover, no matter in what state of the Union he lives.

It should be said that the federal laws will have no control of non-migratory birds, whether they be game birds or song birds. This limits the action of the law very little, however, because comparatively few birds remain within the borders of any one state through the twelve months of the year. One or two examples may be given, however, of birds which probably must "go over" after the protection of their lives and of their families from actual extinction on the action of state legislatures. The ruffed grouse, called the partridge in many states and the pheasant in other states, is a non-migratory bird, at least it probably will be so decided to be by the department of agriculture. The prairie chicken also is non-migratory and it probably also must depend upon state protection, but nearly all the other birds of the United States, game, insectivorous and song, are migratory and hereafter will be protected by Uncle Sam.

Scope of the Measure.

Here is a section of the bill which shows definitely what it is intended to do:

"All wild geese, wild swans, brant, wild ducks, snipe, plover, woodcock, rail, wild pigeons, and all other migratory game and insectivorous birds which in their northern and southern migrations pass through or do not remain permanently the entire year within the borders of any state or confidence and anger, of craft and humanity, of hope and despair. Tears may not mend a broken heart, but they are the assuagement of grief, the flood that comes unbidden and the soul like an antiseptic sent from heaven. There are tears of pride and tears of shame, and there are many tears and many tears that drop like pearls of anguish. There are tears that cost money from a tightwad purse and tears of sympathy that sweeten gifts given to lighten the burden of another in distress. There are as many different kinds of tears as there are incentives, motives and impulses actual men and women and their daily lives. There are vain tears and devious tears, but, thanks be, there are honest tears, too, and sincere tears, and tears that bless and beautify. There are tears shed in secret, in the lone some silence of the night, for one who is wayward, and these are sanctified by love. There are tears for lost ones—gone forever from this life—and these are a solace beyond compare.

It doesn't take a Sander to break a dollar.

VARIETY AND USES OF TEARS

There are as Many Kinds as There Are Human Motives, Is the Statement.

A Danish professor is quoted as saying that tears are an antiseptic. They destroy microbes. They not only have preventive properties, but are healing as well. They will hasten recovery if applied to any injury. All of which is announced as a scientific "discovery," and perhaps it is, viewed from a medical standpoint. But the curative quality of tears, their uses as a preventive, their value as a weapon, their power as a lever, etc., all these were known long before Doctor Lindahl of Copenhagen studied their effect upon microbes and their employment in flushing the nasal ducts.

Tears have so close a relation with the human heart that their infinite variety of uses are devoted to a greater or less extent in almost every individual, says a writer in the Pittsburgh Gazette. They are the safety outlets of the emotions—of love and hate, of

CAT UPSET NEW REPUBLIC

Tabby Scandalized Monks of Mount Athos, Forbidden to All Families by Becoming Mother of a Family.

Salonica, European Turkey.—The rope's latest and smallest republic has grown out of the Balkan war. It is Mount Athos, the sacred peninsula near Salonica.

It contains nothing but 21 ancient monasteries, founded by Basilian, Greek, Bulgarian and Serbian in the twelfth and thirteenth centuries. All overhanging the cliffs of the Aegean sea and the monks go up and down from the shores in baskets worked on pulleys by their brethren.

So sacred is the peninsula that no female is allowed therein, not even a cow or hen. Neither milk, cheese nor eggs can be had.

Some time ago peasants employed by the monks to fill the land snuggled in wives disguised in trousers, but the monks angrily expelled all they detected.

The abbot of the older Russian monastery kept a cat, which recently disappeared the island by having kittens. All the monks held a court to try her, declared she had broken the sacred rules and had her drowned. The abbot was reprimanded for taking in the cat before finding out whether it was eligible for admittance.

Some of the monasteries are very strict and never allow the inmates to wash their hands or faces, or to go outside the garden, which are said to be very beautiful. Others contain the oldest Greek manuscripts in the world, supposed to be able to fill gaps in the Bible and other parts of the New Testament.

The idea of making Mount Athos a republic came from Russia, anxious to keep her influence in Macedonia, and is unwelcome to Bulgaria, tired of tutelage and used to consider the church as a political factor, now of less importance than before. But the other allies pressed Russia's proposal because they felt jealous of Bulgarian domination in that sacred territory.

Delegates from all the allied states will meet in Salonica under the Russian consul and draw up the new republic's laws. The patriarch of the Bulgarians, who hitherto has lived in Constantinople, probably will live on the peninsula.

GOTHAM SEEKS 'FLY SWATTER'

Fame of Teacher in Cleveland Normal School Brings Offer From The East.

New York.—Dr. Jean Dawson, a woman teacher in the Normal Training school of Cleveland, is recommended as an official fly swatter to the board of estimate.

The appointment is urged by Dr. William Henry Hale, superintendent of public baths in Brooklyn.

Dr. Hale says Dr. Dawson has rid Cleveland of flies, which are known as the "flyless city." Bring her to New York, he urges, and she will work wonders here, too. His letter to the board reads:

"To get the best results work must begin before spring, so that the comparatively few mother flies who survive may be killed before laying eggs. Success can only be obtained by co-operation of several city departments with the health department.

"As Miss Dawson has demonstrated an efficiency in this great work, which is comparable with the elimination of yellow fever from the Panama canal zone, I suggest that she be hired by the city."

The board intends to let Comptroller Prendergast wrestle with the suggestion.

PREFERENCE FOR WIDOWS

North Dakota Farmer Accumulates Family of Thirty-Seven Children Through Matrimonial Daring.

Grand Forks, N. D.—Father to thirty-seven children is the distinction possessed by H. T. Hertsog, a rancher-farmer living near Palermo. Three times has Hertsog married widows with large families. Mr. Hertsog is seventy years of age, looks like a man of sixty, takes care of thirty-five head of cattle and eleven horses, grew 1,200 bushels of grain last year and hauled it to market himself.

Eagles Fly Off With Man.

Rome.—A goatherd named Giovanni Sanusi was pounced upon by two eagles while tending his flock in the Aosta valley recently. Despite his resistance the eagles bore him to a height of over 30 feet. Then, startled by his cries, they released their hold. Another goatherd found the man unconscious in a field. He is in a hospital, semi-insane, and suffering from severe lacerations on the head and shoulders inflicted by the talons of the eagles as well as from a fractured leg.

Cat Causes Divorce.

San Francisco.—Because he fed the family milk to the cat and locked it in the bathroom for safe keeping, Mrs. Jacob Fox recently got a divorce from her husband, a physician.

Richest Baby Wins Beach Sand.

Palm Beach, Fla.—Visions Walsh McLean, the "100,000,000 baby," likes the beach sand so much that he has prevailed upon his parents to have two carloads of it shipped to their home in Washington, D. C.

One Hero's Plight.

New York.—Paul Allen, said to be the original for the hero of Ellnor Glyn's "Three Weeks," was arrested for stealing a gold watch from a cab driver.

MODERATE REQUEST.

Rev. Mr. Wolfe, Author of 'Burial of Sir John Moore,' Buried at Queensdown.

A literary mystery of a hundred years ago is recalled by the special centenary number, recently issued, of the Newry Telegraph, an Ulster tri-weekly. To its pages April 19, 1817, under the simple head of "Poetry," appeared what Byron called "the most perfect ode in the language."

"The Burial of Sir John Moore." Byron or Campbell or any of the others to whom this poem was variously ascribed would doubtless have been proud to claim it. But the author was the obscure curate of Ballycroy, in Tyrone, Rev. Charles Wolfe, and the fame of the piece was but a posthumous fame for him. Not until his death, of consumption, in 1822, at the early age of thirty-two, did the authorship become known to the world. And Wolfe, who wrote much other verse of merit, is remembered only by that one poem which sprang from the columns of a provincial newspaper to universal recognition in the big world of letters.—London Chronicle.

Eruption Like Pimples

Wathens, Kan.—"My child's scalp trouble became so bad that I was ashamed to have anyone see him. His head had a solid scab on it. He also had a terrible breaking out on his face which was gradually growing worse. The eruption was like pimples which developed into sores when he scratched, which he did almost constantly. Baby would almost scratch himself raw.

"I had used several different kinds of salve, none of them helping in the least bit, when I saw the Cuticura advertisement in the paper and it made me think of the good results my sister had when she used it for her children. I had only used Cuticura Soap and Ointment about two weeks before I noticed that the sores were almost entirely gone, and it must have been a month or two before he was troubled. I began the treatment. He would get easy when I would put the Cuticura Ointment on him. Cuticura Soap and Ointment completely cured him and he has a clear complexion now." (Signed) Mrs. W. H. Hughes, Dec. 31, 1911.

Cuticura Soap and Ointment sold throughout the world. Sample of each free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. L, Boston." Adv.

Cowboys.

"I see Portuguese cowboys have been fighting with smugglers." "I thought all the cowboys in the world were working for moving picture outfits."—Denver Republican.

Could "Work" Him.

The Preacher—Aren't you afraid of your future in the next world? The Dying Man—No, sir, if I sat in any kind of a fellow at all he must belong to one or more of the nineteen different lodges of which I am a member in good standing.—Puck.

It is surely tough luck if you are unable to mortgage your house for enough to get the kind of touring car you want.

Point He Had Overlooked.

The story is told of a man who bought a gallon of gin to take home, and by way of a label wrote his name upon a pickup card which happened to be the cover of a book, and tied it to the handle. His son, observing the tag, quietly remarked, "That's an awfully careless way to leave that liquor." "Why?" "Because some one might come along with the eight of clubs and take it."

Those Perilous 'Buses.

The experts from the National Physical Laboratory who have been asked to ascertain how far, if at all, the motor 'buses are endangering the stability of St. Paul's cathedral, will have no simple task in apportioning to the 'buses their share in the tremors to which the cathedral is said to be subjected. But modern methods and measuring instruments are capable of some wonderful things.—Pall Mall Gazette.

Cheap Way to Mount Pictures.

To mount pictures inexpensively for the nursery or children's bedrooms, cut all the white margin off the picture, then get some thin, smooth boards, 1 1/2 inch larger all round than the picture; stain the boards with dark oak stain about two inches round the edge; varnish them, then paste the picture on the board, leaving an even edge of the stained wood all round, hang on the walls in the usual way.

Alfonso Enjoys Reminders of Danger.

King Alfonso of Spain is said to be a fatalist, and being of this temper he is able to derive comfort from occurrences that would frighten most people. A knife that he knocked out of the hands of an assassin is hung up in his den. The hides of two horses killed in bomb explosions have been made into rugs for his cozy corner. On his wedding day an attempt was made on his life, and the next day he visited the spot and pointed out to his young wife the spot where the assassin stood.

Without Overloading The Stomach.

The business man, especially, needs food in the morning that will not overload the stomach, but give mental vigor for the day.

Much depends on the start a man gets each day, as to how he may expect to accomplish the work on hand. He can't be alert, with a heavy, fried-meal-and-potatoes breakfast requiring a lot of vital energy in digesting it.

A Calif. business man tried to find some food combination that would not overload the stomach in the morning, but that would produce energy. He writes:

"For years I was unable to find a breakfast food that had nutrition enough to sustain a business man without overloading his stomach, causing indigestion and kindred ailments. "Being a very busy and also a very nervous man, I decided to give up breakfast altogether. But luckily I was induced to try Grape-Nuts.

"Since that morning I have been a new man; can work without tiring, my head is clear and my nerves strong and quiet.

"I find four teaspoonsful of Grape-Nuts with one of sugar and a small quantity of cold milk, is delicious as the cereal part of the morning meal, and invigorates me for the day's business." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs.

"There's a Reason."

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of business interest. Adv.

RECALLS LITERARY MYSTERY

Rev. Mr. Wolfe, Author of 'Burial of Sir John Moore,' Buried at Queensdown.

A literary mystery of a hundred years ago is recalled by the special centenary number, recently issued, of the Newry Telegraph, an Ulster tri-weekly. To its pages April 19, 1817, under the simple head of "Poetry," appeared what Byron called "the most perfect ode in the language."

"The Burial of Sir John Moore." Byron or Campbell or any of the others to whom this poem was variously ascribed would doubtless have been proud to claim it. But the author was the obscure curate of Ballycroy, in Tyrone, Rev. Charles Wolfe, and the fame of the piece was but a posthumous fame for him. Not until his death, of consumption, in 1822, at the early age of thirty-two, did the authorship become known to the world. And Wolfe, who wrote much other verse of merit, is remembered only by that one poem which sprang from the columns of a provincial newspaper to universal recognition in the big world of letters.—London Chronicle.

Eruption Like Pimples

Wathens, Kan.—"My child's scalp trouble became so bad that I was ashamed to have anyone see him. His head had a solid scab on it. He also had a terrible breaking out on his face which was gradually growing worse. The eruption was like pimples which developed into sores when he scratched, which he did almost constantly. Baby would almost scratch himself raw.

"I had used several different kinds of salve, none of them helping in the least bit, when I saw the Cuticura advertisement in the paper and it made me think of the good results my sister had when she used it for her children. I had only used Cuticura Soap and Ointment about two weeks before I noticed that the sores were almost entirely gone, and it must have been a month or two before he was troubled. I began the treatment. He would get easy when I would put the Cuticura Ointment on him. Cuticura Soap and Ointment completely cured him and he has a clear complexion now." (Signed) Mrs. W. H. Hughes, Dec. 31, 1911.

Cuticura Soap and Ointment sold throughout the world. Sample of each free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. L, Boston." Adv.

Cowboys.

"I see Portuguese cowboys have been fighting with smugglers." "I thought all the cowboys in the world were working for moving picture outfits."—Denver Republican.

Could "Work" Him.

The Preacher—Aren't you afraid of your future in the next world? The Dying Man—No, sir, if I sat in any kind of a fellow at all he must belong to one or more of the nineteen different lodges of which I am a member in good standing.—Puck.

It is surely tough luck if you are unable to mortgage your house for enough to get the kind of touring car you want.

Point He Had Overlooked.

The story is told of a man who bought a gallon of gin to take home, and by way of a label wrote his name upon a pickup card which happened to be the cover of a book, and tied it to the handle. His son, observing the tag, quietly remarked, "That's an awfully careless way to leave that liquor." "Why?" "Because some one might come along with the eight of clubs and take it."

Those Perilous 'Buses.

The experts from the National Physical Laboratory who have been asked to ascertain how far, if at all, the motor 'buses are endangering the stability of St. Paul's cathedral, will have no simple task in apportioning to the 'buses their share in the tremors to which the cathedral is said to be subjected. But modern methods and measuring instruments are capable of some wonderful things.—Pall Mall Gazette.

Cheap Way to Mount Pictures.

To mount pictures inexpensively for the nursery or children's bedrooms, cut all the white margin off the picture, then get some thin, smooth boards, 1 1/2 inch larger all round than the picture; stain the boards with dark oak stain about two inches round the edge; varnish them, then paste the picture on the board, leaving an even edge of the stained wood all round, hang on the walls in the usual way.

Alfonso Enjoys Reminders of Danger.

King Alfonso of Spain is said to be a fatalist, and being of this temper he is able to derive comfort from occurrences that would frighten most people. A knife that he knocked out of the hands of an assassin is hung up in his den. The hides of two horses killed in bomb explosions have been made into rugs for his cozy corner. On his wedding day an attempt was made on his life, and the next day he visited the spot and pointed out to his young wife the spot where the assassin stood.

Without Overloading The Stomach.

The business man, especially, needs food in the morning that will not overload the stomach, but give mental vigor for the day.

Much depends on the start a man gets each day, as to how he may expect to accomplish the work on hand. He can't be alert, with a heavy, fried-meal-and-potatoes breakfast requiring a lot of vital energy in digesting it.

A Calif. business man tried to find some food combination that would not overload the stomach in the morning, but that would produce energy. He writes:

"For years I was unable to find a breakfast food that had nutrition enough to sustain a business man without overloading his stomach, causing indigestion and kindred ailments. "Being a very busy and also a very nervous man, I decided to give up breakfast altogether. But luckily I was induced to try Grape-Nuts.

"Since that morning I have been a new man; can work without tiring, my head is clear and my nerves strong and quiet.

"I find four teaspoonsful of Grape-Nuts with one of sugar and a small quantity of cold milk, is delicious as the cereal part of the morning meal, and invigorates me for the day's business." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs.

"There's a Reason."

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of business interest. Adv.

ERUPTION LIKE PIMPLES

Wathens, Kan.—"My child's scalp trouble became so bad that I was ashamed to have anyone see him. His head had a solid scab on it. He also had a terrible breaking out on his face which was gradually growing worse. The eruption was like pimples which developed into sores when he scratched, which he did almost constantly. Baby would almost scratch himself raw.

"I had used several different kinds of salve, none of them helping in the least bit, when I saw the Cuticura advertisement in the paper and it made me think of the good results my sister had when she used it for her children. I had only used Cuticura Soap and Ointment about two weeks before I noticed that the sores were almost entirely gone, and it must have been a month or two before he was troubled. I began the treatment. He would get easy when I would put the Cuticura Ointment on him. Cuticura Soap and Ointment completely cured him and he has a clear complexion now." (Signed) Mrs. W. H. Hughes, Dec. 31, 1911.

Cuticura Soap and Ointment sold throughout the world. Sample of each free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. L, Boston." Adv.

Cowboys.

"I see Portuguese cowboys have been fighting with smugglers." "I thought all the cowboys in the world were working for moving picture outfits."—Denver Republican.

Could "Work" Him.

The Preacher—Aren't you afraid of your future in the next world? The Dying Man—No, sir, if I sat in any kind of a fellow at all he must belong to one or more of the nineteen different lodges of which I am a member in good standing.—Puck.

It is surely tough luck if you are unable to mortgage your house for enough to get the kind of touring car you want.

Point He Had Overlooked.

The story is told of a man who bought a gallon of gin to take home, and by way of a label wrote his name upon a pickup card which happened to be the cover of a book, and tied it to the handle. His son, observing the tag, quietly remarked, "That's an awfully careless way to leave that liquor." "Why?" "Because some one might come along with the eight of clubs and take it."

Those Perilous 'Buses.

The experts from the National Physical Laboratory who have been asked to ascertain how far, if at all, the motor 'buses are endangering the stability of St. Paul's cathedral, will have no simple task in apportioning to the 'buses their share in the tremors to which the cathedral is said to be subjected. But modern methods and measuring instruments are capable of some wonderful things.—Pall Mall Gazette.

Cheap Way to Mount Pictures.

To mount pictures inexpensively for the nursery or children's bedrooms, cut all the white margin off the picture, then get some thin, smooth boards, 1 1/2 inch larger all round than the picture; stain the boards with dark oak stain about two inches round the edge; varnish them, then paste the picture on the board, leaving an even edge of the stained wood all round, hang on the walls in the usual way.

Alfonso Enjoys Reminders of Danger.

King Alfonso of Spain is said to be a fatalist, and being of this temper he is able to derive comfort from occurrences that would frighten most people. A knife that he knocked out of the hands of an assassin is hung up in his den. The hides of two horses killed in bomb explosions have been made into rugs for his cozy corner. On his wedding day an attempt was made on his life, and the next day he visited the spot and pointed out to his young wife the spot where the assassin stood.

Without Overloading The Stomach.

The business man, especially, needs food in the morning that will not overload the stomach, but give mental vigor for the day.

Much depends on the start a man gets each day, as to how he may expect to accomplish the work on hand. He can't be alert, with a heavy, fried-meal-and-potatoes breakfast requiring a lot of vital energy in digesting it.

A Calif. business man tried to find some food combination that would not overload the stomach in the morning, but that would produce energy. He writes:

"For years I was unable to find a breakfast food that had nutrition enough to sustain a business man without overloading his stomach, causing indigestion and kindred ailments. "Being a very busy and also a very nervous man, I decided to give up breakfast altogether. But luckily I was induced to try Grape-Nuts.

"Since that morning I have been a new man; can work without tiring, my head is clear and my nerves strong and quiet.

"I find four teaspoonsful of Grape-Nuts with one of sugar and a small quantity of cold milk, is delicious as the cereal part of the morning meal, and invigorates me for the day's business." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs.

"There's a Reason."

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of business interest. Adv.

ERUPTION LIKE PIMPLES

Wathens, Kan.—"My child's scalp trouble became so bad that I was ashamed to have anyone see him. His head had a solid scab on it. He also had a terrible breaking out on his face which was gradually growing worse. The eruption was like pimples which developed into sores when he scratched, which he did almost constantly. Baby would almost scratch himself raw.

"I had used several different kinds of salve, none of them helping in the least bit, when I saw the Cuticura advertisement in the paper and it made me think of the good results my sister had when she used it for her children. I had only used Cuticura Soap and Ointment about two weeks before I noticed that the sores were almost entirely gone, and it must have been a month or two before he was troubled. I began the treatment. He would get easy when I would put the Cuticura Ointment on him. Cuticura Soap and Ointment completely cured him and he has a clear complexion now." (Signed) Mrs. W. H. Hughes, Dec. 31, 1911.

Cuticura Soap and Ointment sold throughout the world. Sample of each free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. L, Boston." Adv.

Cowboys.

"I see Portuguese cowboys have been fighting with smugglers." "I thought all the cowboys in the world were working for moving picture outfits."—Denver Republican.

Could "Work" Him.

WANT COLUMN

WANT COLUMN

FOR RENT—Offices over Daly's drug store.

GIRL WANTED—For general house work. Bert Nason, across from Grand Rapids Milling Co., 1st. Adv.

FOR RENT—6 room flat, new and modern. Gardner block.

WANTED—Washing. Inquire at Mrs. F. Jenkins, 8th street south.

WANTED—At once, a good experienced lady clerk at Boger's Novelty store, west side.—1t

FOR RENT—House No. 881, 4th ave. north, $10. Freshly painted and kalsomined. Inquire F. MacKinnon.

FOR SALE OR RENT—Farm for sale or rent or will work on shares. Apply to Joe Hick, Grand Rapids, Wis.

FOR SALE—1 bay gelding 3 years old, 2 black mares, 3 years old, 1 registered black stallion coming 2 years old. R. G. Ratelle, Fair View Stock Farm, Rudolph, Wis.—1t.

WANTED—First class machinists, also one good mechanic. Good pay and steady job. Merrill Iron Works, Merrill, Wis.—3t. pd. Ad.

WANTED—Men for unloading pulpwood. Wages $1.70 per day. Board $3.75 per week. Nekoma-Edwards Paper Co., Port Edwards, Wisconsin.

FOUND—An Opal ring and a locket charm. Owner may have same by calling at the Tribune office, proving property and paying advertising charges.

FOR SALE—Meat Market, machinery and supplies. Only meat market at Arpin, Wis. For terms and particulars call on James R. Mercer, Arpin, Wis.—2t

FOR SALE—5 horses, cheap. Also harness, double and single. Two nice incisors. Also all kinds of farm implements cheap. M. L. Ginsburg, 111 Fourth Avenue.—Ad.

FOR SALE—80 acre farm, 3 1/2 miles from city, silo, drilled well, highly improved, one of the best dairy farms in Wood County. Implements and stock if desired. Easy terms. John Bengor, "Boivider Farm"—1t. Ad.

WANTED AT ONCE—A dairyman wanted, to take full charge of my place, live stock and farm tools to stay on the place. Cash paid for cleaning new land. Bozo fighters need not apply. Write or call on L. Amundson, City Point, Wis.

WANTED—Traction steam engines. Two steam engines wanted for the coming seasons highway work, engines must be in good running condition from 16 to 20 horse power. For particulars write to L. Amundson, City Point, Wis., Wood County Highway Commissioner.

FARM FOR RENT—180 acre farm in town of Seneca, 35 acres plow land, 25 acres of good hay land. Will prefer to rent for cash and will make terms very reasonable as owner has gone west. A fine opportunity for a hustler as the hay will more than pay the rent. Renter must live on the place. Inquire at this office.—2t. pd.

WANTED—A buyer for good 80 acre clay loam farm, 40 acres cultivated, 20 acres good pasture, 20 acres wooded. Large brick 10 room house, fine stone basement barn 36x37, two smaller barns, two poultry houses, granary, new brook silo. D. B. PHILLIPS.

ANOTHER—80 acres, four miles from city, school house near by; 85 acres under plow, 15 acres pasture; good 7 room frame house with large cellar; two good barns and other buildings; two wells of pure water on place. 8 milch cows, 2 heifers, 2 calves, 1 team horses, binder, mower, rake, seeder, drags, plows, cultivators, wagons, sleighs, feed cutter, cream separator, etc. For particulars call at my office across from Hotel Wiltor. D. B. Phillips, Real Estate and Insurance.

DRS. BANDELIN & HOUSTON
DENTISTS
Office over Otto's Drugstore on the west side. Telephone No. 437. Grand Rapids, Wisconsin.

D. D. CONWAY
ATTORNEY AT LAW
Law, loans and Collections. We have $2,000 which will be loaned at a low rate of interest. Office over First National Bank, East Side, Grand Rapids, Wisconsin. Telephone 338.

D. A. TELFER
DENTIST
Office over Wood County National Bank on the East Side, Grand Rapids, Wisconsin. Telephone No. 200.

GEO. L. WILLIAMS
ATTORNEY AT LAW
Office in Wood Block, over post office, Telephone No. 91. Grand Rapids, Wisconsin.

J. R. RAGAN
Licensed Embalmer and Undertaker
House phone No. 69, Store 313, Sparford's Building, East Side. John Ersher, Residence phone No. 435.

J. J. JEFFREY
LAWYER
Loans and Collections. Commercial and Probate Law. Office across from Church's drugstore. Telephone 261.

CHAS. C. ROWLEY, M. D.
PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON
Office specialty Osteopathy. 14 MacKinnon Block. Phones 150 and 466.

EQUITABLE FRATERNAL UNION
Meets in Foresters Hall First and Third Thursdays of each month. R. A. Weeks, president; Wm. H. Burdyell, secretary.

GOGGINS & BRAZEAU
ATTORNEYS AT LAW
Office in the MacKinnon Block on the West Side, Grand Rapids, Wisconsin.

J. W. COCHRAN
LAWYER
Office in Wood County National Bank Building, Grand Rapids, Wis.
Admitted to practice in all courts of the states of New York and Wisconsin, and in Federal Courts. Collections and settlements of estates given careful attention. Confidential correspondence in every city of the United States, Canada, and all principal cities of Europe.

LOCAL ITEMS.

LOCAL ITEMS.

Chas. W. Reed transacted business in Chicago on Saturday.

Mrs. O. Gagon of Merrill is visiting with friends in the city.

Leonard Kinstler has accepted a position in Church's drug store.

Y. D. Simons of Cornell was a business visitor in the city on Thursday.

Miss Georgia Ridgman is spending a weeks vacation with friends in Owen.

Mrs. Libbie Domarals of Minneapolis is in the city a guest at the home of L. Kromer.

Mrs. E. E. Ames left on Tuesday for Marshfield to spend a few days visiting with friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Seth Jones of Chicago spent Sunday in the city visiting with their parents.

Myron Natwick departed on Friday for Burlington, to again take up the study of art.

Fred Schnabel is a candidate for alderman in the Second Ward to succeed F. Billeneyer.

Frank Gallagher, one of the solid farmers on R. R. 6, was a pleasant caller at this office on Tuesday.

Miss Helen Kromer returned on Monday from Chicago where she had been visiting with friends for a few days.

Anton Haydock of Byron, was in the city on Saturday and while here favored the Tribune office with a pleasant call.

About forty thousand trout were planted in the Roche-a-Cri and Ten Mile Creeks last week by Plainfield fishermen.

Harry Thomas of the town of Sherry, who is in the city owing the jury, was among the pleasant callers at the Tribune office on Tuesday.

About fifteen teams belonging to Daly and O'Day arrived here the past week from Ladysmith where they have been in the woods the past winter.

Mrs. E. M. Allerton is holding her Easter opening this Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, March 20, 21 and 22.

Church goes, non-church goes, men, ladies, everybody will be cordially welcome at the Union Noonday services at the Ideal theatre this week.

Messrs. Henry Kalsched, A. J. Panikow, and J. H. Fletcher, business visitors in the city on Saturday. This office acknowledges a pleasant call.

Miss Mary Kruger of Rill Lake spent several days in the city the past week visiting with her brother Charles, while on her way home from a visit in Milwaukee.

Mrs. Anna Borman of Fulton, N. Y., who has been visiting at the home of her brother, E. M. Hayes the past two weeks, returned to her home on Monday.

G. J. Kaudy returned on Saturday from a trip through Northern Michigan which had extended over a couple of weeks. He reports pretty good business up in the iron country.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Wipfl, who have made their home at Minneapolis for some time past, were in the city Monday visiting with friends. They left that same evening for Thief River Falls, Minn., where Mr. Wipfl will be employed.

George Firman of Wenatchee, Wash., who has been here the past three weeks closing a deal whereby he traded in his farm in the town of Seneca for a half interest in a large ranch near Wenatchee, left Thursday for his western home.

—Martha Washington Oxford's, Big discounts. Zimmerman's Shoe Store.

W. B. Basing was home from Appleton over Sunday to visit with his family.

Mrs. J. E. Wilcox and children are visiting with relatives in Weyauwega this week.

Wm. Henke of the town of Sigel, favored the Tribune office with a pleasant call on Tuesday while in the city on business.

Wm. Kuntz leaves today for Thief River Falls, Minn., where he will join a dredging crew that is going to operate just over the line in Canada. The crew on the dredge will be made up mostly of Grand Rapids People.

The first electrical storm of the season visited this section Thursday evening, when there were several flashes of lightning, and the accompanying rumble of thunder made one imagine that the good old summer time was again on the job.

—Martha Washington Oxford's, Big discounts. Zimmerman's Shoe Store.

Victor Kronholm of Sigel departed on Tuesday morning for Plainfield, where he will again have charge of a dredge for the Road Construction Co. in the Leola district. He was accompanied by the following crew, who will work for him this summer: Tom Laramie, Wm. Wolf, Henry Huser, and Oscar Kronholm.

An item from Marshfield says: In a conference between the Wisconsin Railway company and the Marshfield Water, Electric Light and Power Company, a proposition to transfer the electric light end of the Marshfield company's business to the Wisconsin concern was taken up. Should the deal go through, all electric power will be furnished this city from Wisconsin.

FOR SALE—A fine Segerstrom piano at a bargain. This is a brand new instrument, one that has never been used and has a fine tone. If you want a piano cheap, this is a chance of a lifetime. Call at the Tribune office for further information.

NOTICE OF JUDICIAL AND SCHOOL SUPERINTENDENT ELECTION.
State of Wisconsin, Department of State.
Notice is hereby given, that at an election to be held in the several towns, villages and election precincts on the first Tuesday of April, A. D. 1913, being the first day of said month, the following officers are to be elected:
A JUSTICE OF THE SUPREME COURT to succeed Robert G. Strecker, whose term expires the first Monday of January, 1914.
A STATE SCHOOL SUPERINTENDENT to succeed C. P. Cary, whose term expires the first Monday of July, 1913.
SCHOOL CLERK to succeed George A. Varner, whose term will expire on the first Monday of July, 1913.
And such other officers as are required by law to be elected at such election.
Given under my hand and official seal at the Court House in the City of Grand Rapids, Wood County, this 10th day of March, A. D. 1913.
P. H. EBERHARDT,
County Clerk of Wood County.

Mar. 10.
Notice of Application for Letters of Administration.
State of Wisconsin, Wood County Court.
In Probate.
In the matter of the estate of Jacob Seidl, deceased.
On this 10th day of March, A. D. 1913, upon reading and filing the petition of Jacob Seidl, an inhabitant of Sherry, of the County of Wood, died intestate, on or about the 1st day of June, 1910, and praying that Ignatz Brandl or such other person as may be entitled thereto, be appointed administrator of the estate of said deceased.
It is ordered, that said application be heard before me, at the probate office in Grand Rapids on the 1st Tuesday of April, A. D. 1913, at 10 o'clock A. M.
And it is further ordered, that notice of the time and place appointed for hearing said application be given to all persons interested by publishing a copy of this order for three weeks successively in the Grand Rapids Tribune, a newspaper published in said County, previous to the time appointed for said hearing.
By the Court.
W. J. CONWAY,
County Judge.

Mar. 10.
Notice of Application for Letters of Administration.
State of Wisconsin, Wood County Court.
In Probate.
In the matter of the estate of Jacob Seidl, deceased.
On this 10th day of March, A. D. 1913, upon reading and filing the petition of Jacob Seidl, an inhabitant of Sherry, of the County of Wood, died intestate, on or about the 1st day of June, 1910, and praying that Ignatz Brandl or such other person as may be entitled thereto, be appointed administrator of the estate of said deceased.
It is ordered, that said application be heard before me, at the probate office in Grand Rapids on the 1st Tuesday of April, A. D. 1913, at 10 o'clock A. M.
And it is further ordered, that notice of the time and place appointed for hearing said application be given to all persons interested by publishing a copy of this order for three weeks successively in the Grand Rapids Tribune, a newspaper published in said County, previous to the time appointed for said hearing.
By the Court.
W. J. CONWAY,
County Judge.

Mar. 10.
Notice of Application for Letters of Administration.
State of Wisconsin, Wood County Court.
In Probate.
In the matter of the estate of Jacob Seidl, deceased.
On this 10th day of March, A. D. 1913, upon reading and filing the petition of Jacob Seidl, an inhabitant of Sherry, of the County of Wood, died intestate, on or about the 1st day of June, 1910, and praying that Ignatz Brandl or such other person as may be entitled thereto, be appointed administrator of the estate of said deceased.
It is ordered, that said application be heard before me, at the probate office in Grand Rapids on the 1st Tuesday of April, A. D. 1913, at 10 o'clock A. M.
And it is further ordered, that notice of the time and place appointed for hearing said application be given to all persons interested by publishing a copy of this order for three weeks successively in the Grand Rapids Tribune, a newspaper published in said County, previous to the time appointed for said hearing.
By the Court.
W. J. CONWAY,
County Judge.

CLEARANCE SALE!

CLEARANCE SALE!

For The Next 11 Days
At THE FAIR
West end of Wagon Bridge

We are going to quit handling Graniteware and China, and we are offering some of the biggest bargains ever offered in the city. Some Special bargains in Alberta Corsets.

We are adding a line of Millinery and increasing our Dry Goods stock.

Mens needed underwear worth 50c 19c
Boys flat fleeced drawers, worth 25c to 35c, sale... 10c
Boys sweaters worth 50c, sale... 25c
Children's sweaters worth 50c sale... 25c
Odd sizes in hosiery worth 25c to 50c, sale... 10c
Infants bear skin bonnets worth 50c, sale... 10c
Corset cover embroidery worth 25c to 50c, sale... 10c
New arrival of torchon laces, this sale, per yard... 1c
Lace veiling worth 25c, sale... 15c
Coat hangers during this sale 3 for 5c
Fresh candles worth 10c a lb. sale... 8c
Easter eggs worth 1c each, sale... 15c
Glass tumblers worth 25c per doz., sale... 10c
1 gallon water jugs worth 30c, sale... 19c
Doll carts worth 50c, sale... 39c

In order to further introduce our celebrated Alberta corsets, we will during this sale offer the following bargains:

Alberta corsets, all sizes, worth $3.00, sale... $2.50
Alberta corsets, all sizes, worth $1.00, sale... 85c
17 qt. preserving kettle this sale 40c
14 qt. preserving kettle, this sale 30c
10 qt. preserving kettle worth 40c 25c
8 qt. preserving kettle worth 40c 25c
6 qt. preserving kettle worth 40c 25c
4 qt. double boilers worth $1.35 85c
17 qt. dish pans worth 45c... 30c
14 qt. dish pans worth 35c... 20c
No. 9 T Kettle, worth $1.00... 60c
Roasters worth 68c... 40c
12 qt. dandy pans worth 60c, sale 35c
Glass vinegar cruets... 7c
Glass butter dishes... 7c
Glass fruit dishes, a doz... 20c
Cut glass vinegar cruets... 15c
Cups and saucers worth 50c set... 35c
Salad bowls worth $1.00... 49c
17 qt. dish pans worth 85c... 50c
14 qt. dish pans worth 75c... 40c
10 qt. Berlin Kettles worth 70c... 45c
8 qt. Berlin Kettles worth 70c... 40c
6 qt. Berlin Kettles worth 50c... 35c

There are numerous other items that we are giving bargains on, but space prevents us from mentioning same. Call and see for yourself what we are offering during this sale.

The Fair
West End of Bridge

LOW COLONIST FARES

LOW COLONIST FARES

Via Chicago and North Western Ry.

One way second class tickets on sale daily March 15 to April 15, 1913, to principal points in the West, including Helena, Butte, Nampa, Salt Lake City, Ogden, San Francisco, San Diego, Los Angeles, Portland, Tacoma, and Seattle. Exceedingly low fares. Favorable stop-over privileges. For particulars apply to ticket agents: 2 t.

Sickness is dangerous and expensive. Remember Barker's Remedy will strengthen and build up a weak and run-down system. It will cure and prevent rheumatism, colds and catarrh. Guaranteed. Johnson & Hill Co.—Ad.

—Subscribe for the Tribune, $1.50.

St. Paul's Ev. Lutheran Church.
(West Side.)
Services Maundy Thursday at 7:30 P. M. Services Good Friday at 7:30 P. M.
Easter Sunday—Preparatory for communion, 9:30 A. M. Easter service at 10 A. M. English services at 7:30 P. M. Easter Monday services at 7:30 P. M.
Wm. Nommensen, Pastor.

Kellner Coal Co.
Coal and Wood
Don't Forget US when you need anything in the line of fuel
Telephone 308

CHICHESTER'S PILLS
The Best of All
Ladies! Ask your Druggist for Chichester's Diamond Brand Pills in Red and Gold wrapper. Take as directed. Full of your Druggist. Ask for CHICHESTER'S PILLS in Red and Gold wrapper. Always Reliable. SOLD BY DRUGGISTS EVERYWHERE

Easter Delicacies

AT

NASH'S

The Store of Quality Groceries

FOR YOUR EASTER DINNER.

Oyster Cocktail	Clam Chowder	Campbells Soups	Clam Juice
Olives	Fresh Strawberries	Caviar
Celery	Head Lettuce	Leaf Lettuce	Radishes
Ripe Tomatoes	Cucumbers	Fresh Parsley	Mushrooms
Cabbage	Green Onions	Spanish Onions	Young Turnips
Egg Plant	Spinach	Young Potatoes	Green Peppers
Young Beets	Sweet Potatoes	Florida Oranges	Grape Fruit
Cauliflower	Navel Oranges	Bananas	New Dates
Fancy Apples	Bulk Apples	Basket Figs	Stuffed Dates
Lemons	Pineapples	Candied Cherries	Candied Pineapple
New Figs	Pecans	Sour Pickles	Pistachio (shelled)
Candied Cherries	Sweet Pickles	Edam	Mixed Pickles
Almonds	Blue Label Cream	Roquefort	McLarens Deviled
Sweet Pickles	Brick	Limburger	White House
Piment	Camembert	Mysost	Barrington Hall
Camembert	McLarens	White Bear	Martha Washington
Club Cheese	Richelieu

All orders carefully attended to and greatly appreciated.

TELEPHONE 550.

NASH GROCERY CO.

Business Building

Business Building

This bank will assist any man of business capacity to build up a profitable business.

Over forty years of banking experience under every condition qualifies this bank to furnish just the assistance needed.

First National Bank,
Grand Rapids, Wis.
The Bank that does things for you.

John E. Daly, the druggist, received last week what is probably the largest order of talking machines and records ever brought to this city. They are goods made by the Victor people and include not only a number of the latest style machines made by this company, but also a large number of their highest priced records, the whole making up an unusual display.

The Wisconsin river rose several feet at this point on Friday and as a result the ice below the dam went out. Reports from Byron are to the effect that the water at that point is higher than it ever was before, but this is of course partly due to the fact that the dam has been raised several feet at that point. Some damage was done there by washouts.

Join the new class at the Business College March 24th, and get ready for a good paying job.

Dr. T. H. Hay of Stevens Point, was one of the few who attended the Friedman demonstration in New York City when the tuberculosis cure of Dr. Friedman was given to seven people suffering from consumption. Of course some time will have to elapse before it can be told what the outcome of the treatment will be. Dr. Hay is connected with the River Pines Sanatorium at Stevens Point, and it is his intention to remain in New York to watch the progress of the patients. Many people are skeptical concerning Friedman's cure.

Local Scouts Win.

The Boy Scouts from Stevens Point came here on Friday and played a game of basketball with the Boy Scouts of this city and the result was a victory for the locals by a score of 33 to 2.

The locals are composed of a larger and more experienced lot of players than the Stevens Point team, besides which the regular forward for the visitors was unable to play, all of which had a tendency to make the game rather one sided. The game was played in the high school gym and a good sized crowd turned out to see it.

Chenp Shoes.

From the 20th to the 28th of March I will make substantial reductions on all Ladies' shoes. Washington oxford, giving discounts of 10, 20 and 25 per cent. Zimmerman, the west side shoe man.

Easter Dance.

Monday evening, March 24th at Fred Bauer's hall on Sand Hill. Fine music. Coffee and sandwiches served. There will be a lady attendant to look after the ladies. All cordially invited.—2t. Ad.

—Subscribe for the Tribune, $1.50.

LA FRANCE
SHOE
for WOMEN

A masterpiece of the shoe-maker's art. Modelled on natural lines, LA FRANCE fits the foot perfectly, thereby assuring comfort. By the even distribution of weight, due to its scientific construction, the shape of the shoe is preserved.

LA FRANCE wears well and looks well all the time.

AN attractive model is No. 6453 (four or six button, in Gun Metal). It is well made, also to be had in Spanish (tan) and in White Nu-Buck.

GLEUE BROS.
Grand Rapids, Wis.

I'm Glad I Bought

That's what you'll say after becoming the owner of some of this property.

You're Bound to Make Money.

Not for a long time has any property in Grand Rapids been offered as low as $40.00, and then that property was not in nearly as choice a location as the property here offered. However, buyers of that property have uniformly made money on their investment.

Fine building locations in desirable sections of the city at $40.00 and up per lot; $5.00 down and $5.00 per month.

You Can't Beat It.

It's the last great chance at a proposition of this kind. Better than a Savings Bank. Washington Avenue, Baker Street, Twelfth Street and Robinson Park tracts.

Without Delay.

C. E. BOLES,
Dealer in Mortgage Loans, Abstracts of Title, Real Estate and Insurance.
Lyon Block. Established 1902. Telephone 322.

Stein-Bloch Smart Clothes

"Why not learn Why?"

KRUGER & WARNER CO.
The Home of Better Clothes Grand Rapids, Wis.

EASTER SUITS,
$30 down to $7.50

Hats, Shoes, Neckwear, Gloves, Everything the newest.

St. Patrick

St. Patrick

Drove the snakes out of Ireland. Bossert's Coal drives trouble out of the house. Call 416 or 54.

Bosser Coal Co.
Phone 416 Residence 54

NOTABLE VICTORY FOR THE PEOPLE

Upsetting of Western Classification 51 Means Much.

RAILROADS LOSE BIG CASE

Chairman Thorne of Iowa Commission Tells How the Shippers and Consumers of the West Benefit by the Decision.

Des Moines, Ia., March 13.—The people of the United States have had Iowa to thank for a number of excellent things, and to the list must be now added an achievement that means a great deal to the shippers of the entire west from the Mississippi to the Pacific. Especially are those shippers under obligations to the Iowa state board of railroad commissioners and its chairman, Clifford Thorne.

This achievement is the suspension and revision, by the interstate commerce commission, of the Western classification No. 51, and on March 31 the several hundred changes made to conform to the commission's order will go into effect. Shippers and consumers alike will benefit by the revision.

Iowa Leads the Fight.

Iowa's commission was by no means alone in the good work, but it took the initiative in the case and assumed the chief part of the burden of preparing and trying it. Sixteen western state railroad commissions united in the fight, and Mr. Thorne was the chairman of the committee representing them. He gives much credit to the efforts of gathering the evidence and preparing the specific cases for trial, and to A. D. Beals, Iowa's rate expert.

Mr. Thorne today had this to say of the big case and its outcome:

"One day during the summer of 1914 I was seated in a hotel parlor waiting in one end of the room there were sixteen men in their shirtsleeves, talking and listening occasionally to a person standing in the center of the room; two or three minutes were allowed to the gentleman talking; he took his seat and another person told a short story; and so on, during the course of the whole day.

Powers of Men.

"This small group of men exercised more power than any other similar group, perhaps, in the United States. Some nine hundred railroads, large and small, interested in traffic between the Mississippi river and the Pacific coast, have organized what they call a western classification committee, in one end of the room there were twenty-five men have selected a sub-committee of sixteen men. This sub-committee, which is dominated by one or two individuals, determines the freight ratings on over 7,000 articles, on which 35,000,000 people have to pay traffic between about 20,000 towns, located between the Mississippi river and the Pacific coast. This is one of the three important classification committees in America, the other two being the official, covering the northeastern portion of the United States, and the Southern.

"For the first time in the history of American railroads an entire classification of the rates on these great freight classification committees has been suspended by the federal government. And the committee I have described has been making a revision of its former work, in accordance with the decision which was rendered by the interstate commerce commission recently, known as the decision in the case of Western Classification No. 51. The railroads have just submitted to the commission a list of several hundred changes in this classification to conform to the commission's order, and these will go into effect March 31. The opinion in this case, next to the one rendered in the express case, is perhaps the longest ever written by the interstate commerce commission. The case is of national importance. Many of its features are unique, and of profound concern to the consumers of the country.

Sixteen states united to support the shippers and shippers' organizations were parties to this case. But perhaps the most interesting feature was the fact that on behalf of the consumers the railroad commissions of sixteen great states appeared. These states were Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa, Missouri, Arkansas, Louisiana, Texas, Oklahoma, Nebraska, South Dakota, North Dakota, Colorado, Nevada, Washington and Oregon. On the one hand we had the representatives of some nine hundred railroads, and opposed to them the representatives of sixteen state governments, with the interstate commerce commission as the deciding tribunal. The hearing in the case lasted about two weeks.

Books Speak.

Books carry with them a charm of their own. They speak of easy idleness about the evening lamp. Few things add so much of warmth and liveliness to a room as shelves of "used" books.

Saving Time.

"Roosevelt Named for 1916." But why stop there? Why not for 1920, 1924 and 1928? It would save both time and the cost of holding conventions.—New York Evening Post.

Envious and Unable.

Thirtytown naturalists report a hen which attempted suicide because she was unable to lay eggs. Some eggs must have been in the hen's crop, for she was found with a very large egg in her crop.—New York Evening Sun.

Modest Man.

Tailor—"You have inherited a lot of money; why don't you settle my bill?" "Oversaw my four cents," replied the man. "I would have been very glad to have it said for anything that my newly acquired wealth caused any departure from my simple habits."

Pepper for Mice.

Cayenne pepper is excellent as a means of ridding a cupboard of mice. The floor should be gone over carefully and each hole stopped up with a piece of rag dipped in water and then in cayenne pepper.

For Oil Paintings.

A washed and peeled potato, cut in half, can be used to remove oil paint. The surface should then be wiped with a damp cloth, rubbed with dry cotton wool, and finally polished with a silk handkerchief.

volves more changes than any other tariff publication ever issued by American railroads. The work done in preparation for this issue is said to have cost the railroads approximately $500,000.

"Of the many phases of the decision the first in importance are the rules and regulations. The carriers proposed many changes. These are applicable to every city, town and hamlet west of the Mississippi river. The state commissions made objections to fourteen of these rules, and changes were made or ordered in twelve of them.

"A concrete illustration of these concerns the damage allowance. Prior to the issuance of No. 51, the carriers permitted the shippers to use lumber and boards to prop up machinery in a car, the railroads hauling 500 pounds of such lumber for each car. No. 51, however, changed this privilege, and the commission ordered it relinquished. When one considers the thousands of shipments that are made annually, the importance of such a ruling can be appreciated.

"Another change of importance to the western half of the United States concerns green hides. The carriers put in a proposal permitting them to refuse to take green hides for shipment. We pointed out that they could be stored or handled in live stock cars, and not contaminated other commodities, and claimed that the carriers should be compelled to accept the same for transportation. Our position was sustained by the commission.

Rate Ruling.

"Several hundred advances were proposed by the railroads in minimum weights. They announced their policy to be the establishment of minimums upon the physical capacity of the cars, refusing to take into consideration the commercial conditions surrounding transportation.

Carload Mixtures.

"One of the most important parts of this case concerns carload mixtures. The carriers proposed the elimination of carload mixtures on 234 articles, and proposed changes restricting carload mixtures on more than three hundred articles. The interstate commerce commission has ordered the carriers to pursue diametrically the opposite course. Instead of restricting mixtures, they are instructed to make them more liberal.

In Addition to these changes in rules, the commission made specific orders disapproving advance on a long list of articles. The decision in this case is the most epoch-making on classification matters ever rendered by the interstate commerce commission.

MUST LOVE THE LITTLE FOLK

Otherwise the Girl Who Adopts Profession of Children's Nurse Will Not Succeed.

The great attraction for any girl adopting the profession of children's nurse is that she must have a great love for the wee folk, to be able to enter into their feelings; to sympathize with their sorrows and joys. A child's nurse must not be a cynic. She must know the importance of little things to children. She must know that the molehills of grown-ups are the mountains of boys and girls. Nowadays the children's nurse must be a comrade and companion as well as mentor to her young charges, but the latter role must never be over-emphasized.

Not Long to Wait.

Bumble—Why didn't you get on the water wagon?

Rumble—No seats left.

Bumble—Oh, well, if you persist in the notion, you will find a seat later.

—Judge.

Removing Grease From Paint.

A paste made from ordinary whiting applied wet and permitted to dry before it is rubbed off, will remove grease from paint without injuring the latter.

His Position.

He was a minister of the old school and was catechizing the children on their biblical knowledge. "Who was Isaac?" he asked. "Pleasant," replied a small girl eagerly. "Please, sir, he was Rebekah's man."

Those Bills.

"Yes, indeed, it's astonishing how many people call to see me when I'm not at home," remarked Mrs. Triffle. "Yes, indeed, they had the check for the month," replied the lady from next door with a very knowing smile.

Cleaning Ivory.

In cleaning ivory knife handles, rub them well with half a lemon dipped in hot salt. This will make them beautifully white. After this treatment they should be well washed in cold water and thoroughly dried.

Hard Luck for Grandpa.

First Neighbor—"Is that Grandpa Goldies in the survey?" Second Neighbor—"Yes, that's him. He's dead, out on the roadster, Jimmy the motor boat and Algy the biplane. The horse and survey were the only things left."

His Modest Wish.

"Go away from me," said the fashionably dressed woman to the tramp. "I wouldn't have you touch me for a dollar." "I was only going to touch you for a dime, lady,"—Yonkers Statesman.

MADE FOGIES GASP

WILSON'S PLAN TO VISIT THE CAPITOL OCCASIONALLY BREAKS PRECEDENT.

NO REASON HE SHOULD'T

Any President Who Sought to Influence Legislation Could Do It Much More Privately by Conferences in White House.

By GEORGE CLINTON.

Washington.—President Wilson's hint that he may go on occasion to the capitol where he can be in touch with legislation, created its ten days' stir, and it will create another ten days' stir, and perhaps more, if after the extra session convenes he carries out his hint. The thing that does not seem to be in the future, the department of agriculture, will adopt regulations prescribing and fixing closed seasons, having due regard to the zones of temperature, breeding habits and times and lines of migration, thereby enabling the department to select and designate suitable districts for different birds of the country, and it shall be unlawful to shoot or by any device kill or seize and capture migratory birds within the protection of this law during said closed season, and any person who shall violate any of the provisions or regulations of this law for the protection of migratory birds shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be fined not more than $100 or imprisoned not more than ninety days, or both, in the discretion of the court.

Support Almost Unanimous.

The influences for this federal legislation for the protection of birds which it was feared rapidly were becoming extinct, were exerted from every state in the Union. There was no sectionalism in it, and few parties raised the plea of state rights in order to defeat the measure. It is said that public opinion all over the United States had become so aroused because of the diminishing game birds and song birds that all quibbles were put aside and virtually a unanimous sentiment existed for the measure.

Has No Utter Motive.

No one in Washington has been found to say that he has taken an interest in coming over to the capitol to make "his will dominant." They think that his desire in the matter is entirely democratic, and that it is born of a wish to be in a closer and a more responsive touch with the members than would be the case if he sent all his bills to the White House while congress is in session. This feeling of an utter absence of any untoward intention on Mr. Wilson's part has not, however, prevented criticism, and it has come not only from members of opposition parties but from members of his own party.

Wilson Likes Taft's Idea.

There is a belief among Democratic members of congress that President Wilson may take up the suggestion made by ex-President Taft and urge legislation which will enable his cabinet officers to appear on the floor of the two houses of congress when matters pertaining to their departments are under consideration, to answer questions and to give information which may enlighten the points at issue.

Such a course would be in entire keeping with Mr. Wilson's intention that he may go to the capitol on occasion to be within easy reach of representatives and senators who care to consult him. It is all a part of a plan to bring the administration and congress closely together in conference on matters of legislation.

Mr. Taft's idea was that if the members of his cabinet could go to the house and the senate, especially at times when appropriation bills were under consideration, the actual need for money in that case, they would be more clearly presented, and the doubts of members who did not know how to vote could be cleared up and a more intelligent consideration could be given to each item in every appropriation bill.

The former president did not intend, however, to limit the appearance of members of the cabinet to appropriation occasions. He wanted congress to provide that whenever a cabinet officer's presence seemed advisable he might be summoned, given a seat on the floor and allowed to answer all questions and to vouchsafe his opinion as suggested by members of the house and senate pertinent to the subject matter in hand.

"Influence" Is Feared.

It is the fear of some congressmen that the admission of cabinet members to the floor would bring about a condition of "administration influence" with the legislative branch and that this ought to be avoided, especially in a democracy. It was the fear of this same influence which has been the chief cause of the opposition to the suggestion of Mr. Wilson that he might come to the capitol himself on occasion, a suggestion which has been treated of in another dispatch.

There is any amount of personal influence used to sway legislation in congress and some of this personal influence has been condemned by the public and the senate ever since the first of these bills were introduced. This influence is that of the lobby which in times past and even today has a strong representation in Washington. The lobbyists are nothing like as important as once they were, nor do they carry on their importunities with the same disregard of publicity and of the actual agencies as once they did.

A good many members of congress say that the legislative lobby which comes here from a distance is more inimical to Democratic institutions than the presence of the president and his cabinet officers in the capitol possibly could be.

Here is a section of the bill which shows definitely what it is intended to do:

"All wild geese, wild swans, brant, wild ducks, snipe, plover, woodcock, rail, wild pigeons, and all other migratory game and insectivorous birds which in their northern and southern migrations pass through or do not remain permanently the entire year within the borders of any state or

Federal Protection for Birds.

By an act of the last congress just three days before adjournment the whole system of protection of the wild birds of the United States was changed. This bill will go into effect at once, but the existing state laws will remain as they are until the department of agriculture has prepared new federal regulations for the governing of the protection of game and insectivorous birds in all sections of the Union. This matter is of interest to every sportsman and every market man, to every farmer and to every bird lover, no matter in what state of the Union he lives.

It should be said that the federal laws will have no control of non-migratory birds. This limits the game bird laws to birds that are game birds, and comparatively few birds remain within the borders of any one state through the twelve months of the year. One or two examples may be given, however, of birds which probably must depend hereafter for the protection of their lives and of their families from actual extinction on the action of state legislatures. The ruffed grouse, called the partridge in many states, and the pheasant in other states, is a non-migratory bird, at least it probably will be so decided to be by the department of agriculture. The prairie chicken also is a non-migratory bird, and probably also must depend upon state protection, but nearly all the other birds of the United States, game, insectivorous and song, are migratory and hereafter will be protected by Uncle Sam.

Scope of the Measure.

Here is a section of the bill which shows definitely what it is intended to do:

"All wild geese, wild swans, brant, wild ducks, snipe, plover, woodcock, rail, wild pigeons, and all other migratory game and insectivorous birds which in their northern and southern migrations pass through or do not remain permanently the entire year within the borders of any state or

By GEORGE CLINTON.

Washington.—President Wilson's hint that he may go on occasion to the capitol where he can be in touch with legislation, created its ten days' stir, and it will create another ten days' stir, and perhaps more, if after the extra session convenes he carries out his hint. The thing that does not seem to be in the future, the department of agriculture, will adopt regulations prescribing and fixing closed seasons, having due regard to the zones of temperature, breeding habits and times and lines of migration, thereby enabling the department to select and designate suitable districts for different birds of the country, and it shall be unlawful to shoot or by any device kill or seize and capture migratory birds within the protection of this law during said closed season, and any person who shall violate any of the provisions or regulations of this law for the protection of migratory birds shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be fined not more than $100 or imprisoned not more than ninety days, or both, in the discretion of the court.

Support Almost Unanimous.

The influences for this federal legislation for the protection of birds which it was feared rapidly were becoming extinct, were exerted from every state in the Union. There was no sectionalism in it, and few parties raised the plea of state rights in order to defeat the measure. It is said that public opinion all over the United States had become so aroused because of the diminishing game birds and song birds that all quibbles were put aside and virtually a unanimous sentiment existed for the measure.

Has No Utter Motive.

No one in Washington has been found to say that he has taken an interest in coming over to the capitol to make "his will dominant." They think that his desire in the matter is entirely democratic, and that it is born of a wish to be in a closer and a more responsive touch with the members than would be the case if he sent all his bills to the White House while congress is in session. This feeling of an utter absence of any untoward intention on Mr. Wilson's part has not, however, prevented criticism, and it has come not only from members of opposition parties but from members of his own party.

Wilson Likes Taft's Idea.

There is a belief among Democratic members of congress that President Wilson may take up the suggestion made by ex-President Taft and urge legislation which will enable his cabinet officers to appear on the floor of the two houses of congress when matters pertaining to their departments are under consideration, to answer questions and to give information which may enlighten the points at issue.

Such a course would be in entire keeping with Mr. Wilson's intention that he may go to the capitol on occasion to be within easy reach of representatives and senators who care to consult him. It is all a part of a plan to bring the administration and congress closely together in conference on matters of legislation.

Mr. Taft's idea was that if the members of his cabinet could go to the house and the senate, especially at times when appropriation bills were under consideration, the actual need for money in that case, they would be more clearly presented, and the doubts of members who did not know how to vote could be cleared up and a more intelligent consideration could be given to each item in every appropriation bill.

The former president did not intend, however, to limit the appearance of members of the cabinet to appropriation occasions. He wanted congress to provide that whenever a cabinet officer's presence seemed advisable he might be summoned, given a seat on the floor and allowed to answer all questions and to vouchsafe his opinion as suggested by members of the house and senate pertinent to the subject matter in hand.

"Influence" Is Feared.

It is the fear of some congressmen that the admission of cabinet members to the floor would bring about a condition of "administration influence" with the legislative branch and that this ought to be avoided, especially in a democracy. It was the fear of this same influence which has been the chief cause of the opposition to the suggestion of Mr. Wilson that he might come to the capitol himself on occasion, a suggestion which has been treated of in another dispatch.

There is any amount of personal influence used to sway legislation in congress and some of this personal influence has been condemned by the public and the senate ever since the first of these bills were introduced. This influence is that of the lobby which in times past and even today has a strong representation in Washington. The lobbyists are nothing like as important as once they were, nor do they carry on their importunities with the same disregard of publicity and of the actual agencies as once they did.

A good many members of congress say that the legislative lobby which comes here from a distance is more inimical to Democratic institutions than the presence of the president and his cabinet officers in the capitol possibly could be.

Here is a section of the bill which shows definitely what it is intended to do:

"All wild geese, wild swans, brant, wild ducks, snipe, plover, woodcock, rail, wild pigeons, and all other migratory game and insectivorous birds which in their northern and southern migrations pass through or do not remain permanently the entire year within the borders of any state or

Federal Protection for Birds.

By an act of the last congress just three days before adjournment the whole system of protection of the wild birds of the United States was changed. This bill will go into effect at once, but the existing state laws will remain as they are until the department of agriculture has prepared new federal regulations for the governing of the protection of game and insectivorous birds in all sections of the Union. This matter is of interest to every sportsman and every market man, to every farmer and to every bird lover, no matter in what state of the Union he lives.

It should be said that the federal laws will have no control of non-migratory birds. This limits the game bird laws to birds that are game birds, and comparatively few birds remain within the borders of any one state through the twelve months of the year. One or two examples may be given, however, of birds which probably must depend hereafter for the protection of their lives and of their families from actual extinction on the action of state legislatures. The ruffed grouse, called the partridge in many states, and the pheasant in other states, is a non-migratory bird, at least it probably will be so decided to be by the department of agriculture. The prairie chicken also is a non-migratory bird, and probably also must depend upon state protection, but nearly all the other birds of the United States, game, insectivorous and song, are migratory and hereafter will be protected by Uncle Sam.

Scope of the Measure.

Here is a section of the bill which shows definitely what it is intended to do:

"All wild geese, wild swans, brant, wild ducks, snipe, plover, woodcock, rail, wild pigeons, and all other migratory game and insectivorous birds which in their northern and southern migrations pass through or do not remain permanently the entire year within the borders of any state or

By GEORGE CLINTON.

Washington.—President Wilson's hint that he may go on occasion to the capitol where he can be in touch with legislation, created its ten days' stir, and it will create another ten days' stir, and perhaps more, if after the extra session convenes he carries out his hint. The thing that does not seem to be in the future, the department of agriculture, will adopt regulations prescribing and fixing closed seasons, having due regard to the zones of temperature, breeding habits and times and lines of migration, thereby enabling the department to select and designate suitable districts for different birds of the country, and it shall be unlawful to shoot or by any device kill or seize and capture migratory birds within the protection of this law during said closed season, and any person who shall violate any of the provisions or regulations of this law for the protection of migratory birds shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be fined not more than $100 or imprisoned not more than ninety days, or both, in the discretion of the court.

Support Almost Unanimous.

The influences for this federal legislation for the protection of birds which it was feared rapidly were becoming extinct, were exerted from every state in the Union. There was no sectionalism in it, and few parties raised the plea of state rights in order to defeat the measure. It is said that public opinion all over the United States had become so aroused because of the diminishing game birds and song birds that all quibbles were put aside and virtually a unanimous sentiment existed for the measure.

Has No Utter Motive.

No one in Washington has been found to say that he has taken an interest in coming over to the capitol to make "his will dominant." They think that his desire in the matter is entirely democratic, and that it is born of a wish to be in a closer and a more responsive touch with the members than would be the case if he sent all his bills to the White House while congress is in session. This feeling of an utter absence of any untoward intention on Mr. Wilson's part has not, however, prevented criticism, and it has come not only from members of opposition parties but from members of his own party.

Wilson Likes Taft's Idea.

There is a belief among Democratic members of congress that President Wilson may take up the suggestion made by ex-President Taft and urge legislation which will enable his cabinet officers to appear on the floor of the two houses of congress when matters pertaining to their departments are under consideration, to answer questions and to give information which may enlighten the points at issue.

Such a course would be in entire keeping with Mr. Wilson's intention that he may go to the capitol on occasion to be within easy reach of representatives and senators who care to consult him. It is all a part of a plan to bring the administration and congress closely together in conference on matters of legislation.

Mr. Taft's idea was that if the members of his cabinet could go to the house and the senate, especially at times when appropriation bills were under consideration, the actual need for money in that case, they would be more clearly presented, and the doubts of members who did not know how to vote could be cleared up and a more intelligent consideration could be given to each item in every appropriation bill.

The former president did not intend, however, to limit the appearance of members of the cabinet to appropriation occasions. He wanted congress to provide that whenever a cabinet officer's presence seemed advisable he might be summoned, given a seat on the floor and allowed to answer all questions and to vouchsafe his opinion as suggested by members of the house and senate pertinent to the subject matter in hand.

"Influence" Is Feared.

It is the fear of some congressmen that the admission of cabinet members to the floor would bring about a condition of "administration influence" with the legislative branch and that this ought to be avoided, especially in a democracy. It was the fear of this same influence which has been the chief cause of the opposition to the suggestion of Mr. Wilson that he might come to the capitol himself on occasion, a suggestion which has been treated of in another dispatch.

There is any amount of personal influence used to sway legislation in congress and some of this personal influence has been condemned by the public and the senate ever since the first of these bills were introduced. This influence is that of the lobby which in times past and even today has a strong representation in Washington. The lobbyists are nothing like as important as once they were, nor do they carry on their importunities with the same disregard of publicity and of the actual agencies as once they did.

A good many members of congress say that the legislative lobby which comes here from a distance is more inimical to Democratic institutions than the presence of the president and his cabinet officers in the capitol possibly could be.

Here is a section of the bill which shows definitely what it is intended to do:

"All wild geese, wild swans, brant, wild ducks, snipe, plover, woodcock, rail, wild pigeons, and all other migratory game and insectivorous birds which in their northern and southern migrations pass through or do not remain permanently the entire year within the borders of any state or

Federal Protection for Birds.

By an act of the last congress just three days before adjournment the whole system of protection of the wild birds of the United States was changed. This bill will go into effect at once, but the existing state laws will remain as they are until the department of agriculture has prepared new federal regulations for the governing of the protection of game and insectivorous birds in all sections of the Union. This matter is of interest to every sportsman and every market man, to every farmer and to every bird lover, no matter in what state of the Union he lives.

It should be said that the federal laws will have no control of non-migratory birds. This limits the game bird laws to birds that are game birds, and comparatively few birds remain within the borders of any one state through the twelve months of the year. One or two examples may be given, however, of birds which probably must depend hereafter for the protection of their lives and of their families from actual extinction on the action of state legislatures. The ruffed grouse, called the partridge in many states, and the pheasant in other states, is a non-migratory bird, at least it probably will be so decided to be by the department of agriculture. The prairie chicken also is a non-migratory bird, and probably also must depend upon state protection, but nearly all the other birds of the United States, game, insectivorous and song, are migratory and hereafter will be protected by Uncle Sam.

Scope of the Measure.

Here is a section of the bill which shows definitely what it is intended to do:

"All wild geese, wild swans, brant, wild ducks, snipe, plover, woodcock, rail, wild pigeons, and all other migratory game and insectivorous birds which in their northern and southern migrations pass through or do not remain permanently the entire year within the borders of any state or

By GEORGE CLINTON.

Washington.—President Wilson's hint that he may go on occasion to the capitol where he can be in touch with legislation, created its ten days' stir, and it will create another ten days' stir, and perhaps more, if after the extra session convenes he carries out his hint. The thing that does not seem to be in the future, the department of agriculture, will adopt regulations prescribing and fixing closed seasons, having due regard to the zones of temperature, breeding habits and times and lines of migration, thereby enabling the department to select and designate suitable districts for different birds of the country, and it shall be unlawful to shoot or by any device kill or seize and capture migratory birds within the protection of this law during said closed season, and any person who shall violate any of the provisions or regulations of this law for the protection of migratory birds shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be fined not more than $100 or imprisoned not more than ninety days, or both, in the discretion of the court.

Support Almost Unanimous.

The influences for this federal legislation for the protection of birds which it was feared rapidly were becoming extinct, were exerted from every state in the Union. There was no sectionalism in it, and few parties raised the plea of state rights in order to defeat the measure. It is said that public opinion all over the United States had become so aroused because of the diminishing game birds and song birds that all quibbles were put aside and virtually a unanimous sentiment existed for the measure.

Has No Utter Motive.

No one in Washington has been found to say that he has taken an interest in coming over to the capitol to make "his will dominant." They think that his desire in the matter is entirely democratic, and that it is born of a wish to be in a closer and a more responsive touch with the members than would be the case if he sent all his bills to the White House while congress is in session. This feeling of an utter absence of any untoward intention on Mr. Wilson's part has not, however, prevented criticism, and it has come not only from members of opposition parties but from members of his own party.

Wilson Likes Taft's Idea.

There is a belief among Democratic members of congress that President Wilson may take up the suggestion made by ex-President Taft and urge legislation which will enable his cabinet officers to appear on the floor of the two houses of congress when matters pertaining to their departments are under consideration, to answer questions and to give information which may enlighten the points at issue.

Such a course would be in entire keeping with Mr. Wilson's intention that he may go to the capitol on occasion to be within easy reach of representatives and senators who care to consult him. It is all a part of a plan to bring the administration and congress closely together in conference on matters of legislation.

Mr. Taft's idea was that if the members of his cabinet could go to the house and the senate, especially at times when appropriation bills were under consideration, the actual need for money in that case, they would be more clearly presented, and the doubts of members who did not know how to vote could be cleared up and a more intelligent consideration could be given to each item in every appropriation bill.

The former president did not intend, however, to limit the appearance of members of the cabinet to appropriation occasions. He wanted congress to provide that whenever a cabinet officer's presence seemed advisable he might be summoned, given a seat on the floor and allowed to answer all questions and to vouchsafe his opinion as suggested by members of the house and senate pertinent to the subject matter in hand.

"Influence" Is Feared.

It is the fear of some congressmen that the admission of cabinet members to the floor would bring about a condition of "administration influence" with the legislative branch and that this ought to be avoided, especially in a democracy. It was the fear of this same influence which has been the chief cause of the opposition to the suggestion of Mr. Wilson that he might come to the capitol himself on occasion, a suggestion which has been treated of in another dispatch.

There is any amount of personal influence used to sway legislation in congress and some of this personal influence has been condemned by the public and the senate ever since the first of these bills were introduced. This influence is that of the lobby which in times past and even today has a strong representation in Washington. The lobbyists are nothing like as important as once they were, nor do they carry on their importunities with the same disregard of publicity and of the actual agencies as once they did.

A good many members of congress say that the legislative lobby which comes here from a distance is more inimical to Democratic institutions than the presence of the president and his cabinet officers in the capitol possibly could be.

<

RICH MENS CHILDREN
By GERALDINE BONNER
Author of "THE MONSTER TOMORROW'S TANGLE," etc.
Illustrations by DOM J. LAVIN
Copyright 1906 by The BOARDS-MIDELL CO.

SYNOPSIS.

Bill Cannon, the bonanza king, and his daughter, Rose, who had married the Cornellian Ryan, arrived at Antelope. Dominick Ryan, who had been a clerk in a jewelry store, called on his father-in-law to get a ball invitation for his wife and to be recognized as her father-in-law. Dominick had been trapped into a marriage with Bernice, a daughter of the bonanza king, several years ago. She squandered his money, they have frequent quarrels, and he has left her. Dominick Ryan is rescued from Antelope by a sudden condition and brought to Antelope hotel. Antelope is out of his storm.

CHAPTER V.—Continued.
"I was tired," he said slowly. "I'd worked too hard and I thought the mountains would do me good. I can get time off at the bank when I want and I thought I'd take a holiday and come up where I was last summer. I know the place and liked the hotel. I wanted to get a good way off out of the city and away from my work. As for walking up here, that's nothing. I'm very strong and I never thought for a moment such a blizzard was coming down."

He lifted his head and turned toward the window, then raising one hand rubbed it across his forehead and eyes. There was something in the gesture that alienated the young girl. She thought he felt tired and had been talking too much and she was guiltily conscious of her laughter and loquacity.

They sat without speaking for some moments. Dominick made no attempt to break the silence when she moved noiselessly to the stove and pushed in more wood. His face was turned from her and she thought he had fallen asleep when he suddenly moved and said:

"Isn't it strange that I have never met you before?"
She was relieved. His tone showed neither feebleness nor fatigue, in fact it had the freshness of a return to congenial topics. She determined, however, to be less talkative, less encouraging to the weakening exceptions of general conversation. So she spoke with demure brevity.

"Yes, very. But you were at college for four years, and the year you came back I was in Europe."

He looked at her rummagingly, and nodded.

"But I've seen you," he said, "at the theater. I was too sick at first to recognize you, but afterward I knew I'd seen you, with your father and your brother Gene."

It was her turn to nod. She thought it best to say nothing and waited. But his eyes bent inquiringly upon her, and the waiting silence seemed to demand a comment. She made the first one that occurred to her:

"Whom were you with?"
"My wife," said the young man.

She murmured a vague sentence of comment and this time determined not to speak, no matter how embarrassing the pause became. She even thought of taking up her book and was about to stretch her hand for it, when he said:

"But it seems so queer when our parents have been friends for years, and I knew Gene, and you know my sister Coraella so well."

She drew her hand back and leaned forward, frowning and staring in front of her, as she sent her memory backward groping for data.

"Well, you see a sort of series of events prevented it. When we were little our parents lived in different places. Ages ago when we first came down from Virginia City you were living somewhere else, in Sacramento, wasn't it? Then you were at school, and after that you went East to college for four years, and when you got back from college I was in Europe. And when I came back from Europe—that's over two years ago now—why then—"

She had again brought up against his marriage, this time with a shock that was somewhat of a shattering nature.

"Why, then," she repeated falteringly, realizing where she was—"why then—let's see—"

"Then I had married," he said quietly.

"Oh, yes, of course," she assented, trying to impart a suggestion of sudden innocent remembrance to her tone. "You had married. Why, of course."

As hour after when the doctor came back she was kneeling on the floor by the open stove door, softly building up the fire. At the sound of the opening door she looked up quickly, and her hands being occupied, gave a silencing jerk of her head toward the sleeping man.

The doctor looked at them both. The scene was like a picture of some primitive domestic interior, where youth and beauty had made a nest, warmed by that symbol of life, a fire, which one replenished while the other slept.

CHAPTER VI.

In Which Bernice Writes a Letter.
The morning after the surprise attack broke late. She had not fallen asleep till the night was well spent, the heated seething of her rage keeping the peace of repose far from her. It was only as the dawn paled the square of the window that she fell into a heavy slumber, disturbed by dreams full of stress and strife.

She looked up at the clock; it was nearly ten. Dominick would have left for the bank before this, so the wretched constraint of a meeting with him was postponed. Sorrow and heavy dread, her head aching, oppressed by a sense of the unbearable unpleasantness of the situation, she threw on her wrapper, and going to the window drew the curtain and looked out.

The bedroom had but one window, wedged into an angle of wall, and affording a glimpse of the green lawn and clipped rose trees of the house next door. There was a fog this morning and even this curtailed prospect was obliterated. She stood yawning drowsily, and gazing out with eyes that her yawns had brought tears.

Her half-made wild brush round her head, her face looked round her only. She was one of those women whose good looks are dependent on animation and millinery. In this fixity of inward thought, unobserved in unbecoming disarray, one could realize that she had attained the thirty-four years she could so successfully deny under the rejuvenating influences of full dress and high spirits.

And now! Suppose he had gone back to his people! A low ejaculation escaped her, and she dropped the curtain and pressed her hand, clenched to the hardness of a stone, against her breast.

"The mere thought of such a thing was intolerable. She did not see how she could support the idea of his mother and sister winning him from her. She hated them. They were the ones who had wronged her, who had excluded her from the home and the riches and the position that her marriage should have given her. Her retaliation had been her unwavering grip on Dominick and the careful discretion with which she had comported herself as his wife. There was no ground of complaint against her. She had been as quiet, home-keeping and dutiful a woman as any in California. She had been a good housekeeper, a skillful manager of her husband's small means. It was only within the last year that she had, in angry spite, run into the debts with which she had lured him. No wife could have lived more rigorously up to the letter of her marriage contract. It was easy for her to do it. She was not a woman whom light living and license attracted. She had sacrificed her honor to win Dominick, grudgingly, unwillingly, as close-fisted men part with money in the hope of rich returns. She did not want to be his mistress, but she knew of no other means by which she could reach the position of his wife.

Now suppose he had gone back to his people! It was an insupportable, a maddening thought. It plunged her into agitation that made her rise and move about the room with an aimless restlessness, like some soft-footed feline animal. Suppose he had gone home and told them about last night, and they had prevailed upon him not to come back!

Well, even if they had, hers was still the worst position. The sympathy of the disinterested outsider would always be with her. If she had been quarrelsome and ugly, those were small matters. In the great essentials she had not failed. Suppose she and the Ryans ever did come to an open crossing of swords, would not her story be the story of the two? The world's sympathy would certainly not go to the rich women, tramping on the poor little typewriter, the honest working girl who for one slip, righted by subsequent marriage, had been the object of their implacable antagonism and persecution.

She said this opposite the mirror, extending her hands as she had seen an actress do in a recent play. As she saw her pointed, pale face, her expression of wry gave way to one of pleased complacency. She looked pathetic, and her position was pathetic. Who would have the heart to condemn her when they saw her and heard her side of the story? Her spirit began to rise. With the first gleam of returning confidence she shook off her apprehensions. A struggle of sunshine pierced the fog, and going to the window she drew the curtains and looked out on the wall of mist every moment growing brighter and thinner. The sun finally pierced it, a patch of blue above, and dropping the curtains she drew them and looked at the clock. It was after eleven.

She decided she would go out and take lunch with her sisters, who were always ready to listen and to sympathize with her.

These sisters were the only intimate friends and companions Bernice had, their home the one house to which she was a constant visitor. With all her peculiarities and faults she possessed a strong sense of kin. In her rise to fairer fortune, if not greater happiness, her old home had never lost its hold upon her, nor had she weakened in a sort of cross-grained, patronizing loyalty to her two sisters. This may have been accounted for by the fact that they were exceedingly amiable and affectionate, proud to regard Bernice as the flower of the family, whose dizzy translation to unexpected heights they had watched with unenvied admiration.

Hannah, the oldest of the family, was the daughter of a first marriage. She was now a spinster of forty-five, and had taught school for twenty years. Hazel was the youngest of the three, and Bernice, having been the offspring of Danny Iverson's second marriage with a woman of romantic tendencies, which had no value in the eyes of her children, Hazel, while yet in her teens, had married a clerk in a jewelry store, called Josh McCrae. It had been a happy marriage. After the birth of a daughter, Hazel had returned to her work as a saleslady in a fashionable millinery. Both sisters, Josh and the child, had continued to live together in domestic harmony in the house which Hannah, with the savings of a quarter of a century, had finally cleared of all mortgages and now owned. No household could have been more simply decent, and honest, no family more unassumingly content. In such an environment Bernice, with her daring ambitions and bold unscrupulousness, was like that unaccounted-for blossom, which in the floral world is known as a "sport."

But it did not appear that she regarded herself as such. With the exception of a year spent in Los Angeles and Chicago, she had been a member of the household from her childhood till the day of her marriage. The year of absence had been the result of a sudden revolt against the monotony of life and surroundings, an upwelling of the restless ambitions that preyed upon her. A good position had been offered her in Los Angeles and she had accepted it, with eagerness, thankful for the opportunity to see the world and break away, so she said, from the tameness of her situation, the narrowness of her circle, the spirit of adventure, carried her further afield, and she penetrated as far across the continent as Chicago, where she was employed in one of the most prosperous business houses, earning a large salary. But, like many Californians, homesickness seized her, and before the year was out she was back, inveighing against the eastern manners, character, and climate, and glad to shake down again into the family nest. Her sisters were satisfied with her account of her wanderings, and knowing that Bernice was as true as steel, they had not been in the least alarmed. The spirit of an adept at telling half a story, as she was at taking down a dictation in typewriting, she was too clever to be found out in a lie; they were altogether too simple to suspect her apparent frankness.

After the excursion she remained at home until her marriage. Her liaison with Dominick was conducted with the utmost secrecy. Her sisters had not a suspicion of it. They knew nothing but that the young man was attentively courting her, and that she was, in the parlor of Hannah's house, and the unmarred sisters, bewildered by Bernice's glories, had waited to see her burst into the inner glories of fashion and wealth with a tiara of diamonds on her head and ropes of pearls about her throat. That no tiara was forthcoming, no pearls graced her bridal parure, and no Ryan ever crossed the threshold of her door, seemed to the loyal Hannah and Hazel the most unmerited and inexplicable injustice that had ever come within their experience.

It took Bernice some time to dress, for she attached the greatest importance to all matters of personal adornment, and the lunch hour was at hand when she alighted from the Hyde Street car and walked toward the house. It was on one of those streets which cross Hyde near the slope of Russian Hill, and are devoted to the habits of small, thrifty housewives, the prevailing cleanliness of the neighborhood, the neat sidewalks, always trim and to a precise shortness of grass and straightness of border. The sun was now broadly out and the house-fronts engarlanded with vines, their cream-colored faces spotted in fresh coats of paint, presented a line of uniform bay-windows to its ingratiating warmth. Hannah's was the third, and its gleaming cleanliness of its front steps were points of domestic decency that its proprietor insisted on as she did on the servant girl's apron being clean and the parlor free from dust.

Bernice had retained her latch-key, and letting herself in passed into the dustless parlor which connected by folding doors with the dining-room beyond. Nothing had been changed in it since the days of her tenancy. The upright piano, draped with a China silk skirt, stood in the old corner. The mantelpiece and the staid clock and a pair of china dogs stood at accented-measured distances. The tufted arm-chairs were placed far closely the right thickness, and then, on the outer side there is printed, on an engraved plate and with correct coloring, a photographic reproduction of a sheet of actual Spanish cedar; this reproduction showing the grain of the wood with all its variations and even the tiny little knots.

The bottom and the sides for a cardboard box are cut out all in one piece, so that they require neither nailing nor sewing. The end pieces, cut out separately, are wire stitched in by being binged with the usual piece of muslin.

These cardboard boxes made in imitation of cedar are finished in regulation manner, paper lined and with the usual paper flap to cover the cigars. The outer edges are paper bound in the usual fashion. In its finished state the box contains one nail, the nail always found at the center of the front edge of the cigar box to hold the corner down. These boxes sell for about 50 per cent. less than boxes made of wood.

Familiar Language.
The citizen came puffing up. "Why didn't you stop that man when I yelled 'stop thief'?" he demanded.

The other citizen frowned. "I never interfere in a political quarrel," quoth he.

Hotel on an Obelisk.
We recently published the account of an excursion made by one of our reporters to the top of the Sugar Loaf, the gigantic obelisk, 300 meters in height, that overlooks the entrance of our beautiful bay. A Brazilian company is going to install on top of this almost inaccessible block of granite a handsomely equipped hotel, connected with one of the hills of Rio de Janeiro by an aerial railroad. The work will be pushed in all haste, and the marvelous height, bathed by the refreshing breezes of the open sea, should surely attract tourists from America and Europe.—Gazette de Noticias.

Justice Gives Prisoner Kind and Freedom, Then Receives Salute From Peedler.
Chicago.—Another blow at the dignity of the bench was dealt recently. It was struck when an Aurora Justice of the peace, tempering justice with mercy, was kissed in open court by a man he had dismissed. The resounding smack upon the justice's cheek was delivered before anyone could interfere or after everyone was too stark to do so.

Frank de Cook, arrested for peddling without a license, was the man who introduced the European method of expressing gratitude to an American court. He had told Police Magistrate Thomas Barlow such an affecting hard luck story that the justice not only dismissed the charges against him but called him to the bench and gave him one dollar.

Then came the kiss. The justice refused to say whether he considered it in the light of a bribe.

Ask Streets as Playgrounds.
New York.—Women leaders in the New York Children's Executive League announced yesterday that they will petition Mayor Gaynor to have little used streets to be used as playgrounds for children.

New Curfew Law.
Geneva.—A new curfew law in the Canton of Valais provides for the arrest of children on the streets after 7 p. m. and a 50-cent fine for the parents of the children apprehended.

It's Always a Good Thing to Have a Clear Horizon
at both ends of the day.

Post Toasties
for breakfast and again at the evening meal opens and closes the day with a dash of sunshine.

Toasties are bits of hard, white Indian Corn, first carefully cooked, then rolled thin and crinkly, and toasted to a delicate, appetizing brown.

Not a hand touches the food in manufacture, and it is ready to serve direct from the package—to be eaten with cream or milk—and sugar, if desired.

Post Toasties taste deliciously good and are richly nourishing.

DOCTOR COULDN'T TAKE HINT
Patient Wanted Advice That Suffered Her, and Would Go Where She Could Get It.
"Doctor," she plaintively said, "I want you to tell me just what the matter with me."
"There is nothing the matter with you," the doctor replied after he had questioned her concerning her symptoms, "except that you need a good from each other, severely isolated in the corners, as though the room were too remote and sacred even to suggest the cheerful amenities of social intercourse. A curious, musty smell hung in the air. It recalled the past in which Dominick had figured as her admirer. The few times that he had been to her home she had received him in this solemn, unadorned apartment in which the chandelier was lit for the occasion, and Hannah and Hazel had sat in the kitchen, breathless with curiosity as to what such a call might portend. She had been married here, in the bay-window, under a wedding bell of white roses. The musty smell brought it all back, even her sense of almost breathless elation, when the seal was set on her daring school days.

It Took Bernice Some Time to Dress.

From beyond the folding doors, a sound of conversation, and an smitten cockery arose, also a strong odor of cooking. The family were already at lunch, and opening the door Bernice entered in upon the midday meal which was being partaken of by her two sisters, Josh and Hazel's daughter, Pearl, a pretty child of eight.

Neither of her sisters resembled her in the least. Hannah was a woman who looked more than her age, with a large, calm face, and gentle, near-sighted eyes which blinked at the world behind a pair of steel-rimmed glasses. Her quarter-century of school teaching had not dried or stiffened her. She was fuller of the milk of human kindness, of the ideals and enthusiasms of youth, than either of her sisters. All the love of her kindly, maternal nature was given to Pearl, whom she was bringing up carefully to be what seemed to Hannah best in woman.

Hazel was very pretty and still young. She had the fresh, even bloom of a Californian woman, a round, graceful figure, and glossy brown hair, rippled and arranged in an elaborate coiffure as though done by a hair-dresser. She could do this herself as she could make her own clothes, earn a fair salary at the millinery, and sing to the guitar in a small, piping voice. Her husband was ravished by her good looks and accomplishments, and thought her the most wonderful woman in the world. He was a thin, tall, young man with stooping shoulders, a long, lean neck, and an amiable, insignificant face. But he seemed to please Hazel, who had married him when she was nineteen, being haunted by the nightmare thought that if she did not take what chances offered, she might become an old maid like Hannah.

Bernice sat down next to the child, conscious that under the pleasant friendliness of their greetings a violent curiosity as to whether she had changed in each of the years since her departure had led to the formation of a football squad. The ambitious were taken to one of the study halls on a Friday afternoon, where Professor Cammack addressed them after this fashion:

"I am glad to see you boys here and pleased to notice that you are taking an interest in athletics. I think it is a fine thing to be interested in healthful sports. Football will give you confidence. We need boys and men of confidence in this country. In fact, want to make confidence men out of all of you."

Perhaps the genial professor is wondering to this day why the football squad broke into loud laughter.—Kansas City Journal.

Hotel on an Obelisk.
We recently published the account of an excursion made by one of our reporters to the top of the Sugar Loaf, the gigantic obelisk, 300 meters in height, that overlooks the entrance of our beautiful bay. A Brazilian company is going to install on top of this almost inaccessible block of granite a handsomely equipped hotel, connected with one of the hills of Rio de Janeiro by an aerial railroad. The work will be pushed in all haste, and the marvelous height, bathed by the refreshing breezes of the open sea, should surely attract tourists from America and Europe.—Gazette de Noticias.

Familiar Language.
The citizen came puffing up. "Why didn't you stop that man when I yelled 'stop thief'?" he demanded.

The other citizen frowned. "I never interfere in a political quarrel," quoth he.

Hotel on an Obelisk.
We recently published the account of an excursion made by one of our reporters to the top of the Sugar Loaf, the gigantic obelisk, 300 meters in height, that overlooks the entrance of our beautiful bay. A Brazilian company is going to install on top of this almost inaccessible block of granite a handsomely equipped hotel, connected with one of the hills of Rio de Janeiro by an aerial railroad. The work will be pushed in all haste, and the marvelous height, bathed by the refreshing breezes of the open sea, should surely attract tourists from America and Europe.—Gazette de Noticias.

Familiar Language.
The citizen came puffing up. "Why didn't you stop that man when I yelled 'stop thief'?" he demanded.

The other citizen frowned. "I never interfere in a political quarrel," quoth he.

Hotel on an Obelisk.
We recently published the account of an excursion made by one of our reporters to the top of the Sugar Loaf, the gigantic obelisk, 300 meters in height, that overlooks the entrance of our beautiful bay. A Brazilian company is going to install on top of this almost inaccessible block of granite a handsomely equipped hotel, connected with one of the hills of Rio de Janeiro by an aerial railroad. The work will be pushed in all haste, and the marvelous height, bathed by the refreshing breezes of the open sea, should surely attract tourists from America and Europe.—Gazette de Noticias.

Familiar Language.
The citizen came puffing up. "Why didn't you stop that man when I yelled 'stop thief'?" he demanded.

The other citizen frowned. "I never interfere in a political quarrel," quoth he.

Hotel on an Obelisk.
We recently published the account of an excursion made by one of our reporters to the top of the Sugar Loaf, the gigantic obelisk, 300 meters in height, that overlooks the entrance of our beautiful bay. A Brazilian company is going to install on top of this almost inaccessible block of granite a handsomely equipped hotel, connected with one of the hills of Rio de Janeiro by an aerial railroad. The work will be pushed in all haste, and the marvelous height, bathed by the refreshing breezes of the open sea, should surely attract tourists from America and Europe.—Gazette de Noticias.

Familiar Language.
The citizen came puffing up. "Why didn't you stop that man when I yelled 'stop thief'?" he demanded.

The other citizen frowned. "I never interfere in a political quarrel," quoth he.

Hotel on an Obelisk.
We recently published the account of an excursion made by one of our reporters to the top of the Sugar Loaf, the gigantic obelisk, 300 meters in height, that overlooks the entrance of our beautiful bay. A Brazilian company is going to install on top of this almost inaccessible block of granite a handsomely equipped hotel, connected with one of the hills of Rio de Janeiro by an aerial railroad. The work will be pushed in all haste, and the marvelous height, bathed by the refreshing breezes of the open sea, should surely attract tourists from America and Europe.—Gazette de Noticias.

Familiar Language.
The citizen came puffing up. "Why didn't you stop that man when I yelled 'stop thief'?" he demanded.

The other citizen frowned. "I never interfere in a political quarrel," quoth he.

Hotel on an Obelisk.
We recently published the account of an excursion made by one of our reporters to the top of the Sugar Loaf, the gigantic obelisk, 300 meters in height, that overlooks the entrance of our beautiful bay. A Brazilian company is going to install on top of this almost inaccessible block of granite a handsomely equipped hotel, connected with one of the hills of Rio de Janeiro by an aerial railroad. The work will be pushed in all haste, and the marvelous height, bathed by the refreshing breezes of the open sea, should surely attract tourists from America and Europe.—Gazette de Noticias.

GAYEST OF CITIES
Joys of Paris, London and Vienna Combined in Budapest.

Capital of Austria-Hungary in the Center of Nation's Activities—Every Other Building Here Houses a Cafe.

Budapest.—The greatest city of the Danube—Vienna being in strict justice excluded from consideration—is Budapest, which is fairly cut in two by the broad expanse of the river, according to D. N. and A. S. Idings in the National Geographic Magazine. Formerly two cities, Buda on the right bank struggles up a picturesque mountain, and here on a high terrace is the magnificent palace of the king of Hungary, with a wondrous outlook over the river. Pest, on the opposite side of the river, is the modern city, its location is upon a flat, so characteristic of the rich Danubian plains.

The population of the combined cities is about 750,000, and here is the center of all Hungarian activities. Hungary as a nation having little real culture, no manufacturing to speak of, in short, naught but a pastoral existence outside of its capital city. The rich fertility of the Danubian plains has always made agriculture the natural avocation of the people, just as the plains themselves constitute the principal area of the kingdom. But the life of Budapest is compensatory for the dullness that pervades the rest of Hungary. Budapest is Paris, Vienna and London in one, a combination of the gayeties of the capitals of the world with a little distinctive Hungarian paprika thrown in.

The "Corso" along the Danube in Pest is the promenade and whose group of open air cafes and restaurants form the hub of the Magyar world. The city almost every other building houses a cafe, so important a part do these establishments play in the national life.

There the business man partakes of his early-breakfast of coffee and rolls, there he adjourns from his office on numerous occasions in the day for important business conferences, which are best had, according to the semi-official idea of the Hungarians, over a cup of coffee. And after the family dinner, which is almost invariably partaken of in one of the restaurants which are scattered through the city and among the parks which surround it, the cafe is again resorted to by the whole family as a last thing before retiring, which is often postponed till early morning, so entraining is the gypsy music always to be heard in these public places and the other attractions of cafe life.

15-YEAR-OLD TIRES OF WORLD
Writes That His Life Has Been Fair—Then Takes Poison.
Atlanta, Ga.—Leaving a note in which he declared that his life had been a failure and that there was nothing left to live for, Leroy Thomas, a fifteen-year-old country boy, attempted suicide here by swallowing poison. His attempt was unsuccessful.

Four weeks ago Leroy came to the city to make his fortune. On the trip to Atlanta he began in a little diary the story of his conquest of the world. His attempt was after three weeks of failure. He now says that he will always be satisfied with his happy home on the farm.

When he fell after swallowing the acid, he clutched in his hand a note to his father. It read:

"I am a complete failure. There's no need of me causing my folks any more trouble. I want to go where no one will find me. I'll be better off that way. I am in the way here. They don't want folks in this world who are failures. Goodbye."

In his pockets were pawn tickets for most of his possessions he had brought to the city with him, telling of a struggle against odds that were too much for the untrained country lad. Doctors say he will be able to go back to his home within a week.

Crime Note.
First Small Town Police Official—A crook was just in to get permission for a little criminal work tonight. Second Ditto—Yegg work? First Small Town Police Official—Not much. First-class hold up by the original New York company.—Puck.

Other Means.
It isn't necessary to have an automobile to run down one's neighbors.—Salt Lake Desert News.

It's Always a Good Thing to Have a Clear Horizon
at both ends of the day.

Post Toasties
for breakfast and again at the evening meal opens and closes the day with a dash of sunshine.

Toasties are bits of hard, white Indian Corn, first carefully cooked, then rolled thin and crinkly, and toasted to a delicate, appetizing brown.

Not a hand touches the food in manufacture, and it is ready to serve direct from the package—to be eaten with cream or milk—and sugar, if desired.

Post Toasties taste deliciously good and are richly nourishing.

MAN KISSES KIND JUDGE
Justice Gives Prisoner Kind and Freedom, Then Receives Salute From Peedler.

Chicago.—Another blow at the dignity of the bench was dealt recently. It was struck when an Aurora Justice of the peace, tempering justice with mercy, was kissed in open court by a man he had dismissed. The resounding smack upon the justice's cheek was delivered before anyone could interfere or after everyone was too stark to do so.

Frank de Cook, arrested for peddling without a license, was the man who introduced the European method of expressing gratitude to an American court. He had told Police Magistrate Thomas Barlow such an affecting hard luck story that the justice not only dismissed the charges against him but called him to the bench and gave him one dollar.

Then came the kiss. The justice refused to say whether he considered it in the light of a bribe.

Ask Streets as Playgrounds.
New York.—Women leaders in the New York Children's Executive League announced yesterday that they will petition Mayor Gaynor to have little used streets to be used as playgrounds for children.

New Curfew Law.
Geneva.—A new curfew law in the Canton of Valais provides for the arrest of children on the streets after 7 p. m. and a 50-cent fine for the parents of the children apprehended.

It's Always a Good Thing to Have a Clear Horizon
at both ends of the day.

Post Toasties
for breakfast and again at the evening meal opens and closes the day with a dash of sunshine.

Toasties are bits of hard, white Indian Corn, first carefully cooked, then rolled thin and crinkly, and toasted to a delicate, appetizing brown.

Not a hand touches the food in manufacture, and it is ready to serve direct from the package—to be eaten with cream or milk—and sugar, if desired.

Post Toasties taste deliciously good and are richly nourishing.

DOCTOR COULDN'T TAKE HINT
Patient Wanted Advice That Suffered Her, and Would Go Where She Could Get It.

"Doctor," she plaintively said, "I want you to tell me just what the matter with me."
"There is nothing the matter with you," the doctor replied after he had questioned her concerning her symptoms, "except that you need a good rest. Go away to some quiet place, where you can sit or lie around and be free from worry of any kind. You don't need medicine. It wouldn't do you any good if you took it."

"Where would you advise me to go?"
"Oh, you must suit yourself about that. There are plenty of places where you can go—any place that is quiet, where you can sit or lie around and be free from worry of any kind. You don't need medicine. It wouldn't do you any good if you took it."

Grand Rapids Tribune

BY DRUMB & SUTOR.

Grand Rapids, Wis., Mar. 19, 1913

Entered at the Post Office at Grand Rapids, Wisconsin, as Second Class Mail Matter.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.
One Year, $1.50
Six Months, .85
Three Months, .45

Advertising Rates.—For display matter a flat rate of 12 cents an inch is charged. The columns of the Tribune are 24 inches wide. Making a one column advertisement (12 in.) for one insertion. Additional insertions at the same rate. All local notices, cards of thanks, resolutions of respect, and all notices of entertainments are charged at the rate of 5 cents per line. Correspondents are requested to write on one side of the paper only, and to sign their names for publication. It is not our policy to return matter if you write every week, sign your name anyway, as it will not be published.

RURAL CARRIER EXAMINATION.

At Grand Rapids, Wisconsin, for Wood County, Saturday, April 13, 1913.

The United States Civil Service Commission announces an examination on the date and at the places named above as a result of which it is expected to make appointments to fill vacancies in the position of rural carrier at Grand Rapids, Wisconsin, and other vacancies as they may occur on rural routes at post offices in the above named county, unless it is found to be in the interest of the service to fill the vacancies by reinstatement, transfer or promotion. The usual entrance salary for rural carriers is from $500 to $1,000 per annum.

Age limit, 18 to 35, on the date of the examination. The maximum age limit is waived in cases of persons honorably discharged from the United States military or naval service.

An applicant must have his actual domicile in the territory supplied by a post office in the county for which the examination is announced.

The examination is open to all male citizens of the United States who can comply with the requirements.

Application Form No. 1, and full information concerning the requirements of the examination, can be secured from the secretary of the local examining board or the postmaster at any of the places named above or from the U. S. Civil Service Commission, Washington, D. C.

Eligibles on registers established prior to March 1, 1912, can be considered for appointment only at the office for which they were examined. Such eligibles may be examined within one year from the date of their former examinations upon filing applications showing that they meet the requirements of the new examination and their old eligibility for their home office is not being canceled.

Applications should be properly executed and filed with the Commission at Washington. As examination papers are shipped direct from the Commission to the places of examination, it is necessary that applicants be ready in ample time to arrange for the examination desired at the place indicated by the applicant. The Commission will therefore arrange to examine any applicant whose application is received in time to permit the shipment of the necessary papers.

An eligible register for the position of rural carrier for each county will be maintained. A person must be examined in the county in which the post office that supplies his home is situated. As a result of such examination he may become eligible to appointment as rural carrier at any post office in such county. A rural letter carrier after one year's satisfactory service may be transferred to the position of clerk or carrier in the first or second class post office, to the position of railway mail clerk, or to other positions in the classified service, subject to such examination as may be required by the civil service rules.

JOHN C. BLACK, President.

THIS STATE SHOULD.

The state of Kansas, which, by the way, is nearly as progressive, if not more so, than this state is considering the passage of a bill to print its own school books. This state should follow its example, pass a law to print its own school books in the state printing plant.

The state of school books has always been a graft and a bag one. This year one educator's history and another algebra or arithmetic was the only one worth having.

The next year another genius (that is according to the publishers) broke into the limelight. More books. More books. A new kind, nearly every incoming professor or new superintendent changed the books, and the poor fathers and mothers, who were struggling along, found it doubly hard to keep their children in school.

The graft and bag one is so far that even copy books were included. First we had the Spencerian writing and then it was vertical writing and vice versa. It was hopping from pillar to post.

Consider the problem from the standpoint of a man of family. Thinking to better his condition or for other reasons moved from one county to another in the same state. It is dollars to doughnuts that they found themselves loaded with an extra expense that they had never figured on and that was the purchase of a whole set of new books. No small item, either.

The people of the state have been robbed long enough and some people have grown rich from their takeoffs. The voters of the state are wise to the graft but like a great many instances they have let it slide along without kicking over the traces, but the time is ripe to holler long and loud.—EX

KELLNER.

O. Brockway has moved his family up from Babcock and is now living in the Kassdorf house. Mr. Brockway started the saw mill this week.

H. Henning has sold his farm to Chicago parties who will take possession at once. Mr. Henning will move onto his farm in Michigan.

Confirmation services were conducted by Rev. A. Krusche last Sunday at the Lutheran church. A large crowd was in attendance and an impressive sermon was delivered to the class.

Wm. Gaulke, Jr., is hauling rock to your city for a new house which he expects to build this summer.

Instead of the Ellis Co. of your city paying $1,500.00 for wood in our burg this winter, as was told in last week's issue, they paid $11,500.00.

Miss Corinne Hjerstedt is on the sick list this week.

Mrs. Gus Heike is under the care of a physician this week.

A baby boy arrived at the E. Eberhardt home on the 11th inst.

Rev. A. Krusche and G. H. Munroe were business visitors in your city last Monday.

W. Knuth left for Canada on Monday morning where he will be employed on a dredge.

Wm. Getzloff and family are moving to your city this week.

Miss Crystal Munroe is spending a week's vacation at the home of her parents here.

Alfred Grey is reported to be somewhat better at this writing. Dr. Pominville is still attending him.

Services will be held at the Lutheran church next Friday morning at 9.30 A. M.

MEEHAN.

Lewis Winkler of Montello spent a few days here last week with his brother Frank.

Garrett Fox spent last week with relatives down in the town of Saratoga.

There will be Easter services at the church Sunday morning at 10 o'clock. Wm. Gustafson is making preparations to build a new dwelling house this spring.

Ed Frost and son Robert of Rudolph were callers here one day last week. Clendenen Bros. have finished loading pulpwood here and expect to go to Kellner some time this week to load for the Grand Rapids box factory. About 150 carloads were loaded here.

Mr. Hanna and Lon Meyers of Stevens Point were callers here recently. Mr. Hanna was arranging to have part of his land south of here plowed up and he may erect a set of buildings on the land.

NEW HOME.

Mrs. Levi Thomas returned home from a week's visit with her parents at Big Flats.

Mrs. Jim VanTassel spent Saturday with Mrs. B. C. Burhite.

Considering the rainy day, quite a crowd attended the funeral of Mrs. Bentley last Friday. She leaves to mourn her death a husband and eight children the youngest being about eight years old.

Mrs. Jim Gardner papered two rooms for Loren Finch last week.

Miss Lillie Webb is on the sick list this week.

Walter Amundson is home again and helping his brother Charley this week to put up this wood.

Mr. Patefield is in our vicinity again with his wood saw.

Oscar Rome of Blanchardville is visiting his brother, J. J. Rome.

Mrs. E. A. Finch is on the sick list this week.

Mrs. Bob Burhite spent Thursday at the Will Leuke home.

H. S. Webb made a business trip to Milladore on Monday.

Levi Thomas and Will Leuke made a trip to Neeshah on Saturday.

Charley Bulgren is working for Elmer Finch.

B. C. Burhite and family spent Sunday at the Will Leuke home.

Mr. and Mrs. Levi Thomas spent Sunday at the Frank Young home at Monroe Center.

Loren Finch was busy breaking his broncos last week. He was assisted by John Thurber of Monroe Center.

PITTSVILLE.

(From the Pittsville Record.)

Wednesday last was a pay day for the Arpin Indians and they could be seen in this city with huge bundles making for their several rugs preparatory to returning home. The Indian is a queer customer. While he is living, he lives high, until all the money from pay day is gone. Then, if he cannot get trusted, he actually suffers hunger and other inconveniences, until the next day of pay from the government.

An eligible register for the position of rural letter carrier for each county will be maintained. A person must be examined in the county in which the post office that supplies his home is situated. As a result of such examination he may become eligible to appointment as rural carrier at any post office in such county. A rural letter carrier after one year's satisfactory service may be transferred to the position of clerk or carrier in the first or second class post office, to the position of railway mail clerk, or to other positions in the classified service, subject to such examination as may be required by the civil service rules.

JOHN C. BLACK, President.

THIS STATE SHOULD.

The state of Kansas, which, by the way, is nearly as progressive, if not more so, than this state is considering the passage of a bill to print its own school books. This state should follow its example, pass a law to print its own school books in the state printing plant.

The state of school books has always been a graft and a bag one. This year one educator's history and another algebra or arithmetic was the only one worth having.

The next year another genius (that is according to the publishers) broke into the limelight. More books. More books. A new kind, nearly every incoming professor or new superintendent changed the books, and the poor fathers and mothers, who were struggling along, found it doubly hard to keep their children in school.

The graft and bag one is so far that even copy books were included. First we had the Spencerian writing and then it was vertical writing and vice versa. It was hopping from pillar to post.

Consider the problem from the standpoint of a man of family. Thinking to better his condition or for other reasons moved from one county to another in the same state. It is dollars to doughnuts that they found themselves loaded with an extra expense that they had never figured on and that was the purchase of a whole set of new books. No small item, either.

The people of the state have been robbed long enough and some people have grown rich from their takeoffs. The voters of the state are wise to the graft but like a great many instances they have let it slide along without kicking over the traces, but the time is ripe to holler long and loud.—EX

KELLNER.

O. Brockway has moved his family up from Babcock and is now living in the Kassdorf house. Mr. Brockway started the saw mill this week.

H. Henning has sold his farm to Chicago parties who will take possession at once. Mr. Henning will move onto his farm in Michigan.

Confirmation services were conducted by Rev. A. Krusche last Sunday at the Lutheran church. A large crowd was in attendance and an impressive sermon was delivered to the class.

Wm. Gaulke, Jr., is hauling rock to your city for a new house which he expects to build this summer.

Instead of the Ellis Co. of your city paying $1,500.00 for wood in our burg this winter, as was told in last week's issue, they paid $11,500.00.

Miss Corinne Hjerstedt is on the sick list this week.

Mrs. Gus Heike is under the care of a physician this week.

A baby boy arrived at the E. Eberhardt home on the 11th inst.

Rev. A. Krusche and G. H. Munroe were business visitors in your city last Monday.

W. Knuth left for Canada on Monday morning where he will be employed on a dredge.

Wm. Getzloff and family are moving to your city this week.

Miss Crystal Munroe is spending a week's vacation at the home of her parents here.

Alfred Grey is reported to be somewhat better at this writing. Dr. Pominville is still attending him.

Services will be held at the Lutheran church next Friday morning at 9.30 A. M.

SIGEL.

Mrs. A. C. Sandborg, Mrs. L. Johnson, August, John, Charley, and Lewis Oman of Duluth, Minn., arrived here on Saturday to spend a week at the Gust Anderson home.

Miss Emma Worland has returned from Grand Rapids where she has been employed for the past five months.

Margaret Morris of Arpin is visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Claus Johnson this week.

Ernest Lindquist will leave this week for Rockford, Ill., where he will remain for an indefinite time.

Miss Ella Henriksen is home from Grand Rapids where she has spent a week with friends.

Mrs. George Coombs of Sherry spent Sunday with friends here.

Mr. and Mrs. Gust Anderson celebrated their 25th anniversary at their home on Saturday, March 15th, about eighty relatives and friends being present. Refreshments were served during the evening and all departed for their respective homes in the wee small hours of the morning feeling themselves royally entertained.

The host and hostess were remembered with many pretty and useful gifts of silver, etc., as mementoes of the happy occasion.

Emil Westgard of Frankfort, has been a guest of relatives here for a week. He returned to his home on Saturday.

Simson Nystrom came home on Friday from the northern part of the state where he has been employed the past winter.

Arvid Anderson, who is employed at Rudolph, spent Saturday and Sunday here.

John Heden was a business caller at Rudolph on Monday.

Miss Ida Gustafson came home on Sunday having spent the week as a guest of Miss Ina Kronholm.

John Anderson lost a valuable horse on Friday night.

Robert Berg of Grand Rapids is enjoying his winter vacation at the home of his grandparents here.

Miss Floy Berg and Mr. and Mrs. John M. Worland of Grand Rapids, were here to attend the wedding at the Gust Anderson home on Saturday.

Mr. Swanson of Illinois is visiting at the Hills home.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Anderson and family of Rockford, Ill., arrived here last week to take possession of the farm which they recently purchased from Peter Moberg.

A son to Mr. and Mrs. Ringer, Sigel.

SHERRY.

Thos. Evans was a Marshfield visitor last Tuesday.

Dr. Norton was in our town on professional business recently.

Roy Farrish visited at Grand Rapids over Sunday.

Miss Mona Altmann was in our neighborhood sewing recently.

Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Paulson were Marshfield callers Wednesday.

Clifford, the youngest child of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Searls, was badly injured by being kicked by a young colt last Monday. He was kicked in the face and his cheek cut quite badly.

Mrs. Meyers of Milladore and Ridge-man of Grand Rapids were called and he is now improving nicely.

Carl Paulson was a Marshfield caller recently.

Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Lounsbury of Stevens Point arrived here Saturday and will remain here for some time.

The pupils of school in Dist. No. 1 will enjoy a two weeks vacation commencing next Friday.

John Jantz was seen in our village Saturday afternoon with a smiling countenance and reported that a ten pound baby girl had arrived at his home.

O. M. Paulson and family are entertaining Mr. Paulson's sister and her husband from Oklahoma.

The Sherry Scrub basketball team played at Auburndale Saturday evening and were defeated. A return game will be played here next Saturday evening and it is hoped that they will be more lucky.

Treasurer Williams and wife were Grand Rapids visitors on business Monday.

PLEASANT HILL.

(Too Late for Last Week.)

The past week was the coldest of the winter, 32 below zero being registered by some thermometers. The fall of snow was appreciated by the farmers as they had most of their hauled to do.

Fred Penske will start his saw mill this week. He has the largest amount of logs for custom sawing that he has ever had.

Ed Christenson sold his pine lumber which he had sawed last winter, to McVicar & Co. at Vesper. He has his lumber hauled for his barn.

Harry Johnson is hauling gravel for an addition to his barn.

Mrs. Aug. Zellmer is quite sick at the present writing.

Mrs. Lucy Holmes of Grand Rapids is staying with her mother, Mrs. A. Zellmer during her sickness.

The Alfred Alms farm which was sold this winter has been sold again. The new owner will take possession at once.

Carl Herzberg returned from Ill., where he has been for the past four or five years, and will assist his father on the farm. His two brothers who have been staying at home left for Illinois, where they will work the coming summer.

Mrs. Joe Schucka is visiting her parents in Milwaukee.

John Kuris's house caught fire last Sunday but the fire was discovered in time to be put out.

Nina Johnson is quite sick, being confined to her bed.

Mrs. Gable was on the sick list last week.

Will Strope is serving on the jury at Grand Rapids this week.

The Ladies Aid Society met at Mrs. Strope's on Tuesday.

A call was extended to Rev. Vater for the coming year by the church on Sunday.

E. A. Forbes returned to his home in Illinois after a few days visit with his friend, F. H. Lakes.

Ole Duckie does not improve very rapidly and is confined to his bed most of the time.

Gachnany Bros. sawed wood for Chas. Peters and Ole Duckie last week.

One of our young men tried to smoke a pipe one night last week and in consequence lost his supper.

P. H. Lakes hauled his lumber for his barn from the mill last week.

A large number of new buildings will be erected in our burg this year. We will try to list them some time in the future.

Ethel Strope went to Dexterville last Sunday.

A very nice program is being prepared for Easter by the Sunday school.

A full program will be published next week.

Mr. and Mrs. Duncan of Hansen, spent Sunday at Ole Duckie's.

A good time was had at the basket social at the Pleasant Hill school and a good sum realized.

Frank Haumach delivered about thirty cords of lath bolts at the mill last week.

The Ladies Aid Society will serve lunch at the town meeting in Hansen on election day.

Clarence Robertson, who lives south of us, has a freak calf with only one nostril.

Wm. Buchanan was in Babcock last week.

—Martha Washington Oxford. Big discounts. Zimmermann's Shoe Store.

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS.

(Continued from Last Week.)

The following resolution was presented and adopted by the following vote, the clerk calling the roll: Ayes: Billmeyer, McCarthy, Getzloff, Luksas, Yenchke, Whitlock, Anderson, Damon and Jeffrey. Nays: Nil and Nash.

RESOLUTION.

A resolution to submit to the electors of the city of Grand Rapids, Wood County, Wisconsin, at the next municipal election to be held on the 1st Tuesday of April, A. D. 1913, the question of purchasing and acquiring the Lighting Plant and Equipment of the Electric and Water Company, (also known as the Grand Rapids Electric Company), a Public Service corporation operating under and by virtue of the laws of the State of Wisconsin and a franchise from the City of Grand Rapids.

The common council of the City of Grand Rapids, do resolve as follows: Resolved, that the question of purchasing and acquiring the Lighting Plant and Equipment of the Electric and Water Company, (also known as the Grand Rapids Electric Company), a Public Service corporation operating under and by virtue of the laws of the State of Wisconsin and a franchise from the City of Grand Rapids, for the purpose of maintaining and operating the same to supply this city and the inhabitants thereof with light, shall be submitted to a vote of the electors of said City of Grand Rapids at the regular municipal election to be held in said City on the first Tuesday in April, A. D. 1913. The electors shall vote upon such question upon a separate ballot which shall be substantially in the form as prescribed in Section No. 92, 129 of the Wisconsin Statutes, and such ballots shall be counted, canvassed and returned in the same manner as other ballots cast at such election are counted, canvassed and returned.

Resolved, that the expense of such purchase and acquisition to be paid for in any event an affirmative vote by the electors of said City therefor, from the proceeds of Bonds to be issued pursuant to law.

Attest: J. A. Cohen, Mayor

M. G. Gordon, Clerk.

On motion, by unanimous vote, the clerk calling the roll, the following bills were allowed:

Geo. T. Rowland & Sons, poor orders, etc. $ 28.57

McCarthy, to A. J. Cohen, 10.00

F. F. Billmeyer, Com. work ... 6.00

E. I. Phillos, labor ... 57.50

G. F. Hambrecht extra service ... 115.76

McCarthy, to A. J. Cohen, 10.00

Bossert Bros. & Co., coal ... 86.22

Drum & Sutor, stat. & print ... 23.55

E. W. Ellis Ler. Co., food ... 15.00

I. Minto, error on tax roll ... 10.94

Wood Co. Tel. Co., service ... 24.55

A. L. Fontaine, printing ... 26.75

A. Peters & Co., maple wood ... 24.75

Grand Rapids Electric Co., lighting ... 342.87

G. R. Electric Co., pumping ... 246.24

G. R. Electric Co., thawing main ... 7.50

Geo. Watman, drainage ... 1.00

J. B. Farley, fittings ... 1.66

G. R. Foundry Co., castings50

Pittsburg Meter Co., meters ... 84.00

Neptane Meter Co., registers ... 14.75

Hoffman & Bilhings Mfg. Co. ...

W. W. supplies ... 11.88

Naft. Meter Co. repairs30

Labor, water works ... 151.80

Labor, east side ... 27.15

Labor, east side ... 24.00

Labor, west side ... 32.00

Labor, west side ... 25.00

The city treasurer's report for the month of February was presented and on motion, ordered filed and spread upon the minutes.

Grand Rapids, Wis., March 4, 1913

To the Honorable Mayor and Common Council of the City of Grand Rapids.

Gentlemen:—I herewith submit the report of my office for the month of February.

Feb. 1, 1913, Bt. in bank ... $8029.22

Taxes collected during Jan. ... 5404.23

Feb. 27, 1913, Rec'd. First National B. Int. on dep. ... 73.36

Total ... $9351.81

Orders paid by bank $4181.61

Feb. 11, paid to A. J. Cohen ... 10.00

Treas. state tax ... 13810.65

Total ... $55622.27

Mar. 1, Bal. in bank ... $37889.54

Water Tax Report.

Feb. 1, Bal. in bank ... $1844.39

Water tax col. during Jan. ... 104.91

Total ... $1949.30

Orders paid by bank ... $ 598.22

Mar. 1, Bal. in bank ... $1259.08

Respectfully submitted,

Grand Rapids Tribune

BY DRUMB & SUTOR.

Grand Rapids, Wis., Mar. 13, 1913

Entered at the Post Office at Grand Rapids, Wisconsin, as Second Class Mail Matter.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.
One Year, $1.50
Six Months, .90
Three Months, .45

Advertising Rates—For display matter a rate of 12 cents an inch is charged. The columns of the Tribune are 24 inches long, making a one column advertisement 24 lines for one insertion. Additional insertion cost at the same rate. Resolutions of respect, and all notices of entertainments, are charged at 5 cents per line.

Correspondents are requested to write on one side of the paper only, and to send their names to the publisher. It does not matter if you write every week, sign your name anyway, as it will not be published.

RURAL CARRIER EXAMINATION.

At Grand Rapids, Wisconsin, for Wood County, Saturday, April 12, 1913.

The United States Civil Service Commission announces an examination on the date given at the places named above as a result of which it is expected to make certification to fill a vacancy in the position of rural carrier at Grand Rapids, Wisconsin, and other vacancies as they may occur on rural routes at post offices in the above named counties. The examination will be held by re-examination, transfer or promotion. The usual entrance salary for rural carriers is from $600 to $1,000 per annum.

Age limit, 18 to 55, on the date of the examination. The maximum age limit is waived in cases of persons honorably discharged from the United States military or naval service.

An applicant must have his actual domicile in the territory supplied by a post office in the county for which the examination is announced.

The examination is open to all male citizens of the United States who can comply with the requirements.

Application Form 3341, and full information concerning the requirements of the examination may be obtained from the secretary of the local examining board or the postmaster at any of the places named above, or from the U. S. Civil Service Commission, Washington, D. C.

Eligible persons registered established prior to August 1, 1912, can be considered for appointment only at the office for which they were examined.

Persons eligible may be examined with or without the date of their former examination upon filing applications showing that they meet the requirements of the new examination, their old eligibility for their home of residence not being canceled.

Applications should be properly executed and filed with the Commission at Washington. As examination papers are not stamped by the Commission, it is necessary that applications be received in ample time to arrange for the examination at the place indicated by the applicant. The Commission will therefore arrange to examine applicants who apply in person at the place indicated in time to permit the shipment of the necessary papers.

An eligible carrier for each county will be maintained. A person must be examined in the county in which the post office that supplies his home is situated. As a result of such examination he may become eligible to be appointed as carrier at any post office in such county. A rural letter carrier, after one year's satisfactory service may be transferred to the position of clerk or carrier in a first or second class post office, to the position of railway mail clerk, or to other positions in the classified service, subject to such examination as may be required by the civil service.

JOHN C. BLACK, President.

THIS STATE SHOULD.

The state of Kansas, which, by the way, is nearly as progressive, if not more so, than this state, is considering the passage of a bill to print its own school books. This state should follow its example, pass a law to print its own school books in the state printing plant.

The state of Kansas has always been a great and big one. This year one educator's history and another algebra or arithmetic was the only one worth having.

The next year another genius (thrift is according to the publishers) broke into the limelight. More books. More books. A new kind of every in the counting professor or new superintendent changed the books, and the poor fathers and mothers, who were struggling along, found it doubly hard to keep their children in school.

The graft was carried so far that even copy books were included. First we had the Spencerian writing and then it was hopping from pillar to post.

Consider the problem from the standpoint of a man of family. Thinking to better his condition or for other reasons moved from one county to another in the same state. It is dollars to doughnuts that they found themselves faced with an extra expense that they had never figured on and that was the purchase of a whole set of new books. No small item, either.

The people of the state have been robbed long enough and some people have grown rich from their rascals. The voters of the state are tired of the graft but like a great many instances they have let it slide along without kicking over the traces, but the time is ripe to holler long and loud.—EX.

KELNER.

O. Brockway has moved his family up from Babcock and is now living in the Kasdorf house. Mr. Brockway started the saw mill this week.

H. Hennig, who sold his farm to Chicago parties who will take possession at once. Mr. Hennig will move onto his farm in Michigan.

Confirmation services were conducted by Rev. A. Krusche last Sunday at the Lutheran church. A large crowd was in attendance and an impressive sermon was delivered to the church.

Wm. Gault, Jr., is hauling rock to your city for a new house which he expects to build this summer.

Instead of the Ellis Co. of your city paying $1,500.00 for wood in our burg this winter, as was told in last week's Tribune, they paid $1,500.00.

Miss Corrine Hjertstedt as on the sick list this week.

Mrs. Gus Telke is under the care of a physician this week.

A baby boy arrived at the E. Eberhardt home on the 11th inst.

Rev. A. Krusche and G. H. Munroe were business visitors in your city last Monday.

W. Knuth left for Canada on Monday morning where he will be employed on a dredge.

Wm. Getzler and family are moving to your city this week.

Miss Crystal Munroe is spending a week's vacation at the home of her parents here.

Alfred Grey is reported to be somewhat better at this writing. Dr. Pomainville is still attending him.

Services will be held at the Lutheran church next Friday morning at 9:30 A. M.

MEEHAN.

Lewis Winkler of Montello spent a few days here last week with his brother Frank.

Garrett Fox spent last week with relatives down in the town of Saratoga.

There will be Easter services at the church Sunday morning at 10 o'clock. Wm. Cussman is making preparations to build a new dwelling house this spring.

Ed Felt and son Robert of Rudolph were callers here one day last week. Clendenning Bros. have finished loading pulpwood here and expect to load for the Grand Rapids box factory. About 150 carloads were loaded here.

Mr. Hanna and son Meyers of Stevens Point were callers here recently. Mr. Hanna was arranging to have part of his land south of here plowed up and he may also erect a set of buildings on the land.

NEW ROME.

Mrs. Levi Thomas returned home from a weeks visit with her parents at Big Flats.

Mrs. Jim VanTassel spent Saturday with Mrs. B. Turbitt.

Considerable the rainy day, quite a crowd attended the funeral of Mrs. Bentley last Friday. She leaves to mourn her death a husband and eight children the youngest being about eight years old.

Mrs. Jim Gardner papered two rooms for Loren Finch last week.

Miss Lillie Webb is on the sick list this week.

Arvid Amundson is home again and helping his brother Charley this week to put up this wood.

Mr. Patefield is in our vicinity again with his wood saw.

Oscar Rome of Blanchardville is visiting his brother, J. J. Rome.

Mrs. E. A. Finch is on the sick list this week.

Mrs. Bob Turbitt spent Thursday at the Will Leese home.

H. S. Webb made a business trip to Milladore on Monday.

Levi Thomas and Will Leese made a trip to Neesham on Saturday.

Charley Bulgrin is working for Elmer Finch.

B. J. White and family spent Sunday at the Will Leese home.

Mr. and Mrs. Levi Thomas spent Sunday at the Frank Young home at Monroe Center.

Loren Finch was busy breaking his brooms last week. He was assisted by John Thurber of Monroe Center.

PITTSVILLE.

(From the Pittsville Record.)

Wednesday last was a pay day for the Indians and they could be seen strolling in the city with huge bundles making for their several rigs preparatory to returning home. The Indian is a queer customer. While he is living, he lives high, until all the money from pay day is gone. Then, if he cannot support himself, he suffers hunger and other inconveniences, until the next day of pay from the government. Perverting the old adage, the Indian seems to go on the plan "I will live well while he is living, for he will be a long time broke." Most seem to be the legal bone of contention during these glaucous times of the full pocket book, with rewards and bakers' goods a close second. They buy with a free hand until their money is gone, with never a thought of the morrow, and suffer in silence until Uncle Sam donates again.

Miss Minnie Truchinski, mother of August Truchinski, died at the home of her son northwest of the city March 6th, and was buried in the Mount cemetery Monday of this week.

Lon Bailey, of whom mention was made last week, as having been removed from the livery stable of Leiser & Son to Hotel Brown for better care, died March 7th of pulmonary tuberculosis after an illness of three weeks.

Mr. Bailey came here from a small town about nine months ago and has been employed at the Leiser barn continuously since.

A case of scarlet fever at the Lewis residence here has caused the school to be closed down for the purpose of fumigating the school rooms thoroughly.

The victim is a little child of Mrs. Gohde, who is living at the Lewis home with his mother. As two of the teachers have been rooming at the Lewis home these precautions have been taken.

The home of Jim Spoon, north of the city, was burned down last Wednesday night. The origin of the fire is supposed to be from a defective chimney. The report is the medicine man of the tribe of Potawatamies, is blind, and his loss will be badly felt by his family.

SARATOGA.

Ed Hansen departed for Beloit on Friday where he will take up his work again after spending two months at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Hansen.

James Johnson and Carl Peterson departed on Tuesday for Alberta, Canada.

Edna Brown of Grand Rapids is spending a week with her mother, Mrs. J. P. Peterson.

Mrs. Wm. Zuege and little son have been spending the past week with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Hansen.

A large number of friends surprised Mrs. Pauline Hansen last Friday, it being her 61st birthday. Refreshments were served and a very good time was had by all who were present.

Word was received here announcing the death of Mrs. John Johnson, nee Carrie Ole of M. Eber, Minn., an old resident of this place.

ARPIN.

Glen Jones has resigned his position with the Arpin Merc. Co.

Roy Lilge, who has been visiting his parents at Appleton, returned Thursday afternoon.

The Ladies Aid Society meets on Wednesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Edwards.

Mrs. H. F. Rindberg who has been visiting relatives at Appleton the past week, returned Saturday.

Mrs. C. W. Bluet went to Grand Rapids Saturday to spend Sunday with A. J. Cowell and family.

There was a basket ball game at the hall Saturday evening between Arpin and Astoria. The score was 14 to 15 in favor of Astoria.

Miss Mary Mollet was obliged to give up her work at the Cowell home in Grand Rapids on account of sickness and came home Wednesday.

Mrs. C. W. Bluet was sewing for Mrs. B. Whittingham Thursday.

Miss Cora Lewis went to Grand Rapids Tuesday where she will be employed at the Cowell home for a couple of weeks.

The Harding Players were to give a show here Friday night but owing to bad weather the play was postponed until Monday night.

Legal blanks for sale at this office.

SIGEL.

Mrs. A. C. Sandborg, Mrs. L. Johnson, August John, Charley, and Lewis Oman of Duluth, Minn., arrived here on Saturday to spend a week at the Gust-Anderson home.

Miss Emma Worland has returned from Grand Rapids where she has been employed for the past five months.

Margaret Morris of Arpin is visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Claus Johnson this week.

Ernest Lindquist will leave this week for Rockford, Ill., where he will remain for an indefinite time.

Miss Ella Hennickson is home from Grand Rapids where she has spent a week with friends.

Mrs. George Combs of Sherry spent Sunday with friends here.

Mr. and Mrs. Gust Anderson celebrated their 25th anniversary at their home on Saturday, March 15th, about eighty relatives and friends being present. Refreshments were served.

Refreshments were served during the evening and games were played at the respective homes in the week.

Small hours of the morning feeling themselves royally entertained. The host and hostess were remembered with many pretty and useful gifts of silver, etc., as mementoes of the happy occasion.

Emil Westgard of Frankfort, has been a guest of relatives here for a week. He returned to his home on Saturday.

Simson Nystrum came home on Friday from the northern part of the state where he has been employed the past winter.

Arvid Anderson, who is employed at Rudolph, spent Saturday and Sunday here.

Walter Heden was a business caller at Rudolph on Monday.

Miss Ida Jacobson came home on Sunday having spent the week as a guest of Miss Ina Kronholm.

John Anderson lost a valuable horse on Friday night.

Robert Berg of Grand Rapids is enjoying his winter vacation at the home of his grandparents here.

Miss Floy Berg and Mr. and Mrs. John M. Worlund of Grand Rapids, were here to attend the wedding at the Gust Anderson home on Saturday.

Mr. Swanson of Illinois is visiting at the Hills home.

Mr. and Mrs. Anderson and family of Rockford, Ill., arrived here last week to take possession of the farm which they recently purchased from Peter Moberg.

A son to Mr. and Mrs. Ringer, Sigel.

SHERRY.

Thos. Evans was a Marshfield visitor last Tuesday.

Dr. Norton was in our town on professional business recently.

Roy Farish visited at Grand Rapids over Sunday.

Miss Mona Altmann was in our neighborhood sewing recently.

Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Paulson were Marshfield callers Wednesday.

Clifford, the youngest child of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Searis, was badly injured by being kicked by a young cow last Monday. He was kicked in the face and his cheek cut quite badly.

Drs. Meyers of Milladore and Ridgman of Grand Rapids were called and he is now improving nicely.

Carl Paulson was a Marshfield caller recently.

Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Lounsbury of Stevens Point arrived here Saturday and will remain here for some time.

The pupils of school in Dist. No. 1 will enjoy a two weeks vacation commencing next Friday.

John Jantz was seen in our village Saturday afternoon with a smiling countenance and reported that a ten pound baby girl had arrived at his home.

Mr. Paulson and family are entertaining Mr. Paulson's sister and her husband from Oklahoma.

The Sherry Scrub basket ball team played at Auburnville Saturday evening and were defeated. A return game will be played here next Saturday evening and it is hoped that they will be more lucky.

Travelling Williams and wife were Grand Rapids visitors on business Monday.

PLEASANT HILL.

(Too Late for Last Week.)

The past week was the coldest of the winter, 32 below zero being registered by some thermometers. The hill of snow was appreciated by the farmers as they had most of their hauling to do.

Ed. Felt will start his saw-mill this week. He has the largest amount of logs for custom sawing that he has ever had.

Ed. Christenson sold his pine lumber which he had saved last winter, to McVicar & Co. at Vesper. He has his lumber hauled for his barn.

Harry Johnson is hauling gravel for an addition to his barn.

Mrs. Eugene Zelmer is quite sick at the present writing.

Mrs. Lucy Holmes of Grand Rapids is staying with her mother, Mrs. A. Zellmer during her sickness.

The Alfred Ains farm which was sold this winter has been sold again. The new owner will take possession at once.

Carl Herzberg returned from Ill., where he has been for the past four or five years, and will assist his father on the farm. His two brothers who have been staying at home left for Illinois where they will work the coming summer.

Mrs. Joe Schucks is visiting her parents in Arkansas.

John Kurtz's house caught fire last Sunday but the fire was discovered in time to be put out.

Nina Johnson is quite sick, being confined to her bed.

Mrs. Gable was on the sick list last week.

Will Strope is serving on the jury at Grand Rapids this week.

The Ladies Aid Society met at Mrs. Strope's on Tuesday.

A call was extended to Rev. Vater for the coming year by the church on Sunday.

E. A. Forbes returned to his home in Illinois after a few days visit with his friend, P. H. Lilge.

Ole Duckie does not improve very rapidly and is confined to his bed most of the time.

Gochany Bros. sawed wood for Chas. Peters and Ole Duckie last week.

One of our young men tried to smoke a pipe one night last week and in consequence lost his supper.

P. H. Lilge hauled his lumber for his barn from the mill last week.

A large number of new buildings will be erected in our burg this year. We will try to list them some time in the future.

Ethel Strope went to Dexterville last Sunday.

A very nice program is being prepared for Easter by the Sunday school. A full program will be published next week.

Mr. and Mrs. Duncan of Hansen, spent Sunday at Ole Duckie's.

A good time was had at the basket ball game at the Pleasant Hill school and a good sum realized.

The Ladies Aid Society will serve lunch at the town meeting in Hansen on election day.

Clarence Robertson, who lives south of us, has a freak calf with only one nostril.

Wm. Buchanan was in Babcock last week.

Martha Washington Oxford, Big discounts. Zimmermann's Shoe Store.

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS.

(Continued from Last Week.)

The following resolution was presented and adopted by the following: The clerk calling the roll: Ayes—Billmeyer, McCarthy, Getzler, Lusk, Kasseki, Teschke, Walbrock, Anderson, Darnold, and Jeffrey. Nays—Billmeyer and Nash.

RESOLUTION.

A resolution to submit to the electors of the city of Grand Rapids, Wisconsin, at the next municipal election, to be held on the first Tuesday of April, A. D. 1913, the question of purchasing and acquiring the Lighting Plant and Equipment of the Electric and Water Company, (also known as the Grand Rapids Electric Company), a Public Service Corporation operating under and by virtue of the laws of the State of Wisconsin, and a franchise from the City of Grand Rapids.

The common council of the City of Grand Rapids do resolve as follows: "Resolved, that the question of purchasing and acquiring the Lighting Plant and Equipment of the Electric and Water Company, (also known as the Grand Rapids Electric Company), a Public Service Corporation operating under and by virtue of the laws of the State of Wisconsin, and a franchise from the said City of Grand Rapids, be submitted to the electors of said City of Grand Rapids at the regular municipal election to be held in said City on Tuesday, April, A. D. 1913; such electors shall vote upon such question upon a separate ballot which shall be submitted in the form as prescribed in Section No. 924-129 of the Wisconsin Statutes, and such ballots shall be submitted to the City Clerk and returned in the same manner as other ballots cast at such election are counted, canvassed and returned."

Resolved, that the expense of such purchase and acquisition to be paid for, in the event of an affirmative vote by the electors of said City, therefor, from the proceeds of Bonds to be issued pursuant to law.

J. A. Cohen, Mayor.

Attest: M. G. Gordon, Clerk.

On motion, by unanimous vote, the clerk calling the roll, the following bills were allowed:

Geo. T. Rowland & Sons, poor orders, $28.57

McCormack & Pomainville, hdw 10.06

F. P. Billmeyer, Co. work 57.50

F. P. Billmeyer, Co. work 68.22

G. P. Hambrecht extra service 115.76

Humphrey Benjamin, copying 3.82

Bossett Bros. & Co., coal 68.22

Drum & Sutor, coal & print 23.55

E. W. Ellis Lbr. Co., wood 15.00

L. Mista, error on tax roll 9.04

Wood Co. Tel. exchange service 24.55

A. L. Fontaine, printing 26.75

A. Peters 4% cds maple wood 1.50

Grand R. Electric Co., lighting 342.57

G. Electric Co., pumping 246.24

G. R. Elec. Co., thawing main 7.40

Geo. Waterman, drapery 1.66

J. B. Farley, fittings 8.00

G. R. Foundry Co., castings 60.00

Pittsburg Meter Co., meters 14.75

Septuine Meter Co., repairs 11.88

W. W. supplies 151.80

Natl. Water Co., repairs 27.15

Labor, water works 24.00

Labor, east side 32.00

Labor, west side 28.00

The city treasurer's report for the month of February was presented and on motion, ordered filed and spread upon the minutes.

Grand Rapids, March 4, 1913. To the Honorable Mayor and Common Council of the City of Grand Rapids.

I, herewith submit the report of my office for the month of February:

Feb. 1, 1913, Bal. in bank $88029.22

Taxes collected during Jan. 5404.22

Feb. 27, 1913, Rec'd. First National B. Int. on dep. 78.36

NEWS ITEMS FROM NEARBY PLACES.

Horses Drowned in Ditch.—A span of horses belonging to George Spaul of Polonia was drowned and John Norberg, the driver, a young man about twenty-one years of age, narrowly escaped with his life. Friday afternoon, a heavy rain fell in Polonia, and the water in the ditch rose to a depth of three or four feet. The horses, however, failed to keep on the higher part of the road. One of them slipped off, pulling the other one after him and both were drowned. Norberg was also precipitated into the water, which on either side of the road was from six to ten feet deep, and came near sharing the fate of his team. He finally succeeded in reaching a tree, to which he clung and called for help. A farmer nearby heard his cries, went to his aid and by means of a raft, hastily constructed of fence rails, succeeded in landing him on dry ground. —Stevens Point Journal.

Depot Was Quarantined.—There was considerable excitement in the city last Sunday when it was learned that the depot was quarantined and a traveling negro housed therein with a fully developed case of smallpox. The negro in question was put off from passenger train No. 108, the early morning south bound, and it has not as yet been learned where he boarded the train. Some have said that he was aboard at Marshfield, others that he got on at Waupun or Ellettsburg. One thing is certain, he surely has a full fledged case of smallpox and is now in the pest house. He is a traveling musician whose home is in Green Bay and the expense will be charged up to that city. It is an ill wind that blows no good, for after the negro had been removed from the depot and it had been fumigated, that structure was scrubbed and scoured from floor to ceiling. —Clintonville Tribune.

Will Have Home Coming.—The Waupaca Advancement Association voted at a recent meeting to have a Home Coming here this year and the president ordered to make necessary appointments of committees. This has been deferred so as to give the new president this privilege. The election of officers failed to materialize at the meeting last week and in order to get the work started at once the following are appointed on the Home Coming committee: L. D. Smith, Geo. H. Skinner, Peter Holst, Mrs. A. R. Lea, Mrs. J. P. Lord, and Mrs. W. O. Ware. —Waupaca Record.

Voting Taxes for 1914 State Aid Work. The state highway commission is sending out to chairmen and town clerks a form of resolution for voting state aid, road and bridge taxes at this Spring's town meeting or at a special meeting held before September 1st. The commission points out that the legislature has passed almost unanimously the bill making good the $450,000 deficit in state aid for this year's work, which indicates that its policy toward adequate appropriations for 1914 and 1915 will be a generous one. It is customary to vote state aid taxes by resolution at the same hour that other town business is taken up and not to vote by ballot, though both courses are legal.

It is believed that voters for state aid in 1914 will show an increase over the votes of 1913, which were almost double those for 1912. The movement for better roads in Wisconsin is gaining tremendous impetus under the new state aid law, and it is now the leading state in the Middle West in modern road and bridge construction.

ELECTION NOTICE.
State of Wisconsin, County of Wood, City of Grand Rapids, SS.
Notice is hereby given that a municipal election will be held in the City of Grand Rapids, Wood County, Wisconsin, on the first Tuesday in April, A. D. 1913, being the first day of said month, for the purpose of electing the following officers:
Justice of the Peace, in place of E. N. Pomainville.
Alderman, First Ward, in place of E. A. Andrew.
Supervisor, First Ward, in place of Louis Schroeder.
Alderman, Second Ward, in place of F. F. Billmeyer.
Supervisor, Second Ward, in place of P. McCannoy.
Alderman, Third Ward, in place of E. W. Ellick.
Supervisor, Third Ward, in place of Edw. Lynch.
Alderman, Fourth Ward, in place of Guy Nash.
Supervisor, Fourth Ward, in place of Geo. T. Rowland.
Alderman, Fifth Ward, in place of Jos. Lukasek.
Supervisor, Fifth Ward, in place of F. C. Henke.
Alderman, Sixth Ward, in place of Max Whitlock.
Supervisor, Sixth Ward, in place of F. L. Bourke.
Alderman, Seventh Ward, in place of Frank B. Damon.
Alderman, Seventh Ward, in place of Andrew Mosher resigned.
Supervisor, Seventh Ward, in place of Wm. T. Nobles.
Alderman, Eighth Ward, in place of J. J. Jeffrey.
Alderman, Eighth Ward, in place of R. S. Payne, resigned.
Supervisor, Eighth Ward, in place of B. R. Goggins.

Also to vote on the question of purchasing and acquiring the lighting plant and equipment of the Electric & Water Company, (also known as the Grand Rapids Electric Company) pursuant to ordinance and resolution duly carried and adopted at the last regular meeting of the common council. The polling places will be as follows:
First Ward—Ed Mahoney's residence.
Second Ward—Library building.
Third Ward—C. A. R. Hall.
Fourth Ward—John Plenk's residence.
Fifth Ward—Power House.
Sixth Ward—John Alpine's shop.
Seventh Ward—City Hall.
Eighth Ward—Martin Nilsson's residence.

REAL ESTATE BARGAINS
—For sale or exchange one 6 room house in Sampson's Addition. Lot 185 by 200 ft. Price $750. A seven room house on Washington Ave. East Side, close to town. Price $1600. A 140 acre farm 4 miles from city, about 90 acres under the plow, plenty of wood. Good buildings, close to school; rural route. 500 acres in the town of Saratoga, at a bargain. Only 6 miles from this city. A 80 acre clay soil farm close to school and this city; good buildings; horses, cattle, and machinery. Price only $6500, a rare bargain.
Many other bargains. Give me a call.
Edward N. Pomainville
Abstracts, Collections, Loans
Grand Rapids, Wis.

PAID ADVERTISEMENTS.

The following matters are paid for at the rate of 10 cents per line, by the parties whose names are signed to the articles.

Announcement.
—I hereby announce my candidacy

for re-election as County Judge at the election April 1st.—2t
W. J. CONWAY.

To the Electors of the Third Ward.

—Because of the urgent request of several I have decided to announce that I am a candidate for the office of Supervisor, and will be glad to receive your support.

Respectfully,
March 3, 1913. GEO. L. WILLIAMS

Announcement.

—I hereby announce myself as a candidate for re-election to the office of Supervisor for the Seventh Ward of Grand Rapids, Wis.—Pd. Ad.

WILLIAM T. NOBLES

Announcement.

—I hereby announce myself a candidate for re-election to the office of County Superintendent of Schools for Wood County.

GEO. A. VARNEY.

Announcement.

—I have been urged by a number of voters of the Third ward to become a candidate for supervisor. Therefore I hereby announce that I am a non-partisan candidate for supervisor and if elected will perform the duties to the best of my ability.

EDWARD N. POMAINVILLE.

Announcement.

—I hereby announce myself as a candidate for alderman in the Third Ward at the election April 1st. 2t pd. Ad.

EMMETT MCCARTHEY.

Vote For

Frank W. Calkins, for County Judge.

—He is endorsed by all Wood County voters, who believe that 12 years continuously in office at a salary of $19000 is all any man is entitled to. Think the matter over carefully and vote right, April 1, 1913.

Johnson & Hill Co.
TABLE TALK
Condensed Milk, GOLDEN KEY

Dear Madam:—We have added to our stock the world's best, condensed milk, Golden Key Brand. The guarantee of this can of evaporated milk is cow's milk from southern Wisconsin, the best dairy country in the world. All germs and impurities of every kind are removed by a thorough process which evaporates the milk to the consistency of cream. It is perfect food for infants, invalids or any one troubled with weak digestion, and its purity is guaranteed. We guarantee that the contents of this can when diluted with an equal amount of water, will exceed the legal standard required for whole milk. One can of Golden Key Milk used, means another can sold. The world has demanded a purer milk, Golden Key fills that long felt want. "Purity at any cost" is our slogan. If it suits you tell others, if it does not, tell us. We assure you that it is our aim and always has been, to give you the best there is at all times. The milk comes in three sizes, five cents, eight cents, and ten cents the can, less 10 per cent discount on one dozen lots.

CHEESE.
We have tapped another one of those famous New York Herkimer County cheeses. O, but the flavor is delicious. Any one that is a lover of well ripened cheese, should lay in a good supply, the pound 20c.

We will have strawberries for Saturday, March 22nd.

REAL ESTATE BARGAINS
—For sale or exchange one 6 room house in Sampson's Addition. Lot 185 by 200 ft. Price $750. A seven room house on Washington Ave. East Side, close to town. Price $1600. A 140 acre farm 4 miles from city, about 90 acres under the plow, plenty of wood. Good buildings, close to school; rural route. 500 acres in the town of Saratoga, at a bargain. Only 6 miles from this city. A 80 acre clay soil farm close to school and this city; good buildings; horses, cattle, and machinery. Price only $6500, a rare bargain.
Many other bargains. Give me a call.
Edward N. Pomainville
Abstracts, Collections, Loans
Grand Rapids, Wis.

Killed Many Wolves.—E. W. Kurtz and C. L. Stratton, who reside near Rosholt, today brought in the largest number of wolf pelts to the office of the county clerk, and claimed their bounty. There were twenty-five pelts there, of that have ever been taken in the lot, and the bounty on them will be $500. This, together with the market value of the pelts, which is from $4.00 to $5.00, will bring the total value up to $800 or $1000. They also had the pelt of a black fox. There is no bounty on foxes, but the pelts of black foxes are worth all the way from $500 to $1000. The gentlemen killed the wolves about the middle of the month of December, about three miles east of Rosholt, and the pelts displayed were the result of their winter's work. —Stevens Point Journal.

—The West Side Ladies Aid Society of the Congregational church will hold an Apron and Provision sale at Church's drug store on Saturday, March 22.

RUDOLPH.

Mrs. George Elliott, who has been very sick the past three weeks, is able to sit up again. Mrs. Evelyn Crotteau is staying with her.

Mrs. J. E. Burns of Stevens Point visited from Friday until Monday at the K. J. Marceau home.

Mrs. Peter Krommenaker, Sr. and Mr. and Mrs. John Krommenaker spent Monday at Waupun, going up to see Mrs. Peter Krommenaker, who is a patient at St. Mary's hospital.

Rev. Father Feldman assisted Rev. Father Van Sever here Wednesday.

J. A. Wilkins of Stevens Point has formed partnership with J. J. Kuja in the store business and will commence selling goods Wednesday in the building erected recently to be used temporarily until their new store is completed.

Mrs. Frank Akoy and children left Sunday for Brillon to be gone for a couple of weeks visiting relatives.

John Weyers and wife spent Sunday here with relatives. Mr. Weyers has bought the J. Spector store stock and will continue to sell goods at the old stand.

Dr. Norton of Grand Rapids was here Sunday to care for a sick horse belonging to Nick Ratelle.

Mr. and Mrs. Mike Herol of Port Edwards are visiting relatives here.

Joseph Decker of Grumme, Wis., has been secured by the Rudolph Cramer Co. to make cheese the coming season in connection with their butter output.

Miss Gertrude Akoy spent Thursday at Grand Rapids having dental work done.

Miss Irma Hassel returned to Grand Rapids Tuesday morning after visiting friends here for several days.

Discount on Shoes.

—Don't forget that Zimmerman is giving 10, 20 and 25 per cent discount on all ladies oxfords from the 20th to the 25th of March. See what he is offering before you buy elsewhere.

LOCAL ITEMS.

—The spring term at the Grand Rapids Business College will open on March 24th. Enroll now.

—Legal blanks for sale at this office.

Mrs. J. H. Noyes and Mrs. Dwight Green were in Racine March 11th and 12th, at the state convention of the Woodman Circle, Mrs. Noyes as a delegate. Both received state offices and will meet in 1915 in Waukesha.

—Take a short course at the Grand Rapids Business College and prepare for a good position. Spring term opens March 24th.

Abel & Podawitz held their spring opening last Saturday afternoon and a large crowd was present to hear the music, receive souvenirs and see what the proprietors had to offer. The affair was a most pronounced success from start to finish.

Martha Washington Oxfords. Big discounts. Zimmerman's Shoe Store.

FROGS ARE PROTECTED.

The open season for frogs will henceforth be between June 1st and November 1st. Not that many of us care a great deal at present, but the time may come, if the law is enforced, when our best citizens may be seen sneaking out before daylight in the morning and armed with the proper paraphernalia for catching frogs (whatever it may be) his themselves to the adjacent swamps and marshes in search of the succulent but elusive frog.

We have not put much serious thought on the frog question, supposing that about all they amounted to was to furnish noise in the spring time for the amusement of people of a musical turn of mind, but it seems that while we have been asleep at the switch, so to speak, our valiant and trustworthy lawmakers down at Madison have been very much awake, and hereafter the frog will be properly protected.

MARKET REPORT.

Patent Flour.....$5.20
Rye Flour.....3.80
Rye.....54
Butter.....25-30
Eggs.....18
Beef, live.....44-45
Pork, dressed.....94-10
Veal.....90-110
Hay, Timothy.....10-12
Potatoes.....25
Rides.....10-12
Hens.....8
Oats.....30

Announcement.

To the voters of Grand Rapids:—

—I am a non-partisan candidate for Justice of the Peace, at the coming election, and will be glad to receive your support.

JOHN ROBERTS.

Announcement.

—I hereby announce myself as a candidate for Justice of the Peace at the coming spring election.

SCOTT SNYDER.

JOHNSON & HILL CO.

MILLINERY, COAT AND SUIT DEPT.

Only three more days until Easter. Better get your Suit NOW, and have it ready for Easter morning. And don't forget your EASTER HAT. We are well prepared to fill your wants for Easter in our Millinery, Coat and Suit Sections and you will be surprised at the very low prices that we are selling these high grade garments for.

Women's skirts, well made, in an assortment of good cloths, a large assortment of good styles to select from at each.....$2.45

Women's all wool serge suits, well tailored, stylishly made, at each.....$9.75

Women's Coats made up in the latest styles, from the best materials, new shades. Priced right at each.....$35.00-$28.50-$25.00-$22.50-$19.75

Women's all wool cheviot skirts.....$2.95

In the better grades of suits we have a complete assortment. Each grade the best for the price each.....$18.50-$17.75-$16.50-$14.75

$32.50-$26.75-$24.50-$22.50-$19.75

$16.50-$14.75 and $12.50

You Want New Clothes For Easter Sunday

Everybody decorates for that day, or before—no reason why you shouldn't. You'll find the proper things for it here. Hart Schaffner & Marx and Styleplus, strong suits for men and young men. Bestever suits for Boys and Children

Men's Suits $27.50-$25.00-$22.50-$20.00-$17.00

$15.00-$12.50 and $10.00

Boy's Suits $8.00-$6.50-$5.00-$4.00-$3.00

We have the latest shapes of Knox Spring Hats. The finest neckwear in new patterns. Cluett and Emery Shirts, etc.

FREE. A fine Baseball or Baseball Glove or Mitt with each Boy's Suit FREE.

SPECIALS for Thursday, Friday, Saturday

Regular 25c four in hand ties, special 3 for.....50c

Regular 50c Men's Work Shirts, special each.....43c

These Specials Thursday, Friday and Saturday ONLY

OUR BIG EASTER SALE

IN THE PURE FOOD GROCERY

Easter is the beginning of a new season. It brings with it new life, new hope, new ambition; nature never makes a mistake. TRUE TO NATURE we are trying to make an elaborate display of everything that is fresh and new. We have gathered together a large assortment of Green Food Products from Southern climes for this Easter Sale.

FANCY BLEACHED CELERY
The very best the market offers at per bunch.....12c and 10c

CAULIFLOWER
Extra Fancy Bleached Heads you can not get better.....5c

CABBAGE
We have both the OLD and NEW Cabbage at attractive prices.....5c

LEAF LETTUCE—Double bunches.....5c

HEAD LETTUCE—None better.....5c

the head each.....5c

Apples! Apples!

APPLES WE ARE WELL SUPPLIED ON BOTH EATING AND COOKING

from 40c per peck and up

For Nice YELLOW PLUMP RIPE BANANAS we are Headquarters at 20c Per Dozen

SPANISH ONIONS SWEET POTATOES GRAPE FRUIT

LEMONS ORANGES PEARS All Kinds of NUTS

GREEN PEPPERS RADISHES CUCUMBERS WATERCRESS

ENDIVE FRENCH ENDIVE DOMESTIC GREEN ONIONS

ASPARAGUS TOMATOES MUSHROOMS

Dr. Price's Jelly powder worth 10c per package.....6c

PIE PREPARATION Try this article it is very good worth 10c per package.....6c

MAY DAY COFFEE The Steel Cut, a high grade coffee at a moderate price the lb. Baker's chocolate.....33c

the pound.....33c

Drug Department LADIES

If you are looking for the best in toilet articles. Then you must inspect our stock. Ours is the largest assortment in the city. All 25c perfumes and toilet articles at.....19c

20% Discount on all Patent Medicines

Something for the men.....25c

7 5 cent cigars for.....25c

Grand Rapids, Wisconsin

Johnson & Hill Company

Extra Specials for 3 Days, THURSDAY, FRIDAY and SATURDAY, MARCH 20-21-22

10 lbs. sugar at this sale.....48c

Honey Crisp corn flakes, none better on the market, 4 packages.....25c

25c can K. C. Baking powder.....19c

special sale price.....16c

Dairy rolled oats, 5 pound package for.....34c

Karo or Golden Drip syrup.....19c

1 gallon pails, the gallon.....34c

25 cent bottles Dr. Price's vanilla and lemon extracts.....19c

2,000 cans of corn at the can.....6c

2,000 cans of peas at the can.....9c

10 bars Badger soap, very hard.....31c

special sale price.....10c

1 package Grape Nuts.....5c

special sale price.....5c

White beans, per peck 35c.....$1.19

or 2 pounds for.....5c

Blizzard flour.....5c

49 pound sacks.....5c

Dr. Price's Jelly powder worth 10c per package.....6c

PIE PREPARATION Try this article it is very good worth 10c per package.....6c

MAY DAY COFFEE The Steel Cut, a high grade coffee at a moderate price the lb. Baker's chocolate.....33c

the pound.....33c

Drug Department LADIES

If you are looking for the best in toilet articles. Then you must inspect our stock. Ours is the largest assortment in the city. All 25c perfumes and toilet articles at.....19c

20% Discount on all Patent Medicines

Something for the men.....25c

7 5 cent cigars for.....25c

Grand Rapids, Wisconsin

Johnson & Hill Company

Extra Specials for 3 Days, THURSDAY, FRIDAY and SATURDAY, MARCH 20-21-22

10 lbs. sugar at this sale.....48c

Honey Crisp corn flakes, none better on the market, 4 packages.....25c

25c can K. C. Baking powder.....19c

special sale price.....16c

Dairy rolled oats, 5 pound package for.....34c

Karo or Golden Drip syrup.....19c

1 gallon pails, the gallon.....34c

25 cent bottles Dr. Price's vanilla and lemon extracts.....19c

2,000 cans of corn at the can.....6c

2,000 cans of peas at the can.....9c

10 bars Badger soap, very hard.....31c

special sale price.....10c

1 package Grape Nuts.....5c

special sale price.....5c

White beans, per peck 35c.....$1.19

or 2 pounds for.....5c

Blizzard flour.....5c

49 pound sacks.....5c

WANT COLUMN

FOR RENT—Office over Daily's Drug Store.

WANTED—For general house work. Bert Nason, across from Grand Rapids Milling Co. It. Adv.

FOR RENT—6 room flat, new and modern. Gardner block.

WANTED—Washing. Inquire at Mrs. F. Jenkins, 5th street south.

WANTED—At once, a good experienced lady clerk at Boger's Novelty store, east side.—It.

FOR RENT—House No. 881, 4th ave. north, 110. Freshly painted and kalsomined. Inquire F. MacKinnon.

FOR SALE OR RENT—Farm for sale or rent or will work on shares. Apply to Joe Rick, Grand Rapids, Wis.

FOR SALE—1 bay gelding 3 years old, 2 black mares, 3 years old, 1 registered black stallion coming 2 years old. N. G. Ratelle, Fair View Stock Farm, Rudolph, Wis.—It.

WANTED—First class machinists, also one good mechanic. Good pay and steady job. Merrill Iron Works, Merrill, Wis.—St. pd. Ad.

WANTED—Men for unloading pulpwood. Wage $1.75 per day. Board $3.75 per week. Nekoska-Edwards Paper Co., Port Edwards, Wisconsin.

FOUND—An Opal ring and a locket charm. Owner may have same by calling at the Tribune office, proving property and paying advertising charges.

FOR SALE—Meat Market, machinery and supplies. Only meat market at Arpin, Wis. For terms and particulars call on James R. Mercer, Arpin, Wis.—2t.

FOR SALE—6 horses, cheap. Also harness, double and single. Two nice incubators. Also all kinds of farm implements cheap. M. L. Ginsburg, 111 Fourth Avenue.—Ad.

FOR SALE—80 acre farm, 3 1/2 miles from city, silo, drilled well, highly improved, one of the best dairy farms in Wood County. Implements and stock if desired. Easy terms. John Bengner, "Belvidere Farm"—It. Adv.

WANTED AT ONCE—A dairyman farmer, to take full charge of my place, live stock and farm tools to stay on the place. Cash paid for clearing new land. Boozie fighters need not apply. Write or call on L. Amundson, City Point, Wis.

WANTED—Tractor steam engines. Two steam engines wanted for the coming seasons highway work. Engines must be in good running condition from 15 to 20 horse power. For particulars write to L. Amundson, City Point, Wis., Wood County Highway Commissioner.

FARM FOR RENT—180 acre farm in town of Seneca, 35 acres plow land, 25 acres of good hay land. Will prefer to rent for cash and will make terms very reasonable as owner has gone west. Farm located six miles west of city. A fine opportunity for a hustler as the hay will more than pay the rent. Renter must live on the place. Inquire at this office.—2t. pd.

WANTED—A buyer for good 80 acre clay loam farm, 40 acres cultivated, 20 acres good pasture, 20 acres wooded. Large brick 10 room house, fine stone basement barn 38x37, two smaller barns, two poultry houses, granary, new black silo. D. B. PHILLIPS.

ANOTHER—80 acres, four miles from city, school house near by; 65 acres under plow, 15 acres pasture; good 7 room frame house with large cellar; two good barns and other buildings, 2 miles of pure water on place, 8 milch cows, 2 heifers, 2 calves, 1 team horses, binder, mower, rake, seeder, drags, plows, cultivators, wagons, sleighs, feed cutter, cream separator, etc. For particulars call at my office across from Hotel Witter. D. B. Phillips, Real Estate and Insurance.

DRS. BANDELIN & HOUSTON
DENTISTS
Office over Otto's Drugstore on the west side. Telephone No. 437, Grand Rapids, Wisconsin.

D. D. CONWAY
ATTORNEY AT LAW
Law, loans and Collections. We have $2,000 which will be loaned at a low rate of interest. Office over First National Bank, East Side, Grand Rapids, Wisconsin. Telephone 338.

D. A. TELFER
DENTIST
Office over Wood County National Bank on the East Side, Grand Rapids, Wisconsin. Telephone No. 300.

GEO. L. WILLIAMS
ATTORNEY AT LAW
Office in Wood Block, over post office, Telephone No. 91. Grand Rapids, Wisconsin.

J. R. RAGAN
Licensed Embalmer and Undertaker
House phone No. 69, Street 313, Spafford Building, East Side. John Kraser, Residence phone No. 435.

J. J. JEFFREY
LAWYER
Loans and Collections. Commercial and Probate Law. Office across from Church's drugstore. Telephone 251.

CHAS. C. ROWLEY, M. D.
PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON
Office specialty Osteopathy, 14 MacKinnon Block. Phone 159 and 465.

EQUITABLE FRATERNAL UNION
Meets in Foresters Hall First and Third Thursdays of each month. R. A. Weeks, president; Wm. H. Burchell, secretary.

GOGGINS & BRAZEAU
ATTORNEYS AT LAW
Office in the MacKinnon Block on the West Side, Grand Rapids, Wisconsin.

J. W. COCHRAN
LAWYER
Office in Wood County National Bank Building, Grand Rapids, Wisconsin. Admitted to practice in all courts of the states of New York and Wisconsin, and in Federal Courts. Collections and settlement of estates given careful attention. Confidential correspondence in every city of the United States, Canada, and all principal cities of Europe.

LOCAL ITEMS.

Chas. W. Road transacted business in Chicago on Saturday.

Mrs. O. Gagon of Merrill is visiting with friends in the city.

Leonard Kinstler has accepted a position in Church's drug store.

V. D. Simons of Cornell was a business visitor in the city on Thursday.

Miss Georgia Ridgman is spending a week's vacation with friends in Owen.

Mrs. Labbie Demarais of Minneapolis is in the city a guest at the home of L. Kromer.

Mrs. E. E. Ames left on Tuesday for Marshfield to spend a few days visiting with friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Seth Jones of Chicago spent Sunday in the city visiting with their parents.

Myron Natwick departed on Friday for Baltimore to again take up the study of art.

Fred Schnabel is a candidate for alderman in the Second Ward to succeed F. J. Muller.

Frank Gallagher, one of the solid farmers on R. R. 6, was a pleasant caller at this office on Tuesday.

Miss Helen Kromer returned on Monday from Chicago where she had been visiting with friends for a few days.

Anton Haydock of Biron, was in the city on Saturday and while here favored the Tribune office with a pleasant call.

About forty thousand trout were planted in the Roche-a-Cri and Ten Mile Creeks last week by Plainfield fishermen.

Harry Thomas of the town of Sherry, who is in the city serving on the jury, was among the pleasant callers at the Tribune office on Tuesday.

About fifteen teams belonging to Daily and O'Day arrived here the past week from Ladysmith where they have been in the woods the past winter.

Mrs. E. M. Allerton is holding her Easter opening this Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, March 20, 21 and 22.

Church goers, non-church goers, men, ladies, everybody will be cordially welcome at the Union Noonday services at the Ideal theatre this week.

Misses Henry Kuched, A. J. Panikow, and Helma of Marshfield, were business visitors in the city on Saturday. This office acknowledges a pleasant call.

Miss Mary Kruger of Elk Lake spent several days in the city the past week visiting with her brother Charles, while on her way home from a visit in Milwaukee.

Mrs. Anna Borman of Fulton, N. Y., who has been visiting at the home of her brother, E. M. Hayes the past two weeks, returned to her home on Monday.

G. J. Kandy returned on Saturday from a trip through Northern Michigan which had extended over a couple of weeks. He reports pretty good business up in the iron country.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Wipf, who have made their home at Minneapolis for some time past, were in the city Monday visiting with friends. They left that same evening for Thief River Falls, Minn., where Mr. Wipf will be employed.

George Farnum of Wenatchee, Wash., who has been here the past three weeks closing up a deal whereby he traded in his farm in the town of Seneca for a half interest in a large ranch near Wenatchee, left Thursday for his western home.

Martha Washington Oxford, Big discounts. Zimmerman's Shoe Store.

W. B. Basing was home from Appleton over Sunday to visit with his family.

Mrs. J. E. Wilcox and children are visiting with relatives in Weyauwega this week.

Wm. Henke of the town of Sigel, favored the Tribune office with a pleasant call on Tuesday while in the city on business.

Wm. Kunth leaves today for Thief River Falls, Minn., where he will join a dredging crew that is going to operate just over the line in Canada. The crew on the dredge will be made up mostly of Grand Rapids People.

The first electrical storm of the season visited this section Thursday evening, when there were several flashes of lightning and the accompanying rumble of thunder made one imagine that the good old summer time was again on the job.

Martha Washington Oxford, Big discounts. Zimmerman's Shoe Store.

Victor Kronholm of Sigel departed on Tuesday morning for Plainfield, where he will again have charge of a dredge for the Road Construction Co. in the Leola district. He was accompanied by the following crew who will work for him this summer: Tom Laramie, Wm. Wolf, Henry Huser, and Oscar Kronholm.

An item from Marshfield says: In a conference between the Wausau Street Railway company and the Marshfield Water, Electric Light and Power Company, a proposition to transfer the electric light end of the Marshfield company's business to the Wausau concern was taken up. Should the deal go through, all electric power will be furnished this city from Wausau.

FOR SALE—A fine Segerstrom piano at a bargain. This is a brand new instrument, one that has never been used and has a fine tone. If you want piano cheap, this is a chance of a lifetime. Call at the Tribune office for further information.

NOTICE OF JUDICIAL AND SCHOOL SUPERINTENDENT ELECTION.
State of Wisconsin, Department of State.

Notice is hereby given, that at an election to be held in the several towns, villages and election precincts on the first Tuesday of April, A. D. 1913, being the first day of said month, the following officers are to be elected:

A JUDGE OF THE SUPREME COURT to succeed Robert G. Schaecker, whose term expires the first Monday of January, 1914.

A STATE SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS to succeed C. P. Cary, whose term expires the first Monday of July, 1913.

Given under my hand and the seal of said department on the first Monday of July, 1913.

J. S. DONALD.

A COUNTY JUDGE to succeed Wm. J. Conway whose term will expire on the first Monday of January, 1914.

A COUNTY SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS to succeed George A. Tarnay, whose term will expire on the first Monday of July, 1913.

And such other officers as are required by law to be elected at such election.

Given under my hand and official seal at the Court House in the City of Grand Rapids, Wood County, this 30th day of March, A. D. 1913.

F. H. EBERHARDT, County Clerk of Wood County.

Business Building
This bank will assist any man of business capacity to build up a profitable business.

Over forty years of banking experience under every condition qualifies this bank to furnish just the assistance needed.

First National Bank,
Grand Rapids, Wis.
The Bank that does things for you.

St. PATRICK
I'm Glad I Bought
That's what you'll say after becoming the owner of some of this property.

You're Bound to Make Money.
Not for a long time has any property in Grand Rapids been offered as low as $40.00, and then that property was not in nearly as choice a location as the property here offered. However, buyers of that property have uniformly made money on their investment.

Fine building locations in desirable sections of the city at $40.00 and up per lot; $5.00 down and $5.00 per month.

You Can't Beat It.
It's the last great chance at a proposition of this kind. Better than a Savings Bank. Washington Avenue, Baker Street, Twelfth Street and Robinson Park tracts.

Without Delay.
C. E. BOLES,
Dealer in Mortgage Loans, Abstracts of Title, Real Estate and Insurance.
Lyon Block. Established 1902. Telephone 322.

Bossert Coal Co.
Phone 416 Residence 54.

Drove the snakes out of Ireland. Bossert's Coal drives trouble out of the house. Call 416 or 54.

Local Scouts Win.
The Boy Scouts from Stevens Point came here on Friday and played a game of basketball with the Boy Scouts of this city and the result was a victory for the locals by a score of 32 to 2.

The locals are composed of a larger and more experienced lot of players than the Stevens Point team, besides which the regular forward for the visitors was unable to play, all of which had a tendency to make the game rather one sided. The game was played in the high school gym and a good sized crowd turned out to see it.

Cheap Shoes.
From the 20th to the 25th of March I will make substantial reductions on all Ladies Martha Washington Oxfords, giving discounts of 10, 20 and 25 per cent. Zimmerman, the west side shoe man.

Easter Dance.
Monday evening, March 24th at Fred Baur's hall on Sand Hill. Fine music. Coffee and sandwiches served. There will be a lady attendant to look after the ladies. All cordially invited.—2t. Ad.

—Subscribe for the Tribune, $1.50.

Feb. 15. Apr. 19
Treasury Department, Office of the Comptroller of the Currency, Washington, D. C., February 15, 1913

Whereas, by satisfactory evidence presented to the undersigned, it has been made to appear that "The Citizens National Bank of Grand Rapids," in the city of Grand Rapids, in the County of Wood, and State of Wisconsin, has complied with all the provisions of the statutes of the United States, required to be complied with before an association shall be authorized to commence the business of banking;

Now, therefore, I, Lawrence O. Murray, comptroller of the Currency, do hereby certify that "The Citizens National Bank of Grand Rapids," in the city of Grand Rapids, in the County of Wood and the State of Wisconsin, is authorized to commence the business of banking as provided in Section Fifty one hundred and sixty nine of the Revised Statutes of the United States.

In testimony whereof witness my hand and seal of this office this fifteenth day of February, 1913.

(Seal)
Lawrence O. Murray, Comptroller of the Currency.

March 5. March 26
Order Limiting Time to Present Claims and Notice to Creditors.

In the matter of the estate of Louis G. Janson, deceased.

Letters of administration on the estate of Louis G. Janson, late of the town of Rudolph, in said County of Wood, deceased, having been duly granted to John J. Golan by this court:

It is further ordered, that the time from the date hereof until including the thirtieth day of September, A. D. 1913, be and the same is hereby set as the time within which all creditors of the said Louis G. Janson, deceased, shall present their claims for examination and allowance.

It is further ordered, that all claims and demands of all persons against the said Louis G. Janson, deceased, be examined and adjusted before this Court, at its Court Room in the Court House in the City of Grand Rapids, in said County, at the regular term thereof appointed to be held on the first Tuesday of October, 1913, and all creditors are hereby notified thereof.

It is further ordered, that notice of the time and place at which said claims and demands will be examined and adjusted as aforesaid, and of the time above limited for the presentation of claims and demands, be given by publishing a copy of this order and notice for four consecutive weeks, once in each week, in the Grand Rapids Tribune, a newspaper published in the County of Wood, the first publication to be within fifteen days of the date hereof.

Dated this 4th day of March, 1913.

By the Court,
W. J. CONWAY, County Judge.

Mar. 5. Mar. 19
Notice of Application for Letters of Administration.

State of Wisconsin, Wood County Court In Probate.

State of Wisconsin, Wood County, SS: In the matter of the estate of Jacob Seidl, deceased.

On this 4th day of March, A. D. 1913, upon reading and filing the petition of Katie Brandl, of Menasha, Wisconsin, stating that Jacob Seidl an inhabitant of Sherry, of the County of Wood, died intestate, on or about the 11th day of June, 1907, and praying that Ignatz Brandl or such other person as may be entitled thereto, be appointed administrator of the estate of said deceased.

It is ordered, that said application be heard before me at the probate office in Grand Rapids on the 1st Tuesday of April, A. D. 1913, at 10 o'clock A. M.

And it is further ordered, that notice of the time and place at which said application shall be heard, be given to all persons interested by publishing a copy of this order for three weeks successively in the Grand Rapids Tribune, a newspaper printed in said County, previous to the time appointed for said hearing.

By the Court,
W. J. CONWAY, County Judge.

GEO. W. BAKER & SON
UNDERTAKERS AND LICENSED EMBALMERS
North Second Street, East Grand Rapids, Wis. Business Phone 401, Night Calls 402.

W. Melvin Ruckle, M. D.
—PRACTICE LIMITED TO—
EYE, EAR, NOSE AND THROAT
Glasses fitted correctly. Eye and Ear Surgeon, Riverside Hospital. Office in Wood County Bank Building. Telephone No. 254.

CLEARANCE SALE!
For The Next 11 Days
At THE FAIR
West end of Wagon Bridge

We are going to quit handling Graniteware and China, and we are offering some of the biggest bargains ever offered in the city. Some Special bargains in Alberta Corsets.

We are adding a line of Millinery and increasing our Dry Goods stock.

Mens fleeced underwear worth 50c 10c
Boys flat fleeced drawers, worth 25c to 35c, sale 10c
Boys sweaters worth 50c, sale 25c
Childrens sweaters worth 50c sale 15c
Odd sizes in hosiery, worth 25c to 50c, sale 10c
Infants bear skin bonnets worth 50c, sale 15c
Corset cover embroidery worth 25c 10c
New arrival of torchon laces, this sale, per yard 1c
Lace veiling worth 25c, sale 15c
Coat hangers during this sale 2 for 5c
Fresh candies worth 10c a lb. sale 8c
Easter eggs worth 1c each, sale 15 for 10c
Glass tumblers worth 25c per doz., sale 10c
1 gallon water jugs worth 30c, sale 19c
Doll carts worth 50c, sale 39c

In order to further introduce our celebrated Alberta corsets, we will during this sale offer the following bargains:

Alberta corsets, all sizes, worth $3.00, sale $2.50
Alberta corsets, all sizes, worth $1.00, sale 85c
17 qt. preserving kettle this sale 40c
14 qt. preserving kettle, this sale 30c
Pictures worth 10c 3c
10 qt. preserving kettle worth 60c 35c
8 qt. preserving kettle, worth 45c 30c
6 qt. preserving kettle worth 40c 25c
4 qt. double boiler worth $1.55 85c
2 qt. double boilers worth 85c 55c
17 qt. dish pans worth 45c 30c
No. 9 T Kettle, worth $1.00 60c
Roasters worth 65c 40c
12 qt. dandy pails worth 60c, sale 35c
Vinegar Cruets 7c
Glass Butter dishes 7c
Glass fruit dishes, a doz. 20c
Cut glass vinegar cruets 15c
Cups and saucers worth 50c set 35c
Salad bowls worth $1.00 49c
17 qt. dish pans worth 35c 50c
14 qt. dish pans worth 75c 40c
10 qt. Berlin kettles worth 75c 50c
8 qt. Berlin kettles worth 60c 45c
6 qt. Berlin kettles worth 50c 30c

There are numerous other items that we are giving bargains on, but space prevents us from mentioning same. Call and see for yourself what we are offering during this sale.

The Fair
West End of Bridge

LOW COLONIST FARE
Via Chicago and North Western Ry.
—One way second class tickets on sale daily March 15 to April 15, 1913, to principal points in the West, including Helena, Butte, Nampa, Salt Lake City, Ogden, San Francisco, San Diego, Los Angeles, Portland, Tacoma, and Seattle. Exceedingly low fares. Favorable stop-over privileges. For particulars apply to ticket agents. 2 t.

—Sickness is dangerous and expensive. Remember Barker's Remedy will strengthen and build up a weak and run down system. It will cure and prevent rheumatism, colds and catarrh. Guaranteed. Johnson & Hill Co.—Ad.

—Subscribe for the Tribune, $1.50.

St. Paul's Ev. Lutheran Church. (West Side.)
Services Maundy Thursday at 7:30 P. M. Services Good Friday at 7:30 P. M.
Easter Sunday—Preparatory for communion, 9:30 A. M. Easter service at 10 A. M. English services at 7:30 P. M. Easter Monday services at 7:30 P. M.
Wm. Nommensen, Pastor.

—Tax, 10 and 15 per cent. on all Martha Washington Oxfords from March 20th to 25th. Zimmerman, the shoe man.

Kellner Coal Co.
Coal and Wood
Don't Forget US when you need anything in the line of fuel
Telephone 308

CHICHESTER'S PILLS
SOLD BY DRUGGISTS EVERYWHERE

Easter Delicacies
...AT...
NASH'S
The Store of Quality Groceries The Store of Quality Groceries

FOR YOUR EASTER DINNER.

Oyster Cocktail	Clam Chowder	Campbells Soups	Clam Juice
Olives	Fresh Strawberries	Caviar
Celery	Head Lettuce	Leaf Lettuce	Radishes
Ripe Tomatoes	Cucumbers	Fresh Parsley	Mushrooms
Cabbage	Green Onions	Spanish Onions	Young Turnips
Egg Plant	Spinach	Green Peppers
Young Beets	Young Carrots
Cauliflower	Sweet Potatoes
Fancy Apples	Navel Oranges	Florida Oranges
Lemons	Bulk Apples	Grape Fruit
Pineapples	Bananas	New Dates
New Figs	Basket Figs	Stuffed Dates
Candied Cherries	Candied Pineapple
Almonds	Pecans	Pistachio (shelled)
Sweet Pickles	Sour Pickles	Mixed Pickles
	CHEESE
Pimento	Blue Label Cream	Edam
Camembert	Brick	Roquefort
McLarens	Limburger	Cream
Club Cheese	Mysost	McLarens Deviled
	COFFEES
Richelieu	White House	Barrington Hall
White Bear	Martha Washington

All orders carefully attended to and greatly appreciated.
TELEPHONE 550.

NASH GROCERY CO.

LA FRANCE
SHOE for WOMEN

A masterpiece of the shoe-maker's art. Modelled on natural lines, LA FRANCE fits the foot perfectly, thereby assuring comfort. By the even distribution of weight, due to its scientific construction, the shape of the shoe is preserved.

LA FRANCE wears well and looks well all the time.

AN attractive model is No. 6432 four or five button, in tan patent, on Hugue last with well sole, also to be had in Soreau (tan) calf and in White Nu-Buck.

GLEUE BROS.
Grand Rapids, Wis.

Stein-Bloch Smart Clothes
"Why not learn Why?"

KRUGER & WARNER CO.
The Home of Better Clothes Grand Rapids, Wis.

EASTER SUITS,
$30 down to $7.50

Hats, Shoes, Neckwear, Gloves, Everything the newest.

WANT COLUMN

FOR RENT—Offices over Daly's Drug store.

GIRL WANTED—For general house work. Bert Nason, across from Grand Rapids Milling Co. ft. Adv.

FOR RENT—6 room flat, new and modern. Gardner Block.

WANTED—Washing. Inquire at Mrs. F. Jenkins, 5th street south.

WANTED—At once a good experienced lady clerk at Borgers' Novelty store. East side.—1t

FOR RENT—House No. 881 4th ave. north, $10. Freshly painted and kalsomined. Inquire F. MacKinnon.

FOR SALE OR RENT—Farm for sale or rent or will work on shares. Apply to Joe Rick, Grand Rapids, Wis.

FOR SALE—1 bay gelding 3 years old, 2 black mares, 3 years old, 1 registered black stallion coming 2 years old. M. G. Ratelle, Fair View Stock Farm, Rudolph, Wis.—1t.

WANTED—First class machinists, also one good mechanic. Good pay and steady job. Merrill Iron Works, Merrill, Wis.—3t pd. Ad.

WANTED—Men for unloading pulpwood. Wages $1.70 per day. Board $3.75 per week. Nekosna-Edwards Paper Co., Port Edwards, Wisconsin.

FOUND—An Opal ring and a locket charm. Owner may have same by calling at the Tribune office, proving property and paying advertising charges.

FOR SALE—Meat Market, machinery and supplies. Only meat market at Arpin, Wis. For terms and particulars call on James R. Mercer, Arpin, Wis.—4t

FOR SALE—6 horses, cheap. Also harness, double and single. Two nice incubators. Also all kinds of farm implements cheap. M. L. Ginsburg, 111 Fourth Avenue.—Ad.

FOR SALE—80 acre farm, 3 1/2 miles from city, silo, drilled well, highly improved, one of the best dairy farms in Wood County. Implements and stock if desired. Easy terms. John Bengner, "Belvidere Farm"—1t. Ad.

WANTED AT ONCE—A dayman farmer, to take full charge of my place. Live stock and farm tools to stay on the place. Cash paid for clearing new land. Boosey's fees need not apply. Write or call on L. Amundson, City Point, Wis.

WANTED—Tractor team engines. Two steam engines, high way work, engines must be in good running condition from 15 to 20 horse power. For particulars write to L. Amundson, City Point, Wis., Wood County Highway Commissioner.

FARM FOR RENT—180 acre farm in town of Seneca. 35 acres plow land, 25 acres of good hay land. Will prefer to rent for cash and will make terms very reasonable as owner has gone west. Farm located six miles west of city. A fine opportunity for a hustler as there will more than pay the rent. Renter must live on the place. Inquire at this office.—2t. pd.

WANTED—A buyer for good 80 acre clay farm, 40 acres cultivated, 20 acres good pasture, 20 acres wooded. Large brick 10 room house, fine stone basement barn 36x37, two smaller barns, two poultry houses, granary, new brick silo. D. B. PHILLIPS.

ANOTHER—80 acres, four miles from city, school house near by; 65 acres under plow, 15 acres pasture; good 7 room frame houses with large cellar; two good barns and other buildings; two wells of pure water on place, 3 milch cows, 2 hifers, 2 calves, 1 team horses, binder, mower, rake, seeder, drags, plows, cultivators, wagons, sleighs, feed cutter, cream separator, etc. For particulars call at my office across from Hotel Witter. D. B. Phillips, Real Estate and Insurance.

DRS. BANDELIN & HOUSTON
DENTISTS
Office over Otto's Drugstore on the west side. Telephone No. 437, Grand Rapids, Wisconsin.

D. D. CONWAY
ATTORNEY AT LAW
Law, loans and Collections. We have $2,000 which will be loaned at a low rate of interest. Office over First National Bank, East Side, Grand Rapids, Wisconsin. Telephone 338

D. A. TELFER
DENTIST
Office over Wood County National Bank on the East Side, Grand Rapids, Wisconsin. Telephone No. 200.

GEO. L. WILLIAMS
ATTORNEY AT LAW
Office in Wood Block, over post office, Telephone No. 91, Grand Rapids, Wisconsin.

J. R. RAGAN
Licensed Embalmer and Undertaker
Home phone No. 69, Store 313, Spaulding's Building, East Side, John Eraser, Residence phone No. 435.

J. J. JEFFREY
LAWYER
Loans and Collections. Commercial and Probate Law. Office across from Church's drugstore. Telephone 251.

CHAS. C. ROWLEY, M. D.
PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON
Office specialty Osteopathy, 14 Mee-Kinnon Block. Phones 160 and 446.

EQUITABLE FRATERNAL UNION
Meets at Foresters Hall First and Third Thursdays of each month. R. A. Weeks, president; Wm. H. Burchell, secretary.

GOGGINS & BRAZEAU
ATTORNEYS AT LAW
Office in the MacKinnon Block on the West Side, Grand Rapids, Wisconsin.

J. W. COCHRAN
LAWYER
Office in Wood County National Bank Building, Grand Rapids, Wis.
Admitted to practice in all courts of the states of New York and Wisconsin, and United States Courts. Collections and settlement of estates given careful attention. Confidential correspondence in every city of the United States, Canada, and all principal cities of Europe.

LOCAL ITEMS.

Chas. W. Reed transacted business in Chicago on Saturday.

Mrs. O. Cagon of Merrill is visiting with friends in the city.

Leonard Kinstler has accepted a position in Church's drug store.

V. D. Simons of Cornell was a business visitor in the city on Thursday.

Miss Georgia Ridgman is spending a week's vacation with friends in Owen.

Mrs. Tibbie Demarals of Minneapolis is in the city a guest at the home of L. Kromer.

Mrs. R. E. Ames left on Tuesday for Marshfield to spend a few days visiting with friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Seth Jones of Chicago spent Sunday in the city visiting with their parents.

Myron Nutwick departed on Friday for Baltimore to again take up the study of art.

Fred Schnabel is a candidate for alderman in the Second Ward to succeed P. Billmeyer.

Frank Gallagher, one of the solid farmers on K. I. 8, was a pleasant caller at this office on Tuesday.

Miss Helen Kromer returned on Monday from Chicago where she had been visiting with friends for a few days.

Anton Haydock of Biron, was in the city on Saturday and while here favored the Tribune office with a pleasant call.

About forty thousand trout were planted in the Roche-a-Cri and the Little Creeks last week by Plainfield fishermen.

Harry Thomas of the town of Sherry, who is in the city serving on the jury, was among the pleasant callers at the Tribune office on Tuesday.

About fifteen teams belonging to Daly and O'Day arrived here the past week from Ladysmith where they have been in the woods the past winter.

—Mrs. E. M. Allerton is holding her Easter opening this Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, March 20, 21 and 22.

Church goes, non-church goes, men, ladies, everybody will be cordially welcome at the Union Noonday services at the Ideal theatre this week.

Messrs. Henry Kalsched, A. J. Penkow, and Heller of Marshfield, business visitors in the city on Saturday. This office acknowledges a pleasant call.

Miss Mary Kruger of Rib Lake spent several days in the city the past week, visiting with her brother Charles, while on her way home from a visit in Milwaukee.

Mrs. Anna Borman of Fulton, N. Y., who has been visiting at the home of her brother, E. M. Hayes the past two weeks, returned to her home on Monday.

G. J. Kaudy returned on Saturday from a trip through Northern Michigan which had extended over a couple of weeks. He reports pretty good business up in the iron country.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Wipfl, who have made their home at Minneapolis for some time past, were in the city Monday visiting with friends. They left that same evening for Thief River Falls, Minn., where Mr. Wipfl will be employed.

George Firman of Wenaschee, Wash. who has been here the past three weeks closing up a deal whereby he traded in his farm in the town of Seneca for a half interest in a large ranch near Wenaschee, left Thursday for his western home.

—Martha Washington Oxford, Big discounts. Zimmermann's Shoe Store.

Ex-treasurer William Peters is assisting Treasurer Neil Anderson at the court house this week while the town treasurers are making their annual returns. They report that the various town treasurers are a trifle slow this year, there being on Tuesday about eleven to come in.

Louis Amundson, commissioner of highways, was in the city Saturday on business. Mr. Amundson expects to move to this city in the near future so as to be able to get about to different parts of the county in a more expeditious manner than he is able to living at City Point.

John E. Daly, the druggist, received last week what is probably the largest order of talking machines and records ever brought to this city. They are goods made by the Victor people and include not only a number of the latest style machines made by this company, but also a large number of their highest priced records, the whole making up an unusual display.

The Wisconsin river rose several feet at this point on Friday and as a result the ice below the dam went out. Reports from Biron are to the effect that the water at that point is higher than it ever was before, but this is of course partly due to the fact that the dam has been raised several feet at that point. Some damage was done there by washouts.

—Join the new class at the Business College March 24th, and get ready for a good paying job.

Dr. T. H. Hay of Stevens Point, was one of the few who attended the Friedman demonstration in New York City when the tuberculosis cure of Dr. Friedman was given to seven people suffering from consumption. Of course some time will have to elapse before it can be said what the outcome of the treatment will be. Dr. Hay is connected with the River Pines Sanatorium at Stevens Point, and it is his intention to remain in New York to watch the progress of the patients. Many people are skeptical concerning Friedman's cure.

Local Scouts Win.
The Boy Scouts from Stevens Point came here on Friday and played a game of basketball with the Boy Scouts of this city and the result was a victory for the locals by a score of 38 to 2.

The locals are composed of a larger and more experienced lot of players than the Stevens Point team, besides which the regular forward for the visitors was unable to play, all of which had a tendency to make the game rather one sided. The game was played in the high school gym and a good sized crowd turned out to see it.

Cheap Shoes.
—From the 20th to the 28th of March I will make substantial reductions on all Ladies Martha Washington oxfords, giving discounts of 10, 20 and 25 per cent. Zimmermann, the west side shoe man.

Easter Dance.
—Monday evening, March 24th at Fred Bau's hall on Sand Hill. Fine music. Coffee and sandwiches served. There will be a lady attendant to look after the ladies. All cordially invited.
—2t. Ad.

—Subscribe for the Tribune, $1.50.

Martha Washington Oxford, Big discounts. Zimmermann's Shoe Store.

W. B. Basing was home from Appleton over Sunday to visit with his family.

Mrs. L. E. Wilcox and children are visiting with relatives in Weyauwega this week.

Wm. Henke of the town of Sigel, favored the Tribune office with a pleasant call on Tuesday while in the city on business.

Wm. Kunth leaves today for Thief River Falls, Minn., where he will join a dredging crew that is going to operate just over the line in Canada. The crew on the dredge will be made up mostly of Grand Rapids people.

The first electrical storm of the season visited this section Thursday evening, when there were several flashes of lightning and the accompanying rumble of thunder made one imagine that the good old summer time was again on the job.

—Martha Washington Oxford, Big discounts. Zimmermann's Shoe Store.

Victor Kronholm of Sigel departed on Tuesday morning for Plainfield, where he will again have charge of a dredge for the Road Construction Co. in the Leola district. He was accompanied by the following crew who will work for him this summer: Tom Laramie, Wm. Wolf, Henry Huser, and Oscar Kronholm.

An item from Marshfield says: In a conference between the Wausau Street Railway company and the Marshfield Water, Electric Light and Heat company, a proposition to transfer the electric light-end of the Marshfield company's business to the Wausau concern was taken up. Should the deal go through, all electric power will be furnished this city from Wausau.

FOR SALE—A fine Segerstrom piano at a bargain. This is a brand new instrument, one that has never been used and has a fine tone. If you want a piano cheap, this is a chance of a lifetime. Call at the Tribune office for further information.

NOTICE OF JUDICIAL AND SCHOOL SUPERINTENDENT ELECTION.
State of Wisconsin, Department of State.

Notice is hereby given, that at an election to be held in the several towns, villages and sections, precincts on the first Tuesday of April, A. D. 1913, being the first day of said month, the following officers are to be elected:

A JUSTICE OF THE SUPREME COURT to succeed Robert G. Stebbins, whose term expires the first Monday of January, 1913.

SCHOOL SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS to succeed C. P. Cary, whose term expires the first Monday of July, 1913.

Given under my hand and the official seal of this office of Madison, Wis., this 6th day of March, A. D. 1913.

J. S. DONALD,
Secretary of State.

A COUNTY JUDGE to succeed Wm. J. Conway whose term will expire on the first Monday of January, 1913.

SCHOOL SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS to succeed George A. Varney, whose term will expire on the first Monday of July, 1913.

And such other officers as are required by law to be elected at such election.

Given under my hand and official seal at the City of Grand Rapids, Wood County, this 10th day of March, A. D. 1913.

F. H. EBERHARDT,
County Clerk of Wood County.

Feb. 19. Apr. 19

Treasurer, Department, Office of the Comptroller of the Currency.

Washington, D. C., February 15, 1913

Whereas, by satisfactory evidence presented to the undersigned, it has been made to appear that the Citizens National Bank of Grand Rapids, in the city of Grand Rapids, in the State of Wisconsin, and State of Wisconsin, has complied with all the provisions of the statutes of the United States, required to be complied with before an association shall be authorized to commence the business of banking;

Now, therefore, I, Lawrence O. Murray, Comptroller of the Currency, do hereby certify that the Citizens National Bank of Grand Rapids, in the city of Grand Rapids, in the County of Wood and the State of Wisconsin, is authorized to commence the business of banking as provided in Section Fifty one hundred and sixty nine of the Revised Statutes of the United States.

In testimony whereof, witness my hand and seal of this office this fifteenth day of February, 1913.

Lawrence O. Murray,
Comptroller of the Currency.

March 5. March 28

Order Limiting Time to Present Claims and Notice to Creditors.

In the matter of the estate of Louis G. Janson, deceased.

Letters of administration on the estate of Louis G. Janson, late of the town of Rudolph, in said County of Wood, deceased, having been duly granted to John P. Gould by this court.

It is ordered, that the time from the date of the granting of the above letters of administration, to the date of the first day of September, A. D. 1913, be and the same is hereby set aside for the creditors of the said Louis G. Janson, deceased, to present their claims for said estate.

It is further ordered, that all claims and demands of all persons against the said Louis G. Janson, deceased, be examined and adjusted before this court, at its Court Room in the County of Wood, on the first Tuesday of October, 1913, and all creditors are hereby notified thereof.

It is further ordered, that notice of the time and place at which said claims and demands will be examined and adjusted as aforesaid, and of the time and place at which creditors are to present their claims and demands, be given by publishing a copy of this order and notice for four consecutive weeks, once in each week, in the Grand Rapids Herald, a newspaper published in the County of Wood, the first publication to be within fifteen days of the date of this order.

Dated this 4th day of March, 1913.

By the Court,
W. J. CONWAY,
County Judge.

Mar. 5. Mar. 19

Notice of Application for Letters of Administration.

In the matter of the estate of Jacob Kadz Brandt, deceased.

On this 4th day of March, A. D. 1913, upon reading the will of the said Jacob Kadz Brandt, of Menasha, Wisconsin, stating that Jacob Kadz Brandt, late of the County of Wood, died testate on or about the 11th day of June, 1897, and praying that Ignatz Brandt or such other person as may be entitled thereto, be appointed administrator of the estate of said deceased.

It is ordered, that said application be heard before me, at the probate office in Grand Rapids on the 1st Tuesday of April, A. D. 1913, at 10 o'clock A. M.

And it is further ordered, that notice of the time and place appointed for hearing said application be given to all persons interested by publishing a copy of this order for three weeks successively in the Grand Rapids Herald, a newspaper printed in said County, previous to the time appointed for said hearing.

By the Court,
W. J. CONWAY,
County Judge.

GEO. W. BAKER & SON
UNDERTAKERS AND LICENSED EMBALMERS
North Second Street, East Grand Rapids, Wis. Business Phone 401, Night Calls 402.

W. Melvin Ruckle, M. D.
—PRACTICE LIMITED TO—
EYE, EAR, NOSE AND THROAT
Glasses fitted Correctly. Eye and Ear Surgeon, Riverview Hospital. Office in Wood County Bank Building. Telephone No. 254.

CLEARANCE SALE!
For The Next 11 Days
At THE FAIR
West end of Wagon Bridge

We are going to quit handling Graniteware and China, and we are offering some of the biggest bargains ever offered in the city. Some Special bargains in Alberta Corsets.

We are adding a line of Millinery and increasing our Dry Goods stock.

Mens fleeced underwear worth 50c 19c
Boys flat fleeced drawers, worth 25 to 35c, sale..... 10c
Boys sweaters worth 50c, sale..... 25c
Childrens sweaters worth 50c sale 15c
Odd sizes in hosiery, worth 25c to 50c, sale..... 10c
Infants bear skin bonnets worth 50c, sale..... 19c
Corset cover embroidery worth 25c New arrival of torchon laces, this sale, per yard..... 1c
Lace yelling worth 25c, sale..... 19c
Coat hangers during this sale 3 for 5c
Fresh candies worth 10c a lb. sale 8c
Easter eggs worth 1c each, sale 15 for..... 10c
Glass tumblers worth 25c per doz., sale..... 10c
1 gallon water jugs worth 30c, sale 19c
Doll carts worth 50c, sale..... 39c
In order to further introduce our celebrated Alberta corsets, we will during this sale offer the following bargains:
Alberta corsets, all sizes, worth $3.00, sale..... $2.50
Alberta corsets, all sizes, worth $1.00, sale..... 85c
17 qt. preserving kettle this sale 40c
17 qt. preserving kettle, this sale 30c
Pictures worth 10c..... 3c
10 qt. preserving kettles worth 60c 35c
6 qt. preserving kettles worth 45c 30c
4 qt. double boilers worth $1.35 85c
2 qt. double boilers worth 85c..... 55c
17 qt. dish pans worth 45c..... 30c
17 qt. dish pans worth 35c..... 20c
No. 9 T Kettle, worth $1.00..... 60c
Roasters worth 60c..... 40c
12 qt. dandy pails worth 60c, sale 35c
Vinegar Cruets..... 7c
Glass butter dishes..... 20c
Glass fruit dishes, a doz..... 20c
Cut glass vinegar cruets..... 15c
Cups and saucers worth 50c set..... 35c
Salad bowls worth $1.00..... 49c
17 qt. dish pans worth 85c..... 50c
17 qt. dish pans worth 75c..... 50c
8 qt. Berlin kettles worth 70c..... 45c
6 qt. Berlin kettles worth 50c..... 30c

There are numerous other items that we are giving bargains on, but space prevents us from mentioning same. Call and see for yourself what we are offering during this sale.

The Fair
West End of Bridge

LOW COLONIST FARES
Via Chicago and North Western Ry.
One way second class tickets on sale daily March 15 to April 15, 1913, to principal points in the West, including Helena, Butte, Nampa, Salt Lake City, Ogden, San Francisco, San Diego, Los Angeles, Portland, Tacoma, and Seattle. Exceedingly low fares. Favorable stop-over privileges. For particulars apply to ticket agents. 2 t.

St. Paul's Ev. Lutheran Church.
(West Side).
Services Maundy Thursday at 7:30 P. M. Services Good Friday at 7:30 P. M.
Easter Sunday—Preparatory for communion, 8:30 A. M. Easter service at 10 A. M. English services at 7:30 P. M. Easter Monday services at 7:30 P. M.
Wm. Nommensen, Pastor.

CHICHESTER'S PILLS
THE DIAMOND BRAND
This is the only Druggist's Brand of Pills in the world. It is made of purest ingredients, and is sold with blue ribbon. It is the only Druggist's Brand of Pills in the world. It is made of purest ingredients, and is sold with blue ribbon. It is the only Druggist's Brand of Pills in the world. It is made of purest ingredients, and is sold with blue ribbon.

—Subscribe for the Tribune, $1.50.

—Ten, 20 and 25 per cent discount on all Martha Washington oxfords from March 26th to 28th. Zimmermann, the shoe man.

Kellner Coal Co.
Coal and Wood
Don't Forget US when you need anything in the line of fuel
Telephone 305

Easter Delicacies
.....AT.....
NASH'S
The Store of Quality Groceries The Store of Quality Groceries

FOR YOUR EASTER DINNER.

Oyster Cocktail
Clam Chowder
Campbells Soups
Clam Juice

Olives
Fresh Strawberries
Caviar

Celery
Head Lettuce
Leaf Lettuce
Radishes
Ripe Tomatoes
Cucumbers
Fresh Parsley
Mushrooms
Egg Plant
Spinach
Spanish Onions
Young Beets
Young Carrots
Young Turnips
Cauliflower
Sweet Potatoes
Green Peppers

Fancy Apples
Lemons
Pineapples
New Figs
Candied Cherries
Navel Oranges
Bulk Apples
Bananas
Basket Figs
Candied Pineapple
Florida Oranges
Grape Fruit
New Dates
Stuffed Dates

Almonds
Sweet Pickles
Pecans
Sour Pickles
Pistachio (shelled)
Mixed Pickles

Piment
Camembert
McLarens
Club Cheese
Blue Label Cream
Brick
Limbarger
Mysost
Edam
Roquefort
Cream
McLarens Deviled

Richelieu
White Bear
White House
Martha Washington
Barrington Hall

All orders carefully attended to and greatly appreciated.
TELEPHONE 550.

NASH GROCERY CO.

Business Building
This bank will assist any man of business capacity to build up a profitable business.
Over forty years of banking experience under every condition qualifies this bank to furnish just the assistance needed.

First National Bank,
Grand Rapids, Wis.
The Bank that does things for you.

St. PATRICK
Drove the snakes out of Ireland. Bossert's Coal drives trouble out of the house. Call 416 or 54.

Bossert Coal Co.
Phone 416 Residence 54

LA FRANCE
SHOE
FOR WOMEN

masterpiece of the shoe-maker's art. Modelled on natural lines, LA FRANCE fits the foot perfectly, thereby assuring comfort. By the even distribution of weight, due to its scientific construction, the shape of the shoe is preserved.

LA FRANCE wears well and looks well all the time.

AN attractive model is No. 6453 four or six button, in Gun Metal, on France last, with white leather to be had in Spanish (last) calf, and in White Nu-Buck.

GLEUE BROS.
Grand Rapids, Wis.

I'm Glad I Bought
That's what you'll say after becoming the owner of some of this property.
You're Bound to Make Money.
Not for a long time has any property in Grand Rapids been offered as low as $40.00, and then that property was not in nearly as choice a location as the property here offered. However, buyers of that property have uniformly made money on their investment.
Fine building locations in desirable sections of the city at $40.00 and up per lot; $5.00 down and $5.00 per month.

You Can't Beat It.
It's the last great chance at a proposition of this kind. Better than a Savings Bank. Washington Avenue, Baker Street, Twelfth Street and Robinson Park tracts.

Without Delay.
C. E. BOLES,
Dealer in Mortgage Loans, Abstracts of Title, Real Estate and Insurance.
Lyon Block. Established 1902. Telephone 322

Stein-Bloch Smart Clothes
"Why not learn Why?"

KRUGER & WARNER CO.
The Home of Better Clothes Grand Rapids, Wis.
EASTER SUITS, $30 down to $7.50
Hats, Shoes, Neckwear, Gloves, Everything the newest.

RICH MENS CHILDREN

By GERALDINE BONNER
Author of "THE MONSTER"
"TOMORROW'S TANGLE," etc.

Illustrations by DOM J. LAVIN

Copyright 1924 by The Bonner-McNeill Co.

SYNOPSIS.

Ellen Cannon, the bonanza king, and his daughter, Rose, who had passed up Mrs. Cornelius Ryan's ball at San Francisco to accompany her father to the Hotel de Ville, were the first to see the young man who had been the subject of the "Rich Men's Children" story. The determined old lady refused to recognize her daughter-in-law. Domineck Ryan had been trapped into a marriage with Bernice Iverson, a photographer, several years ago. She squanders his money, they have quarrels, and she slips away. Cannon and his daughter are shown in at Antelope. Domineck Ryan is rescued from prison in atrocious conditions and brought to Antelope hotel. Antelope is cut off by storm.

"I was tired," he said slowly. "I'd worked too hard and I thought the mountains would do me good. I can get time off at the bank when I want and I thought I'd take a holiday and come up here where I was last summer. I knew the place and liked the hotel. I wanted to get a good way off at the city and away from my work. As for walking up here, that's nothing. I've been walking up here for years. I never thought for a moment that a blizzard was coming down."

He lifted his head and turned toward the window, then raising one hand rubbed it across his forehead and eyes. There was something in the gesture that silenced the young girl. She thought he felt tired and had been talking too much and she was guiltily conscious of her laughter and loquacity.

They sat without speaking for some moments. Domineck made no attempt to break the silence when she moved noiselessly to the stove and pushed in more wood. His face was turned from her and she thought he had fallen asleep when he suddenly moved and said:

"Isn't it strange that I have never met you before?"

She was relieved. His tone showed neither feebleness nor fatigue, in fact it had the freshness of a return to congenial topics. She determined, however, to be less talkative, less encouraging to the weakening exertions of general conversation. So she spoke with demure brevity.

"Yes, very. But you were at college for four years, and the year you came back I was in Europe."

He looked at her ruminatingly, and nodded.

"But I've seen you," he said, "at the theater. I was too sick at first to recognize you, but afterward I knew I'd seen you, with your father and your brother Gene."

It was her turn to nod. She thought it best to say nothing, and waited. But his eyes bent inquiringly upon her, and the waiting silence seemed to demand a comment. She made the first one that occurred to her:

"Whom were you with?"

"My wife," said the young man.

She murmured a vague sentence of comment and this time determined not to speak, no matter how embarrassing the pause became. She even thought of taking up her book and was about to stretch her hand for it, when he said:

"But it seems so queer when our parents have been friends for years, and I know Gene, and you know my sister Corbelle so well."

She drew her hand back and leaned forward, frowning and staring in front of her, as she set her memory backward groping for data.

"Well, you see a sort of series of events prevented it. When we were little our parents lived in different places. Ages ago when we first came down from Virginia City we were living somewhere else. In Sacramento, wasn't it? The boys were at school, and after that you went East to college for four years and when you got back from college I was in Europe. And when I came back from Europe—that was over two years ago now—why then—"

She had again brought up against her marriage, this time with a shock that was somewhat of a shattering nature.

"Why, then," she repeated falteringly, realizing where she was—"why then—let's see?"

"Then I had married!" she said quietly.

"Oh, yes, of course," she assented, trying to impart a suggestion of sudden innocent remembrance to her tone. "You had married. Why, of course."

A hour later when the doctor came back she was kneeling on the floor by the open stove door, softly building up the fire. At the sound of the opening door she looked up quickly, and her hands being occupied, gave a silencing jerk of her head toward the sleeping man.

The doctor looked at them both. The scene was like a picture of some primitive domestic interior where youth and beauty had made a nest, warmed by that symbol of life, a fire, which one replenished while the other slept.

CHAPTER VI.

Ir. Which Bernice Writes a Letter.

Two mornings after the quarrel Bernice woke late. She had not fallen asleep till the night was well spent, the heated settling of her rage keeping the peace of repose far from her. It was only as the dawn paled the square of the window that she fell into a heavy slumber, disturbed by dreams full of stress and strife.

She looked up at the clock; it was nearly ten. Domineck would have left for the bank before this, so the wretched constraint of a meeting with him was postponed till later. She eyed her head aching, oppressed by a sense of the unbearable unpleasantness of the situation, she threw on her wrapper, and going to the window drew the curtain and looked out.

The bedroom had but one window, wedged into an angle of wall, and affording a glimpse of the green lawn and clipped rose trees of the house next door. There was a fog this morning and even this curtailed prospect was obliterated. She stood yawning drearily, and gazing out with eyes which her yawns had brought tears. Her hair was a wild brush round her head, her face looked pinched and old. She was one of those women whose good looks are dependent on animation and millinery. In this fixity of inward thought, unobserved in unbecoming disarray, one could realize that she had attained the thirty-four years she could so successfully deny under the rejuvenating influences of full dress and high spirits.

During her toilet her thoughts refused to leave the subject of last night's quarrel. She and her husband had had disagreements before—many in the last year when they had been virtually separated, though the world did not know it—but nothing so ignominiously repulsive as the scene of last evening had yet degraded their companionship. Bernice was ashamed in the gray light of the dim, disillusioning morning she realized that she had gone too far. She knew Domineck to be long-suffering, she knew that the hold she had upon him was a powerful one, but the most patient creatures sometimes rebel, the most compelling sense of honor would sometimes break under too severe a strain. As she trailed down the long passage to the dining-room she made up her mind that she would make up her mind to turn toward reconciliation that evening. It would be difficult but she would do it.

She was speculating as to how she would begin, in what manner she would greet him when he came home, when her eyes fell on the folded note against the clock. Apprehension clutched her as she opened it. The few lines within frightened her still more. He had gone—where? She turned the note over, looking at the back, in a sudden tremor of fearfulness. He had never done anything like this before, left her suddenly, like a lost bird from her proud disgust.

She stood by the clock staring at the paper, her face alien into a scared blankness, the artificial hopefulness that she had been fostering since she awoke giving place to a down-droop into an abyss of alarm.

The door into the kitchen creaked and the Chinaman entered with the second part of the daily breakfast cooked especially for her.

"What time did Mr. Ryan leave this morning?" she said without turning, throwing the question over her shoulder.

"Dunno," the man returned, with the evasiveness of his race particularly accentuated in this case, as he did not like his mistress. "He no take his clock here. He no stay here last night."

She faced round on him, her eyes full of a sudden fierce intensity which marked them in moments of angry surprise.

"Wasn't here last night?" she demanded. "What do you mean?"

He arranged the dishes with careful precision, not troubling himself to look up and speaking with the same dry indifference.

"He not here for breakfast. No one sleep in his bed. I no make bed—all made. I think he not here all night."

His work being accomplished he turned without more words and passed into the kitchen. Bernice stood for a moment thinking, then, with a struggle of defiance, left her buckwheat cakes untasted and walked into the hall. She went directly to her husband's room and looked about with sharp glances. She opened drawers and peered into the wardrobe. She was a woman who had a curiously keen memory for small domestic details, and a few moments' investigation proved that she had taken some of her oldest clothes, but had left behind all the better ones, and that the silver box of jewelry on the bureau, filled with relics of the days when he had been the idolized son of his parents—lacked none of its contents.

More alarmed than she had been in the course of her married life she left the room and passed up the hall to the parlor. The brilliant, over-furnished apartment in which she had crowded every fashion in interior decoration that had pleased her fancy and been within the compass of her purse, looked slovenly and unattractive in the gray light of the morning. The smell of smoke was strong in it and the butts and ashes of cigars Domineck had been smoking the evening before lay in a tray on the center table. She noticed none of these things, which under ordinary circumstances would have been ground for scolding, for she was a woman of fastidious personal neatness. A cushioned seat was built round the curve of the bay-window, and on this she sat down, drawing back the full of thick curly hair that veiled the pangs. Her eyes were fastened with an unwinking fixity on the fog-drenched street without; her figure motionless.

Her outward rigidity of body concealed an intense inward energy of thought. It suddenly appeared to her as if her hold on Domineck, which all yesterday had seemed so strong that nothing but death could break it, was weak, was nothing. It had been rooted in his sense of honor, the sense that she fostered in him and by means of which she had been able to make him marry her. Was this sense not so powerful as she believed, or—dreadful thought!—was it weakening under the friction of their life together? Had she played on it too much and worn it out? She had been so sure of Domineck, so secure in his blind, plodding devotion to his duty! She had secretly wondered at it, as a queer characteristic that it was forest. Go away to some quiet place, where you can sit or lie around and be free from worry of any kind. You don't need medicine. It wouldn't do you any good if you took it.

"Where would you advise me to go?"

"Oh, you must suit yourself about that. There are plenty of places where you can go—any place that is quiet, where you can sit or lie around will do."

"Thank you. Do you think Atlantic City would be a good place for me?"

"No, don't go to any place like that. Select some quiet spot where you will not have to worry about dressing or anything of that kind. If you could go up into the woods somewhere, or if you could spend a couple of months on a Montana ranch, it would be the best thing in the world for you."

"Oh! Well, I've just had six new gowns made and if you can't give me any medicine that will make me feel better I shall go to some other doctor. I never did believe you knew anything, anyhow."

"No, don't go to any place like that. Select some quiet spot where you will not have to worry about dressing or anything of that kind. If you could go up into the woods somewhere, or if you could spend a couple of months on a Montana ranch, it would be the best thing in the world for you."

"Oh! Well, I've just had six new gowns made and if you can't give me any medicine that will make me feel better I shall go to some other doctor. I never did believe you knew anything, anyhow."

"No, don't go to any place like that. Select some quiet spot where you will not have to worry about dressing or anything of that kind. If you could go up into the woods somewhere, or if you could spend a couple of months on a Montana ranch, it would be the best thing in the world for you."

"Oh! Well, I've just had six new gowns made and if you can't give me any medicine that will make me feel better I shall go to some other doctor. I never did believe you knew anything, anyhow."

mate he possessed. Deep in her heart she had a slight, amused contempt for it, a contempt that had extended to other things. She had felt it for him in those early days of their marriage when he had looked forward to children and wanted to live quietly, without society, in his own home. It grew stronger later when she realized he had accepted his exclusion from his world and was too proud to ask his mother for money.

And now! Suppose he had gone back to his people? A low ejaculation escaped her, and she dropped the curtain and pressed her hand, clenched to the hardness of a stone, against her breast.

The mere thought of such a thing was intolerable. She did not see how she could support the idea of his mother and sister winning him from her. She hated them. They were the ones who had wronged her, who had excluded her from the home and the riches and the position that her marriage should have given her. Her retaliation had been her unwavering grip on Domineck and the careful discretion with which she had comported herself as his wife. There was no ground of complaint against her. She had been as quiet, home-keeping and dutiful a woman as any in California. She had been a good housekeeper, a skillful manager of her husband's small means. It was only within the last year that she had, in angry spite, run into the debts with which she had lived more rigorously up to the letter of her marriage contract. It was easy for her to do it. She was not a woman whom life living and license attracted. She had sacrificed her honor to win Domineck, grudgingly, unwillingly, as close-fisted men part with money in the hope of rich returns. She did not want to be his mistress, but she knew of no other means by which she could reach the position of his wife.

Now suppose he had gone back to his people! It was an unsupportable, a maddening thought. It plunged her into grief that made her rise and move about the room with an aimless restlessness, like some soft-footed feline animal. Suppose he had gone home and told them about last night, and they had prevailed upon him not to come back!

Well, even if they had, hers was still the strong position. The sympathy of the disinterested outsider would always be with her. If she had been quarrelsome and ugly, those were small matters. In the great essentials she had not failed. Suppose she and the Ryans ever did come to an open crossing of swords, would not her story be the story of the two? The world's sympathy would certainly not go to the rich women, tramping on the poor little typewriter, the honest working girl, who for one slip, righted by subsequent marriage, had been the object of their implacable antagonism and persecution.

She said this opposite the mirror, extending her hands as she had seen an actress do in a recent play. As she saw her pointed, pale face, her expression of worn grief gave way to one of pleased complacency. She looked pathetic, and her position was pathetic. Who would have the heart to condemn her when they saw her and heard her side of the story? Her spirits began to rise. With the first gleam of returning confidence she shook off her apprehensions. A struggle of sunshine pierced the fog, and going to the window she drew the curtains and looked out on the veil of mist every moment growing brighter and thinner. The sun finally pierced it, a patch of blue above and dropping the curtains she turned and looked at the clock. It was after eleven. She decided she would go out and take lunch with her sisters who were three, she and Bernice having been the offspring of Danny Iverson's second alliance with a woman of romantic tendencies, which had no way of expressing themselves except in the naming of her children. Hazel, while yet in her teens, had married a clerk in a jewelry store, called Josh McCree. It had been a happy marriage. After the birth of a daughter, Hazel had returned to her work as saleslady in a fashionable millinery. Both sisters, Josh, and the child, had continued to live together in domestic harmony, in the house which Hannah, with the savings of a quarter of a century, had finally cleared of all mortgages and now owned. No household could have been more simply decent and honest; no family more unambiguously content. In such an environment Bernice, with her daring ambitions and bold unscrupulousness, was like that unaccounted-for blossom which in the floral world is known as a "sport."

But it did not appear that she regarded herself as such. With the exception of a year spent in Los Angeles and Chicago she had been a member of the household from her childhood till the day of her marriage. The year of absence had been the result of a sudden revolt against the monotony of life and surroundings, an upwelling of the restless ambitions that preyed upon her. A good position had been offered her in Los Angeles and she had accepted it with eagerness, thankful for the opportunity to see the world, and break away, so she said, from the tameness of her situation, the narrowness of her circle. The spirit of adventure carried her farther afield, and she penetrated as far across the continent as Chicago, where she was employed in one of the most prosperous business houses, earning a large salary. But, like many Californians, homesickness seized her, and before the year was out she was back, inveigling against the eastern manner, character, and climate, and glad to shake down again into the family nest. Her sisters were satisfied with her account of her wanderings, not knowing that Bernice was as much of an adept at telling half a story as she was at taking down a dictation in typewriting. She was too clever to be found out in a lie; they were altogether too simple to suspect her apparent frankness.

After the excursion she remained at home until her marriage. Her liaison with Domineck was conducted with the utmost secrecy. Her sisters had not a suspicion of it, knew nothing but that the young man was attentive to her, till she told them of her approaching marriage. This took place in the parlor of Hannah's house, and the amazed sisters, bewildered by Bernice's glories, had waited to see her burst into the inner glories of fashion and wealth with a glare of diamonds on her head and ropes of pearls about her throat. That no trace was forthcoming, no pearls graced her bridal parure, and no Ryan ever crossed the threshold of her door, seemed to the loyal Hannah and Hazel the most unaccounted and inexplicable injustice that had ever come within their experience.

It took Bernice some time to dress, for she attached the greatest importance to all matters of personal adornment, and the lunch hour was at hand when she alighted from the Hyde Street car and walked toward the house. It was on one of those streets which cross Hyde near the slope of Russian Hill, and are devoted to the habits of small, thrifty housekeepers. A startling, bright cleanliness is the dominating characteristic of the neighborhood, the cement sidewalks always swept, the houses standing back in tiny squares of garden, clipped and trimmed to a precise shortness of grass and straightness of border. The sun was now broadly out and the house-fronts enlarged with vines, their cream-colored faces spotted in fresh coats of paint, presented a line of uniform bay-windows to its ingratiating warmth. Hannah's was the third, and its gleaming cleanliness of window-pane and the stainless purity of its front steps were points of domestic decency that its proprietor insisted on as she did on the servant girl's apron being clean and the parlor free from dust.

Bernice had retained her latch-key, and letting herself in passed into the dusty parlor which connected by folding doors with the dining-room beyond. Nothing had been changed in it since the days of her tenancy. The upright piano, draped with a China silk skirt, stood in the old corner. The solar print of her father hung over the mantelpiece on which a gilt clock and a pair of china dogs stood at accurately-measured distances. The tufted arm-chairs were placed far always ready to listen and to sympathize with her. These sisters were the only intimate friends and companions Bernice had, their home the one house to which she was a constant visitor. With all her peculiarities and faults she possessed a strong sense of kin. In her rise to fairer fortune, if not greater happiness, her old home had never lost its hold upon her, nor had she weakened in a sort of cross-grained, patronizing loyalty to her two sisters. This may have been accounted for by the fact that they were exceedingly amiable and affectionate, proud to regard Bernice as the flower of the family, whose dizzy translation to unexpected heights they had watched with unqualified admiration.

Hannah, the oldest of the family, was the daughter of a first marriage. She was now a spinster of forty-five, and had taught school for twenty years. Hazel was the youngest of the three, she and Bernice having been the offspring of Danny Iverson's second alliance with a woman of romantic tendencies, which had no way of expressing themselves except in the naming of her children. Hazel, while yet in her teens, had married a clerk in a jewelry store, called Josh McCree. It had been a happy marriage. After the birth of a daughter, Hazel had returned to her work as saleslady in a fashionable millinery. Both sisters, Josh, and the child, had continued to live together in domestic harmony, in the house which Hannah, with the savings of a quarter of a century, had finally cleared of all mortgages and now owned. No household could have been more simply decent and honest; no family more unambiguously content. In such an environment Bernice, with her daring ambitions and bold unscrupulousness, was like that unaccounted-for blossom which in the floral world is known as a "sport."

But it did not appear that she regarded herself as such. With the exception of a year spent in Los Angeles and Chicago she had been a member of the household from her childhood till the day of her marriage. The year of absence had been the result of a sudden revolt against the monotony of life and surroundings, an upwelling of the restless ambitions that preyed upon her. A good position had been offered her in Los Angeles and she had accepted it with eagerness, thankful for the opportunity to see the world, and break away, so she said, from the tameness of her situation, the narrowness of her circle. The spirit of adventure carried her farther afield, and she penetrated as far across the continent as Chicago, where she was employed in one of the most prosperous business houses, earning a large salary. But, like many Californians, homesickness seized her, and before the year was out she was back, inveigling against the eastern manner, character, and climate, and glad to shake down again into the family nest. Her sisters were satisfied with her account of her wanderings, not knowing that Bernice was as much of an adept at telling half a story as she was at taking down a dictation in typewriting. She was too clever to be found out in a lie; they were altogether too simple to suspect her apparent frankness.

After the excursion she remained at home until her marriage. Her liaison with Domineck was conducted with the utmost secrecy. Her sisters had not a suspicion of it, knew nothing but that the young man was attentive to her, till she told them of her approaching marriage. This took place in the parlor of Hannah's house, and the amazed sisters, bewildered by Bernice's glories, had waited to see her burst into the inner glories of fashion and wealth with a glare of diamonds on her head and ropes of pearls about her throat. That no trace was forthcoming, no pearls graced her bridal parure, and no Ryan ever crossed the threshold of her door, seemed to the loyal Hannah and Hazel the most unaccounted and inexplicable injustice that had ever come within their experience.

It took Bernice some time to dress, for she attached the greatest importance to all matters of personal adornment, and the lunch hour was at hand when she alighted from the Hyde Street car and walked toward the house. It was on one of those streets which cross Hyde near the slope of Russian Hill, and are devoted to the habits of small, thrifty housekeepers. A startling, bright cleanliness is the dominating characteristic of the neighborhood, the cement sidewalks always swept, the houses standing back in tiny squares of garden, clipped and trimmed to a precise shortness of grass and straightness of border. The sun was now broadly out and the house-fronts enlarged with vines, their cream-colored faces spotted in fresh coats of paint, presented a line of uniform bay-windows to its ingratiating warmth. Hannah's was the third, and its gleaming cleanliness of window-pane and the stainless purity of its front steps were points of domestic decency that its proprietor insisted on as she did on the servant girl's apron being clean and the parlor free from dust.

Bernice had retained her latch-key, and letting herself in passed into the dusty parlor which connected by folding doors with the dining-room beyond. Nothing had been changed in it since the days of her tenancy. The upright piano, draped with a China silk skirt, stood in the old corner. The solar print of her father hung over the mantelpiece on which a gilt clock and a pair of china dogs stood at accurately-measured distances. The tufted arm-chairs were placed far always ready to listen and to sympathize with her. These sisters were the only intimate friends and companions Bernice had, their home the one house to which she was a constant visitor. With all her peculiarities and faults she possessed a strong sense of kin. In her rise to fairer fortune, if not greater happiness, her old home had never lost its hold upon her, nor had she weakened in a sort of cross-grained, patronizing loyalty to her two sisters. This may have been accounted for by the fact that they were exceedingly amiable and affectionate, proud to regard Bernice as the flower of the family, whose dizzy translation to unexpected heights they had watched with unqualified admiration.

Hannah, the oldest of the family, was the daughter of a first marriage. She was now a spinster of forty-five, and had taught school for twenty years. Hazel was the youngest of the three, she and Bernice having been the offspring of Danny Iverson's second alliance with a woman of romantic tendencies, which had no way of expressing themselves except in the naming of her children. Hazel, while yet in her teens, had married a clerk in a jewelry store, called Josh McCree. It had been a happy marriage. After the birth of a daughter, Hazel had returned to her work as saleslady in a fashionable millinery. Both sisters, Josh, and the child, had continued to live together in domestic harmony, in the house which Hannah, with the savings of a quarter of a century, had finally cleared of all mortgages and now owned. No household could have been more simply decent and honest; no family more unambiguously content. In such an environment Bernice, with her daring ambitions and bold unscrupulousness, was like that unaccounted-for blossom which in the floral world is known as a "sport."

But it did not appear that she regarded herself as such. With the exception of a year spent in Los Angeles and Chicago she had been a member of the household from her childhood till the day of her marriage. The year of absence had been the result of a sudden revolt against the monotony of life and surroundings, an upwelling of the restless ambitions that preyed upon her. A good position had been offered her in Los Angeles and she had accepted it with eagerness, thankful for the opportunity to see the world, and break away, so she said, from the tameness of her situation, the narrowness of her circle. The spirit of adventure carried her farther afield, and she penetrated as far across the continent as Chicago, where she was employed in one of the most prosperous business houses, earning a large salary. But, like many Californians, homesickness seized her, and before the year was out she was back, inveigling against the eastern manner, character, and climate, and glad to shake down again into the family nest. Her sisters were satisfied with her account of her wanderings, not knowing that Bernice was as much of an adept at telling half a story as she was at taking down a dictation in typewriting. She was too clever to be found out in a lie; they were altogether too simple to suspect her apparent frankness.

three, she and Bernice having been the offspring of Danny Iverson's second alliance with a woman of romantic tendencies, which had no way of expressing themselves except in the naming of her children. Hazel, while yet in her teens, had married a clerk in a jewelry store, called Josh McCree. It had been a happy marriage. After the birth of a daughter, Hazel had returned to her work as saleslady in a fashionable millinery. Both sisters, Josh, and the child, had continued to live together in domestic harmony, in the house which Hannah, with the savings of a quarter of a century, had finally cleared of all mortgages and now owned. No household could have been more simply decent and honest; no family more unambiguously content. In such an environment Bernice, with her daring ambitions and bold unscrupulousness, was like that unaccounted-for blossom which in the floral world is known as a "sport."

But it did not appear that she regarded herself as such. With the exception of a year spent in Los Angeles and Chicago she had been a member of the household from her childhood till the day of her marriage. The year of absence had been the result of a sudden revolt against the monotony of life and surroundings, an upwelling of the restless ambitions that preyed upon her. A good position had been offered her in Los Angeles and she had accepted it with eagerness, thankful for the opportunity to see the world, and break away, so she said, from the tameness of her situation, the narrowness of her circle. The spirit of adventure carried her farther afield, and she penetrated as far across the continent as Chicago, where she was employed in one of the most prosperous business houses, earning a large salary. But, like many Californians, homesickness seized her, and before the year was out she was back, inveigling against the eastern manner, character, and climate, and glad to shake down again into the family nest. Her sisters were satisfied with her account of her wanderings, not knowing that Bernice was as much of an adept at telling half a story as she was at taking down a dictation in typewriting. She was too clever to be found out in a lie; they were altogether too simple to suspect her apparent frankness.

After the excursion she remained at home until her marriage. Her liaison with Domineck was conducted with the utmost secrecy. Her sisters had not a suspicion of it, knew nothing but that the young man was attentive to her, till she told them of her approaching marriage. This took place in the parlor of Hannah's house, and the amazed sisters, bewildered by Bernice's glories, had waited to see her burst into the inner glories of fashion and wealth with a glare of diamonds on her head and ropes of pearls about her throat. That no trace was forthcoming, no pearls graced her bridal parure, and no Ryan ever crossed the threshold of her door, seemed to the loyal Hannah and Hazel the most unaccounted and inexplicable injustice that had ever come within their experience.

It took Bernice some time to dress, for she attached the greatest importance to all matters of personal adornment, and the lunch hour was at hand when she alighted from the Hyde Street car and walked toward the house. It was on one of those streets which cross Hyde near the slope of Russian Hill, and are devoted to the habits of small, thrifty housekeepers. A startling, bright cleanliness is the dominating characteristic of the neighborhood, the cement sidewalks always swept, the houses standing back in tiny squares of garden, clipped and trimmed to a precise shortness of grass and straightness of border. The sun was now broadly out and the house-fronts enlarged with vines, their cream-colored faces spotted in fresh coats of paint, presented a line of uniform bay-windows to its ingratiating warmth. Hannah's was the third, and its gleaming cleanliness of window-pane and the stainless purity of its front steps were points of domestic decency that its proprietor insisted on as she did on the servant girl's apron being clean and the parlor free from dust.

Bernice had retained her latch-key, and letting herself in passed into the dusty parlor which connected by folding doors with the dining-room beyond. Nothing had been changed in it since the days of her tenancy. The upright piano, draped with a China silk skirt, stood in the old corner. The solar print of her father hung over the mantelpiece on which a gilt clock and a pair of china dogs stood at accurately-measured distances. The tufted arm-chairs were placed far always ready to listen and to sympathize with her. These sisters were the only intimate friends and companions Bernice had, their home the one house to which she was a constant visitor. With all her peculiarities and faults she possessed a strong sense of kin. In her rise to fairer fortune, if not greater happiness, her old home had never lost its hold upon her, nor had she weakened in a sort of cross-grained, patronizing loyalty to her two sisters. This may have been accounted for by the fact that they were exceedingly amiable and affectionate, proud to regard Bernice as the flower of the family, whose dizzy translation to unexpected heights they had watched with unqualified admiration.

Hannah, the oldest of the family, was the daughter of a first marriage. She was now a spinster of forty-five, and had taught school for twenty years. Hazel was the youngest of the three, she and Bernice having been the offspring of Danny Iverson's second alliance with a woman of romantic tendencies, which had no way of expressing themselves except in the naming of her children. Hazel, while yet in her teens, had married a clerk in a jewelry store, called Josh McCree. It had been a happy marriage. After the birth of a daughter, Hazel had returned to her work as saleslady in a fashionable millinery. Both sisters, Josh, and the child, had continued to live together in domestic harmony, in the house which Hannah, with the savings of a quarter of a century, had finally cleared of all mortgages and now owned. No household could have been more simply decent and honest; no family more unambiguously content. In such an environment Bernice, with her daring ambitions and bold unscrupulousness, was like that unaccounted-for blossom which in the floral world is known as a "sport."

But it did not appear that she regarded herself as such. With the exception of a year spent in Los Angeles and Chicago she had been a member of the household from her childhood till the day of her marriage. The year of absence had been the result of a sudden revolt against the monotony of life and surroundings, an upwelling of the restless ambitions that preyed upon her. A good position had been offered her in Los Angeles and she had accepted it with eagerness, thankful for the opportunity to see the world, and break away, so she said, from the tameness of her situation, the narrowness of her circle. The spirit of adventure carried her farther afield, and she penetrated as far across the continent as Chicago, where she was employed in one of the most prosperous business houses, earning a large salary. But, like many Californians, homesickness seized her, and before the year was out she was back, inveigling against the eastern manner, character, and climate, and glad to shake down again into the family nest. Her sisters were satisfied with her account of her wanderings, not knowing that Bernice was as much of an adept at telling half a story as she was at taking down a dictation in typewriting. She was too clever to be found out in a lie; they were altogether too simple to suspect her apparent frankness.

After the excursion she remained at home until her marriage. Her liaison with Domineck was conducted with the utmost secrecy. Her sisters had not a suspicion of it, knew nothing but that the young man was attentive to her, till she told them of her approaching marriage. This took place in the parlor of Hannah's house, and the amazed sisters, bewildered by Bernice's glories, had waited to see her burst into the inner glories of fashion and wealth with a glare of diamonds on her head and ropes of pearls about her throat. That no trace was forthcoming, no pearls graced her bridal parure, and no Ryan ever crossed the threshold of her door, seemed to the loyal Hannah and Hazel the most unaccounted and inexplicable injustice that had ever come within their experience.

It took Bernice some time to dress, for she attached the greatest importance to all matters of personal adornment, and the lunch hour was at hand when she alighted from the Hyde Street car and walked toward the house. It was on one of those streets which cross Hyde near the slope of Russian Hill, and are devoted to the habits of small, thrifty housekeepers. A startling, bright cleanliness is the dominating characteristic of the neighborhood, the cement sidewalks always swept, the houses standing back in tiny squares of garden, clipped and trimmed to a precise shortness of grass and straightness of border. The sun was now broadly out and the house-fronts enlarged with vines, their cream-colored faces spotted in fresh coats of paint, presented a line of uniform bay-windows to its ingratiating warmth. Hannah's was the third, and its gleaming cleanliness of window-pane and the stainless purity of its front steps were points of domestic decency that its proprietor insisted on as she did on the servant girl's apron being clean and the parlor free from dust.

Bernice had retained her latch-key, and letting herself in passed into the dusty parlor which connected by folding doors with the dining-room beyond. Nothing had been changed in it since the days of her tenancy. The upright piano, draped with a China silk skirt, stood in the old corner. The solar print of her father hung over the mantelpiece on which a gilt clock and a pair of china dogs stood at accurately-measured distances. The tufted arm-chairs were placed far always ready to listen and to sympathize with her. These sisters were the only intimate friends and companions Bernice had, their home the one house to which she was a constant visitor. With all her peculiarities and faults she possessed a strong sense of kin. In her rise to fairer fortune, if not greater happiness, her old home had never lost its hold upon her, nor had she weakened in a sort of cross-grained, patronizing loyalty to her two sisters. This may have been accounted for by the fact that they were exceedingly amiable and affectionate, proud to regard Bernice as the flower of the family, whose dizzy translation to unexpected heights they had watched with unqualified admiration.

Hannah, the oldest of the family, was the daughter of a first marriage. She was now a spinster of forty-five, and had taught school for twenty years. Hazel was the youngest of the three, she and Bernice having been the offspring of Danny Iverson's second alliance with a woman of romantic tendencies, which had no way of expressing themselves except in the naming of her children. Hazel, while yet in her teens, had married a clerk in a jewelry store, called Josh McCree. It had been a happy marriage. After the birth of a daughter, Hazel had returned to her work as saleslady in a fashionable millinery. Both sisters, Josh, and the child, had continued to live together in domestic harmony, in the house which Hannah, with the savings of a quarter of a century, had finally cleared of all mortgages and now owned. No household could have been more simply decent and honest; no family more unambiguously content. In such an environment Bernice, with her daring ambitions and bold unscrupulousness, was like that unaccounted-for blossom which in the floral world is known as a "sport."

But it did not appear that she regarded herself as such. With the exception of a year spent in Los Angeles and Chicago she had been a member of the household from her childhood till the day of her marriage. The year of absence had been the result of a sudden revolt against the monotony of life and surroundings, an upwelling of the restless ambitions that preyed upon her. A good position had been offered her in Los Angeles and she had accepted it with eagerness, thankful for the opportunity to see the world, and break away, so she said, from the tameness of her situation, the narrowness of her circle. The spirit of adventure carried her farther afield, and she penetrated as far across the continent as Chicago, where she was employed in one of the most prosperous business houses, earning a large salary. But, like many Californians, homesickness seized her, and before the year was out she was back, inveigling against the eastern manner, character, and climate, and glad to shake down again into the family nest.

The Baking Powder Question Solved

—solved, once for all by Calumet.

For daily use in millions of kitchens has proved that Calumet is highest not only in quality but in lasting power as well—unfailing in results—pure to the extreme—and wonderfully economical in use. Ask your grocer. And try Calumet next bake day.

RECEIVED HIGHEST AWARDS

World's Pure Food Exposition, Chicago, Ill., 1904. Paris Exposition, 1905. London, 1906. St. Louis, 1904.

ALUMET BAKING POWDER CO. CHICAGO

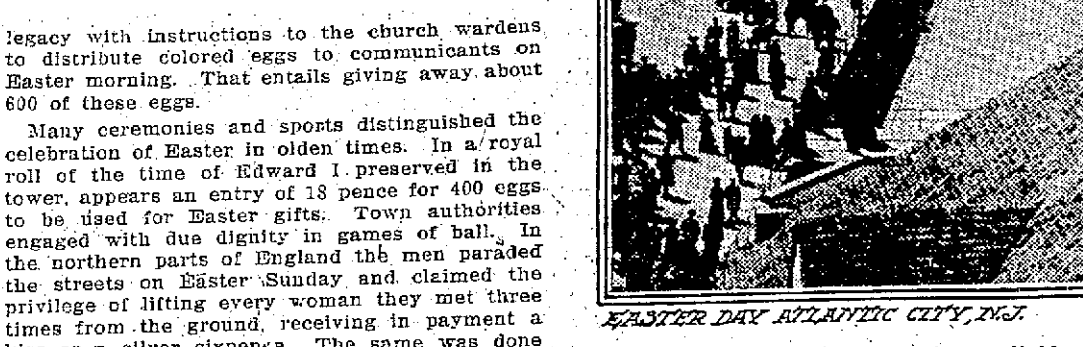

You don't save money when you buy cheap or big-can baking powder. Don't be misled. Buy Calumet. It's more economical—more wholesome—gives best results. Calumet is far superior to sour milk and soda.

EASTER OBSERVANCES AT HOME AND ABROAD

EASTER is the principal festival of the Christian year, observed in commemoration of the resurrection of Jesus Christ. The resurrection took place just after the Jewish feast of the Passover. The Christians of Jerusalem, and after them those of the Asiatic churches generally, were accustomed to hold the feast of Easter on this same day, or simultaneously with the feast of the Jewish Passover. This custom was not acceptable to the Gentile churches in Italy and the west generally, and they changed the time of Easter observance to the Sunday following, the fourteenth day of the moon, or month, and this difference of practice led to grave discussions between the east and the west, which were finally settled by the agreement at the council of Nice in the early part of the fourth century to make the western usage universal. From that time

EASTER PROCESSION IN AMSTERDAM STREET

GOOD FRIDAY ON THE VIA DOLOROSA

Easter has been observed not only in Christian Europe and America, but far across the sea in the ancient strongholds of pagan superstition. And so, it has come to pass that the very word Easter thrills the heart with gladness, bringing its welcome announcement that the gloom is past, and the time of bud and blossom, leaf and spray, glancing wing and sudden song, floating cloud and prismatic shower, the time of affluence and beauty and growing, and rapture of high vitality in plant and human life alike—that wondrous time has come again.

In every Christian land the season is observed with deep religious feeling. In Jerusalem, the Holy City, constrained with so many memories of Christ, his life, his work, his death and his resurrection, the celebration of Easter is of peculiar interest. Representatives of so many churches and sects assemble here at this season for special religious celebrations that an elaborate schedule has to be planned to prevent worship interfering with that of another. Turkish soldiers are much in evidence at this time to check the smallest beginning of open conflict. One of the most impressive features of the Easter observance in Jerusalem is witnessed on Good Friday on the Via Dolorosa—supposed to be the road over which Christ bore the cross to Calvary—when this commemorative journey is made by the pilgrims on their knees.

Easter customs still cling to England in many places. A sturdy money distributed on Thursday at Westminster Abbey, as in the days of Pepys, old men and women over 60 years of age receive specially minted coins, corresponding to the years in King George's life. It follows that the older a British king is, the more money is distributed.

On Good Friday there is a procession to St. Paul's cathedral revived from early times by the Bishop of London, and the suburban districts have smaller ones to their parish churches.

The veiling of the crucifix at Easter is still maintained as a survival of that older ceremony of "watching the sepulchre." In olden days this graphic and elaborate rite commenced on Good Friday with the lowering of the great crucifix and its bestowal in a shallow grave dug beneath the high altar, where it remained until early in the morning of Easter day. In course of time, as the ritual became more ornate, the grave was discarded in favor of a temporary wooden sepulchre erected on the north of the choir, and the host as well as the crucifix were deposited therein.

An old writer on Durham cathedral thus describes it: "On Good Friday, after the singing of the Passion, two monks took a large crucifix and, laying it upon a velvet cushion brought it to the lower gateway (steps) of the choir and there, kneeling, held the crucifix."

"Then one of the monks rose and went a pretty space from it and setting himself upon his knees to the cross and kissed it, and after him the other monk did likewise. Afterwards so did the prior and all the monks, the whole choir in the meantime singing an anthem. Amidst the light of the candles and the burning of incense, the cross was then carried to the sepulchre and there was laid, together with the holy sacrament, within the sepulchre."

Guards were then placed to watch until Easter morning, when the singing of "Christus Resurgens," the sacred symbols were taken out of their temporary grave and replaced upon the altar. It was an old belief that the eyes which beheld this Easter elevation would not close in death during the year to come.

The churches in many poorer quarters, including St. George's in the Borough, "Little Dorrit's church" and St. John's, Walworth, are so thronged by Easter wedding couples that the clergy often marry them in groups.

At the church of St. Mary, Woolwich, near the mansion house, a queer distribution is still carried out in accordance with the will of Sir John Spencer, who was lord mayor in 1594. He left a legacy with instructions to the church wardens to distribute colored eggs to communicants on Easter morning. That entails giving away about 600 of these eggs.

Many ceremonies and sports distinguished the celebration of Easter in olden times. In a royal roll of the time of Edward I, preserved in the tower, appears an entry of 18 pence for 400 eggs to be used for Easter gifts. Town authorities engaged with due dignity in games of ball. In the northern parts of England the men paraded the streets on Easter Sunday and claimed the privilege of lifting every woman by payment a kiss or a silver shilling. The same was done by the women to the men the next day. It is recorded also that on Easter Monday the women had a right to strike their husbands; and on Tuesday the men struck their wives, as in December the servants scolded their masters. From a German authority it is learned that in the Neumarkt on Easter day the men servants whip the maid servants with switches, and on Monday the maids whip the men. In some parts of Germany parents and children try to surprise each other in bed on Easter morning to apply the health-giving switches.

In Palestine, Easter is the day when relatives and friends exchange gifts and it is the family reunion day, much as is Christmas in America. On Easter a grand mass is celebrated at 12 o'clock midnight, at which all present receive the Lord's supper. After the service, which lasts about four hours, the crowds go home to break their fast and feast on the dainties prepared before hand. In the morning visits are exchanged between relatives and friends, the younger people go to the older people first to wish them a bright Easter and many happy returns. About 1 p. m. a grand patriarchal procession walks to the church of the Holy Sepulchre singing chorale and Greek Gregorian songs. The scene is particularly imposing. There now follows a service in the Greek cathedral at which the gospel for Easter day is read in all the leading languages of the world.

"The first person to salute the czar of Russia on Easter morning with the words 'Christ is Risen' must be greeted in turn with a royal kiss. No matter how lowly the person—the poorest of beggars, even the great czar must bestow upon him a brotherly kiss. No so many Basters ago the czar was compelled by this inexorable custom to kiss the cheek of a peasant sentry stationed in the garden to which the czar had escaped for an early morning walk.

The Spaniards believe that he who is born on Good Friday has the gift of second sight. They delight to tell that Philip IV. was second-sighted because he came into a vast garden on this day, Spanish women, as well as many English country women, declare that sewing done on Good Friday will never come undone.

By many European peasants the wind is watched on Palm Sunday. In the belief that from whatever direction it then blows, thence it will come most frequently during the ensuing year. The Spaniard who is fortunate enough to secure a palm, blessed and used in a church procession on Palm Sunday, fastens it to the balcony of his house for protection from lightning.

An interesting Easter egg custom prevails in Poland. On Easter Monday every head of a house, man or woman, presents each visitor on his call with a hard-boiled egg, or, rather, the feelings," remarked the Observer of Events and Things, "but it must be remembered that at such times it was not done on an upturned tack."

Not Buying.

"I see, on an average, every resident of the United States eats five quarts of ice cream a year," said the young man calling.

"Only five quarts?" exclaimed the sweet young thing. "There certainly are a lot of close young men in this country."

ry's possession, where it was preserved in the medal room until 1870. In that year of trouble it was hidden, in many other objects of value, in the library cellars. When the troublous days were over and the mummy once more brought up from the depths it was found that the mummy had been detrimental to the once beautiful body, and that a rapid burial was absolutely necessary. Without any funeral march or oration the remains were therefore buried in the garden of the library.

PIKE'S PEAK IS MOST FAMOUS

But its Height is Less Than That of Two Other Colorado Mountains in Leadville District.

What is the highest mountain in Colorado? "Pike's Peak," 10 persons out of 20 will answer, and incorrectly. The twentieth may know that the two highest mountains in the state are Mount Massive and Mount Elbert, both in Lake county, in the Leadville district. The altitude of each of these mountains is 14,002 feet above sea level. The height of Pike's Peak is 14,108 feet.

Moreover, there are 50 or 60 other peaks in Colorado approximately as high—over 14,000 feet. The lowest point in Colorado is 3,350 feet above sea level. Of all the states Colorado has the highest average altitude, estimated by the geological survey at 6,800 feet.

Although not the highest mountain, Pike's Peak is probably the best-known peak in the United States.

There was at one time a weather bureau station on its summit, and it now has a substantial railway station at the terminus of the highest railway line in North America. It can also be reached by an excellent road and trail which connect the summit with Colorado Springs—Bulletin of United States Geological Survey.

No, No?

"We are told that dancing was originally a means of expressing religious cepts or rejects him. No man can hope to escape from the serious study of a woman, continued for sixteen hours daily. Every piece of evidence that her senses have observed is scrutinized, analyzed, classified. Her mind soaks the man as liquor soaks a lump of sugar. The sugar is dissolved; the man is solved. Most men, it is true, are simple enough. But the most complex man become simplified when subjected to the concentrated and continued scrutiny of brooding woman. They are cooked with the dinner; they are washed up with the crockery; they are stitched into the children's pinafores. From that prolonged dissection no man's anatomy can hide its secrets.—Bookfellow (N. S. W.).

Cicopatra Now in Paris.

Cicopatra's last resting place is said to be the garden of the National library. Rue Vivienne, Paris. Her sarcophagus was stolen, the story runs, by a savant, and came into the lib-

To Women

Backache—Nervous? Headache—Blue?

If you suffer from such symptoms at intervals, try Dr. Pierce's Pink Pills. It is a powerful tonic and women's regulator, and gives satisfaction for over 40 years.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

Made without alcohol—a pure glyceric extract of American forest roots. Your druggist will supply you.

It Has Given Satisfaction For Over 40 Years

FREE TO ALL SUFFERERS

If you feel "out of sorts"—"run down"—or "not the same" after your monthly period, or if you have chronic weakness, or if you are suffering from any of the ailments mentioned above, write for my FREE BOOK, "The Female Companion," which contains full instructions for the treatment of all the ailments mentioned above. It is a most valuable book, and is sent free to all who write for it. Write to Dr. J. C. Rogers, 112 N. 3rd St., St. Paul, Minn.

140 EGGS $6.50 INCUBATOR 650

See this ad. Careful buyers should know that in what manner the eggs are incubated. The eggs are incubated in a special incubator, and are guaranteed to hatch. Write to Thompson & Stanley Co., Kansas, Wis.

A Wise Plan.

"The French have the right idea. They protect the woman."

"How?"

"Draw up a marriage contract."

"I see. Fix the alimony while the groom is still in love."

Honesty.

No man is so dishonest but what he considers his text door neighbor more so.—Milwaukee Sentinel.

Usual Accompaniment.

"This fresh air movement is merely tentative." "Well, of course, tents will have to go with it."

Make the Horse Glad and Eager for Work

Take off his winter coat and give him a good wash. Look better, feel better, and work better. Buy a bottle of "The Stewart Baiting Machine" Clipping Machine. It is a most valuable machine, and is sent free to all who write for it. Write to Thompson & Stanley Co., Kansas, Wis.

PRICE $7.50

Get one from your dealer or buy it direct from the manufacturer. It is a most valuable machine, and is sent free to all who write for it. Write to Thompson & Stanley Co., Kansas, Wis.

Free Free

Six Genuine Rogers Silver Teaspoons for only 100 Galvanic Soap! Wrappers or coupons from Johnson's Washing Powder.

Here is the Offer

For each teaspoon desired send us one two-cent stamp and twenty Galvanic Soap wrappers (from Johnson's Washing Powder) or coupons from Johnson's Washing Powder.

Special Offer for Six Teaspoons

Send 100 Galvanic Soap wrappers and 5 2-cent stamps to get a set of six teaspoons absolutely FREE.

These teaspoons are the kind that you'll be proud to own.

They are the genuine 1881 Rogers ware, heavily triple-plated silver on a white metal base. The La Vigne, or Grape, with the beautiful French Gray finish. With ordinary wear these spoons will last a life time. Start saving your wrappers today, or better still, buy a box of Galvanic Soap and you'll have 100 wrappers, just enough for a set of spoons.

Galvanic Soap is Known as "The Famous Easy Washer"

It's a white Soap and the cocoanut oil in it makes it the easiest lathering soap on the market. Test it out, your next wash day and don't forget to save the wrappers. Mail them to the Premium Department of B. J. JOHNSON SOAP CO., Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

For PINK EYE

Cures the sick and acts as a preventive for others. Liquid given on the tongue. Safe for baby's eyes and all other ailments. Sold by all druggists and house goods houses or sent, express paid, by the manufacturer.

SPOHN MEDICAL CO., Chemists, GOSHEN, INDIANA

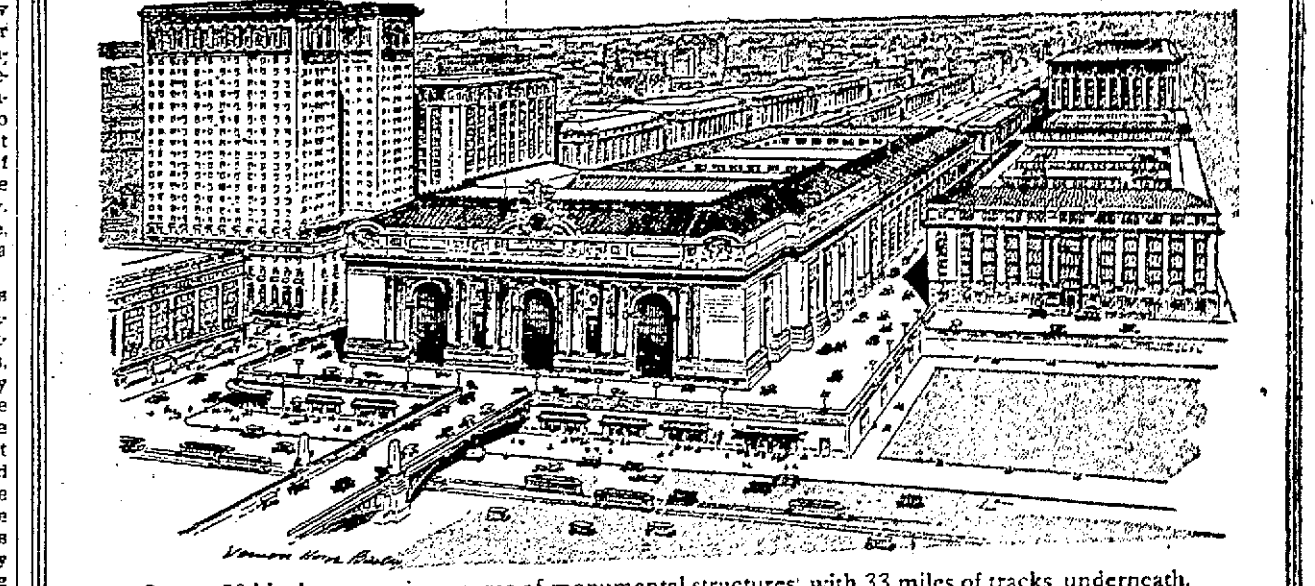

35 YEARS UNRIVALED SUCCESS IN CURING THE LIQUOR HABIT

THE KEELEY INSTITUTE

THE ONLY KEELEY INSTITUTE IN WISCONSIN. WAUKESHA, WISCONSIN

WHY INCUBATOR CHICKS DIE

Write for book saving young chicks. Send us names of 7 friends that use incubators and get book free. Kalsall Remedy Co., Blackwell, Okla.

Covers 30 blocks, comprises scores of monumental structures, with 33 miles of tracks underneath.

New Grand Central Terminal

A wonderful city, within a city, built for the comfort and convenience of the traveling public.

The main Grand Central Terminal Building in New York is now open to the public. This vast improvement is more than a great railway terminal—it is a new city, complete in itself, providing every detail essential to comfort and convenience.

It will embrace convention, amusement and exhibition halls, hotels, clubs and restaurants; post office, express offices, modern apartment and office buildings, and numerous stores and specialty shops.

Grand Central Terminal is the Heart of New York. At Forty-second St. and Park Ave. (Fourth Ave.), one block from Fifth Ave. and convenient to Broadway.

It is the only Terminal on all lines of local traffic—subway surface and elevated. More than 7,000 cars pass its doors every day, affording easy transit facilities to any part of Greater New York. Around it, and within a radius of a few blocks, are forty-nine hotels, fifty-eight clubs and thirty-five theatres.

Three new lines of underground transportation are now building to Grand Central Terminal, and soon there will be 25 levels for human traffic in Forty-second Street.

Underneath the Terminal City and its streets are 33 miles of railway tracks on two separate levels, the upper for Through Service, the lower for Suburban Service.

Each level forms a complete terminal in itself, separate entrances and exits, with equal facilities for the comfort of passengers.

Both levels are reached by gently inclined walks. No stair climbing, and no confusion, since incoming and outgoing traffic is separated.

Ticket, Pullman, Baggage and other facilities are progressively arranged from waiting room to train, no step need be retraced.

The Heart of New York City

NEW YORK CENTRAL LINES

"Water Level Route"

Direct entrance to subways, for New York and Long Island, 24 elevators for passengers, mail, baggage and express. 48 ticket windows conveniently located. 100 rest rooms and refreshment rooms right under terminal roof. Women's private manicure, hair dressing, and rest room with unique waiting chairs. Complete system of baggage facilities are quickly located.

CONSTITUTION

Munyon's Paw-Paw Pills are unlike other laxatives or cathartics. They coax the liver into activity by gentle methods, they do not scour; they do not gripe; they do not irritate; they do not weaken; they do not startle the system; they start all the secretions of the liver and stomach in a way that soon puts these organs in a healthy condition and corrects constipation. Munyon's Paw-Paw Pills are a tonic to the stomach, liver and nerves. They invigorate instead of weaken; they enrich the blood instead of impoverishing it; they enable the stomach to get all the nourishment from food that is put into it. Price 25 cents. All Druggists.

MUNYON'S PAW-PAW PILLS

Best Cough Syrup, Tastes Good, Use in Time. Sold by Druggists.

MAKE A STUDY OF HUSBANDS

Most Complex Man is More or Less an Open Book to His Observing Better Half.

That the race of husbands knows its wives may be doubted. That the race of wives knows its husbands is undoubted. The man goes flourishing forth on his path of many interests. The woman sits at home and broods over her single interest—the man. By dint of brooding she absorbs, and ac-

NEWS ITEMS FROM NEARBY PLACES.

Horse Drowned in Ditch.—A span of horses belonging to George Souik of Polonia was drowned and John Norberg, the driver, a young man about twenty-one years of age, narrowly escaped with his life, Friday afternoon, about three miles east of Polonia, in the town of Sharon, Norberg had been put gathering cream for the Polonia creamery and was returning home when the accident happened. The road, which was rounded up with deep ditches on either side, had passed over it safely earlier in the day, he thought he could do so again. The horses, however, failed to keep on the higher part of the road. One of them slipped off, pulling the other one after him and both were drowned. Norberg was also precipitated into the water, which on either side of the road was from six to ten feet deep, and came near sharing the fate of his team. He finally succeeded in reaching a tree, to which he clung and called for help. A farmer nearby heard his cries, went to his aid and by means of a raft, hastily constructed of fence rails, succeeded in landing him on dry ground.—Stevens Point Journal.

Depot Was Quarantined.—There was considerable excitement in the city last Sunday when it was learned that the depot was quarantined and a traveling negro housed therein with a fully developed case of smallpox. The negro in question was put off from passenger train No. 108, the early morning south bound, and it has not as yet been learned where he boarded the train. Some have it that he was shovelled aboard at Marshfield, others that he got on at Wausau or Eland. One thing is certain, he surely has a full fledged case of smallpox and is now in the pest house. He is a traveling musician whose home is in Green Bay and the expense will be charged up to that city. It is an ill wind that blows no good, for after the negro had been removed from the depot and it had been fumigated, that structure was scrubbed and scoured from floor to ceiling.—Clintonville Tribune.

Will Have Home Coming.—The Waupaca Advancement Association voted at a recent meeting to have a Home Coming here this year and the president ordered to make necessary appointments of committees. This has been deferred so as to give the new president this privilege. The election of officers failed to materialize at the meeting last week and in order to get the work started at once the following are appointed on the Home Coming committee: L. D. Smith, Geo. H. Skinner, Peter Holst, Mrs. A. R. Lea, Mrs. J. P. Lord, and Mrs. W. O. Ware.—Waupaca Record.

Voting Taxes for 1914 State Aid Work. The state highway commission is sending out to chairmen and town clerks a form of resolution for voting state aid road and bridge taxes at this Spring's town meeting or at a special meeting held before September 1st. The commission points out that the legislature has passed almost unanimously the bill making good the $450,000 deficit in state aid for this year's work, which indicates that its policy toward adequate appropriations for 1914 and 1915 will be a generous one. It is customary to vote state aid taxes by resolution at the same hour that other town business is taken up and not to vote by ballot, though both courses are legal.

It is believed that voters for state aid in 1914 will show an increase over the votes of 1913, which were almost double those for 1912. The movement for better roads in Wisconsin is gaining tremendous impetus under the new state aid law, and it is now the leading state in the Middle West in modern road and bridge construction.

—He is endorsed by all Wood County voters who believe that 12 years continuously in office at a salary of $18000 is all any man is entitled to. Think the matter over carefully and vote right, April 1, 1913.

Johnson & Hill Co.
TABLE TALK
Condensed Milk, GOLDEN KEY

ELECTION NOTICE.
State of Wisconsin, County of Wood, City of Grand Rapids, SS.
Notice is hereby given that a municipal election will be held in the City of Grand Rapids, Wood County, Wisconsin, on the first Tuesday in April, A. D. 1913, being the first day of said month, for the purpose of electing the following officers:
Justice of the Peace, in place of E. N. Pomainville.
Alderman, First Ward, in place of E. A. Andrew.
Supervisor, First Ward, in place of Louis Schroeder.
Alderman, Second Ward, in place of F. F. Billmeyer.
Supervisor, Second Ward, in place of P. McCamloy.
Alderman, Third Ward, in place of E. W. Ellis.
Supervisor, Third Ward, in place of Edw. Lynch.
Alderman, Fourth Ward, in place of Guy Nash.
Supervisor, Fourth Ward, in place of Geo. T. Rowland.
Alderman, Fifth Ward, in place of Jos. Lukasecki.
Supervisor, Fifth Ward, in place of F. C. Henke.
Alderman, Sixth Ward, in place of Max Whitlock.
Supervisor, Sixth Ward, in place of F. L. Rourke.
Alderman, Seventh Ward, in place of Frank B. Dannon.
Alderman, Seventh Ward, in place of Andrew Mosher resigned.
Supervisor, Seventh Ward, in place of Wm. T. Nobles.
Alderman, Eighth Ward, in place of J. J. Jeffrey.
Alderman, Eighth Ward, in place of R. S. Payne, resigned.
Supervisor, Eighth Ward, in place of B. R. Goggins.
Also to vote on the question of purchasing and acquiring the lighting plant and equipment of the Electric & Water Company, (also known as the Grand Rapids Electric Company) pursuant to ordinance and resolution duly carried and adopted at the last regular meeting of the common council. The polling places will be as follows:
First Ward—Ed Mahoney's residence.
Second Ward—Library building.
Third Ward—G. A. R. Hall.
Fourth Ward—John Plenske's residence.
Fifth Ward—Power House.
Sixth Ward—John Alpine's shop.
Seventh Ward—City Hall.
Eighth Ward—Martin Nilsson's residence.
Said polls will be open at 6:00 o'clock in the forenoon and closed at 3:00 o'clock in the afternoon of said day. Said election to be held and conducted, votes canvassed, and returns made in accordance with law.
Given under my hand and official seal at the city of Grand Rapids, Wisconsin, this 17th day of March, A. D. 1913.

REAL ESTATE BARGAINS
—For sale or exchange one 5 room house in Sampson's Addition. Lot 155 by 200 ft. Price $750. A seven room house on Washington Ave., East Side, close to town. Price $1500. A 140 acre farm 4 miles from city, about 50 acres under the plow, plenty of wood. Good buildings, close to school; rural route. 560 acres in the town of Saratoga, at a bargain. Only 6 miles from this city. A 90 acre clay soil farm close to school and this city; good buildings; horses, cattle, and machinery. Price only $6500, a rare bargain.
Many other bargains. Give me a call.

Edward N. Pomainville
Abstracts, Collections, Loans
Grand Rapids, Wis.

PAID ADVERTISEMENTS.

The following matters are paid for at the rate of 10 cents per line by the parties whose names are signed to the articles.

Announcement.
—I hereby announce my candidacy

for re-election as County Judge at the election April 1st.—2t
W. J. CONWAY.

To the Electors of the Third Ward
—Because of the urgent request of several I have decided to announce that I am a candidate for the office of Supervisor, and will be glad to receive your support.—1f.
Respectfully,
March 2, 1913. GEO. L. WILLIAMS

Announcement.
—I hereby announce myself as a candidate for re-election to the office of Supervisor for the Seventh Ward of Grand Rapids, Wis.—Ed. Ad.
WILLIAM T. NOBLES

Announcement.
—I hereby announce myself a candidate for re-election to the office of County Superintendent of Schools for Wood County.
GEO. A. VARNEY.

Announcement.
—I have been urged by a number of voters of the Third ward to become a candidate for supervisor. Therefore I hereby announce that I am a non-partisan candidate for supervisor and if elected will perform the duties to the best of my ability.
EDWARD N. POMAINVILLE.

Announcement.
—I hereby announce myself as a candidate for alderman in the Third Ward at the election April 1st. 2t pd. Ad.
EMMETT MCCARTHY.

Vote For
Frank W. Calkins, for County Judge.

Killed Many Wolves.—E. W. Kurtz and C. L. Stratton who reside near Roskott, today brought in the largest number of wolf pelts to the office of the county clerk and claimed their bounty, that have ever been taken there. There were twenty-five hides in the lot and the bounty on them will be $500. This, together with the market value of the pelts, which is from $4.00 to $5.00, will bring the total value up to $800 or $1,000. They also had the pelt of a black fox. There is no bounty on foxes, but the pelts of black foxes are worth all the way from $500 to $1,000. The gentlemen started hunting the wolves about the middle of December, about three miles east of Roskott, and the pelts displayed were the result of their winter's work.—Stevens Point Journal.

—The West Side Ladies Aid Society of the Congregational church will hold an Apron and Provision sale at Church's drug store on Saturday, March 22.

RUDOLPH.
Mrs. George Elliott, who has been very sick the past three weeks, is able to sit up again. Mrs. Evaline Crotteau is staying with her.
Mrs. J. E. Burns of Stevens Point visited from Friday until Monday at the K. J. Marceau home.
Mrs. Peter Krommenaker, Sr. and Mr. and Mrs. John Krommenaker spent Monday at Wausau, going up to see Mrs. Peter Krommenaker, who is a patient at St. Mary's hospital.
Rev. Father Feldman assisted Rev. Father Van Sever here Wednesday.
J. A. Wilkins of Stevens Point has formed partnership with J. K. Kujawa in the store business and will commence selling goods Wednesday in the building erected recently to be used temporarily until their new store is completed.
Mrs. Frank Akey and children left Sunday for Brillion to be gone for a couple of weeks visiting relatives.
John Weyers and wife spent Sunday here with relatives. Mr. Weyers has bought the J. Spector store stock and will continue to sell goods at the old stand.

Dr. Norton of Grand Rapids was here Sunday to care for a sick horse belonging to Nick Rataile.
Mr. and Mrs. Mike Herol of Port Edwards are visiting relatives here.
Joseph Decker of Grumme, Wis., has been secured by the Rudolph Cerechery Co. to make cheese the coming season in connection with their butter output.
Miss Gertrude Akey spent Thursday at Grand Rapids having dental work done.
Miss Irma Hassell returned to Grand Rapids Tuesday morning after visiting friends here for several days.

Discount on Shoes.
—Don't forget that Zimmerman is giving 10, 20 and 25 per cent discount on all ladies oxfords from the 20th to the 29th of March. See what he is offering before you buy elsewhere.

LOCAL ITEMS.
—The spring term at the Grand Rapids Business College will open on March 24th. Enroll now.
—Legal blanks for sale at this office.
Mrs. J. H. Noyes and Mrs. Dwight Green were in Racine March 11th and 12th, at the state convention of the Woodman Circle, Mrs. Noyes as a state officer and Mrs. Green as a delegate. Both received state offices and will meet in 1915 in Waukesha.
—Take a short course at the Grand Rapids Business College and prepare for a good position. Spring term opens March 24th.
Abel & Podawiltz held their spring opening last Saturday afternoon and a large crowd was present to hear the music, receive souvenirs and see what the proprietors had to offer. The affair was a most pronounced success from start to finish.
—Martha Washington Oxford, Big discounts. Zimmerman's Shoe Store.

FROGS ARE PROTECTED.
The open season for frogs will henceforth be between June 1st and November 1st. Not that many of us care a great deal at present, but the time may come, if the law is enforced and the season shortened up enough, when our best citizens may be seen sneaking out before daylight in the morning and armed with the proper paraphernalia for catching frogs (whatever it may be) hie themselves to the adjacent swamps and marshes in search of the succulent but elusive frog.
We have not put much serious thought on the frog question, supposing that about all they amounted to was to furnish noise in the spring time for the amusement of people of a musical turn of mind, but it seems that while we have been asleep at the switch, so to speak, our valiant and trustworthy lawmakers down at Madison have been very much awake, and hereafter the frog will be properly protected.

MARKET REPORTS.
Patent Flour.....$6.50
Rye Flour.....5.00
Rye.....1.00
Butter.....10.00
Eggs.....10.00
Beef, live.....9.00-10.00
Pork, dressed.....9.00-10.00
Veal.....8.00-10.00
Hay, Timothy.....10.00-12.00
Potatoes.....10.00-12.00
Hides.....10.00-12.00
Hens.....10.00-12.00
Oats.....10.00-12.00
Announcement.
To the voters of Grand Rapids:—
—I am a non-partisan candidate for Justice of the Peace, at the coming election, and will be glad to receive your support.
JOHN ROBERTS.
ANNOUNCEMENT.
—I hereby announce myself as a candidate for justice of the peace at the coming spring election.
SCOTT SNYDER.

The Same Quality or better for less money.

JOHNSON & HILL CO.

Business is Good at Johnson & Hill Co.

MILLINERY, COAT AND SUIT DEPT.

Only three more days until Easter. Better get your Suit NOW, and have it ready for Easter morning. And don't forget your EASTER HAT. We are well prepared to fill your wants for Easter in our Millinery, Coat and Suit Sections and you will be surprised at the very low prices that we are selling these high grade garments for.

Women's skirts, well made, in an assortment of good cloths, a large assortment of good styles to select from at each.....$2.45

Women's all wool cheviot skirts each.....$2.95

In the better grades of suits we have a complete assortment. Each grade the best for the price each

$32.50-$26.75-$24.50-$22.50-$19.75
$16.50-$14.75 and $12.50

Women's all wool serge suits, well tailored, stylishly made, at each.....$9.75

Women's Coats made up in the latest styles, from the best materials, new shades. Priced right at each

$35.00-$28.50-$25.00-$22.50-$19.75
$18.50-$17.75-$16.50-$14.75
$13.50-$12.50-$11.75
$9.75-$8.50-$7.75 and $6.75

Specials in our Dry Goods Section for Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Our best grade Calico in blues, greys, blacks, or pinks also the light ground work with neat figures extra special for Thursday, Friday and Saturday per yard.....5c

You Want New Clothes For Easter Sunday

Everybody decorates for that day, or before—no reason why you shouldn't. You'll find the proper things for it here. Hart Schaffner & Marx and Styleplus, strong suits for men and young men. Bestever suits for Boys and Children

Men's Suits $27.50-$25.00-$22.50-$20.00-$17.00
$15.00-$12.50 and $10.00
Boy's Suits $8.00-$6.50-$5.00-$4.00-$3.00
We have the latest shapes of Knox Spring Hats. The finest neckwear in new patterns. Cluett and Emery Shirts, etc.
FREE. A fine Baseball or Baseball Glove or Mitt with each Boy's Suit FREE.

SPECIALS for Thursday, Friday, Saturday

Regular 25c four in hand ties, special 3 for.....50c
Regular 50c Men's Work Shirts. special each.....43c
These Specials Thursday, Friday and Saturday ONLY

OUR BIG EASTER SALE

IN THE PURE FOOD GROCERY

Easter is the beginning of a new season. It brings with it new life, new hope, new ambition; nature never makes a mistake. TRUE TO NATURE we are trying to make an elaborate display of everything that is fresh and new. We have gathered together a large assortment of Green Food Products from Southern climes for this Easter Sale.

FANCY BLEACHED CELERY
The very best the market offers at per bunch
12c and 10c

CAULIFLOWER
Extra Fancy Bleached Heads you can not get better.

CABBAGE
We have both the OLD and NEW Cabbage at attractive prices

LEAF LETTUCE—Double bunches the bunch.....5c
HEAD LETTUCE—None better the head each.....5c

Apples! Apples!
APPLES WE ARE WELL SUPPLIED ON BOTH EATING AND COOKING from 40c per peck and up

For Nice YELLOW PLUMP RIPE BANANAS we are Headquarters at 20c Per Dozen

Fresh

ASPARAGUS	ENDIVE FRENCH	GREEN PEPPERS	ROMAIN LETTUCE	LEMONS	SPANISH ONIONS
TOMATOES	ENDIVE DOMESTIC	RADISHES	CUCUMBERS	ORANGES	SWEET POTATOES
MUSHROOMS	GREEN ONIONS	OYSTER PLANT	WATERCRESS	PEARS	GRAPE FRUIT
				All Kinds of NUTS

Extra Specials for 3 Days, THURSDAY, FRIDAY and SATURDAY, MARCH 20-21-22

10 lbs. sugar at this sale..... 48c Honey Crisp corn flakes, none better on the market, 4 packages 25c can K. C. Baking powder special sale price..... 25c Dairy rolled oats, 5 pound package for..... 16c Karo or Golden Drip syrup 1 gallon pails, the gallon..... 34c 25 cent bottles Dr. Price's vanilla and lemon extracts..... 19c	2,000 cans of corn at the can..... 6c 2,000 cans of peas at the can..... 9c 10 bars Badger soap, very hard special sale price..... 31c 1 package Grape Nuts special sale price..... 10c White beans, per peck 35c or 2 pounds for..... 5c Blizzard flour 49 pound sacks..... $1.19	Dr. Price's Jelly powder worth 10c per package..... 6c PIE PREPARATION Try this article it is very good worth 10c per package..... 6c MAY DAY COFFEE The Steel Cut, a high grade coffee at a moderate price the lb. Baker's chocolate the pound..... 33c	Drug Department LADIES If you are looking for the best in toilet articles. Then you must inspect our stock. Ours is the largest assortment in the city. All 25c perfumes and toilet articles at..... 19c 20% Discount on all Patent Medicines Something for the men 7 5 cent cigars for..... 25c
---	--	---	--

Johnson & Hill Company

Grand Rapids, Wisconsin

NEWSPAPERARCHIVE

NEWSPAPERARCHIVE

NEWS ITEMS FROM NEARBY PLACES.

Horses Drowned in Ditch.—A span of horses belonging to George Souk of Polonia was drowned and John Norberg, the driver, a young man about twenty-one years of age, narrowly escaped with his life, Friday afternoon, about three miles east of Polonia, in the town of Sharon, Norberg had been out gathering cream for the Polonia creamery and was returning home when the accident happened. The road, which was rounded up with deep ditches on either side, was covered with water, but as Norberg had passed over it safely earlier in the day, he thought he could do so again. The horses, however, failed to keep on the higher part of the road. One of them slipped off, pulling the other one after him and both were thrown into the water, which on either side of the road was from six to ten feet deep, and came near striking the face of his team. He finally succeeded in reaching a tree, to which he clung and called for help. A farmer nearby heard his cries, went to him and by means of a raft, hastily constructed of fence rails, succeeded in landing him on dry ground.—Stevens Point Journal.

Depot Was Quarantined.—There was considerable excitement in the city last Sunday when it was learned that the depot was quarantined and a traveling negro housed therein with a fully developed case of smallpox. The negro in question was put off from passenger train No. 108, the early morning south bound, and it has not as yet been learned where he boarded the train. Some have it that he was shoved aboard at Marshfield, others that he got on at Wausau or Island. One thing is certain, he surely has a full fledged case of smallpox and is now in the post house. He is a traveling musician whose home is in Green Bay and the expense will be charged up to that city. It is an ill wind that blows no good, for after the negro had been removed from the depot and it had been fumigated, that structure was scrubbed and scoured from floor to ceiling.—Clintonville Tribune.

Will Have Home Coming.—The Waupaca Advancement Association voted at a recent meeting to have a Home Coming here this year and the president ordered to make necessary appointments of committees. This has been deferred so as to give the new president this privilege. One station of officers failed to materialize at the meeting last week and in order to get the work started at once the following are appointed on the Home Coming committee: L. D. Smith, Geo. H. Skinner, Peter Holst, Mrs. A. R. Lea, Mrs. I. P. Lord, and Mrs. W. O. Ware.—Waupaca Record.

Voting Taxes for 1914 State Aid Work. The state highway commission is sending out to all townships and town clerks a form of resolution for voting state aid road and bridge taxes at this Spring's town meeting or at a special meeting held before September 1st. The commission points out that the legislature has passed almost unanimously the bill making good the $450,000 deficit in state aid for this year's work, which indicates that its policy toward adequate appropriations for 1914 and 1915 will be a generous one. It is customary to vote state aid taxes by resolution at the same hour that other town business is taken up and not to vote by ballot, though both courses are legal.

It is believed that voters for state aid in 1914 will show an increase over the votes of 1913, which were almost double those for 1912. The movement for better roads in Wisconsin is gaining tremendous impetus under the new state aid law, and it is now the leading state in the Middle West in modern road and bridge construction.

ELECTION NOTICE.
State of Wisconsin, County of Wood, City of Grand Rapids, SS.
Notice is hereby given that a municipal election will be held in the City of Grand Rapids, Wood County, Wis., on the first Tuesday in April, A. D. 1914, being the first day of said month, for the purpose of electing the following officers:
Justice of the Peace, in place of E. N. Pomainville.
Alderman, First Ward, in place of E. A. Andrew.
Supervisor, First Ward, in place of Louis Schneider.
Alderman, Second Ward, in place of F. P. Billemyre.
Supervisor, Second Ward, in place of P. McCamley.
Alderman, Third Ward, in place of E. W. Ellis.
Supervisor, Third Ward, in place of Edw. Lynch.
Alderman, Fourth Ward, in place of Guy Nash.
Supervisor, Fourth Ward, in place of Geo. T. Rowland.
Alderman, Fifth Ward, in place of Jos. Lukasek.
Supervisor, Fifth Ward, in place of F. C. Henke.
Alderman, Sixth Ward, in place of Max Whitlock.
Supervisor, Sixth Ward, in place of F. L. Rourke.
Alderman, Seventh Ward, in place of Frank B. Damon.
Alderman, Eighth Ward, in place of Andrew Mosher resigned.
Supervisor, Seventh Ward, in place of Wm. T. Nobles.
Alderman, Eighth Ward, in place of J. J. Jeffrey.
Alderman, Eighth Ward, in place of R. S. Payne, resigned.
Supervisor, Eighth Ward, in place of E. R. Goggins.
Also to vote on the question of purchasing and acquiring the lighting plant and equipment of the Electric & Water Company, (also known as the Grand Rapids Electric Company) pursuant to ordinance and resolution duly carried and adopted at the last regular meeting of the common council. The polling places will be as follows:
First Ward—Ed. Mahoney's residence.
Second Ward—Library building.
Third Ward—C. A. R. Hall.
Fourth Ward—John Plenke's residence.
Fifth Ward—Power House.
Sixth Ward—John Alpine's shop.
Seventh Ward—City Hall.
Eighth Ward—Martin Nison's residence.
Said polls will be open at 8:00 o'clock in the forenoon and closed at 8:00 o'clock in the afternoon of said day. Said election to be held and conducted, votes canvassed, and returns made in accordance with law.
Given under my hand and official seal at the city of Grand Rapids, Wisconsin, this 17th day of March, A. D. 1913.
M. G. GORDON,
City Clerk.

PAID ADVERTISEMENTS.

The following matters are paid for at the rate of 10 cents per line by the parties whose names are signed to the articles.

Announcement.

I hereby announce my candidacy for re-election as County Judge at the election April 1st.—
W. J. CONWAY.

To the Electors of the Third Ward.—Because of the urgent request of several I have decided to announce that I am a candidate for the office of Supervisor, and will be glad to receive your support.—
Respectfully,
March 3, 1913. GEO. L. WILLIAMS

Announcement.
I hereby announce myself as a candidate for re-election to the office of Supervisor for the Seventh Ward of Grand Rapids, Wis.—Pa. Ad.
WILLIAM T. NOELES

Announcement.
I hereby announce myself a candidate for re-election to the office of County Superintendent of Schools for Wood County.
GEO. A. VARNEY.

Announcement.
I have been urged by a number of voters of the Third ward to become a candidate for supervisor. Therefore I hereby announce that I am a non-partisan candidate for supervisor and if elected will perform the duties to the best of my ability.
EDWARD N. POMAINVILLE.

Announcement.
I hereby announce myself as a candidate for alderman in the Third Ward at the election April 1st. 21. Pd. Ad.
BENNETT MCCARTHY.

Vote For
Frank W. Calkins, for County Judge.

He is endorsed by all Wood County voters, who believe that 12 years continuously in office at a salary of $18000 is all any man is entitled to. Think the matter over carefully and vote right, April 1, 1913.

Johnson & Hill Co.
TABLE TALK
Condensed Milk, GOLDEN KEY

Dear Madam:—
We have added to our stock the world's best, condensed milk, Golden Key Brand. The guarantee of this can of evaporated milk is cow's milk from southern Wisconsin, the best dairy country in the world. All germs and impurities of every kind are removed by a thorough process which evaporates the milk to the consistency of cream. It is perfect food for infants, invalids or any one troubled with weak digestion, and its purity is guaranteed. We guarantee that the contents of this can when diluted with an equal amount of water, will exceed the legal standard required for whole milk. One can of Golden Key Milk used, means another can sold. The world has demanded a purer milk, Golden Key fills that long felt want. "Purity at any cost" is our slogan. If it suits you tell others, if it does not, tell us. We assure you that it is our aim and always has been, to give you the best there is at all times. The milk comes in three sizes, five cents, eight cents, and ten cents the can, less 10 per cent discount on one dozen lots.
CHEESE.
We have tapped another one of those famous New York Herkimer County cheeses. O, but the flavor is delicious. Anyone that is a lover of well ripened cheese, should lay in a good supply, the pound 29c.
We will have strawberries for Saturday, March 22nd.

REAL ESTATE BARGAINS
—For sale or exchange one 5 room house in Sampson's Addition. Lot 165 by 200 ft. Price $750. A seven room house on Washington Ave., East Side, close to town. Price $1600.
A 140 acre farm 4 miles from city, about 90 acres under the plow, plenty of wood. Good buildings, close to school; rural route. 560 acres in the town of Saratoga, at a bargain. Only 6 miles from this city. A 80 acre clay soil farm close to school and city; good buildings; horses, cattle, and machinery. Price only $6500, a rare bargain.
Many other bargains. Give me a call.
Edward N. Pomainville
Abstracts, Collections, Loans
Grand Rapids, Wis.

Killed Many Wolves.

D. W. Kurtz and O. C. Stratton, who reside near Rosholt, today brought in the largest number of wolf pelts to the office of the county clerk and claimed their bounty, that have ever been taken there. There were twenty-five pelts in the lot and the bounty on them will be $500. This together with the market value of the pelts, which is $100 to $150, will bring the total to $850 or $1,000. They also had the pelt of a black fox. There is no bounty on foxes, but the pelts of black foxes are worth all the way from $500 to $1,000. The gentlemen started hunting the wolves about the middle of December, about three miles east of Rosholt, and the pelts displayed were the result of their winter's work.—Stevens Point Journal.

The West Side Ladies Aid Society of the Congregational church will hold an Apron and Provision sale at Church's drug store on Saturday, March 22.

RUDOLPH.

Mrs. George Elliott, who has been very sick the past three weeks, is able to sit up again. Mrs. Evaline Croft is staying with her.
Mrs. J. E. Burns of Stevens Point, who was here from Friday until Monday at the K. J. Marceau home.
Mrs. Peter Krommenaker, Sr. and Mr. and Mrs. John Krommenaker spent Monday at Wausau, going up to see Mrs. Peter Krommenaker, who is a patient at St. Mary's hospital.
Rev. Father Feldman assisted Rev. Father Van Sever here Wednesday.
J. A. Wilkins of Stevens Point has formed partnership with J. K. Jawa in the store business and will commence selling goods Wednesday in the building erected recently to be used temporarily until their new store is completed.
Mrs. Frank Akey and children left Sunday for Brillion to be gone for a couple of weeks visiting relatives.
John Wevers and wife spent Sunday here with relatives. Mr. Wevers has bought the J. Spector store stock and will continue to sell goods at the old stand.

Dr. Norton of Grand Rapids was here Sunday to care for a sick horse belonging to Nick Ratelle.
Mr. and Mrs. Mike Herol of Port Huron are visiting relatives here.
Joseph Decker of Grumme, Wis., has been secured by the Rudolph Creamery Co. to make cheese the coming season in connection with their butter output.
Miss Gertrude Akey spent Thursday at Grand Rapids having dental work done.
Miss Irma Hassell returned to Grand Rapids Tuesday morning after visiting friends here for several days.

Discount on Shoes.
—Don't forget that Zimmerman is giving 10, 20 and 25 per cent discount on all ladies' shoes from the 20th to the 29th of March. See what he is offering before you buy elsewhere.

LOCAL ITEMS.

—The spring term at the Grand Rapids Business College will open on March 24th. Enroll now.
—Legal blanks for sale at this office.
Mrs. J. H. Noyes and Mrs. Dwight Green were in Racine March 11th and 12th, at the state convention of the Woodman Circle. Mrs. Noyes as a state officer and Mrs. Green as a delegate. Both received state offices and will meet in 1915 in Waukesha.
—Take a short course at the Grand Rapids Business College and prepare for a good position. Spring term opens March 24th.
—Abel & Podawiltz held their spring opening last Saturday afternoon and a large crowd was present to hear the music, receive souvenirs and see what the proprietors had to offer. The affair was a most pronounced success from start to finish.
—Martha Washington Oxford, Big discounts. Zimmerman's Shoe Store.

FROGS ARE PROTECTED.

The open season for frogs will henceforth be between June 1st and November 1st. Not that many of us care a great deal at present, but the time may come, if the law is enforced, and the season shortened up enough, when our best citizens may be seen sneaking out before daylight in the morning and armed with the proper paraphernalia for catching frogs (whatever it may be) his themselves in the adjacent swamps and marshes in search of the succulent but elusive frog.
We have not put much serious thought on the frog question, supposing that about all they amounted to was to furnish noise in the spring time for the amusement of people of a musical turn of mind, but it seems that while we have been asleep at the switch, so to speak, our valiant and trustworthy taxpayers down at Madison have been very much awake, and hereafter the frog will be properly protected.

MARKET REPORT.

Patent Flour.....$5.20
Rye Flour.....3.80
Rye.....54
Butter.....26-30
Eggs.....18
Beef, live.....44-46
Pork, dressed.....94-10
Veal.....90-10
Hay, Timothy.....$10-12
Potatoes.....25
Hides.....10-12
Hens.....30
Oats.....30
Announcement.
To the voters of Grand Rapids:—
I am a non-partisan candidate for Justice of the Peace, at the coming election, and will be glad to receive your support.
JOHN ROBERTS.
ANNOUNCEMENT.
I hereby announce myself as a candidate for justice of the peace at the coming spring election.
SCOTT SNYDER.

The Same Quality or better for less money.

JOHNSON & HILL CO.

Business is Good at Johnson & Hill Co.

MILLINERY, COAT AND SUIT DEPT.

Only three more days until Easter. Better get your Suit NOW, and have it ready for Easter morning. And don't forget your EASTER HAT. We are well prepared to fill your wants for Easter in our Millinery, Coat and Suit Sections and you will be surprised at the very low prices that we are selling these high grade garments for.

Women's skirts, well made, in an assortment of good cloths, a large assortment of good styles to select from at each

$2.45

Women's all wool cheviot skirts

$2.95

In the better grades of suits we have a complete assortment. Each grade the best for the price each

$32.50-$26.75-$24.50-$22.50-$19.75
$16.50-$14.75 and $12.50

Women's all wool serge suits, well tailored, stylishly made, at each

$9.75

Women's Coats made up in the latest styles, from the best materials, new shades. Priced right at each

$35.00-$28.50-$25.00-$22.50-$19.75
$18.50-$17.75-$16.50-$14.75
$13.50-$12.50-$11.75
$9.75-$8.50-$7.75 and $6.75

Specials in our Dry Goods Section for

Thursday, Friday and Saturday

Our best grade Calico in blues, greys, blacks, or pinks also the light ground work with neat figurers extra special for Thursday, Friday and Saturday per yard

5c

You Want New Clothes For Easter Sunday

Everybody decorates for that day, or before—no reason why you shouldn't. You'll find the proper things for it here. Hart Schaffner & Marx and Styleplus, strong suits for men and young men. Bestever suits for Boys and Children

Men's Suits $27.50-$25.00-$22.50-$20.00-$17.00
$15.00-$12.50 and $10.00
Boy's Suits $8.00-$6.50-$5.00-$4.00-$3.00
We have the latest shapes of Knox Spring Hats. The finest neckwear in new patterns. Cluett and Emery Shirts, etc.
FREE. A fine Baseball or Baseball Glove or Mitt with each Boy's Suit FREE.

SPECIALS for Thursday, Friday, Saturday

Regular 25c four in hand ties, special 3 for

50c

Regular 50c Men's Work Shirts. special each

43c

These Specials Thursday, Friday and Saturday ONLY

OUR BIG EASTER SALE

IN THE PURE FOOD GROCERY

Easter is the beginning of a new season. It brings with it new life, new hope, new ambition; nature never makes a mistake. TRUE TO NATURE we are trying to make an elaborate display of everything that is fresh and new. We have gathered together a large assortment of Green Food Products from Southern climes for this Easter Sale.

CAULIFLOWER
Extra Fancy Bleached Heads you can not get better.

CABBAGE
We have both the OLD and NEW Cabbage at attractive prices

FANCY BLEACHED CELERY
The very best the market offers at per bunch

LEAF LETTUCE—Double bunches
the bunch

HEAD LETTUCE—None better the head each

Apples! Apples!
APPLES WE ARE WELL SUPPLIED ON BOTH EATING AND COOKING from 40c per peck and up

For Nice YELLOW PLUMP RIPE BANANAS we are Headquarters at 20c Per Dozen

Fresh

ASPARAGUS	ENDIVE FRENCH	GREEN PEPPERS	ROMAIN LETTUCE	LEMONS	SPANISH ONIONS
TOMATOES	ENDIVE DOMESTIC	RADISHES	CUCUMBERS	ORANGES	SWEET POTATOES
MUSHROOMS	GREEN ONIONS	OYSTER PLANT	WATERCRESS	PEARS	GRAPE FRUIT
				All Kinds of NUTS

Extra Specials for 3 Days, THURSDAY, FRIDAY and SATURDAY, MARCH 20-21-22

10 lbs. sugar at this sale	2,000 cans of corn at the can	Dr. Price's Jelly powder worth 10c per package	Drug Department LADIES
Honey Crisp corn flakes, none better on the market, 4 packages	2,000 cans of peas at the can	PIE PREPARATION	If you are looking for the best in toilet articles. Then you must inspect our stock. Ours is the largest assortment in the city. All 25c perfumes and toilet articles at
25c can K. C. Baking powder special sale price	10 bars Badger soap, very hard	Try this article it is very good worth 10c per package	19c
Dairy rolled oats, 5 pound package for	1 package Grape Nuts special sale price	MAY DAY COFFEE	20% Discount on all Patent Medicines
Karo or Golden Drip syrup 1 gallon pails, the gallon	White beans, per peck 35c	The Steel Cut, a high grade coffee at a moderate price the lb.	Something for the men
25 cent bottles Dr. Price's vanilla and lemon extracts	Blizzard flour	Baker's chocolate	7 5 cent cigars for
	49 pound sacks		25c

Johnson & Hill Company

Grand Rapids, Wisconsin